Year 12 Farewell Message

It is a difficult task as a Principal to write a meaningful farewell message to graduating Year 12 students. The most obvious problem is that while I do this every year, you all do it once only. The special significance of what it feels like to complete twelve years of schooling can only be imagined by those experiencing it. I have a dim memory of release and relief, knowing that I would never have to go back to school again! It shows how wrong we can be about our future directions. I hope you enjoy the feeling of transition, of leaving the old and preparing to embrace the new. I expect you may feel that you have lost something too, a sense of really belonging somewhere, of being connected to place. You may have nostalgic reminiscences about the matches or contests you were involved in, of the teachers that you had, of the social occasions you enjoyed.

Some of you, like I have, will carry friendships made at school throughout your life. Others will make a clean break and build new relationships at university. I hope that all of you learnt a lot about life and yourselves in the context of your academic development. Bruce Springsteen, one of the singer-songwriters of my youth declared that his contemporaries “learnt more from a three-minute record than we ever learnt in school”. I trust that your time at High will have produced a more penetrating and lasting impact than that.

It is common practice in schools to have a publication as a memento of a passing-out ceremony for Year 12 students. I am proud to be a contributor to such a valedictory record of the class of 2002. The lasting reminders will be the portraits of your colleagues. I do not think that it is my place to single out individuals in the year for special mention, however I think the work of Mark, Justin and Richard has been terrific and has helped make 2002 a memorable year. My dealings with Year 12 have been nearly entirely positive. To all of you who got involved and made the most of the co-curricular opportunities at High and to those who served the school so well in many different ways, I offer my thanks.

As you assemble for the last time as a cohort of scholars, please take with you my warmest wishes for your academic and life success. On behalf of the School Family, goodbye and good luck to you all! It was a pleasure to be your Principal.

SPEECH NIGHT

119th ANNUAL PRIZE GIVING

Tuesday 25 February, 2003

Occasional address by Mr Phil Tresidder

Principal's Address

[The following is an edited version of the address given by the Principal at the Annual Speech Night and Prize-Giving.]

Distinguished guests, special guest Mr. Phil Tresidder, members of staff, parents, students and particularly the class of 2002, welcome to our 119th Speech Night. I would like to thank all the people who have worked to support and facilitate the achievements we honour this evening. On a personal level, I express my thanks to Dennis Briggs from the P & C, John Kaldor and Andy Chow from the Foundation, John Gerofi and most particularly, to the tireless Bob Outterside, who ran the selection criteria campaign last year with such dignity and skill and who continues to work long hours for the school on two sensitive and complex matters.

All the public attention last year was centred on the selective criteria and process debate and us not playing King's at rugby. I believe the selection criteria controversy brought back to life an issue that the Minister was perhaps happy to see die in February. Much debate in the press ensued. The major issues have been canvassed in the High Bulletin. Hopeful signs from the Discussion Paper press release late last year are that coaching colleges may be regulated and that a writing test will be seriously piloted, after the results of a previous flawed attempt were buried.

My colleague GPS Heads strongly supported our continued participation in the rugby competition. We have brokered a solution to the rugby issue, with us fielding at least 'A' teams in age groups 13-15 (and 16s able to play down if not selected for first grade) and a first grade side. Our place in the 16s competition will be filled by St.

Gregory's at Campbelltown, as a short term measure. Up to four of our second grade fixtures may be played by TAS's first grade, the rest by St. Gregory's. We hope to rebuild our playing strength in 2003-4 as a result of these initiatives.

In reviewing what the school achieved in 2002, I am most pleased with the reduction in HSC UAI's below 80 to 7.5%, significantly lower than the than the figures for the last 5 years. Of note is the increase in UAI's of 90 or above to 130 or 76.5% of reported UAI's. Our most pressing performance goal is to reduce the percentage of UAI's below 80 to zero and increase UAI's at 90 or above to 80% within 3 years. 174 boys accepted university places - two are going to TAFE and two went into full time employment.

It was gratifying to observe the bedding down of the Living Skills program for Years 7-10. Once fully evaluated and refined, I believe this program will assist in the culture change and redefinition of masculinity that the school community is working towards. We are gathered together as a community of scholars. Our principal purpose is to prepare students for high academic achievement. Respect for persons should guide our behaviour. Understanding of ourselves is a precursor to understanding and valuing the diversity we find in others. The Living Skills program is designed to move us towards this ideal learning community. We are planning to develop a study group concept for the senior school, where groups of boys, under the guidance of teacher mentors, will support each other's learning. We need to establish a more caring and cooperative learning culture to raise overall outcomes.

Our leadership program has also matured. An effective relationship between the Student Representative Council and the Prefects has enhanced the status of and broadened the participation in the leadership program. Peer Support and Mediation training have together deepened our prospective leaders' understanding of the nurturing role of leadership.

The Student Award Scheme has been refined. I am most heartened by the participation rates in each year. Upwards of 50 boys per year are qualifying for awards in a scheme which is gradually becoming more rigorous. Our target is one third of boys in each year, progressing through from bronze awards in Year 7 to the impressive trophies awarded here tonight to our recent alumni.

I was encouraged by the way that staff tackled the issue of how to enhance Band 6 HSC performance across the board during 2002. Improved pedagogy will result. I was pleased at the grouping experiments for structural acceleration undertaken by a couple of departments. I believe our use of purposeful grouping into Year 7 and banding in other years will bear fruit as we adapt our policy to the disparate and individual learning needs of our students. I have had a personal interest in extending tertiary level courses to secondary school students since I wrote on the subject to academic boards at the major universities in 1999. I was particularly pleased that the university developed, dual accredited Mind and Morality one unit course was organised as a joint venture with Sydney Girls High, with very short notice towards the end of the year. Our first semester delivery model and joint hub school concept are ground breaking. A class of 15 students commenced yesterday. My thanks go to Mrs Varady for inspiring so many of her girls to take the up the challenge. I hope more of our boys do the same in 2003. We would like to attract science students to the Problem Solving course for next year.

It was great to finish the Canteen refurbishment. We can now boast a fine, functional and regulation-compliant canteen. Funds available for expenditure have increased 187% in the three years since 1999.

As usual at High, there are many group and individual achievements worthy of our recognition and acknowledgement tonight. Many have been discussed in our weekly High Notes. Most will appear in our 2002 Annual Report. I have selected a sample to reflect the broad range of achievement.

In academic achievements

George Zhong and Ji Li were selected as Rio Tinto scholars for the Science Olympiad. Ivan Guo represented us at the Mathematics Olympiad. Junyang Sim, was first in the state in Chinese Continuers and second in Chinese Extension. Shihab Hamid, third in chemistry and Yichuan Jin, fourth in Chinese Continuers. David Nguyen - tenth in English Advanced and an eighth in English extension; Tom Petty (Year 11) ninth in industrial technology as an accelerant.

Premier's Awards for All-Round Excellence (for 10 units at 90 or better). Craig Birtles, John Bui, David Carter, Thomas Cusbert, Robert Dooley, Zahid Gamiieldien, Shihab Hamid, Mathew Hii, Chun-chi Hung, Chang-Wan Kim, Sachin Kumar, David Nguyen, Junyang Sim, Jack Su and You Wu. Our scholarship winners: Shihab Hamid (UNSW Co-op Scholarship in computer science) and Jonathon Laurie (Co-operative Education - Accountancy UTS).

Phil Lesnie's work was chosen for Art Express, to be exhibited 7/2/03-6/4/03.

In the arts

Debating was again our strength. David Carter, Tim Davis Frank, Alex Gruszka and Alexander McCauley, won the Hume Barbour trophy for the twentieth time. The 10As were undefeated in the GPS competition. Tanvir Ahmed was selected for the state Year 10 debating championship. Tanvir Ahmed, Clement Sheil, Daniel Wodak and Oscar Ware won the Les Gordon history debating competition. Thomas Kaldor won the state Legacy Junior Public Speaking contest. David Kaldor won the SCEGGS Redlands French Reading Competition. Raj Kumar, Adam McKenzie, Thomas Norrie, David Quach and Patrick Coyte were selected for the Performing arts Unit symphony Orchestra. Hamish Nairn made the PAU Stage band.

In sports

In rowing, Jacob Stretton won a CHS championship gold medal in single scull. Eugene Hooi, Hamish Nairn, Peter Kaillis, Andrew Simpson, Tim Edmeades, Richard Zhou, Brett Saucis, Shane Talbot and Jack Tam won the Under-17 Pan Pacific Championship for rowing eights. In swimming, Tom Miller and Ellis Louie were selected for the CHS Carnival and Ellis made the CIS team for the all schools meet. Tom Miller, Glen Carroll Jason Ong and Matthew Louie were selected for the CHS team for the All Schools carnival. In athletics, Roger Burrell won the GPS under-14 shot put by over a metre. Paul Watzlaff and Jonathon Laurie were second in their 1500metre races at the GPS championships. We had 14 CHS representatives in athletics. The under-14 GPS cross country team finished second.

Other sporting achievements included: Jeremy Yuen winning the state gymnastics title; Lucian Francis and Oliver Pickles winning the CHS Pacer division in sailing, Andrew Jacques' selection in the Australian under-21 Rifle Shooting Team, Christopher Budd's four national medals at the Queen's Rifle competition and Nigel Panagopka's full scholarship at the Australian Institute of sport for volleyball.

Our students have achieved in many areas of endeavour. This short account has not done them justice. I congratulate them all.

As is my custom, I will close with some gratuitous advice for the class of 2002, this time gleaned from Bruce Dawe's social commentary in a poem entitled, Before Plato.

We went, I think, in this country,
Straight from the cave
To the television set.
We missed out on those civilizing barbarities in between.

We put down the club
And picked up the TV guide...
We switched from real life hunger, fear, cold,
To watching them on World Vision commercials;
We let go of our enemy's throat
And lost our grip on life.

Somebody called, back there, deep in the shadows
- it could have been love, or hate, or just plain loneliness,
but we were glassed off in a mini-series.

We stopped dreaming of falling.
And, instead,
Fell.

My message to the prize winners this evening, especially to those we say farewell to, is informed by Bruce Dawe's concern that we experience life to the full and not be satisfied with the voyeuristic substitute of the manufactured images of lives of others. We need to experience the process of life, not get to a privileged position without doing any hard yards. We need to get involved. We need to understand our history and our culture in order to make a worthwhile contribution to either. In a multicultural Australia we should remember the ancient traditions at the core of attempts to come to terms with this land. I hope that your achievements at High have shown you the value of being part of a community, of participating in a team and of striving with self-discipline towards a worthy goal. I trust you have seen the value of a broad perspective. I would like to think that you have been influenced by and have contributed to, the culture we have always prized here, namely the pursuit of excellence with integrity. Hopefully, you have been sensitised to the need for critical self-reflection.

Tonight we rejoice in your success. We ask that you take with you not only these symbols of what you achieved but also fond memories of the processes that are embedded in how and why you were awarded them. Good luck to you all in your future careers.

Dr K.A.Jaggar, Principal.

School Notes

Vale Adam Howard It was with great sadness that the School learned of the death of Adam Howard (who left the school in 1992) as a result of the terrorist atrocity in Bali, Indonesia, on 12 October 2002.

Glittering Prizes Amongst recent old boys to be honoured for their academic achievement were Andrew Bowman (University of Sydney School of Mathematics, Head of School's Prize), K.D.Petersson (University of Sydney School of Mathematics Prize in Level 2), and Thomas Vogelgesang (University of Sydney School of Computer Science and Engineering, The Canon Information Systems Research Australia Project Prize (shared)).

Access Assured The former washroom on the northeast corner of the main building has been fitted out as a disabled toilet and shower facility, as part of works associated with licensing the Great Hall as a 'Place of Public Entertainment'.

Found at Last The elusive "Tambourine Girl", an elegant marble bust on a marble column, who once stood in the courtyard, but came to grief as long ago as 1986 (see School Notes 1987) has been rediscovered in the pottery room of the Visual Arts Department. Her long-awaited repairs were arranged by Ms Freiya McKellar-White shortly after her retirement as Head Teacher Industrial Arts. The girl herself now waits patiently for relocation to a more public, but indoor, position of display.

Glittering Prizes II The University of Sydney Union established Leadership and Excellence Awards in 1992 to recognise individuals and groups on campus who aim for more than just academic qualification. The winner of the 2002 Individual Award for Leadership was Peter Nicholas (96) for his leadership and involvement in the SU Law Society, Intersociety Debating, and Law Revues. Peter also won the Union Service Award for 2002.

In the Swim Stephen Hunt (1998) swam the English Channel from Dover to Calais in twelve hours and twelve minutes on 17 July, with the help of a support crew which included Daniel MacPherson (1997), who was a fellow cast-member of Neighbours. Stephen's swim was the culmination of a concerted fundraising campaign for The Aids Trust of Australia.

Cadet Unit Report

After a close encounter in recent years with the changing requirements of the modern Army, the Cadet Unit has now resurged and is set to engrave a new chapter in the history of one of Australia's oldest units.

A restructuring of the unit, under the command of Capt John Fittler, has meant that the cadet year will run in concurrence with the economic annum. This alteration means that graduates will be relieved of their duties before their final examinations commence.

This year has seen a revival of the old hand in hand connection between the unit and the rifle club. One of the unit's marksmen was chosen to compete as part of the Australian Army Rifle

Team in 2001. This year saw three of the unit's marksmen tour to Bisley, United Kingdom, as part of the very professional Australian Cadet Rifle Team, of which Capt Fittler was the manager. It is interesting to note that in the 1800s the rifle club was originally run entirely by, and considered as a branch of, the cadet unit itself.

The older members of the unit remember what the unit was like before it was temporarily shut down and hope that the unit will once again see a day where there are over one hundred cadets on parade every Tuesday afternoon. At the moment the unit stands roughly forty strong.

Library Report

Two thousand and two has seen some major upheavals and improvements in the library. Last year proved to be a year of assessing library usage and began with a report to the P&C and the library's input into the planning for the new library building. Library staff priorities in 2002 have reflected their realisation that the present space is woefully inadequate in size for a school with students of our calibre. Our staff, understanding that a new building is going to take some time to eventuate, has literally carved a new class space out of books. The library closed down for one day in term 1 and three days in term 2 while the shelves were reconfigured. As the new space began to emerge the staff, realising the teaching potential and student use potential of this space decided to place books over twenty-two year old into a "stack". This took several weeks after the three days of closure. The new quiet area – featuring carrels – has since proved to be popular with students and staff alike. (The actual creation of the stack is projected to occupy library staff for several terms to come. We have yet to assess how useful it is to students.)

Two thousand and two also saw the employment of Suet Kumar (mother of Raj in year 9) as a part-time archivist. Sydney Boys High is a very historic school and our archives are very precious both to Old Boys and present students alike. Previously Joseph Waugh, who for years very unselfishly volunteered his precious time (Joseph was a former student archivist and is now a lawyer) had single-handedly done a wonderful job of organising the archives. Joseph is still very much involved with the archives. Mrs Kumar has had a very busy year organising the deployment and listing of the archive assets and photographs. She has also been commissioned by Dr Jaggard to arrange for the permanent display of archive material in the school entrance and in various other areas. This has been done partly at the request of the P&C who felt that students were rarely able to appreciate the historical significance of their archives as the room is shut most of the time. Mrs Kumar also deals with the requests and contacts Sydney High has with its ex-students. She duly passes this information on to the staff of the High Bulletin.

This year the library staff has been very grateful for the invaluable voluntary assistance of a group of fifty or more student-librarians and student-archivists. These students embody the spirit of voluntarism actively fostered by the "award" system. Without the assistance of these charming students the library staff would probably have been distressed instead of delighted by the hugely increased use being made of library facilities this year. So far printing and photocopying has brought in $1900. (This amounts to 190,000 single transactions.) Staff (or students and staff) have processed over 8000 loans and 8000 returns. We estimate that we will reach the 10,000 mark by December. During the day seniors use the library all the time. There is no time when there are less than 7-8 seniors studying during free periods or using the computers. In most periods at least twenty seniors are working in the library. This year has also seen the increase we hoped for in teacher use of Library facilities. At last count 57% of periods had classes booked in. It is to be hoped that the students continue to use the library well. Our staff has also greatly appreciated the help given by several volunteer mothers. These mothers have assisted with the accessioning of videos and the accessioning of websites onto the OASIS catalogue. The library is looking forward to continued voluntary assistance of interested parents.

Sydney High boys library loan rates compare very well with comparable ability girls schools. Newspaper orders keep increasing – we are ordering over 170 copies of the Herald for individual students this term. If the boys and books syndrome exists at Sydney Boys High there are plenty of students who are reading.

The above figures certainly justify the faith of those parents who donated $40,000 dollars this year to the Library Fund. This money was spent in the following ways:

$1000 signage and maintenance,

$3000 display shelving,

$2600 non fiction to support faculty programs,

$1300 non book resources to support faculty programs,

$3000 fiction,

$3500 magazines,

$1000 newspapers,

$2000 audio visual upgrade,

$3000 office supplies,

$6,500 CD ROMS, and

$1000 for HSC programs/special requests,

$12,100 to be divided between shelving and computer furniture.

Young Achievers

Every year Young Achievers Australia holds a Business Skills Program for year 11 students. The students are split up into groups of 20-25, with each group having 1-5 advisers. The group then has to go about in building a company. This involves the students selling shares, making a product, selling that product, advertising the product, and managing all the paperwork, including writing up a business plan and annual report among other things.

In 2002 there were over 300 groups Australia wide, with twelve High boys participating. The following are short summaries of the groups that High students were involved in.

Andrew Hunt, Anthony Leong, William Leung, and Naithan Raheja (Finance Director) were all part of the group OnFyar sponsored by AMP. They produced hand cream and their company won the NSW Annual Report Award, being National Runners-Up in the same category.

Matthew Lam and David Yang (Human Resources Director) were both part of Kaishya sponsored by Rockdale City Council. They made key chains and won two awards at the Trade Fair: Retail Operations Award and Product Knowledge/Sales Process Award (joint).

