

From the Principal Orientation Day 2018

Thank you to Maria Glenn and her staff, teachers, students and parent volunteers who worked so well together to make the orientation / enrolment process as smooth and efficient as possible this week. The enrolment processes were completed with impressive efficiency and effectiveness, thanks to the smooth organisation and hard work of the SAS staff. They had to process over 200 new students. The Great Hall was full for the assembly at the new time of 3 pm. Many new students and their parents were shown around the school by School Prefects. These boys also did a wonderful job assisting the SAS staff in the Common Room as they processed applications. Volunteers who attended the various activity stalls did a great job too, as did the parents who gave up their time. Thank you also to the P & C for providing refreshments. Thank you to Mr Aldous for his organisation and to everyone associated with the day. It was certainly very well organised. Thank you to everyone involved. A great High team effort!

Summer Sports Assembly

At our summer sports assembly, basketball Olympian Shane Heal urged our boys to find something they loved doing and do it with great energy. He talked about how passion, commitment and perseverance carried him to the highest levels of his sport. He cautioned the boys that setbacks are inevitable in sport. Effort does not always equal reward. The test is how much you want it to keep on trying without giving up at the first big setback. My speech to the assembly is reprinted below:

Special guest Shane Heal, staff, parents, GPS representatives and students – good morning and welcome to our summer sports assembly. Today I am pleased to make welcome to High our newly appointed Head Teacher of Sport, Steven Marcos. Steven comes to us with a wide experience of schools, students and sports administration at several levels. I know everyone will work collaboratively with Steve to promote and nurture sport at High. GPS competition is underway for some summer sports and just about to commence in others.

Our cricket program is being managed this season by David Smith, an Old Boy and former Combined GPS cricketer. I would like to thank him for taking over a complex role so seamlessly, especially when we are hosting the Five Highs tournament this year. Our thanks go to first XI coach Andrew Walters, 2nd XI coach Glenn Holstock, Tushaar Garg (SHS 2016) as coaching coordinator and to Darius Visser and his coaches Luke Bartier, Pete Francis and Devlin Malone. The training intensity has definitely lifted. Thank you to the members of the Cricket Committee for their work: Sandeep Mahajan, Ben Giles, Andrew Roland, Jay Goonaratne, Gracey Joseph, Shakeel Memon and Manisha Shridokar. I look forward to an improved showing from our teams this year.

In basketball, long-serving MIC and first grade coach, Ben Hayman, has led his team of coaches really well again this year. Our boys won the Yeend Shield in second grade last weekend. I'd like to acknowledge the work of two volunteer stalwarts in the basketball program. Bruce Gordon - the strapper/ first aid/ tour manager guy and Chris Chiam (SHS 2012) who produces game statistics for the coaches at each break – a marvellous service. Nima Sedaghat (SHS 2004) is still our long standing Treasurer. Thank you for the ongoing contributions of Sam Higgins, Eamon Kelly (SHS 2013), Tom Neal, Erik Dorbek, Shiraz Biscovic (HS 2010) and the Basketball Committee. There is much to do running the kiosk, rounding up parking volunteers, scoring games and preparing food for after game functions. Thank you to everyone involved!

In sailing, I want to thank MIC Matt Cotton for his efforts this year, particularly in the off season when we moved from Double Bay to Woollahra and took delivery of two new boats. Thank you to the South family for their ongoing support for sailing. I would like to recognise the work of Sailing Committee members Bill de Araujo, Georgina Kernohan and Tom Beer. Thank you to Richard James on behalf of the Sydney High School Sailing Association. We are rebuilding our program at Woollahra and should get more time on the water in an easier location to navigate.

Jessica Millar has backed up again as MIC of Water Polo and done a great job. Our development is dependent upon High having good swimmers who also want to play this demanding sport. The standard of our teams seems to be lifting year on year which is gratifying. Peter Loizou has been MIC of Swimming for many years and all the events he is associated with are run very smoothly and efficiently. He has a lean and efficient operation that I can count on to work each year without a hitch. We have had some really good support from our boys as spectators at recent GPS Swimming carnivals. I appreciate your support.

Kurt Rich has worked very well as MIC of tennis and is working closely with David Deep, our Coaching coordinator and Head Coach, to build up the tennis program. My thanks go to these two men for their efforts. One of the hardest achievements in sport is to back up after a big win. Our boys are taking on the challenge of defending our first and second grade titles. It was a strong start against Riverview last Saturday. The big test is Newington this week.

Thank you to our piano players for today's assembly – Lingyu Wong and Sampson Xie. In closing, I want to make a few observations about sport and goal setting.

The goal setting process helps athletes to understand the quality of their current performance and also to clarify where they want to go and by when. Trained professionals help athletes to set systematic goals that are focused on the process and personal performance parameters rather than unpacking possible outcomes from the competition they are training to compete in. Teams respond well to SMART goal setting. When you set specific, measurable, achievable, realistic time bound goals, you are more likely to achieve them. They are designed to narrow focus and galvanise action. SMART goals begin the process of turning the invisible into the visible. Who is involved in our process? What do we want to accomplish? Where will we be doing our training and competing? How long have we got to get to where we want to be? What are our requirements and what is constraining us? Why do we want to achieve the goal