Fai Lam was a member of Khaluya sponsored by Ryde Business Forum and Ryde City Council. His company made jewellery and won the Marketing Award at the Trade Fair.

Jackson Fan, Max Kletski (Managing Director), Axel Levitan, Krishna Sivanesan, and Vivek Subramanian were all part of Yamade sponsored by the Australian School of Business and Technology. This company produced various styles of cargo belts and also imported keyring lights. Yamade won the Product Knowledge/Sales Process Award (joint) at the Trade Fair.

All the above mentioned High boys learnt various things from the six month course, and even made a little bit of money out of the operation. The course taught us all a bit about the running of a business. It will be interesting to see how many of the twelve end up as successful businessmen.

Visual Arts

A strong year for the Visual Arts with numbers increasing in years nine and ten with four Architecture elective classes reflecting the growing interest the students have in this career option.

Tom Petty won a second major prize in two years at the UNSW Sustainable Architecture Awards Ceremony receiving his 2001 prize from Ian Kiernan AO. His designs for a Solar Tracking device were very well received by the Faculty of Built Environment and he has attended a number of lectures and discussions on his device at the University.

The Blue Room was finally fully operational thanks to a donation from the P&C allowing for the department to establish a strong Information Technology/Graphic Design programme including the digital editing of film and photographs, an area that is expanding and supplements the strong creative skills of the students at High.

Phil Lesnie and Mihai Sora kept the tradition of having their works selected for the Art Express pool with Phil's work being displayed at the Art Gallery of NSW.

Gifted and Talented workshops in Life Drawing, Digital Media, Print Making and Architecture were offered to students and were a great success.

Nic Morris, Head Teacher.

Music Department

The music department has seen considerable growth this year especially in the String Orchestra and jazz Ensemble Program. This year we have ensembles including Training Concert Band, Intermediate Concert Band, Senior Concert Band, and Symphonic Wind Ensemble for the highly advanced students. In the string program, we have Training String Orchestra, Symphony Orchestra and the Senior String Ensemble for advanced students. We have four Jazz bands including Dixieland Band, Junior Stage Band, Intermediate Stage Band and Senior Stage Band. Guitar students can participate in one of two guitar ensembles, beginner and advanced.

Music at Sydney Boys High is developing at every level, particularly incorporating a valuable training program to enable all boys to learn an instrument starting in year seven and progressing through each ensemble through to the top level. We also have a Chamber Choir which has grown to over thirty boys and the Small Group Vocal Ensemble. To assist the String and Jazz program, we held a number of weekend workshops with guest tutors to work with the boys in an intense time with a concert at the conclusion.

Annual Music Camp, Training Camp.

We held a training camp for the new instrumentalists in April. There were fifty boys in attendance with eight tutors. The boys stayed at the Outterside Centre overnight and at the conclusion of camp we held a concert for parents and friends.

Annual Music Camp was held at Stanwell Tops Conference Centre and was attended by over 130 musicians and over 25 tutors and staff. At the conclusion of the camp, there was a spectacular and memorable concert for family and friends.

We had two showcase concerts, the Winter Music Festival and the Spring Music Spectacular. Both concerts were held over two nights as there was so much music to showcase. Here is the program from the Spring Concert.

Senior Grade Chess

Senior grade Chess in 2002 has not been as successful as it could have been, due to the lack of dedication of the talented players. As a result, the teams were not graded this year, and there were mixed teams.

Throughout the Inter-School chess competition held every Friday afternoon, only one team out of the five senior teams qualified for the knockout stage. Convincing 4-0 thrashings of Grammar B, St. Mary's, Marcellin, and St. Catherine's gave us sufficient points to proceed to the next stage. Unfortunately, because we were the lowest seeded team in the finals, we were scheduled to play the number one seed and eventual winners – Sydney Grammar A. We put up a determined effort, but could only manage half a point in our $1/2 - 3 1/2$ loss. That loss halted our enjoyable season in which all players made great contributions, including Kyle Solomon who left the school just before the finals began. As a result of Kyle's departure Opal Wu filled in for the team. The First Grade Chess team for 2002 is from Fourth board: Charles Qin, Sahan Dasanayaka, Kyle Solomon, and Thien Vuong.

Eight Sydney High senior chess players were selected to represent their school in the annual GPS versus CAS representative match. But only five of them managed to turn up because the match was held during our exam week. They were: Daniel Ng, Jeremy Charles, Bryan Wu, Hugh James and Thien Vuong. The lack of commitment from our players once again made this contest tougher than it should have been. At the end of the evening, CAS took advantage of our lower boards and won $9 1/2 - 8 1/2$.

Debating

First Grade Debating

Sydney High First Grade Debating had a phenomenally successful season in 2002, recapturing the Hume Barbour CHS trophy and narrowly missing out on the GPS premiership. The success of the team can be ascribed to the dedication, hard work and teamwork of the team, comprised of David Carter as first speaker, Tim Davis Frank as second speaker, and Alex Gruszka as third speaker, along with the always invaluable Alex McCauley as fourth speaker and perennial supporter.

The volatile and curious chemistry between these very different speakers combined to create a synthesis of dynamic intelligence, coupled with a fierce rhetorical style. This tonic of talent swept all before it in an unbeaten season, excepting only stubborn Riverview and the anomalous loss to Newington. But the hidden ingredient in this mysterious concoction was our brilliant and benevolent coach, Dr Joseph Suttie, who kindly donated his time from his already overworked schedule to teach we mere mortals the art of debating, and much of our success we owe to him.

Our other supporters who require thanks are Mrs Betsy Berger, who tirelessly transported us to debates, and was always ready to regale us with tales. We also thank Mr Michael Selway for his efforts in co-ordinating debating for the year.

In representative roles, David Carter and Alex Gruszka were both selected in the NSW State Debating Squad. Alex Gruszka and Tim Davis Frank were selected in the GPS representative team, but honourably declined. David Carter represented the CHS team which went on to defeat the GPS team, obviously devoid of talent due to the decline of Alex and Tim.

We leave to Sydney High debating our legacy of success, as the mantle has been passed from past generations, we hope it shall be carried by future generations to come, so Sydney High's success in the field of debating will forever burn brightly.

David Carter.

Second Grade Debating

Two thousand and two marks the first opens season for our year. It is a big step up, so, despite having gone into the year having been undefeated winners in the 2001 GPS season, we knew we were in for tough competition. St Ignatius College choose to put their best junior teams in the independent schools' competition, and so therefore this was to be our first season debating the team that would prove most challenging.

Under the wily coaching of Oscar McLaren - old boy of the undefeated 2000 side - we went into all debates very thoroughly prepared: and there certainly was plenty to know about. In between Iraq, Kyoto and Stem Cells, we got into the complex issues surrounding media ownership and paid maternity leave. In true Sydney Boys High style, we had an edge in all debates in terms of general knowledge and depth of understanding.

A shock loss in the second week to Shore was a major wake up call for us, but despite this we managed quite solid wins against Joey's and Newington. Kings, unbeknownst to us, put forward an unexpectedly strong reselected side against us, in an attempt to at least win seconds. Of course it remained unbeknownst to us until after the debate, as we easily affirmed the case that "the Democrats should move further to the right."

An absence of myself proved no problem as the team moved speaking positions to put up a very good fight to Grammar, before losing a decision that could have easily gone either way. So, we had already lost our chances at retaining the premiership when we prepared to do battle against the undefeated Riverview, but we nonetheless put up a very strong fight, losing in a split decision, and giving them the best fight they experienced through the season.

In the CHS competitions, we won through to the round of sixteen in the Commonwealth Bank Senior competition, only to be very unfortunate losers in an ambiguous debate. In the Year 11 Karl Cramp competition, therefore, we were very eager to do very well. This we did: winning the regional final against Sydney Girls. So it was that we came up against Penrith High in the State Semi-final, only to lose to them on the day, despite having a better approach to the debate. Penrith were the eventual winners of the competition, so we were very unlucky not to go the whole distance.

The other year eleven debaters, consisting of Tom Petty, Paul Rajkumar, Max Kletski, Albert Bielinko and Axel Levitan, won more debates than they lost, and continued through the season to argue (ironically) much more successfully against the second-graders in coaching sessions, than against other schools in the third grade competition. They too have thoroughly enjoyed the season.

The team of Evan Solomons, Angus Ng, David Grenet, and myself went through the whole season riding a steep learning curve. Our abilities to speak and react under pressure have improved immensely, and we have come out seasoned and skilful debaters, ready to strive hard for the challenge and triumph of first grade.

Year Seven Debating

We started to get coached by our legendary University student Ashley. At the start of the year, we weren't very steady but as the year progressed we gradually grew more confident and increased our skills on how to debate. As the GPS season started, we had our foundations set and were ready.

The season was good as we won a few but sometimes we were unlucky. The season altogether was good and we can't wait until next year.

Third Eleven

The Year:

The Third XI began the year confidently after pushing Shore in an early trial game, losing in the final over. With possibly the best looking squad in the GPS, Sydney High often had the sidelines packed with attractive young ladies, and entered the GPS season eager to put on a show.

High did not disappoint with the bat, with Akash and Sachin battling hard, and Fat Matt and Sam A recording many well rounded innings. Senthuran and Will came in late in the innings, and from the traditional batting positions of 10 and 11, often doubled the score with some fine shots into the trees, the car park, and then into the hands of the opposition fielders. High then demolished the opposition in the bowling department, with the entire team taking wickets during the season.

The season not only started, but finished on a High note, and High recorded no less than 0 victories, undoubtedly a GPS record, although they were robbed of victory in almost every match due to dubious decisions and roughed up pitches. For victories, refer to the 2000/2001 3rd grade report and read about the game against arch rivals Newington.

Player Profiles

Special mentions must go to the entire squad:

Matt Hii and Ken Liu, who choose to wake up a bit earlier than the rest of us and open the batting, the most unpopular position in the team, and played a few outstanding innings. They both also picked up handy wickets. Ken, the provider of snacks (cookies, cake, jelly) for tea on occasions, also showed potential as a keeper.

Sachin Kumar (vc), Sachin's cricket mind was of great use to a captain who couldn't even remember the match ball, and was only elected as captain for his ability to carry the kit to the game. Also a great allrounder.

Akash Aggarwal, after being disappointingly dropped to seconds, Akash bounced back with some superb innings, including a 65 against Joeys, to see him only a run or two short of the batting award.

Sam Anderson, Sam was solid as a rock in the top order, and after swapping his keeping gloves for the ball, proved a valuable wicket taker, often breaking through in times of need.

Matt Mulroney, Matt showed why he has made several large innings in the GPS with a few well rounded innings and stunning footwork. His bowling was almost as good as his sledging from the slips, which often had the batsmen getting out just to escape him.

Sidath Weerasinghe, Squid always rocked up ready to bat, and whether he was required as a left hander or a right hander, he always gave his best. His bouncers often upset opposition batsmen, and hit no few than four different grammar players on the helmet in one game.

Senthuran Eswaralingam, Jimbo likes a tonk and showed it, with not one defensive stroke all year, his all or nothing style paid dividends, with opposition bowlers deciding to get him out just to stop him. Jimbo's bowling was also amazing, with his 5/27 against Joeys coming to mind, he was the worthy recipient of the bowling award.

Lachlan Drummond, Trousers was always dependable with the bat, but his bowling shone out. The unluckiest bowler in the GPS he averaged four dropped catches per match, and if it wasn't for this, would have been a force to be reckoned with.

William Clarke (c), the captain leading by example taking several spectacular catches in the season off cracking shots (often off his own inaccurate bowling). With his "slower ball" being faster than other GPS openers, Clarke's pace was a formidable weapon in the High bowling attack. The captain also showed a talent with the bat, not scoring runs close to Ken's maths marks, but also strategically placing the ball over the fence so that it was lost in the bushes, buying High some valuable time. Clarke is the deserving winner of the team batting award.

Mugunthan Gunasingham, hardly ever showed up due to his State netball commitments, but when he did was a superstar.

Ben Lonsdale, Helped out when his 1st VIII commitments would allow, and bowled well against Grammar, with four wickets.

Nirupan Yoganathan, the tennis player often showed up after tennis to lend a hand.

Sam Bradley, perennial summer sport bludger, Mohammed played one game against Riverview eager for a fight. He didn't get a chance in the first innings as he was dismissed instantly, however in the second innings his footwork floated like a butterfly, and also stung the opposition like a bee, with no fewer than 16 byes coming from missed strokes, he scored 0.

Alex McCauley, A late arrival, added plenty of depth to the High bowling line up.

Nick Kelly, Kez got promoted from seconds late in the season after some strong performances, and showed he was up to the third grade level with some fine innings.

Daniel Song, used his (large) head in the field with a few fine saves.

Mark Nam, picked up a few wickets in his two games, and would have excelled had he put in a solid preseason.

Fourth Eleven

The Gentlemen's XI came out to play their last season of cricket. This venture drew our friends together from all sports at High into this brigade. Cricket at High is a life that cannot be lived or let alone.

Cricket training consisted of regular trips to PC cafes - William Phu was well known to have learnt the art of bodyline bowling from such games as Cricket 97. Playing on our natural talent, Fourth XI ventured into the GPS season to test out quality players.

Instead of recapping a whole season's worth of events, I shall be focusing on the highlights - the matches that brought the team alive. With four wins to our credit, we ousted Third XI's stranglehold on their tough 2-win record this season. These memorable matches include St. Joseph's, Sydney Grammar, Riverview and Newington.

Newington College

Festivities began with High fielding players borrowed from Third XI whilst they batted against Shore. Patrick Bazin showed fine displays of bowling all day, with two wickets in his bag, and a couple of heads from his gunfire deliveries. Sidath Weerasinghe expanded his horizons with a two-for, in two spells. A fine performance when his back played tricks all day.

Andrew Hall, keeper extraordinaire, pitched in with two of his own as Newington disappeared gracefully for 136. Sam Anderson at third slip made the catch of the day. After two unsuccessful attempts at converting, Sam pulled off a classic “Tubby Taylor” catch, leaping high to snag a blazing scorcher. The batting, (or shooting range) sparked fires with a one-hour opening stand. Sidath (aka Squid) and Pat showing off stylish shots to reach high 30s in their season debuts. Jonathan Moore impressed with a 27. Brenavan, Bala and Daniel fired 20s in steady style as we reached 128 in a close final over. This match saw us just missing the target by 8 runs!

St. Joseph’s College

On a sunny and windy afternoon at Kippax we saw an extremely fast outfield and by far it was a most surprising day ahead. Winning the toss against Joey’s we took to batting with no openers - a major blip in the day!

After a bit of coercing, the regular number eleven batsman came into an amusing opening stance. After a shaky first couple of overs, the runs came steady with Andrew Hall and I (also no. 11) at the helm of the run fiesta. We were playing “Who wants to be a Sitting Duck (Millionaire)” at the centre. I was in the hot seat. The bowler pitched, and there came a dropped catch at slips. A second lifeline slipped as a high ball was caught off a full toss. Halfway back to the pavilion shade saw me being given not out by Mr. Hall – caught off a no ball. Two balls later saw the same situation with a caught and bowled instead – back to the pavilion I go. Arriving back came a call for no ball yet again. The fourth and unlikely lifeline was an attempt of a runout - close, and barely in. Drinks came and saw our stand at the end of the first session at 1/80. The processional walk back to the crease was talked about throughout the day...

I finished my innings an over after drinks with an opening knock of 42 and went on to watch Andrew’s cracker of an innings at 71 not out. A great display of shots and whips, especially with two sixes off the last over saw us heading to a grand total of 158. We didn’t have to tell Andrew it was time for a final smash - he took it under his belt and charmed with all possible wonders. Theso came out with solid 23.

With players being stolen by the Third XI, we felt the pinch as the Joey’s opening stand raced to 0/110 by drinks. A runout by Theso sparked the downfall of the Joey’s innings, also ending a great innings by opening batsmen Gurr at 67. Lang fell soon after under the deceptive pace and originality of the Andrew Hall ball for an LBW at 37. Andrew’s mystery ball is even scarier - haunting the likes of top batsmen and umpires. One time it was noted to be an apple Hally dropped from his pockets... Pat Bazin and Jonno Moore made their spells enlightening and entertaining for a weary, number exhausted team. The day was a spin! Those four quick wickets couldn’t keep us snatching defeat, a most gallant fight to the death...Jonno, still smiling despite painful injuries incurred.

Special thanks to Tim and Dave from the 14C’s team in helping us field on short notice.

Grammar 2001

The Gentlemen’s XI have struck down the black and gold - not just in rugby but also in cricket! The morning’s weather turned bad as thunderstorms flashed portentously around Sydney. It cleared to a hot humid afternoon at McKay. We didn’t seem to have the numbers until the final minute of the start when the last “Gentlemen” finally turned up in full numbers. Grammar won the toss and sent us to bowl at them in a steamy spring day. Our launch pad seemed to shine today with rockets firing in all directions Theso (2/7), Ben Trewin (3/15) and Roshan (2/3) tantalised their batting order with their unorthodox spinnifex of bowling. Grammar went down showing fighting spirit to defend an all out 110. With players being stolen again the High Gentlemen came into the batting scene starting with a clumsy runout. High cruised to the top of the mountain as the big “V” caned 15 from 2 overs.

Daniel came to the crease and he expected to knock a couple left and right. Instead a Grammar chancer tried to throw down the stumps but took the back of Dan’s head. Will he ever be as smart as before? Dan asks, “Am I out?” Bruised and out in the heat and for the rest of the day - but not out. When Andrew Hall came to the crease we knew Grammar were done for. After his performance of 72 against St Joseph’s, Hally smite a few to the longest boundaries we’ve ever setup up at McKay. Along with Mark Bayliss steadying the helm we eventually came home with the bacon reaching the devil’s number of 111 with 10 overs to spare. A great revenge in the name of Daniel!

Riverview 2002

Riverview at Riverview was a game that brought the Tennis, Cricket and Basketball codes together. The afternoon panned out having the tennis 4ths and 5ths, our fellow year twelve mates fielding the main side for us. Robert Ing, Yui Yeng, Ben Harrison, Anthony Wong shone as our stars outscoring the normal cricketers - Roshan Kumaragamage, Mark Bayliss, Perlon Leung, Andrew Hall, Theso Jivajirajah. We chased a bold total of 200 that seemed far from reach. Some glimmer of hope came as Anthony opened the batting and crunched 38 off the opening 3 overs. Dominos fell with cricketers alongside them as the full timers took single digits in their batting. Ben Mostafa took his first wicket on this day and it wasn't his last, batting and bowling for us later on in the season - taking three wickets with his three-pointer bowling style.

Grammar 2002

The final showdown - the hoojoo - the divaaaaaaa game. Reg Bartley is one of my favourite playing fields. Reg Bartley is next to Rushcutter's Bay, sporting long boundaries and a hard cracking pitch, fluffing up dust every ball. Amidst the dust storms, the sweet sea breeze rushes in to kill the heat. On that final match of our careers, a wedding took place near the white picket fence surrounding the oval. We mustered a full team to give them a guard of honour with

Grammar. We came into bowl first and wickets fell for a mere 37. William Phu sporting the most damage with his 5 wicket haul for 8. Then came batting as we let loose a normal batting line-up of Theso and Hally reaching their target with ease. Time - 11am. We decided to sport a second innings. A determined Grammar team scored 67 with Willy (Phoo-bear) taking 4/15. Batting out the short 12 over match, we were struggling with the line of Grammar bowling. When Abhilash entered the crease, he smeared a quick road to guide us to a convincing win over Grammar in the final over of the innings. Phoo-bear, the hero taking out nine wickets alone in this match, walked away every time asking "can we go home yet?"

Thank you to Mr. Hall this year for all his hard work umpiring tough matches and when the occasion arose for trouble, he'd be in the thick of the fighting...

This is the Gentlemen's XI. It's not about winning or losing or the outcome to achieve: it's about the true passion of the sport, the heart of High Spirit, Sportsmanship and Barbies with Grammar. I remember it's these games that bring out the strength of this year eleven and twelve

The 2001 2002 season of High cricket was very successful for the 14As. In the GPS season we won Three games (Iggies, Scots, and Kings), lost three games (Joey's, Shore, and Grammar) with our game against Newington being cancelled due to weather. In a lot of games we were missing players but we battled on and ended up with a season which we were proud of.

Our GPS season started with a solid win against St Ignatius. We bowled first and Gary Ngo ran through the opposition line-up taking 6/29. Being set 163 for victory was no easy task but we started well with Eddy Pham blazing 47 and signalling what was to come. However Rajeevan stole the show with a classy 54 as we coasted to 192 and our first win of the season. Naeef batted well again.

Keen to do well after our first round win we came up against a very tough Joey's side who beat us outright. We started well taking 6/45 before they got away from us to reach 159 with Faraz leading an average performance in the field with 2/9. We batted poorly (99) and Joey's decided to bat again and go for outright. This time we didn't crack their top order and they reached 3/135. Batting to save the game was always going to be hard against the Joey's destructive attack and was made harder with Naeef being away. We were bowled out for 79 with only Pham rising make 33.

The last game of Term 4 was played with a severely depleted team with Faraz, Mark Samarasinghe, and Naeef all absent. Therefore we got the 13As captain Edward Hibbert, and the twins Thariq and Malik also from the 13As to come and play for us. We batted well on a small ground making 215. Hibbert made 36 in a cool calculated innings, with Pham his usual aggressive self making 40, and Adrian Jeyendra playing a positive innings of 59. We again started the bowling well leaving them 6/83 with an evenly distributed wicket haul until they rallied to 232 to win the game. They sent us back in and we batted out to the end with Eddy Blaxell and Gary making 45 and 30 respectively.

After two successive losses we were keen to beat the team from Parramatta and we managed to in a nail-biter. We batted first and ten of our team members combined to compile 35 runs. However we made 186 as the brightest talent of High cricket blazed away the highest score of the season, a beautiful 109 off 116 balls. Eddy Pham massacred the opposition bowling and single handedly won the game for us. When we came out the next week for our day in the field we were pumped and showed it having Kings 5/19 before they fought back. However unlike all the other times this happened we didn't give up and managed to dismiss them for 172. In the second best performance of the game Naeef got 5/19 off 15 overs swinging the ball all over the place. In this game we had Jack Sun and Chong Shiao play for us as Martin was in Canada and wouldn't be back that term.

Against Scots the next week we continued our winning form with ten men in a low scoring match. We bowled Scots out for 64 with Naeef again displaying his brilliance taking 5/16. We went into bat and secured first innings points on the first day with 79. The next week we were looking for outright and were confident even though we only had nine players as Naeef was not playing along with Martin. However it was not to be as Scots exploited the gaps in the field to declare at 6/128 with myself taking 4/50. We were again given the job of saving the game as there was no time to win. We did this with the loss of only three wickets.

The last game of the season was against the very good Shore team who had beaten us soundly in the trial game at the beginning of the season. We had the Blaxell clan helping out as D'Arcy (under 13s), and Chester (10yrs old) played for us. Ravi from the under 15s was also helping out. This game was a lot closer than the trial and we kept them to 3/163 with everyone getting a bowl and Chester taking a wicket. It was then our turn to bat and we reached 5/116 at stumps. I top scored with 36 and Pham added to his already impressive average with 23.

This year's season could not have been nearly as successful as it was without Kieran Lewis and Robin Alexander, our Year 12 coaches. These two were there nearly every Wednesday and Friday for training and would pop into our games when not playing for firsts or seconds. A very big thanks to both of them.

Overall this season was an enjoyable one and we should do very well next season.

For the first half of the season we were called the 14Ds, and we seemed to play teams that fitted that category fairly well. We beat Newington College in our first game, and although they did give us a run for our money; we eventually won by 24 runs. Our next game saw us give Riverview's 14Ds a thrashing. We dismissed them for a diminutive total of 18. We went on to declare when the score reached 104 for 6 after 23 overs. That was by far our best win for the whole season. Another of our games that we played under the 14Ds name was against Scots College. This was slightly disappointing as we were dismissed for 114 after being sent in to bat. Scots College went on to beat our score with seven wickets still remaining. They did have only one over left, though, so it was a good tight game. I hasten to add that it had been deemed fit for us to play their 14Bs side so we were up against our hardest opponents yet.

We travelled through into the second half of the season with high hopes. We were going to be playing the 13As from then on so they were going to be harder than the teams that we played before.

Our first game was against Kings School. This game proved as a harsh reminder as to what the standard would be like. We were dismissed for a small score, by our standards, of 62, with only one player reaching double figures (Edward with 13). They passed our score with only four wickets gone and quite a few overs still to spare. After that, the rest of our season seemed to go down hill. We managed to lose the rest of our games. One of the weeks, Edward Hibbert played in the 14As. He scored 35 in a game which the 14As lost to Grammar.

At the end of the year when the awards were handed out, there were no real surprises. Gajaba Manamperi won the Bowling Award. This was expected as he had given many good performances over the games, getting a couple of five wicket hauls. Edward Hibbert managed to get the Batting Award although it was thought that Sahir Syed might have taken that award. Ashan Wijiyaratne took the Coach's Award which he deserved as he had supported the team throughout the season.

The 13D side was one that consisted of mainly rookies and new players to the sport. Only a few actually knew how to bowl and even how to bat. Yet a team like this learned how to work together to improve our skills.

We managed only one win from our four games but we did twice come within ten runs of our opponents in the run chase. The team showed a degree of High Spirit that was really commendable, with the team always putting in every effort even when the odds were against us.

When we were dismissed for a mere thirty seven runs, I expected to see a lifeless, bitter, team walk out to field. But the energetic side that walked out was one that played with everything Sydney High embodies. We even managed to put our opposition at four for eight until a player broke his thumb and everybody lost concentration.

It has been a real honour to play on a side which all show such spirit and I look forward to a much anticipated 2002 2003 cricket season.

Captain of Boats

[The following is an edited version of the speech given by the Captain of Boats at the Annual Rowing Assembly.]

Why Row? Merv Wood answered this question by saying it was the challenge, the need to train throughout your career religiously every night from Monday to Friday and on weekends for hours - wind, rain or heat did not alter that regime. There was no coach to drive him on, only his own dogged determination. "It was not the killer instinct" he said, "but it was the will to win." For those of you who do not know Merv is a Sydney High old boy whose international career spanned twenty-two years; he competed in four Olympic games winning three medals and five Commonwealth Games, winning five medals. He also won eight Australian championships, more than twenty NSW titles and represented NSW in twelve Kings Cup Regattas.

What is rowing at school boys level about? Rowing is not solely about winning as Rick Clothier, rowing coach at USNA said, "Rowing is more than a fast boat on race day - it's a complementary experience to a young man's intellectual development."

Rowing, like success, is a journey not a destination, it's about learning, having fun and most of all it's about growing as individuals. If this is achieved the wins and losses will take care of themselves.

Unlike many sports, which finish when the whistle blows or the ball is packed away, rowing is one that encompasses all aspects of your life. This year the senior A squad has had two camps a week resulting in crew members spending more time at the sheds than they spend awake at home. Rowing also provides you with unique life experiences that cannot be provided by playing computer games or spending hours on the internet. This can be seen in the First Eights trip to the National Championships where we were able to meet and interact with so many different schools from all over Australia. However, if you want more information on that you should talk to Simmo.

From a coach's perspective rowing at school boy level, while providing unique challenges, can be very rewarding. Mr Barris once told me that a winning result is unparalleled to the satisfaction of watching the members of his crew grow and mature.

The season has travelled incredibly quickly. For myself and the other year twelves it will be our last Head of the River, and a culmination of a journey that will have spanned up to five years, but it is not the days we remember but the moments. Those special moments when the water is dead flat, the sun is yet to rise and the blades are not touching the water. Or sometimes they are in the shed when you are surrounded by your closest friends having a laugh. From a personal experience, rowing has enabled me to build friendships that are incredibly strong as they have been formed under tough and pressured situations and I am sure this is true of everybody in the shed.

For anyone to succeed in anything, there must be a huge amount of dedication and commitment towards their goal. Some people who don't dedicate their lives to succeed in something question this commitment, but remember everybody gets twenty-four hours in a day - it's the only thing that is equal and it is what you do and achieve with these twenty-four hours that counts. In the case of rowing there must be an underlying dedication from all ten members of the crew, being the eight rowers, the coxswain and the coach, and in the case of the fours all six members. This commitment and determination is spread throughout the shed, this is spurred on by the fact that rowing is an incredibly enjoyable sport and while it is hard work it is not all about pushing your body to the brink of exhaustion.

If you have heard someone talk about rowing they will have said it's about pain, however this is not true. Pain is hammering a nail into your head. Rowing is just about physical discomfort; the crew that can handle the most discomfort on the day will win the Head of the River.

For those of you who have never been to a Head of the River, you have no idea how big it is. It is huge. It is easily the biggest event in the GPS calendar, attracting more than 20,000 spectators. While it is compulsory for the boys of the most of the seven other schools, Scots, Newington, Grammar, Shore, St Ignatius', Kings and St Joseph's to attend they would turn up anyway. This creates an atmosphere that is unrivalled.

Each year the standard of the GPS competition improves dramatically. It happens in Rugby, cricket, soccer, water polo and any other sports you can name. Rowing is no different as most crews put on the water during a season would be capable of winning the Head of the River the previous season.

In relative terms rowing is the most competitive sport in the GPS. Last year the Kings first eight who won the Head of the River, then went on to win the National Championships and the Schoolboy World Championships in Henley England.

This year GPS crews filled the top four places in the nationals. Our First VIII itself came back from the nationals as the seventh ranked U19 men's crew in Australia.

To the year 7s and I speak from experience: you cannot truly comprehend what this is all about, for it is something that you must experience for yourself. I urge you to give rowing a go and stick with it until your first Head of the River, you will be hooked.

To the rest of the school, these guys that you will see before you have been training for five years for this one race. It means everything in GPS rowing. They have dedicated their lives so they can represent your name, but every year we get psyched up for those who do not support us, we always feel a hint of disappointment at the fact that everyone of our rivals is represented and cheered on by at least a thousand supporters while Sydney High sometimes has about two hundred. This year we want to feel that we have our school, you guys behind us. We want your support, don't let us down.

And finally to the rowers the most significant message I can convey to you is to just row the race. Think about the process and don't dwell on the result until it's history. Not everybody wins and certainly not everybody wins all the time. But once you get into your boat, push off and paddle down to the start of the Head of the River, you have indeed won far more than those who have never tried.

The 1st VIII for 2002 is

Bow: Andrew Simpson - Mrs Sweetness is the loveable character of the crew, and someone that everybody gets along with. However underneath this exterior he is unyielding in his determination to win and prove himself at all costs.

3 Seat: Alex Campbell - Mr Angry is one of the more disgruntled members of the crew - however this rage is only brought about by his will to train hard and achieve his potential

4 Seat: Peter Kailis - Pablo throughout the season has continuously been forced to undergo drug tests by our coach. Unfortunately it is not performance enhancing drugs that are being tested for. Pete has greatly improved his rowing through out the past month and is becoming a strong asset to the crew

5 Seat: Ben Lonsdale - Benny is returning for his second year in the eight and his experience has proved valuable. He is also the biggest member of the crew in more ways than one and is able to pull ergs that would place him in the first eight at any school.

6 Seat: Brett Saucis - Brett is the newest member to the crew, timing his run into the eight with perfection; he is a talented rower who has worked hard.

7 Seat: Richard Zhou - Ricci Ricardo is also a new member of the crew. He is very strong and insists on everything being perfect before saying it was ok, while being the youngest member he does not give anything away in sculling and ergs.

Stroke: Tim Edmeades - Mr Sweetness has the most natural talent in the crew both on and off the water, where there is always a group of girls to follow him around. Tim will go far in rowing if he wants to.

Coxswain: Haim Ayalon - Unfortunately I am unable to tell you his nick name because it contains too many profanities. However there is no denying Haim's commitment to the crew. The first eight means everything to him, and there is no one I know that wants a result on Saturday more than him.

With myself as 2 Seat I present the First eight and Senior Boat Shed for 2002.

Second Eight

I am proud to have had this season as my last season of rowing with Sydney High. We achieved results, but more importantly we had fun. At the start of the season, we were rowing very, very poorly. But with the wisdom of coach Len McPherson (who had previously been coach of Australian State Crews, and Australian Olympic crews) we learnt to row well.

In our first regatta, our crew came third in our heat, having the St Josephs crew that came second beating us by 0.3 seconds. Our entire crew dreamt of great things ahead. Unfortunately due to injuries and crew changes, our crew was reshuffled and were beaten miserably in our next race. This trend of defeat was continued for the next few regattas but morale was kept high by the general happiness of the crew. We had characters such as Brett and Eugene there to keep our morale up. Brett and Thien would keep us all entertained with their immature antics, whilst in times of despair Eugene kept our morale high, telling us “not to think like that” after losing dismally and claiming that we were going to lose again → a drastic change from his outlook on the crew at the start of the season. But once again Len’s coaching ability got us rowing well again, but once again we were to suffer crew changes. And once again we were back to rowing poorly. This time Len’s super-coaching was aided by the help of Australian Olympic rower Bo Hanson and Olympic coach Tim McLaren. We learnt to row, again, and in the second last race of the rowing calendar, the prestigious St Ignatius Gold Cup Regatta, we were to pull off an upset, placing second in our heat, beating Newington and Grammar.

Our new crew, [from bow] Hamish Nairn, Matt Louie, Thien Vuong, Louis Charalambous, Jay Jools, Leo Raikhman, Eugene Hooi, and myself Shane Talbot in stroke, with coxswain Jack Tam, turned out to work magic. We went into the

Rowing

GPS Head of the River, scared, and feeling a lot of pressure. Unfortunately we only finished seventh, but as sad as that day was, we had a great season to look back on. From the start to finish the season was filled with good times, fond memories, and of course entertaining camps. Every member of our crew played their part in what was to be known as the “Happy Crew”, and our coxswain, Jack Tam, was making sure the entire world new this, as he was not once seen without a smile on his face. Even when Eugene pushed him out of the boat into the cold, early morning Parramatta River water. And just for the record, the St Josephs crew that beat us by 0.3 seconds in the first regatta was the crew that went on to win the Gold Cup Regatta and the AAGPS Head of the River.

The developing season was a thoroughly worthwhile and enjoyable experience. With hard training and intense racing, we were able to keep pace with larger and heavier crews from the other GPS schools. Season 2002 was not the most prosperous for the Second IV with only one finals qualification during the season. It was hard for us to get into a groove with crew changes continuing into the first part of the racing season, but our coaches Mark Prater and Nye Rozea soon had our techniques running smoothly.

Total commitment to training, including rowing in hail after dark and Nye's "12km" run, and our best efforts, were not enough to avoid an 8th placing at the Head of the River.

The crew of Joshua Dzarir (Bow), Vivian (Bruno) Paul (2), Michael (Barnes) Allies (3), Andrew Hunt (cox) and myself greatly appreciate the efforts of our coaches Mark Prater and Nye Rozea, both members of the 1st VIII 2000, who were a great inspiration throughout the season.

First Year 10 VIII

The First Year 10 VIII of 2002 had some mixed results throughout the season. We raced well in the pre-season. At the Head of the Parramatta, we recorded a competitive time.

We raced well throughout the GPS season with four 3rd placings, two 4th placings and a 2nd.

At the season's climax we raced competitively, finishing the season at the Head of the River by beating Newington.

The crew was Robbie Girdler (bow), Anson Pang (2), Drew Hoare (3), James Gerofi (4), Eric Ren (5), Cameron Conway (6), Tom Hoare (7), Liam Bennett (stroke), Jimmy Van (coxswain).

Second Year 10 VIII

The 2nd Year 10 VIII of 2002 had a varied season with mixed results throughout the nine races we took part in. The season began with the Head of the Parramatta in which we placed 5th out of the eight crews. The crew then had four 3rd placings, three 4th placings within the GPS school regattas.

Then came the race of the season: the Head of the River. The crew raced strongly, but unfortunately failed to place in the top three.

The crew consisted of Mitchell Bowey (bow), Pu Shen Xin (2), Oliver Taaffe (3), Andrew Jacques (4), Fergus Ly (5), Ben Mitchell (6), Ben Glass (7), Jason Tan (stroke), Yinan Zhang (coxswain).

Fourth Year 9 Quad Scull

The Sydney High Year 9 Fourth Quad had a very successful season. The main reason for this was a great (lazy) coach, Mike Martin. He made us work very hard most of the time. Runs and ergs were one of his favourite ways to keep us fit. Without his long, inspiring motivational speeches, our quad would have gone nowhere.

The Fourth Quad contained Alan Dam at bow, Edward Ovadia in the two seat, Ben Stamati in the three seat, Josh Scharfegger as Stroke and Savva Dobrinski as the coxswain.

This quad worked hard, hardly complained and won most of the time. We were a well balanced quad, with Alan able to keep time well and Edward giving helpful advice on what we were doing wrong. They were an excellent, lightweight bow pair. The stroke pair consisted of strength, timing and a good attitude towards pushing it to the limit. Ben was the brick of the quad and he was always making sure that we did not lag behind in races - even it did mean looking out of the boat, much to Savva's disgust.

Josh Scharfegger was the motivator of the quad, making sure the boys didn't lose heart during hard times. He also kept steady, constant time. Savva was the main reason we won so many times, with his steering being smart, precise and smooth. He had many good things to say to boost us in the race, but we couldn't hear him because he was too quiet. This was overcome in the late stages of the season's races, when we threatened to throw him in if he didn't yell louder. This was a good wake up call, so from then on we were blown away with his bellowing.

Come Gold Cup time, we were all very unsure, nervous and downright scared. This is where Mike, our coach, gave us that lift to make these feelings disappear and we were a confident, prepared team, ready to take on Shore, our main worry.

The race was a tough, tough battle between us and Shore, with both quads neck and neck. We gave it our all, but that proved to be insufficient for the successful Shore quad. We were a close second, by half a boat length. That will help us with the next season, when we will put everything we can, and even more, into it.

We will not settle to be second best next time. The Fourth Year 9 Quad will be back, and ready for the great Head of the River.

Sixth Year 9 Quad Scull

This year my quad consisted of myself, Karl Kruszelnicki, as stroke, John Holloway as three-man, Bryan “Tezza” Wrench as two-man, Gabriel “Beef-master” Gutnik as bow and Henry Chan as the coxswain.

We improved considerably from our beginnings, and we turned into a great quad with almost perfect timing. We had a very successful season, with mostly second places and a few third places in races. However, we had the misfortune of having two Shore crews in our division, which prevented us from winning at least two of our races. We were also the only crew to have the honour of catching a mullet, named Bluey, while rowing. He leapt into our boat while rowing and wedged himself in there until we could get back to the pontoon. We made the A division of the gold cup final, but due to bad luck, we came fourth out of five crews.

On behalf of the crew, I would like to thank our coach, Mr Coan, for his excellent work training us, and will hope that we can do even better next year while rowing in eights.

First Year 8 Quad

The First Year 8 Quad had a tough but unsuccessful rowing season. Attending six of the seven GPS school regattas, the rowers experienced pressure and disappointment. Consisting of Romesh Abeysuriya (cox), Jongha Lee (bow), Roger Burrell (2 man), Douglas Chang (3 man), and Quinton Yang (stroke), these amateur rowers underwent intensive training and discipline which helped them create the basic fundamentals of being a great rower.

Quinton Yang and Roger Burrell achieved huge ergometer scores (829 and 842 respectively, for three minutes). Douglas Chang achieved a moderate score of 810 (which is a factor that he will need to improve on). Jongha Lee, a promoted rower from the Year 8 Second Quad, amazingly achieved an outstanding erg score of 811. Overall, the members look forward to continuing with the competitive fitness test in the next season.

Originally, the crew included Ellis Louie and Attila Szabo (later members of the Second Quad). Our coach, Mr Gary McIvor studied performances and reconstructed the two quads, which didn't make much of a difference. Both Quads have shown high talents and enthusiasm in the sport, which was largely due to their being happy with their boat positions.

In the seven GPS regattas, we were never victorious. Unfortunately, we were delayed by rough waters, and missed the school's regatta. Everybody was greatly disappointed but Roger Burrell and Quinton Yang were given a task to take the places of two missing Year 9 Third Quad rowers. The Quad won the race and each member was given a medallion for his great achievement.

Although coming close seconds in some of the races, there were many disappointing moments. We were put in the Division B race at the St Ignatius Gold Cup. We met surprisingly tough competitors and made a very close finish at third. Everyone was happy about the season and look forward to the more intensive training expected next rowing season.

Everyone hopes he will be in Year 9 First Quad.

Quinton Yang, Stroke.

Second Year 8 Quad

Last season Rowing was a great success. Our Year 8 crews were put into quads consisting of four rowers and a coxswain. We had four quads, with a few reserves usually helping out in speedboats or swapping over occasionally.

Our crew, Second Quad consisted of the weirdest combination of rowers. There was Blake Angell, as bow. Blake was quiet most of the time and always followed orders; he was probably the only one in our crew who rowed properly when he was told to. In third man position was Ellis Louie - he was the annoying one in our crew (most of the time). But when he really tried, which wasn't very often, he could row pretty well. Next, in second man position was Adam Farrow-Palmer. Adam often entertained the crew by starting a sing-a-long or playing games in the boat. Adam in my opinion was the best rower in our crew - he was always up to the task. And as Stroke of our crew, myself, Attila Szabo. I would often entertain the crew as well, to make it more fun, by singing with Adam and having interesting conversations with our coxswain.

If you are thinking that because I was Stroke it meant that I was the best and most responsible rower in the crew, you are mistaken. Actually it was by default that I was stroke. We were not very good so we changed the positions around hoping that we could row better. Eventually we got it perfect except for me, my timing was always out. So they put me as Stroke. It was finally perfect! Because I was at the front of the boat I didn't have to keep in time with anyone.

Finally, as Coxswain of our crew was Julian Murray. He was rather small but it didn't matter because all he did was steer the boat. He must have had a lot of fun looking at our hot sweaty bods and telling us what to do. Julian occasionally talked to himself thinking we were listening. We must not forget our wonderful coach, Mr Burrell. He was probably the best coach you could have - he was always fun and never gave up on us. This made up our Second Year 8 Quad, which was probably the most fun and best crew ever.

The first time we got to the Abbotsford Rowing shed, we were rather stunned - it was a nice and large building. Soon we were introduced to our coach, Mr Burrell. Without his help we wouldn't have gotten anywhere and would probably still be learning to balance the boat. As soon as we got in the boats we realised that there was more to it than rowing back and forth for hours. We were actually really bad. Even steering the boat for Julian was hard. The first time we rowed we hit around five boats in the vicinity, and nearly capsized so many times I lost count. Also when we came early on a Saturday morning and saw the sparkly water undisturbed by boats or ferries going past, it was probably the best time you could possibly row - the water was calm, the air was damp, and everything was quiet except for the rowers. After a month or so we could row pretty well and found that rowing is actually really fun when you can do it fairly well.

Around two months after we started rowing we had a Year 8 Rowing camp. This camp lasted two days and one night. We unfortunately didn't have Mr Burrell coaching us for these two days, but they were equally fun. We rowed approximately four hours straight and then headed back to the sheds. We had a few hours of having fun and then had a nice dinner and went off to bed. The next morning we woke up at around 6:30 in the morning and went out into the calm and cold water for a short morning row. We then packed our things and left for school.

In the second half of our rowing season we had races against other GPS schools on Saturday mornings. In our first race we figured out that the other schools crews were mostly much better than us and much bigger as well. We gave every race our all, which obviously wasn't enough, and came an average third in most races. On two occasions we came second, one we finished with grace and style, and well, the other, we finished second. We had a really bad start and were coming last. About a quarter of the way into the race, an inconsiderate person terrorised our race roaring through the middle of our race with their speedboat giving us evil grins. Typically we were the only crew that got wash from the speedboat because they were rather close to us. We were far behind now and the boat race officials realised we weren't worth it so they overtook us and followed the rest of the crews to make sure nobody was cheating. Yes, they too gave us wash ruining our race even more. We were all really angry by now and were willing to show them we not as bad as they thought we were. We all went psycho and took our best shot at it, catching up to one crew with about a quarter of the race to go. We were keeping in touch with the rest of them when one of us suddenly lost his oars. We were now losing for sure, but Adam, Ellis and I didn't care if we had three rowers or four, we were going to win this race. We kept rowing and caught up to three crews and finished in second place. That was probably the best race we had, and we are all proud of it.

In the final race we were placed in the B Final, because we weren't good enough for the A Final, according to our previous results. This race was pretty average and we finished in second place, but unfortunately we were in the B Final and so really finished in seventh place.

There was one more important event in our rowing season, our First and Second Quad went to the C.H.S championships, which was a rather difficult event. There were lots of really good crews around and we thought we didn't have a chance. We enjoyed the day until our race was going to start. We got ready for our race and rowed over to the starting line. We were also racing against our own Year 8 First quad. We rowed the race with difficulty, and somehow obtained third place. We were all really surprised and didn't understand how we did it and then we realised there were only three crews in our race. We got our medals, and felt proud for the next few days, but knew that that was the end of our rowing season till next year.

Many thanks to our coach, Mr Burrell, for getting us to where we were and also to our rowing teachers and everyone who inspired us to row.

Third Year 8 Quad

Another great rowing season at High and an especially pleasing one for the Third Year 8 Quad. In only our first season of rowing all of the boys in Year 8 were looking forward to a fun-filled season at the High Sheds. After learning all the basics from our great coaches Mr Hoare and Mr Hespe, we were more than ready for a big season of rowing.

The Third Year 8 Quad was:

Bow man: Ben Chow, full of enthusiasm. Ben always put in a solid effort and really had something to prove.

Two man: Sandy Cunningham, by far the most

Third Year 8 Quad Scull

Cox: F.Taaffe, Stroke: M.Levy, 3: R.Ali, 2: S.Cunningham, Bow: B.Chow.

talkative and knowledgeable member of the quad, Sandy always had something to say. We called him the guru.

Three man: Rezwan Ali, another of the more vocal members in our quad, who made our rows a lot of fun.

Stroke: Michael Levy, probably the most focused member of the quad, Michael was unlucky not to be selected in the first or second quads but was fortunate enough to row with them on a few occasions.

Coxswain: Felix Taaffe, always very vocal, Felix's coxing was sometimes the difference between a first or last place finish.

We were all eager to do well at the first regatta of the year. This was the Grammar Regatta and we got off to a good start to the season placing third, behind St Josephs and St Ignatius. The next regatta was our own High Regatta, in which we again placed third, this time behind Newington and Grammar. In the St Joseph's Regatta it was yet another third, narrowly going down to Kings and Grammar.

In a fighting performance, we missed a podium finish for the first time in the season, placing fourth and going down to front runners

Shore, Grammar and St Joseph's at The Scots College Regatta. We brought our bad form from the week before with us into the Kings School Regatta and once again placed fourth, this time due to technical difficulties. With this form we faced a hard task in the last regatta of the year before the Gold Cup. This time Newington were the hosts and again we had a hard task, as our opponents were again in good form and for the third week in a row we placed fourth, Newington, St Josephs and Kings taking the places.

We appeared to be struggling on form and it seemed as if the longer Riverview course would not suit us. But we proved all wrong and on the "mile long" course we showed that we had struck form, again picking up a third in the B Final, only being denied first place by Grammar and the hosts St Ignatius. This was a pleasing result and all the boys rowed well.

All the boys rowed well throughout the season and have proved to the other schools that rowing at High will be a force to be reckoned with in the near future.

Fourth Year 8 Quad

Despite constant crew changes, Sydney High Fourth Quad started the season with great enthusiasm. Rowing was new to all of us but we soon caught on and were on the water in no time.

It was a surprise when we took to the water in one of our fantastic boats to find that rowing was much harder than it looked. While paddling around the bay on sculls many of us found it hard to keep our balance while others were sculling freely. The fact that we all took different times to adapt to the rowing style meant that we had a bit of trouble keeping in time at first. However, we didn't let this ruin our hopes.

The crew consisted of Slava Nossar - a consistent, loyal bow man who tried his hardest at every regatta; James Morgan - a solid and committed two man who powered all the way to the end of every race; three man Stephen Burke - big, bulky and always ready to row and stroke, Joel Kamerman, who maintained a constant pace throughout the year, leaving the other members to work on keeping up. Alex Szabo and Albert Yin backed each other up well as coxswains and both steered the boat well. Nikita Balashov rowed well as a reserve and he might have been in more races than one of the crew members.

With some great coaching from Ted Hoare we turned up at our first regatta feeling confident. Unfortunately, we did not place. Over the next few weeks we trained well and managed to come fifth and fourth in the next two races. We slipped slightly out of form in other regattas but our best result for the season was a well-earned third.

Rowing was a great experience for us all and we took a lot out of it. I am sure all the boys will be eager to row next season and I look forward to another great experience both on and off the water.

Open Tennis

New life was injected into the Opens Tennis Team this year as we welcomed Mrs Veronica Crothers in her debut as a coach and team manager for GPS Tennis. Confronted with an unruly team plagued by internal unrest, factional conspiracies and restless ambition, she quickly established her authority with an iron fist and silenced the dissidents. The Opens Team for 2001 included Ben Harrison (Captain), Nirupan Yoganathan, Opal Wu, Yeou-Herng Shaw, Oleg Sushkov, Anthony Wong, Robert Ing, Naithan Raheja, Nathan Rapoport, Felix Hui, Costa Sinelnikov, Jui Yeng, Charles Qin, Ben Li, Allan Chau, Max Kletski, Daniel Ng, Shaun Sae-Lieo and myself. We were complemented on a few occasions by Senthuran Eswaralingam, Siddath Weerasinghe and Timothy Davis Frank, who keenly made up the numbers in times of need.

The pre-season, charged with Sydney High's competitive spirit, was unfortunately marked by a mediocre performance against all who challenged us (with the notable exception of Scots and Newington). Galvanised by misfortune, but boosted by the success of First Grade, the team swore that the next term would provide sweet revenge.

The first round, against Kings, provided us with a tantalising taste of victory. All grade teams won convincingly, our blood-lust ensuring excellent scores on paper. The next round, against Newington, provided a similar score-line. Intoxicated with victory, we awaited our next challenge, the mighty St Ignatius.

The matches at Riverview were an anticlimax, as we valiantly but unsuccessfully attempted to win again. Matches were hard fought against St Ignatius, which has dominated GPS Tennis since time began. Overall, the team lifted their game to new heights against daunting opponents who were better-skilled and better-trained, but definitely less intelligent. A bitter consolation came as our First Grade team lost the premiership in the background of our defeat.

A daring new strategy was required for the next round at St Joseph's. In this department, Mrs Crothers outdid herself with a bold new strategy. The doubles combinations were totally mixed up in order to gain the full element of surprise. St Joseph's were stunned, but unfortunately not defeated. Nevertheless, the team took the ensuing rout in their stride, well aware of the humour in such a suicidal plan.

This jovial mood would continue until the end of the season. Saturday sport gradually lost its intense competitive atmosphere and became an enjoyable chance to have a hit in fine weather with our mates every week. In accordance with the true High tradition, the Opens team fielded full teams of enthusiastic players every week regardless the prospect of victory or loss. For some, it was their last season of GPS Tennis, and this easy atmosphere provided an enjoyable end to their school tennis commitments.

The Opens Tennis season 2001 will be remembered nostalgically for all the right reasons. In addition, we especially thank Mrs Crothers for her positive attitude and fearless dedication during the entire summer season.

David Nguyen

A note from Mrs Crothers:

After the initial self-recrimination of "You're a manic, this will never be worth it. What are you giving up your precious Saturdays for? Etc." GPS Tennis turned out to be a precious experience, bringing with it all the reasons teachers choose to teach. The students at Sydney High turned out to be a delightful bunch to supervise. They were full of fun and exhibited a strong stubborn streak, especially in their singles matches. Even towards one another, they were madly competitive, keenly contesting their team placement every week (that's right, Naithan, Yeou-Herng and Opal)! The venues were especially beautiful. I would recommend tennis to any member of staff contemplating taking GPS sport. I treasure the boys who assisted so graciously and charmingly. You were all so lovely to know. Thanks to Max, David, Ben H. and Opal for your outstanding gentility.

16 Years Tennis

This season for 16s tennis has been bittersweet - the results see-sawing as the season progressed. There was the lot: memorable wins, heartbreaking losses, you name it.

The biggest challenge for our team was getting to the venues, especially to places like Northbridge (Shore) and Parramatta (Kings). Another great challenge for the committed GPS players was to show up at the right time, varying from 8:30am to 12:30pm. Our team was probably at its best when we played in the morning, mainly because most people don't have to go to their various activities for the day yet, while when we start in the afternoon, we usually found ourselves a few players short. But that wasn't an important factor because some over-enthusiastic players volunteered to double up. Good on you guys!

In the first week of the grueling 2002 season, Newington stood in our way. Our feisty competitors put up some good resistance, but Newington still managed to pull off the win overall. After a few weeks of intense tennis action, we encountered a venue problem against Scots. Parklands, the new venue, attracted many High spectators and cheerleaders. This boosted our spirits, giving us the edge over the opposition, which resulted in a satisfying win.

Throughout the season, much improvement can be seen in the standard of the game. Special thanks go to the coaches and teachers, and everyone who contributed to another successful season.

15 Years Tennis

A team of young, capable and lazy tennis players entered the school in 2000 as year sevens. This talented and lethargic group of "loose cannons" were taken in and nurtured by Mr Choy. And through two and a half years under the guidance and training of Mr Choy, a strong and well-drilled team was formed in 2002 to represent Sydney High tennis in the 15 years age group. As year nine students at the time, the boys were still developing their passion and hunger to win for High, and their undeniable potential was rarely displayed on weekend matches. However, the team showed up week in week out to show the more fancied GPS schools that High would always be a team to be reckoned with. The talented boys, their enthusiastic parents and the wild support groups from other members of the team meant that High were competitive each week.

The A team consisted of Hung Neo (c), Alex Zinzopoulos, Martin Nguyen and Mitchell Seow. The 15As had an indifferent season with strong, promising performances in the pre-season and disappointment in the GPS season. Hung and Alex “Zinny” Zinzopoulos formed a mighty A1/A2 doubles combination. Their individual talent and will to win led many to believe that they would destroy all the leading GPS doubles combinations. Unfortunately the two boys could not live up to the hype and were constantly beaten by calmer and more consistent opposition. Their constant arguments after each losing point and “way-too relaxed” (one week saw both boys play their doubles in jeans and long sleeve button shirts) attitude saw them lose almost all of their doubles. Martin “way too fair and passive” Nguyen and Mitch “I wanna hurt somebody” Seow went about restoring sanity in the second doubles matches each week. They played fluently and consistently and had strong wins over Joeys, Scots, Kings, Newington and Grammar. Unfortunately when up against the powerhouse tennis schools of Iggies and Shore, they were unable to maintain their intensity when placed under pressure leading to close losses.

Then came the singles. Without the hindrances of each other, Hung and Zinny were able to play much stronger singles matches. Hung constantly pursued his natural power game from the baseline and heavy serving to bring about solid wins and close losses (depending on when he kept his cool). Hung could also be seen each week intimidating his opponents as much as possible along with Mitchell Seow, Tom Wei and Benny “Bad Boy” Nham. Hung employed various techniques including soaking the ball in water so it wouldn’t bounce for the opponent or splash if it did bounce. Zinny, on the other hand, seemed to enjoy court time as much as torturing his opponents. His ability to drop shot and lob during rallies as well as consistently rally for over twenty shots brought him the name “rookie” and “puddleman”. Zinny had a strong season with all matches going to 6-4 or 6-5 and easily over an hour long each week. Martin Nguyen was the dark horse of the GPS. On his day he could beat anyone and would blast opponents of the court with his huge serves and nasty forehands. With a strong pre-season behind him, many expected Martin to be the safe bet each week. Unfortunately due to mental incapacity (he got seriously ‘psyched out’), Martin was left frustrated on most occasions and left pondering the missed opportunities. Martin was left with several wins and several losses. Mitchell Seow was a strange bloke. On most occasions it seemed like he was happier to hit his opponents than miss and win the point. Mitchell was always last to play each week and had the burden of usually needing to win for the As to just draw. Mitchell played very well throughout and exemplified the High spirit with his determination and stamina week in week out.

The Bs had a strong outfit which included Paul Wong, Robert Lu, Tom Wei and William Xu. This outfit were big and strong, except for Paul and Tom who were actually quite small. The Bs were renowned for their composure and uncompromising will to win. This meant that the Bs won most weeks convincingly with a few drawn matches and one or two losses. Highlights of the season included Robert smashing 5 or 6 balls over the fence each week in the warm ups and Tom Wei showing up at 10:00 or 11:00 when the matches started at 9:00.

The Cs comprised of David “Bent” Yang, Daniel “Dong” Ong, William Lester and Dawei Qi. David Yang was most probably the most consistent player in the team with his “no unforced errors” game and desire to win. Dong and David were forced to endure an unbalanced combination in the doubles: however, they were able to surprise many of the GPS opponents with their awkward yet effective game plans. Will played well and had a strong season. Dawei did too.

The Ds were rotated on several weeks, but the team was on most occasions Ben Nham, Jeffrey Jong, Jimmy Fan and Dawei Qi. Benny Nham was a constant laugh each week with his never-ending jokes and comments. Ben Nham played with a grin on his face each week to stun his higher fancied opponents. Ben Nham was undefeated. Jeffrey and Jimmy had to endure team rotation and hence were unable to consistently perform with high intensity. Nevertheless they played gallantly and were able to pull off deserved victories. Dawei did too.

As captain of the team I enjoyed the season immensely. I extend my gratitude to all the boys, parents, teachers and friends that supported Sydney High 15s tennis 2002. It was a great season.

Hung Neo, Captain.

Pre-Season Report

Over the course of this term the under 14s tennis team had some great victories, but more often, crushing defeats. All our teams enjoyed some success, both in singles and doubles matches, with the D team being the most improved group this season, winning a fair share of their matches.

Our team just did not have the depth of players most of our competitors had. Nonetheless, every player gave his best, did not give up easily, was enthusiastic even in adverse situations, and made an effort to be on time for his match. Thanks to Wednesday’s coaching lessons our skills have improved quite substantially and overall our team has shown great sportsmanship and teamwork. Improvements in teamwork and cohesion between our players were of most benefit to our doubles matches, where some exciting games were played and won.

As the term progressed, more and more of our games became rather competitive; often ending in tiebreakers and many points were lost in sudden death situations. We should aim to improve our mental toughness and concentration, allowing us to claim more of these deciding points in the future. Identifying our strengths and weaknesses will allow us to iron out some of our deficiencies and utilising our strong points should result in more tactical and skilful matches in the future.

Over the summer holidays we will hit as many balls as possible and some training sessions would be beneficial to prepare us for next year's competition.

Even though we did not win as often as we would have liked to, and despite our competitive streak, we always had fun - and that is the most important thing.

Thank you to Ms Guthrie and Ms Tuthill for organising our coaching sessions and our matches and to Eric and Albert for attending our Saturday games.

A Great Season

The Fourteen Years Tennis teams have had a great season. We have won a few matches, and lost a few, but on the whole we have all had an enjoyable time.

We would like to thank our coaches for being so patient, helping us all the way, Mr Boros for being there every week to cheer us on, and our parents for transporting us each week, and encouraging us tirelessly.

Thirteen Years Tennis

Our first GPS tennis season was great fun and new friendships were formed, but to our dismay, we the 13A, B, C and D teams, did not win a great number of singles or doubles matches. Actually, High in the 13s age group, did not manage to secure a win against any of the GPS schools. Also many of High's players had to learn, right there and then, how to umpire, which was quite challenging.

Most of our players had not played competition before. I believe that having little previous experience meant that at critical moments we almost always lost it, our concentration just let us down.

In this coming winter season a lot of practice will have to go into our serves, backhands and forehands to achieve greater control of the ball and to avoid those dreaded double faults and overly long shots. Extra training should result in better and improved outcomes in the next season of GPS tennis, both individually and as a team. We will have to work towards turning our fortunes around.

Overall some good matches were played and frequently the results did not truly reflect the quality and effort of our players.

First Grade Basketball

First Grade Basketball kicked off the season in unfamiliar territory with a shock loss to Newington 60-68. Perhaps it was our inexperience together as a team, but we shrugged it off - after all it was only the pre-season and five of the team's players were regulars in the previous year's first grade team. We knew we had the potential to go a long way this year.

After the first week it was obvious that the usual power-houses, Scots, Shore and Riverview, had maintained their skill. Our second game was against Riverview. We lost in uninspiring form 61-75. Finally, in our third week against Kings we found ourselves playing some decent basketball, up 70-52. To follow were perplexing losses to St. Josephs, 48-58, and Scots, 55-68. Our skills were still there, we had some inspiring leadership from Vice-Captain Junyang Sim, but we still lacked something which the other schools had over us.

The next week we had the all important Raschke Cup (an annual round-robin). However we drew an almost impossible pool - Shore, Scots and Grammar. The altered rules of the tournament are often a disadvantage to our team as we only have eight players compared to the other schools ten players, meaning we tire faster in the three fast games (30 mins, clock does not stop). Our first game against Grammar was won 29-24. We suspected our game against Shore would be a loss, and our only chance to make the final would be if we beat Scots and Scots beat Shore. However at 30 all with 5 seconds to go and High with the inbound play we had a chance. Our play seemed to go wrong from the start: Saul Wodak, our intended target, was immediately tagged, and ended up falling over. From nowhere sprang Junyang to complete the game with an amazing buzzer-beating lay-up. A moment we will all remember for the rest of our lives - a 32-30 win over the near invincible Shore. We had made the final, a feat High basketball had not achieved in about ten years. We had found what we needed as a team and we knew how to play to our potential. However, St. Ignatius proved too strong in the final, finishing off our exhausted team 43-34. Shore, who had beaten St. Ignatius in a previous encounter, were devastated. We played them the next week. They were ruthless in their revenge, restricting High to essentially two scoring options, Saul Wodak (33 points) and myself (20 points), to beat us 68-82.

After a generally uninspiring pre-season we all knew what we had to do in the real season. We had seen ourselves do it before. Our first game was against Newington, a must win game. With the score locked 66-66 at full time this game really had each team and their supporters on the edge of their seats. A special thanks goes to the High cricket team, whose match was rained out, and showed true High Spirit in vocally supporting basketball. When Newington got up 73-74 after extra time, I think some of the team could already feel the inevitable losses we would have for the rest of the season.

Kings, the bottom of the ladder, proved to be one of the easier games for us at 72-52. For many of our games we had a player out, whether it was shoulder dislocation (special prize to Dong-In Seo, who must have dislocated his shoulder a least ten times, twice in one day - after coming back from hospital from the first dislocation, he decided to play cricket ... as you do) or from the more obvious sprained ankles. Against Riverview I was forced to sit on the bench and watch my team suffer one of its more crushing defeats 52-70. Although the following week Scots made even more of an impact at 46-70. Our season was fast escaping us and we had so far failed to live up to the level of ability we showed at the Raschke Cup. Sweet revenge came our way against against St. Josephs, 64-62, who had beaten us in the pre-season. It should have been by more, but, at this stage we would take any victory no matter how small.

Shore, clear favorites to win the competition, mustn't have recovered from us beating them in the Raschke Cup - by quarter time they had piled on 30 points to our 4. Salvaging some of our dignity we pulled them back to 56-91.

The last game of GPS basketball many of the team would play was against Grammar. This game generally summed up our season, lack-lustre with a few outstanding performances and even fewer special moments. Saul Wodak scored 32 points and Junyang showed that he can beat anyone in one on one if he feels like it. But of course, who can forget Dong-In. He was rejected so hard the gymnasium erupted into laughter, screaming, yelling and a scorer on the bench was given a technical foul for being part of the general celebrations (the game was at Grammar). The High team also ran to him to congratulate for such a stupendous block he suffered; Grammar up 78-95, end of season.

With the GPS season over the team took a break before the CHS State knockout. By the third round we faced Leichhardt - a one man team, a six foot two center who landed three pointers from metres outside the line and could have been in the Kings first fifteen; this guy was big and fast. Most people would believe that a good team would beat a team with a good player. I thought that too, until I saw this player land a three in the dying seconds from two metres outside the three point line with three of our players marking him as hard as they could. He had played the whole game and he was so exhausted he could barely run, but still he got his team over the line 68-71.

Saul Wodak, recognised by the Captain of Shore basketball as being unstoppable in offense, was selected into GPS Second Grade basketball, and I was later called up to play in the same team.

It was Mr Farrington's last season of coaching First Grade Basketball and I would like to thank him for his dedication and persistence. Also, a special thanks to Ari Ilsa, the coach of Second Grade.

Richard Blennerhassett, Captain.

Second Grade Basketball

The pre-season gave clear indications that we had much more to improve on, throwing many chances away and only able to walk away with one victory over a less aggressive St Joseph's team.

The competition season began with a reshuffle but the first game showed that there was still work needed as Newington dealt us our first loss. The problems we had during the pre-season had carried on, the turnover rate was extremely high. Against Riverview and Kings, our errors allowed them to score nearly 15 points before we settled down again. However, good signs were present. When we were able to hold the ball the team managed to pile on many points and looked very impressive. We led the eventual GPS Premiers Shore, for about a half until a break down in defence allowed them back in and eventually to reach the 90 point mark. A similar story unfolded against Scots, where we threw the win away with simple errors.

The most arduous game was definitely the final game against Sydney Grammar. It was the bottom of the table clash and the victor would rise to seventh position and the loser to sink to eighth. The High Boys played better and deserved to win for most of the match, but like the rest of the season, luck played out in favour for the opposition.

Although the season was not filled with wins, it was still successful. We played every game with passion and school pride, learning many things along the way, not only about basketball but also about life. Many thanks to our dedicated coach, Mr A.Ilysa.

Mark Nam, Captain.

Third Grade Basketball

Thirds went through the pre-season very disappointingly, not winning a single game, however they had a positive mentality that they would come top of the third grade (unofficial) competition.

First game versus Newington was a close defeat; next game, Thirds failed to hold a lead against Kings and we were down to 0 wins from 2 starts in the actual season. This sparked the team to begin their magic run of a five-game winning streak. We proceeded to defeat Grammar, Joeys, St Ignatius, and even Shore. The most thrilling win was definitely against Scots, the game which headed to overtime and High came out the winners.

So we came first in the unofficial thirds competition, thanks in large measure to our friendly coach Brendan Lee.

Robin Chan, Captain.

Fourth Grade Basketball

The mighty fourth grade was to be one of High's most successful teams, with almost a fifty-percent win ratio. Our pre-season proved the high point, but the whole year was a successful mix of fun, laughs and occasionally basketball. Everyone contributed to the game, with gusty efforts from our year 11 stars, Hugo, Anthony and Mark. A close friendship off court made our on court movements smooth and coordinated, challenging every team we came up against. Several outstanding efforts by our sharp shooters Bui, Mark and Hugo are notable, as was Blake's (my) 25 point haul against Scots, single handedly... almost winning the game.

Year 12 players showed their depth of skill and experience, without intimidating the little ones, with consistent efforts from every player, Bui, Cheng, Shihab, Blake, Lamb, Anthony Kim and occasionally Jeffrey (when he was able to avoid coaching). Special credit has to be given to these guys for their regular attendance at training and willingness to listen to the captain, Blake, as training without a coach can be a difficult task at High. Hopefully we learnt something, but that is never as important as enjoying the experience.

For those who leave next year, no future team will be as fun, and for those with a year to go, remember we gave you your last chance to enjoy yourselves before first grade. All the best to everyone post-High, these are the memories we'll cherish.

Blake Briggs, Captain.

Sixth Grade Basketball

With an almost unchanged team from last year's 16Ds, these boys just don't get a break from the bad-luck bug. If losing their star player to cricket at the beginning of the pre-season wasn't bad enough, they were once again hounded by close defeats.

Games against Scots and Shore in the pre-season did well to frustrate the boys with losing margins of only 3 and 1 points respectively. The boys ended the pre-season with their heads down, but were confident of a much better season after the summer holidays with the arrival of the new, 180 cm point guard from Hong Kong.

With this new player, Fai Lam, Sixth Grade rocketed to victory in their first game against Kings (25-15). The second game almost looked like a victory too, with the captain scoring six points in the opening seconds of the game, however Iggies cut spirits down with the progression of the game, a humiliating defeat. The difficult conditions at the Joey's match saw the third straight loss for Sixth Grade.

16C Basketball

The 2001/2002 season of basketball was enjoyable but not necessarily successful (in terms of wins and losses) for the 16Cs.

In the pre season we had several convincing wins, however once we moved into the GPS season we suddenly seemed to pick up a curse of bad luck where no matter how well we did in the first half, we always lost the game in the second half. For instance, against Grammar we were up 18 points to 3 in the first half, we lost the game by 5 points at the end.

However, despite this inability to win, the 16C season was incredibly enjoyable for myself and the team.

15C Basketball

This team was basically last year's 14Cs with a few of the 14Bs. The team started out on the wrong foot, coming out with a loss against Newington due to lack of practice during the holidays. The team then came back against Kings, owning them in every aspect.

The team then went on to face more experienced teams such as Sydney Grammar and Riverview, but unfortunately lost. The experience gained from this year will definitely play a role in next year's season. We all thank our coach, Mr Ryan, for his interest and application.

Swimming

Once again High's swimming season was a very hectic one with our swimmers competing in both the CHS and GPS competitions. The school carnival was held at the Des Renford Aquatic Centre, Maruobra, On Tuesday 5th February. Even though it was an inclement day, the involvement from the boys was first class. Torrington was the eventual winner on the day. Thirty-five swimmers made it through to represent the school at the zone carnival.

This carnival summed up the attitude which could be seen in every swimmer throughout season 2002. The spirit amongst the high boys was inspirational, and once again Mr Day nurtured this spirit perfectly making sure every boy got a go at each carnival.

We did have some outstanding swimmers throughout the ages, people who the boys like to refer to as "freaks", such as Tom Miller, Ellis Louie, Roger Burrell, Sam Gribble, Paul Wong, Glen Carroll, Jason Ong, and Matt Louie. We also possessed an all star relay team in the 16s, who made it right through to the state championships. There were many notable performances, and I would like to congratulate those boys who took advantage of the new training rebate offered by the school - this is a brilliant opportunity for all the swimmers to train at their local pool. However I would like to focus on the average swimmer, who did swimming just to "have a go", and show some school spirit.

This year's senior swimmers were an unbelievable group of people who all got involved in the majority of the carnivals. Swimmers such as Tom Cusbert, Justin Garber, Steve Barbouttis, Ben Lonsdale, Rhys Gencur, and past freaks such as Jake Matthews, and Fredy Hoh - all were valuable members of this year's team, and provided perfect role models to all of the students at High. They have shown their pride in the school from their involvement over the past six years.

It was a pleasure to have the opportunity of involvement in swimming during my years at High. I am so happy that swimming has finally been recognised as a GPS sport, it is a credit to the sport and hopefully will increase participation from the rest of the boys at High as they attempt to nurture that indelible High spirit. Finally thank you to everyone who contributed to making swimming such an enjoyable experience at High - especially Mr Day. It was a pleasure to be involved with him especially in my last year, and also to Fredy Hoh our inspirational vice-captain - he was a champ and provided sound leadership throughout the season.

High's Swimming season was a very hectic one with our swimmers competing in both the CHS and GPS competitions. The School Carnival was held at the Des Renford Aquatic Centre, Maroubra, on Tuesday 5 February. Even though it was an incredibly wet day the carnival ran smoothly thanks to the enthusiasm and support of the staff and boys. Torrington was the winning House of the Carnival, followed by Fairland with McKay House coming third. Tom Miller is to be congratulated for breaking the records for the U/16 50m, 100m and 200m freestyle events. The Age Champions at the Carnival were:

February 2002. At this Carnival Zone records were broken by Tom Miller for the U/16 100m freestyle and the U/16 relay team. Sydney Boys High came overall third at the Zone Carnival and twenty-three of our Swimmers were selected to compete at the Sydney East Regional Carnival at the Bexley Swimming Centre on 12 and 13 March. The 14 year relay team (Roger Burrell, Sam Gribble, Ellis Louie and Paul Wong) and the 16 year relay team (Tom Miller, Glen Carroll, Jason Ong and Matthew Louie) along with Tom Miller (Year 10) and Ellis Louie (Year 8) competed in the Sydney East Representative Team at the CHS State Swimming Finals at Homebush on 4, 5 and 6 April. Ellis Louie gained selection in the CIS Representative team and Tom Miller, Glen Carroll, Jason Ong and Matthew Louie were selected in the CHS Representative team to compete at the All Schools Carnival at Homebush on 10 May.

The school also competed in the six GPS Invitational Carnivals held on Friday nights. Our performance at these carnivals is shown in the table below:

| GPS SWIMMING PLACES 2002 | | | |

| 6 | St Josephs | Sydney Boys High | Newington |
| 7 | Sydney Boys High | St Josephs | St Josephs |
| 8 | Newington | Kings | Sydney Boys High |

Congratulations must go to Ellis Louie, Tom Miller, Jakheb Matthews and Michael Terry-Whitall for their selection in the GPS representative team, which competed at the Combined Independent Schools Swimming Carnival on 25 March.

Swimming is now recognised as an official GPS sport and it is important that we do our best to raise the standard of our swimmers, especially those boys who swim in the highly competitive GPS selection events on Friday nights. To this end

I encourage all swimmers to take advantage of the Swimming Training Incentive Rebate Scheme, which has been introduced to encourage Sydney Boys High Swimmers to train at their local pool.

The level of parental interest and support of swimming has been excellent throughout the season. The Annual Swimming Dinner was once again a highly successful night with ninety swimmers and parents in attendance at the Woolahra Golf Club. The guest speaker was old boy swimming captain from 1998, Mr Stephen Hunt who gave an excellent inspirational and motivational address to those present. Stephen is planning to swim the English Channel in July this year to raise money for World Aids.

Many thanks to all who have helped to make this season such an enjoyable one - swimmers and their parents, staff and especially Dr K Jaggar and Mr R.Farrington. Jack Manning-Bancroft (Swimming Captain) and Fredy Hoh must also be thanked for the effective leadership they gave the team throughout the season.

Phillip Day, Swimming Co-ordinator.

Sailing

What better way to reimplant a sport into a school than to start straight off with a good old holiday camp? As soon as those twenty plus students arrived at Woollahra Sailing Club on day one in the October holidays, they knew they were in for a good time.

This day was to test every one in the team to see if we were really keen on sailing since capsizing recovery was the aim of the day. This involved deliberately capsizing our boats into 16°C water and then attempting to get them back upright as fast as possible. Needless to say, we were getting pretty good at it since only a handful of us had thought to bring wetsuits!

After this intense start to the season the weekly trek down to the club was something to look forward to. Everyone in the squad knew that two minutes walk from the club was the best hamburger and chip shop in Sydney and somehow everyone seemed to pull money from somewhere to be able to get something before the afternoon's session.

Saturday mornings were typically a Woollahra Club hosted fleet regatta in which each boat sailed on its own, no teams. One of our boats did very well in these regattas, coming first on handicap at the end of the season.

The Saturday mornings that really fired everyone up though, were those that were part of the Tri-Series. The three races which made up this competition were spread throughout first term this year. Two of the races were on our home 'turf' in Rose Bay, the other being out of the Hunters Hill Sailing Club at the junction of the Parramatta and Lane Cove Rivers. In the weeks before the races at Hunters Hill there had been several incidents involving shark attacks - all sailors were warned to stay out of the water as much as possible on that day!

The season ended well with High coming a close third in the Tri-Series after having been placed second up until the final race. Scots took out first place in this competition and later that month they did it again at the State Teams Championship in which High also participated.

Sailing

Scots has a long sailing history which is one of the reasons for their dominance of the sport. We hope that High will be able to rival this team's authority in seasons to come.

The season ended with a dinner organised by the parents of the sailors. Dr Jaggard addressed the team at this dinner and unveiled a long-term plan for sailing at High.

The team greatly appreciated the efforts of everyone involved in the running of sailing this year. Mr Pearson is congratulated for taking on the role of MIC and we thank all the parents who ferried us to Rose Bay each Wednesday afternoon.

Sydney High Third Grade Rugby has always been a social side composed of players who enjoy their rugby, but don't want to take it too seriously. However in 2002, a team of committed and talented players proved that with determination and a little hard work, a Sydney High Third Grade side could be a force to be reckoned with.

However all the best efforts of the team would have come to nought without the indispensable advice and belligerent personality of Mr Storey, who was an endless source of motivation, inspiration and occasionally, humiliation.

Sydney High Third Grade was the only Sydney High team undefeated throughout the pre-season, albeit against weaker sides. Unfortunately the recruitment policies of other GPS schools created a serious imbalance in the competition, which contributed to the difficulties of the Sydney High First and Second grades. But the efforts of Third Grade should not be down-played, especially with a plucky GPS victory over Newington through a late try. Outstanding players are too numerous to name, and for fear of attracting recrimination for omissions, I will simply lavish praise upon the entire Third Grade outfit. I was proud to captain this honourable team of men.

In conclusion, a talented team with a determined coach challenged the notion of the soft social thirds at High, with the success of the season the result of commitment and dedication by the players.

This was my most enjoyable season of rugby at High thus far. This team was a great bunch of guys not afraid to step up to a challenge and always striving to improve. Our team played hard every game causing many shocks along the way. A number of the team will be aiming for first grade selection next year.

Our season started off with a very positive pre-season where we remained undefeated. This included two high scoring wins over Armidale and Hurlstone Agricultural. Our only hitch occurred in the final game when we drew 5-5 with a very talented Oakhill side. As it turns out that wasn't a bad result considering they won the ISA competition in the fifteens age group. Our trials proved very successful as our newest player, Will Kwok, settled in nicely whilst our forwards showed that they would be a force in the GPS competition.

Coming into the GPS season the team was full of confidence. We knew we were going to be far more competitive than last year and our main aim was to give all the other schools a run for their money.

The first game was at Stanmore against Newington. We knew we'd have a good chance as this was our closest game last season but we didn't play our best football on the day. A number of costly mistakes from yours truly led to two Newington tries and the game was basically over by that stage. Fergus received the water bottle for man of the match in this game.

Next up was Shore in our first home game. We started this game well but a number of defensive lapses let us down. The backs found some form in this match and were impressive in attack. We also maintained our aim at the start of the season of making every game a close one. Will Kwok was the man of the match in only his seventh game of rugby. His defence was solid all game and he played like a man with far more experience.

The Kings and Grammar games were both very similar in that our team had many opportunities to win but we just couldn't convert them. The Kings game was a close one in which both teams were in it all the way. Whilst in the Grammar game a huge amount of penalties let us down. Fergus, our gentle giant, was dubiously sin-binned for rucking when there were other guys out there who were doing far worse than he was. I've no doubt the Grammar boys won't be forgetting that game for a while. Tom got the water bottle in the Kings game and Dimetha got the water bottle in the Grammar game.

Joeys and Iggies were the two best teams in our comp but we managed to give them both a scare. Joey's, a team that had beaten every team this year by 40 plus, were forced to go for a penalty goal after some resilient Sydney High defence. In the end their superior fitness proved to be our downfall as they ran rings around us. Still, the score-line was as good as any achieved against that team this season. The Iggies game was a tough encounter where we held our own for most of the match but could not come up with the goods close to the line. A few wrong decisions in the forwards proved unlucky as we couldn't manage to get over their line. On a whole it was a very enjoyable game, from a spectators view as well as in the players' minds. Daniel Thomas got the man of the match at Joey's whilst our seven foot monster Nigel Panagopka made a number of damaging tackles to receive the man of the match award in the St Ignatius Game.

Rugby

The final game of the season was against Scots at Rose Bay. We played till we had nothing left but still we were thwarted by their speed on the fringes and a very dodgy pass on their second try. It was a good way to end the season although we have may have won had William Kwok and Fergus both been there. We knew this was the last game we'd be playing together and we made sure we finished the season on a good note.

Overall, it was a fine season as I believe the side raised the bar of junior rugby at Sydney High. We set a standard that all the younger age groups should aim to achieve by the time they are in the 15's, that is to gain experience through the age groups and to be competitive against A grade opposition by the time they reach this level. Although we can't match the other schools in numbers and experience, we can still use the age old methods of grit and determination and I think that's what our team showed this year.

Finally, I'd like to thank our awesome coach Mr Cody for putting up with us these last three years. I think we've developed amazingly during this period and we will surely go on to bigger and better things when we reach grade next year. Also thanks go to Mr Stein for his tireless efforts in coaching the backs all season. He has been a new addition for us this season but has taken us from

14A Fifteen

In a memorable 2002 season, the 14A XV managed to improve on our performance from last year. This is mostly due to the tireless efforts of our coaches Justin and Asher who brought together many aspects of our game.

With good wins in the trials and a fantastic, well-deserved victory against Kings, it seems that the boys have picked up some form. Thanks go to the coaches, which included Deputy Principal Mr Beringer, the parents who took time to come and support the boys and to the boys themselves who have been playing their hardest all season.

13A Fifteen

The 13As had a very successful season, at least for 13s standards. Overall, we won three matches, two in the GPS season. After a pretty consistent pre-season, we were disappointed but agreed with our coach, Mr Gainford's decision to play us against GPS B teams. This proved to be a touch of magic by our master coach, with much fairer and much more entertaining games being played. We also scored two convincing wins from this, including a 31-5 crushing of Newington College, the highlight of our season. We also beat Sydney Grammar School in the GPS season. We weren't embarrassed once, except, by an amazing St Joseph's College team. I'd like to go through our team player by player.

PROPS

Daniel Wu Despite, his size he managed to make at least every second breakdown. He also had a big match against The Kings School.

Alex Vertoudakis A huge tackler who was for some reason the victim of a lot of dirty play, but always held his own.

HOOKER

James "Warnie" Morgan Vice Captain and a gutsy forward who played through countless injuries. Being the shortest player in the team only made him all the more aggressive and his half-time talks always outclassed mine by about two hundred words.

SECOND ROWERS

Our two big men...

Adam Farrow-Palmer Adam joined the team late in the season and his sheer size (let alone skill) gave us a psychological advantage by itself.

Steve Burke He also joined the team late when he realized that playing for the 13s was a lot better than for the 14s. He was the strong man of our team and his highlights included consistent coughing fits in the middle of the last few matches that had the opposition in all sorts.

BREAKAWAYS

Gajaba Manamperi The most consistent forward with a lethal left foot step. He was also a good forwards leader.

D'Arcy Blaxell He played well above his age and weight in the forward pack but his spirit always held him up. His highlight was a magnificent solo try against The Kings School.

No. 8

Greg Nguyen Highest scoring forward who had the most go-forward in the forward pack. He specialised in playing like a back, but when he actually got to the breakdowns he was very useful.

HALFBACK

Joel Kamerman His passing got a lot cleaner in the second half of the season and he was renowned for every now and then making great runs which had the whole opposition team and supporters shouting "Smash the...".

James Archer Basically, he would play his best rugby when fired up or angry about the opposition which was just about every match. Scored a great try against Shore which involved a dummy pass, a dummy grubber and a sprint for the line.

OUTSIDE CENTRE

Frank Jin The most famous player in our team, with electric speed and huge leg-power. He was first noticed after his four try haul against Hurlstone Agricultural School. He went on to score 10 of our team's 24 tries. Frank is actually half blind without his glasses so he did well to catch the ball as often as he did.

WINGERS

The Kim brothers, David and Kevin, were almost identical in their consistent runs and huge tackles on opposite wings. It was good for the whole team to have a sense of security in our wingers' defence, and I don't think either of them missed a tackle all season.

FULLBACK

Jackson King, when called upon, didn't make many mistakes. He was always confident running with the ball and his counter attack was excellent.

Then we have Andrew Pham who completed a most amazing season on Saturday by actually playing every match for the 13As, even after he was dropped to the B team halfway through the season. Injuries and missed matches by others made it this way and he deserves a special mention for always being there to play for us.

I was the inside-centre and captain of this team.

As far as thankyou's are concerned, Mr Gainford deserves a huge one for being the fantastic coach that he is. He was perfect for the role of introducing the new Year 7 players to the game and his confidence always rubbed off onto us. He always had a good thing to say about how we played. So thanks a lot to Mr Gainford for the great coaching.

Joseph Lee was, I suppose, the assistant coach but he was more the backs coach than anything else. He taught us great moves that all worked really well in games and was at every one of our matches. So thanks as well to Joseph. I hope his knee gets better soon so he can continue playing, but that will be a loss for us.

Finally, I'd like to thank all the parents, especially those who were new to rugby and supported their sons in such a new, different environment.

MIC Soccer

Association Football (Soccer) continued to grow this year with High fielding four teams in each age group plus six in opens and six in the 13s.

The fields at Moore Park West were opened which along with the Bus Loop fields enabled all twenty-four teams to play at home for the first time, without some age groups having to travel away. It also meant that the McKay field could be saved for First and Second grade and kept as a much better playing surface.

We started the year by forging links to Manchester United and through their Oceania Development Programme run by Parramatta Eagles. In July a clinic was held at High on the Moore Park West fields for some 80 boys and opened by Mr Johnny Warren, Australia's 1974 World Cup Captain. The participants were trained solidly in how to play the Manchester United way by professional coaches all with at least NSL experience. This link is seen by all parties as an ongoing thing and is expected to be continued for the foreseeable future.

In First Grade the team started brightly but always struggled to maintain the challenge set by Riverview who crushed all before them. High finally managed a credible joint second. The second Grade challenged for the title until a slip up at the end to Riverview cost them their title, finally finishing third.

In the other years an improvement is clearly seen with many of the age groups producing much stronger performances and displaying the strength in depth that High has developed.

Seven High players were selected for the AAGPS Association Football (Soccer) 15th Anniversary Representative teams. First Grade: Tom Cusbert, Patrick Bazin. Second Grade: Matthew Mulroney, Hugh James (VC), Tim Edmeades. Third Grade: Justin Garber, Ali Alsamail.

First Grade Soccer

The sun rose on a promising season of Sydney High soccer - the team could still smell the whiff of glory that had so tantalisingly eluded us the previous season. Hopes of breaking the seven year premiership drought were high.

We were victorious in our opening two matches of the CHS knockout against The Conservatorium and Sydney Tech. The next match required a trip to The Shire for a match against Jannali High. We let in two early goals, and soon after Hugh went down hitting his head heavily on the turf. He was determined to soldier on, but his incredulous reply of "When did they score?", when it was mentioned that we were down, ensured he sat the rest of the match out. This was to foreshadow the fate of the team as we were knocked out 1-2.

The first match of the CIS cup pitted us against St Aloysius. A sub-par performance and an uncharacteristic misjudgment from Mat, shouldering arms and calling "OUT!" only to see the ball find its way into the onion bag ended with us losing.

The preseason trial matches went quite well with a 9-2 aggregate win over Scots, a win over Cranbrook and a loss to Waverly College. The Sydney Uni cup gave us our final chance to play before the season proper. The opening few games heeded mixed results, followed by a spine-tingling, teeth-chattering, spoon-bending come-from-behind victory over St Pat's, in part thanks to a noteworthy goal from defender J Garber. So we advanced to the elimination phase where we were defeated by St Pat's.

The team was feeling good entering the opening round of GPS competition where we would face Newington. A hard fought match ended with us on the winning side of a 1-0 scoreline via an Ali penalty. Against Shore in the next round we went down a goal early on but came back to win 5-1. The next match was at Joey's, we were on top and winning 2-1 before I, on the ground in backplay following a blow to the knee, allowed the Joey's striker to spring the offside trap and equalise. Despite our best efforts we couldn't regain the lead and the match ended in draw.

We lost the next match against King's 0-1, each team being awarded dubious penalties, but us failing to convert. A 2-2 draw, with Grammar scoring a late equaliser, ended our premiership hopes as the St Ignatius juggernaut rolled on. We met them in the next round holding them for most of the first half, before they snuck one by us. They then ran rampant for a short period in the second half scoring three goals in as many minutes. The season ended on a good note with a 4-0 victory over Scots.

GPS representatives were Justin and Ali in Thirds; Mat Mulroney, Hugh and Tim Edmeads in Seconds and Pat, who snared two hat-tricks for the season, and me in Firsts. We were equal runners-up with Grammar on 11 points. But it looks like next year's team will give Iggie's a run for their money.

Fourth Grade Soccer

At the start of term two, it was proposed to have an all Year 11 Fourth Grade. With the trials beginning, we were keen to prove our coach wrong in this decision. Led gallantly by our skipper Phil, we scored ten goals in our four trial games. We beat Waverley 4 0, Cranbrook 3 0, Scots 3 1 at ES Marks, and only lost to Scots 0-1 at Moore Park. However, as the trials ended we realised that there was no way that we would be able to swap with the all year 12 Third Grade. This meant that our spirits were not as high when the GPS season came around.

With the GPS season, it seemed that all luck was against us and so were all the refs. Although we outplayed everyone apart from Iggies, we still somehow managed to lose 0-3 to Shore, 0-2 to Newington and 0-4 to Iggies. Added to this was the Joeys game in which we played beautiful football, but unfortunately all the close calls went against us and we lost 1-2. Towards the end of the season, however, we managed to salvage some pride, as we went ahead in the Kings game in the first minute. But again the opposition managed to score a lucky goal and the game ended 1 1. We played our best football against Grammar, and totally outclassed them, with all our team having shots on goal. However, again luck was against us, and so the game finished 0 0. The last game of the season was against Scots again at ES Marks. We did everything right, but just could not put one in the back of the net, hitting the crossbar on a number of occasions, but in the end it was again 0 0.

In the middle of the season, we also played the inaugural game against Cleveland St Intensive Centre for English. Their one and only team was full of Brazilians and Mexicans. We went a goal up, but that only got them angrier and they scored four goals after that. This was quite an interesting experience, as it had quite an international feeling to it, especially since the coin toss took two minutes as the captain of Cleveland St just couldn't work out what he had to do.

Overall the season wasn't a bad one, and everyone walked away with a memory or two. We were just really unlucky, with most of the goals we conceded being long range kicks, which just somehow managed to go in.

Many thanks must go to Mr Pearson for coaching us, and also to those fifth graders who subbed on for us on a few occasions.

Fifth Grade Soccer

After winning our first game 4-0 over the tough Waverley team, we were promoted from 6th grade to 5th. This was shown to be fitting, as we went on to win each of the following trial games with strong victories over Scots and Cranbrook.

We started our first GPS game against a nine-man Newington team. The first fifteen minutes was a rattler lacklustre encounter, with our High side only lifting once Newington had all eleven players on the park. Winning 3-0 it was a deserving result for a High side that was too classy on the day, with myself scoring two, and Ruo Li scoring the third.

We than played out a 2-2 draw with Shore, with Shore scoring two very long range goals and High digging deep to draw the game. We next faced the toughest opposition in the GPS, St Ignatius. On their first grade field at eight o'clock in the morning we encountered a very physical Ignatius side. An extremely strong High defence and honourable keeping effort by Bo Xu, we kept a clean sheet, while being unlucky not to score a goal in a goal mouth scramble. The game finished 0-0 with some High players leaving the field, having played on with injuries sustained in the heat of the battle.

Our final game was perhaps our best. The 5-0 scoreline reflected a game in which all our passes found their mark, and all shots hit their target. A hat-trick by Ruo Li was the highlight as well as Chen Lin netting his first of the season.

Job well done boys!

Dolan Cup Winners, 2002.

After being relegated to Sixth Grade in the preseason, the former Fifth Grade team retaliated, only turning up to training once during the GPS competition.

The Sixth Soccer XI began the season with an impressive victory, defeating Waverley College 3-0. However, the team's performance then stagnated, losing to St Gregory's 0-1 in the dying minutes of the game and then to Riverview 1-2 the following week. Pressure of the school Trials and HSC started to take effect, with the whole team venting out its anger and frustration on our opponents. We went on to win the rest of our matches, defeating Shore 2-0, Barker College 4-0, Cranbrook 11-0, Riverview 3-1 and finally Scots 5-0. Our last game ever for High was an emotionally charged affair, culminating with a stirring rendition of the school song in the centre of the field.

Michael Allies (striker) and William Phu (centre back/midfield) both had an outstanding season, ending it with seven goals each, coming third in the Golden Boot Competition.

Keeper Anthony Wong also had a terrific first and final season in soccer, only conceding four goals throughout the competition and coming second in the Golden Glove Competition.

The consummate defence line consisting of Akash Aggarwal, Orlando Wu, William Phu, Stephen Lam and Michael Weng, played to the best of their abilities, one hundred percent of the time, not giving up against our toughest opponents such as Riverview and St Gregory's.

The backbone of the team, the midfielders consisting of myself, Ben Mostafa, Craig Birtles, Sachin Kumar, Daniel Mulligan and Cheng Fu, worked tirelessly during each game, committing themselves to the ball and supporting both the forwards and backs.

Our deadly offensive strikers, Mike Farrell and Michael Allies, created and executed magnificent plays, which left the opposition wondering what was coming.

Special thanks goes to Mr. Pearson who organised this unruly mob into a respectable team and also to the parents who came and supported us throughout the season. All in all, it was a beautiful final season for HIGH, with our efforts being rewarded with the missing Dolan Cup.

Coming from the previous unbeaten season the squad looked strong and able to remain so. It was a team that didn't understand the concept of losing.

Tim Neville between the sticks proved to be our ever reliable shot stopper, and his man of the match performances earned him the Golden Glove. Pat Chen proved yet again to be the rock in defence. formidable strike partnership to terrorise opposition defences.

Our season kicked off with a gallant show of spirit and courage. Coming from a goal down, we never gave up and eventually beat Newington 2 1 thanks to a brace from Willie. From then the confidence surged as we powered our way past Shore and Joeys with eight goals and two clean sheets. Kings and Grammar proved hard to break down but our defence made sure we were too.

This was followed by a trip to Iggy's. High played in front of hostile opposition and a technical ref. Tackles went flying but we weren't to falter. Sadly, a last minute winner from Riverview broke our unbeaten run.

High was confident to bounce back and did absolutely that against Scots in the last game of the season. Five goals to the good with a stunning hat trick from our top marksman Willie topped off the season. Man of the Season: Tim Neville

With a newly assembled team this year, the players took no time to familiarise themselves with each other. Our season kicked off with a bang with comprehensive victories over Newington and Shore, bagging eight goals in two games. With mesmerising performances by Krish and Garry, our team was mounting a relentless charge on the Dolan Cup.

It was these first few crucial victories that inspired and motivated us for the rest of the season. Our rock solid backline and our goalkeeper, Munir "Incredible Hulk" Alam, kept our defence watertight and kept the goals conceded to a minimum. Put together with Ho's and Tim's dazzling ball skills in the midfield, Nirushun's setting up ability, Krish's speed and accurate long range shots, and Robbie Glance's "never give up" tactics, our team proved to be flawless in every respect.

Building upon the exhilaration of winning the Dolan Cup last season, the 15 Cs started their season with skill and passion, aiming to reclaim the aforementioned trophy. So began a season with its highs and its lows, its wins and its losses, but always a love for the game and the highest respect for the other players, both from our team and from other schools.

As goalkeeper, we were blessed with Daniel Ong. Daniel improved considerably throughout the season. A rock solid back line, consisting of Ralph Amion, Chris Chen, Gabriel Gutnik, Rodney Kouchak and myself, Karl Kruszelnicki, gave the team an impressive foundation. Through Rodney's slide tackles and Chris's goal kicks, Gabriel's intensity and Ralph's persistence, the back line directed the game. Building upon this, the midfield section of Nick Bull, Anthony Chau, Victor Domni and Robert Pereira, provided the essential link between the defence and the forwards. Through Nick's darting from player to player, Victor's long throw ins, Anthony's power in judgement and Bob's vigour, the midfielders proved to be a force to be reckoned with. Finally, Nathan Frazi, Walter Hong, Josh Kraindler and Alex Zinzopoulos, were the forwards with a million chances. With Nathan's deadly left crosses, Walter's no holds barred approach to the game, Josh's rocket boot and Alex's finishes, the forwards brought the 15Cs into a very successful season.

The team flourished under the influence of Ms Eggleton. Through her experience and patience, Ms Eggleton was a key factor in the team's success.

In the Dolan Cup, the team placed second, only three points behind the winners. Even though the Dolan Cup was not reclaimed, the season finished with high spirits and the traditional feast upon the fields. I would like to use this opportunity to congratulate the 15Cs of 2002 on such a glorious season. On behalf of the team, I would like to thank Ms Eggleton for her time, and wish Nick the best of luck in his rugby career.

Season 2002 produced a new entity in High soccer: the 15Ds. Throughout the season, the team played some decent football, although it was in the latter half of the season that the results really shone through.

Consistency proved a major hurdle, especially in defence, but let it be known that the aim of the team was to have a good time whilst demonstrating the pride and camaraderie of all High sporting teams. This goal (pardon the pun) was certainly fulfilled and the players gained invaluable fitness and general soccer skills, having lacked in them at the start of the season. The team environment also proved stimulating.

The players appreciated the help of the senior 'coaches' (by name, not so by nature) and the excellent organisation skills of the 15s coordinator, Ms Eggleton. A special mention should also go to Mr Morris who worked around the clock to ensure the team had a Saturday match each week.

This was a most enjoyable season for all involved, and the team will be keenly awaiting season 2003 to pick up from where we left off.

14A Soccer

The 14A football season was a remarkable improvement from the previous year. The team built upon the two wins achieved as 13As and finished the season with a far more respectable 3-1-3 record. Highlights of the season included a 2-1 win away to Newington and a hard-fought 1-1 draw with Grammar, who had beaten us 0-5 the year before.

Coach: Ms Sue Plenkovich

While 'Plenko' spent much of the early part of the season telling the squad about her experience in football, it soon became apparent that her expertise lay elsewhere. In yoga, to be precise. Her unique stretches and fitness exercises helped to keep the team in top shape all season.

Plenko's refereeing was a constant cause for concern, with regular mid-week practice games that somehow always went to penalties and always seemed to be won by the Bs.

Coach: Lin Li

"Anger management" Lin had shot to fame in the 13As, capturing the dubious record of being the most sent off coach in High history. His frequent outbursts were an indicator of the passion Lin had for the game and for High, and it was this passion which made him a well-liked and well-respected coach and mentor.

Captain: Eddy Blaxell

Blaxell, the short, red-haired midfielder completely devoid of any talent, became captain after the infamous player revolt led to the sacking of Lunney. He formed a lethal partnership with Lee up front, and sealed the best win of the season with the winner against Newington.

Vice-captain: Lewis d'Avigdor

Lewis at right-back was the rock in the defensive line, and what he lacked in co-ordination he more than made up for in aggression. Always put 100% into the tackle, even when dealing with the effects of a big Friday night. He was awarded the vice-captaincy during the season as a reward for his never-wavering determination.

Martin Lunney

The team's original captain, Lunney was dropped to the bench after missing a mid-week team meeting. Missing seemed to be a common theme for Lunney, who finished the season with the lowest goals-to-games ratio of any striker since Brian Chan.

Brian Chan

Brian was a very very very quick striker, but seemed to have only pace on his mind when shooting at goal. He finished the season with just one goal, scored from two feet out in a trial game. Brian was one of Lin's favourite experiments, but the coach failed in his attempts to turn Brian into (a) a sweeper (b) a corner taker and (c) a goal scorer.

Long Chen

Long was perhaps the strangest member of the 14A side. He insisted on being called Alvaro, after the Uruguayan player of the same name. He also had an interesting obsession with Marconi's Chad Gibson, which he described as 'no more than puppy love.' On the field, he was often more flair than substance, perhaps because he was playing out of position at sweeper.

Adrian Jeyendra

Adrian was dropped mid-way through the 13A season, but returned in 2002 a changed man. The lanky speedster was a revelation on the right flank, and was named the coach's player of the season.

Kevin Kim

'Big Kev' was a big fat man with a big fat heart. Kev took great delight in perfecting the subtleties of defending, such as the trip and the shirt-pull.

Jong-Ha Lee

Jong-Ha was plucked from the Bs after just one trial, and turned out to be an amazing find. The big striker with twin-Korean flag face tattoos had a unique style which was as effective as it was entertaining. Collecting the ball on halfway, Jong would knock it halfway to the opposition goal. As the keeper came to collect, he set off at blistering pace, retrieving his own through-ball and poking it into the back of the net. Somehow he managed to net almost a goal a game, and may have been a contender for the Golden Boot had he remembered to register his goals.

Mihnea Popescu

'Princess Micky' was a tough midfielder who fancied himself as much as a footballer as he did as a gangster. He slotted in well behind the strikers, and showed some flashes of individual brilliance.

Clarence So

Clarence was the oldest and smallest member of the side, and shares his name with an engine from Thomas.

Dominic Wong

Dom suffered by having to play in a variety of positions, and spent much of the season stuck at left back. He performed admirably wherever he was placed, winning the respect of the coaching staff with his willingness to listen and learn.

Francis Wong

Cross-country legend Francis was the most consistent performer in the team, running up and down the left flank all game, every game. His trusty left boot made few mistakes, and delivered many threatening crosses from wide on the left.

Mark Samarasinghe

Mark was a versatile part-time sub, who must be mentioned for his performance against Grammar. As the Grammar striker burst free, Mark, at left back, stretched out a hand and pulled the player to the ground by his shirt. Fearing he would be sent off, Mark went down feigning injury. Sadly, he fooled only Ms Plenkovich, who was seriously concerned for his welfare and took him off for the remainder of the game.

Eddie Blaxell, Captain.

14B Soccer

Well, what can I say? It's been the best season the whole team has ever played and the most enjoyable by far. We started off well with Richard, Jerry and Clarence doing their jobs as strikers. Defence and midfielders were also doing well to distribute the ball around the field and towards the forwards.

Though the team did struggle a little at the beginning, a saviour by the name of Paul Tran joined the team and scored many needed goals.

The team was very committed to their sport and to prove that, the whole team travelled together by train to Warrabee to play Knox. In a very convincing match we won 3 2.

Special gratitude goes to Felix Taaffe, who attended all morning training sessions and tried his heart out in every match.

Overall the team improved dramatically in all areas, especially their on-ball skills. We will be looking forward to next year as we successfully finished well on the Dolan Cup score board with a total score of 8 points, thus placing us ... second last.

Oh what a year it's been! What can be said about such an extraordinary team? The 14Cs have passed new heights, ventured to new places and attained skills in all aspects of football in just four and a half months of training. They are well known to be the best team in the U14s and finished marvelously in the top five of the infamous and so called "Dolan Cup."

After a good trial run of all the new and inexperienced players (all of whom are in Year 8) we placed ourselves in a formidable and strongly barricaded position promising a High victory (through all the games). And this was true and clearly evident that we have all improved tremendously and attained many skills.

We started off the GPS excellently with a 4-0 hammering of Newington at Marrickville Stadium. We were on top of the ladder and our leading goal scorer, Paul Tran, was on 4 goals.

The next game was equally exciting and ended up our way by winning 5-0 against the 13Cs of Shore at Bus Loop Stadium. Again Paul scored 3 with Faraz and Englemen each attaining 1. This was just too good for the young and exuberant High side. That following week, their Football Manager announced that Tanvir Uddin (C) and Paul Tran (VC) will be playing in the 14 Bs. This meant that everything had to be changed (the positions, strategy and general format) and everyone started getting really sloppy.

Again they played at Bus Loop Stadium and we lost our first match in 7. St. Pats just were too much for us.

They played to their ability but just wasn't enough for the 2 goals to chase. But, they came back in our next game at High Stadium 2. It was against Kings. After a very bad start, they were equal at 1-1. After the break, the team began to communicate and pass better. We won that day 6-1. Their greatest win yet! Scorers were Faraz Amin 2, Andric Leong 2 and Paul Tran 2.

The 5th game was against Grammar. They had heard about how difficult they were, but they weren't going to be afraid of them. High began very badly with 2 goals in our net. Grammars were faster, stronger and more skillful. After half time the game quickened, the ball was everywhere. On the last ten minutes they scored their first, thanks to Faraz Amin. From that point on they were determined to win, nothing was going to stop them now. They had 3 final attempts on the dying minutes of the game set up brilliantly by Faraz and Henry, but they just couldn't get it in.

The 2nd last game was against Ignatius. Everyone knew Ignatius for their skill and strengths in soccer. The High side shook hands with gigantic players, 2x their size. Even though they had all the physical abilities, the 14Cs made them look small mentally. High's shortest players were taking on the really big guys. We won the game 3-0 "with 2 goals from Tony and a deflection of a back set by Benjamin.

Their last game was going to be the best. They all wanted to have fun and enjoy themselves. They were intending to use their new tactic of "defender charge" to knock down the opposition. 1 worked to a certain extent. Because of our our lack of concentration we were 3 goals down. After the break we pushed 2 goals in. Thanks to Faraz, and Tony who kicked it well outside the penalty box.

INDIVIDUAL RESULTS

1. Faraz Amill. Our shortest and most skill full player has improved and helped us in every way. Well known in the school for his very loud and talkative mind, he puts it all into shouting at the Ref and making bad calls throughout. He has great talent and will be a key player in the future. He scored 5 goals this season.

2. Tony Zhong. He came on as a substitute forward and has done a lot in making the team, work together. Everyone is scared of him and he points out irrelevant things in the game. He has greatly improved and will be a better suited to a key mid in the future. He has scored 3 goals this season

3. Andric Leong. Our fastest mid with the most un co shots imaginable. He has talent in supporting and communicating. He sometimes comes out of nowhere to score spectacular goals. He has scored 2 goals.

4. Benjamin Chow. This player has much potential. He began very slowly, but had improved greatly. He is very supportive and never gives up. A promising player in the future.

5. Henry Liu. He came in very inexperienced and I think has left with great talent and skill. He is very supportive and does some very great shots. (Mostly to the opposition).

6. Augustine Ha. He is our most physically fit player with a range of talents and skills. He assisted well and is a great flank.

7. Allan Wong. Our coaches' pest. He talks a lot about nothing but if he put all that effort into his game, he will really be successful. He has been very supportive and brave.

8. Kelvin Qiu He is a great bludger, but has much talent as a back. With his aggression and tackling skill he is fine back which is essential to the team.

9. Pradeepan is our man. He has saved many goals and has the strongest boot. He is an excellent back and in the future will be an exceptional player.

10. Ragavan Manohoran. He is our only Y9 player but he has improved in kicking and attacking the ball. He is most useful at stopping the opposition from scoring.

11. William Zhang. He began as a weak player where everybody disliked him, but has become really talented. He has proved that really "anyone can play". He will become an extraordinary player in the future.

12. Anthony Huynh He is a very efficient player who never gives up. Playing it fairly and supporting the 14~. He is an important player.

13. Arghya Guptha Our goalkeeper. He has improved from his first game. He hasn't conceded many goals and is the greatest goal kicker in the 14s.

14. Paul Tran He began in our team and is the best player. He has scored all up 12 goals and is very promising for the future. This player has real talent.

15. Tanvir Uddin. The captain of the team. He has tried to maintain the team and help out in many ways. As a player he controls the backs and defends with persistence. He will surely be much better next year if he keeps up at this rate.

After all the improvements, trial matches, determination and to win we came within the top 5 of the Dolan Cup. We played to our abilities and looked strong, on a team perspective. They have placed much strong promises for the future and by the time next year they will surely be No. 1.

Special thanks to all our coaches (Edwin, Anthony, Simon, John and Jim) who gave up their valuable time for us and to Ms. Plenkovich for her excellent effort in running 14s Soccer this year. Thank you all.

13A Soccer

The 2001 season for the 13As was a learning curve in our soccer careers. While the team had a lot of promise and applied itself well to improving, it seemed to fall short in the majority of its games. We played very well and had some close games which did not go our way.

Our first trial game was against Waverley at home, traditionally a very difficult game. While we played very well with some near misses, we ended up conceding a goal in the second half and losing 0-1. Despite this result, we took heart from spirited performances from all our players and went into the next game with our hopes high. This was our first game against Scots, played at the Scots College. Again, in spite of a very good effort from all the players, we lost 0-1. The third game of the pre-season was again against Scots, this time at McKay. We hoped a stronger performance at home, but two quick goals from the away team put High on the back foot from the start, and had us defending for the rest of the game. They then proceeded to put another three past lacklustre defence, making the final score a blowout of 0-5 to Scots. A thoroughly disappointed 13A High team gathered midweek, determined to win a trial game, with their last one approaching, against Cranbrook at home. A slight reshuffle at the front hoped to provide more goals, as the team had yet to put any past an opposition keeper! A confident start by our team paid off, as our first goal of the season was calmly slotted past the keeper, and we went one goal up in the first half. A clever chip from the opposition striker put the scores level at half time. An inspired half time talk from our coach saw fired up High team take the field and it was soon 2-1 to the home team. It stayed this way till the end of the game, giving the 13As of 2002 their first win of the season.

The GPS competition itself was difficult, epitomised by our first game against Newington, possibly the best team in the GPS. Playing away was hard enough, but conceding three goals in the first half made it far harder. Losing 0-4 in the end was a lot better than it could have been, with two shots from their striker coming off the woodwork, and one being brilliantly saved by our keeper. For our next game, we faced the daunting prospect of Shore at home. Another very good offensive team saw us lose 0-3. Once more we decided that it was time for a reshuffle up the front, especially when our next game was against Joeys, notably the weakest soccer playing team in the GPS. Despite several squandered chances, we walked away happy, with a four goal to nil win. Our first goals in the GPS season coming three games in was not the best of signs, but nevertheless, it was good to put some in the back of the net. In our closest game of the season, we unfortunately came out second best as we lost 1-2 to a strong Kings side, thanks to some poor refereeing, as a free kick was given in the last minutes which gave them the lead. Our next game was another tough one, against Grammar, ending in a familiar score line of 2-1. However, this time we came out on top, with a very solid performance from the whole team. Our last two games were not overly memorable, both losses, 0-3 and 0-2 to Riverview and Scots respectively.

So a promising season, from which all the players learnt something. Two wins in the GPS and one in the pre-season may not sound like much, but against quality opposition it was a very good effort.

The 13B soccer team had a good season. We had strong wins over Joeys, Grammar, Newington and Scots in the trials. We would like to thank Ms Dam for her continuous support and encouragement as our coach.

The 13C soccer side was one that really did start out as a side which did not know the difference between a pass and a shot at goal. But the team has come a long way since then.

The season did not begin in the best way with our team managing just one goal through the trial season. But progress came as soon as the GPS season started, with the team winning the two opening matches until injury got the better of us with several players out each week. Even so, the team fought hard and never gave up, which embodied all that High taught, and in some cases, more.

The coaches of course were the best inspiration for our team, guiding us every step of the way. Good on you Roo and Chen. We are looking to a strong and successful season next year and even more wins.

It has been a great season for the 13Ds. With four wins and three losses, we did better than expected.

Our trial season was begun with three losses in a row. As the season progressed, we improved well with a 7-0 thrashing against Cranbrook. This greatly enhanced team moral, leading to another four wins.

But we didn't need extreme experience, we just needed enough skills to beat the other F teams, and we did. Sure there were some losses, 3-5, 2-3, 0-8. But most of our games we won, and even though some of the other teams tested the referee severely, we still beat them in style.

Mr Ockert helped us a lot by giving us techniques to use. Our goalie improved a lot too. At first, he jumped over balls and missed kicks, but now he saves hard ones and kicks halfway down the field.

I can say that we have all improved. Our total score was a lot higher than we expected.

Cross Country

Opens Division

Last years First Grade Cross Country team had only one Year 12 runner. So this year we expected to have a strong team as there were seven runners who were in First Grade last year. The Trinity relay, which is always a good test to see the standards of each team, was good evidence that this year our team could perform well. Jonathan Laurie, David Kaldor, Ben Mostafa and myself finished fourth, only metres behind Newington. This was one of the best results cross country has seen in recent history. Jonathan Laurie also went on to come sixth at the St. Ignatius cross country, earning a place to represent the school in the GPS Cross Country team.

Not only was High performing well, the open team was the biggest in the competition with over thirty runners, and most weeks at least twenty turning up to compete.

Our weekly performances were not of a high standard as three strong runners were committed to soccer as well as cross country, so they only jogged the races, before going to soccer. Unfortunately there are a minimum number of runs required to qualify to run in the GPS Cross Country final. Two good runners missed out on this by only one run, and a third runner was too sick to run the final. These runners would probably have finished in the school's top four, which count towards the schools team score. Obviously High had little chance to do as well as we did at the Trinity relay. However gallant runs from Blake Briggs and Ken Liu ensured that we did not come last.

16s Division

Some of the Open runners were actually from the 16s age group, possibly why the 16s had less depth than they usually do throughout the season. However consistent running from Jeremy James ensured a regular top fifteen place getter for High. Jeremy finished off the season well, coming ninth in the final.

14s Division

These boys are the most promising team runners High Cross Country has seen in a while. They showed the promise from the first time at the Shore event, coming second as a team - only one point behind Newington. Then, after the holiday break, they won the Barker/Knox event with all top four High runners finishing inside the top twenty. They continued their impressive form for the rest of the season, right to the final. To win the event would have been impossible, as St. Ignatius finished with a near perfect team score with runners coming in 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 5th. However, our lads ran just as consistently as they had all year to finish 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th, to come second as a school team.

Richard Blennerhassett, Captain.

First Grade Cross Country

The Cross-Country season started off with some promise, as it often does. At the Trinity relay our first team of Jonathon Laurie, David Kaldor, Ben Mostafa and Richard Blennerhassett finished a close fourth not far off from the leaders. Jonathon Laurie also finished an impressive sixth in the Combined GPS selection run, high enough to make the GPS team.

Ken Liu and Blake Briggs also began to impress with consistently improving results while Ken set a new record for one of the training runs at Centennial Park. Justin Garber, David and Jonathon showed true High spirit as they shared their commitment to cross country with first grade soccer. The first grade runners from year 11, Sahan Dasanayaka, Thien Vuong and Matt Lam provided some much-needed depth and showed some promise for the season in the next year.

On the day of the final, hosted by Scots, High hopes were dashed. Three of the year 12 runners were not able to compete, due either to illness or failure to qualify by missing out on just one qualifying run. Jonathon finished first for the school with a solid top 15 finish, but the overall placings were not good enough to ensure a fully satisfying result.

Under 16 Cross Country

The season started off in “High” spirits with one of the largest cross-country contingents High has ever seen. There were any familiar faces from the season before and many new faces, who hopefully will stay with us for seasons to come.

Upon returning from two weeks of rest, we received a warm welcome from both Mr Prorellis and Mr Kesting, outlining the season’s program and the commitment we were about to partake. Each week the training program increased bit by bit throughout the season, preparing us for the Saturday runs. Every Saturday the whole Cross Country team turned up cheerful and ready to start, helping each other to prepare mentally and physically for the events. Throughout the season we progressed with successes and disappointments, personal bests and the like.

Two names must be mentioned in this report for two different reasons. The first has to be Jeremy James, who performed outstandingly and consistently through the season right through to the final where he placed 9th. The second name is Opal Wu. Opal performed outstandingly in a different way - no matter how difficult the cause he always persevered and completed. Opal never came 1st, 2nd or even 9th but his commitment and perseverance shows what High spirit is about.

The team consisted of Ben Goh, Joseph Lee, Clement Lau, Eric Ren, Paul Bui, Raymond Cheung, Lam Nguyen, William Song, Opal Wu, Newton Lee, Matheepan Sivagnanasundaram, Fai Lam, Jeremy James, Gabriel McManus, Yinan Zhang, Albert Hwan, Sohil Afshar, Mian Wang, and Joe Xie.

Rifle Shooting

During the second week of the July school holidays Sydney High School Rifle Club met at ANZAC Rifle Range to train for what they knew would be a demanding task - winning the GPS Rifle Shooting Premiership for the second year running.

Monday 22 July saw the second and first grade teams training at Hornsby Rifle Range to acclimatise to the range and survey the opposition.

On Tuesday 23 July the competition began with the morning event, The Rawson Cup, beginning 9am sharp. The Rawson cup consisted of two sighting shots and seven shots to count for each of first grade's eight members. The Rawson Cup was shot over two stages, the first at 500 metres and the second at 600 metres, with the match decided on the aggregate team scores.

Tuesday afternoon's event was the N.R.A. Shield, consisting of two sighting shots and ten shots to count at a distance of 600 metres. Here, some unusual conditions at High's target resulted in some lower than expected scores.

The following morning it was time for the first grade team to take a break and for the second grade team to contest the Seconds Team

Premiership Match. This match consisted of two sighters and seven shots to count for each of the eight seconds team members over a distance of 500 metres for the first stage followed by a further two sighters and seven shots to count on the second stage at 300 metres. As has become the custom of High's second grade sides, the match was fought out long and hard, but we were unsuccessful in claiming the shield.

Wednesday afternoon saw the final match for the first grade premiership, where the first grade members were required to shoot two stages, the first being two sighting shots and eight to count at 300 metres, and the second a rapid fire shoot of the same number of shots at a fifty centimetre diameter disc target. The difficulty of this match was added to when the glaring sun of previous days was replaced by high wind and rain, creating difficulty for the coaches in particular.

While not retaining the Premiership in 2002, Sydney High School Rifle Club kept up their tradition of vigorously contesting the matches to the end. The competition was the final shoot for several of the team's senior members and I wish the club well in contesting the Rifle Shooting Premiership of 2003.

Captain of Athletics

[The following is an edited version of the speech given by the Captain of Athletics at the Annual Athletics Assembly.]

Good morning Dr. Jaggar, guests, parents and students.

We are at the business end of yet another season of sport at Sydney High. The school athletics team has been competing for only six weeks, yet tomorrow we will test our physical and mental capabilities when we take on the best athletes from the GPS in the most elite and exclusive competition this country can provide.

At High, we have to work to achieve success, and there has been no shortage of enthusiasm and commitment to training over the last few months by all members of the team. The standout achievements of the senior team this year have been the season's best throw by any competitor in the Open Shot Put by Ben Lonsdale, and Jonathon Laurie's amazing 1500m run when he took 16 seconds off his personal best. Lachlan Mitchell also deserves a mention after running easily the fastest 100m time run by any member of the school this year.

Overall it has been an enjoyable year for athletics with consistently good performances across all age groups. Thanks must go to all those who have supported the team, in particular the many parents who have been generous in their time and effort in supporting the boys. Mr Sean Creer has again been an asset to the team through his organisational skills and first aid assistance. Nick Armstrong recently joined the one-man coaching staff of High and has been of great benefit to many of our junior athletes. However the bulk of all thanks must go to Mr Steve Tiedgen. Every Tuesday, Mr. Tiedgen has been able to conduct several training sessions simultaneously making sure every one of us had something to do. His enthusiasm for the job of MIC of athletics has seen the number of students taking part in the program increase steadily over the last few years, and he has been the founder of many new talents.

When we arrive tomorrow to the sound of bagpipes and thousands of voices chanting in support of their schoolmates, we will hopefully be able to hear the school song loud and clear above all else. Boys that have competed in the Head of the River tell me that even though we are grossly outnumbered on the shore they can still hear us. Just imagine the kind of noise that this school could make if we were all there. At the one time of year when upwards of 5000 schoolboys are crammed into a stand 100m long, it would be amazing to see the chocolate and sky blue out in force.

It is also particularly important we have a large showing this year because of the media coverage our school has received in recent times. We must prove to the critics that our way of education - encouraging all-round participation - does make High a school unlike any other. We always have been and we must make sure that we remain so. The athletes in front of me are examples of students doing their part to make sure the traditions survive, and tomorrow the rest of you will have your chance.

A restless night lies ahead for all members of the team, as we lie awake dreaming about how fast we're gonna run, how far we're gonna throw and how high we're gonna jump. When we wake up it will be time to go and face the music, and I wish the rest of the team the best of luck.

The senior team of 2002 is -

In the U17s

Champ. Shot Put - Andrew Walters.

Div. Shot Put, Div. Hurdles & Div. 800m - Thien Vuong.

Champ. High Jump - David Li.

Champ. 100, 200 & 400m as well as the 4x100m relay - Lachlan Mitchell.

Div. 100m and the 4x100m relay - Bosco Cheung.

Champ. 1500m - David Kaldor.

Champ. Hurdles - Brendan Lee.

Champ. 4x100m relay - Eugene Hooi.

Div. 3000m - Hugh James.

Unfortunately not with us is Mark Nam who will compete in the Champ. Long Jump and the 4x100m relay.

In the Opens

Div. Shot Put - Dinesh Ramanan.

Div. Hurdles - Phil Clemens.

As reserves

In the U17 - Sahan Dasanayake, Alex Voyevoda, Ken Liu, Akash Aggarwal, Yeou-Herng Shaw, and Aik Yeng.

In the Opens - Steve Barbouttis, William Clarke, Josh Dzarir and Jun-Yang Sim.

At this point I invite our guest, Aaron Hunt, to present the Open Championship Athletes with their shirts.

Vice-Captain of the Team, Ben Lonsdale - Ben approaches every meet with an air of confidence. While his dress sense may be frowned upon by many in the GPS, Lonsy silences his critics by continually putting in the performances that will see him start the Championship Shot Put tomorrow as the clear favourite.

Jonathon Laurie - No words describe Jono better than those of the great British athlete and the first person to run the mile in under four minutes, Sir Roger Bannister, who said, "The man who can drive himself further once the effort gets painful is the one who will win." Jono will compete in the Championship 800 and 1500m.

Justin Garber - Over the years the Garber family has been heavily involved in athletics at High and Justin is no exception. His willingness to work hard and push himself at training has seen him improve greatly this year, and he deserves his spot in both the Championship 200m and the 4x400m relay.

Richard Blennerhassett is not here either but he is another athlete who has the amazing ability to keep going when it really hurts. This is reflected by his selection in the Championship High Jump, the 4x400m relay and the Championship 3000m.

Brendan Lee flying high at an invitational carnival.

William Phu - No-one can understand William. He has declined the opportunity to run the Championship race every week yet has never failed to produce the fastest time. William must conquer his fears tomorrow when he lines up in the blue ribbon event, the Championship 100m. William has also been selected to start the 4x100m relay.

Saul Wodak - Strangely Saul has had considerable difficulty attending carnivals this year but on one occasion when he did manage to get there, for some reason he chose to run in the 3000m but had to pull out after 3 laps because of fatigue (and possibly because he was about to be lapped). However, when Saul did compete in his preferred event his performance was impressive and tomorrow he will run the Championship 400m.

Toby Fanning - Slowby is an angry little man. Always reminded of his lack of height, Toby has done well to remain calm and is a key in the 4x100m relay.

Sam Bradley - Diddims is gradually finding his feet after a serious incident earlier in the year when the finish line of the 200m was just 10m too far away, and Sam literally ran into the ground. To overcome this problem, Sam was instructed to reduce his preferred distance to 100m and it appears to have worked. He will run the Division 100m as well as the 4x100m relay.

Mark Bayliss - Mark is our hurdle specialist. Not surprising seeing as he was the only senior athlete prepared to run the Championship hurdles when they are set at a rather dubious height for any male athlete. This does not phase Mark, however, and he will lay his future on the line in the 110m hurdles.

Ben Mostafa - 'Mullet Boy' has been a revelation this year. His high fitness level gained playing AFL has made him perfectly suited to the middle distance events. Ben assures me that his hair acts like a rudder and will assist him in the Championship 4x400m relay and the Division 800m.

Haim Ayalon - Haim is still recovering after an embarrassing defeat at the hands of Steve Barbouttis last Saturday. But I am told it has been an enlightening experience and he will use the incident as extra motivation going into tomorrow's 4x400m relay.

With myself competing in the Championship Long Jump and the 4x100m relay, this is the Senior Athletics Team of 2002.

Kieran Lewis, Captain of Athletics.

[1] From 1884-1919 the dux was known as captain of the school.

[2] The prefect system was introduced in 1910.

From 1910 to 1919, the equivalent of the present School Captain was called the Senior Prefect.

[3] The title of Senior Prefect was changed to Captain in 1920.
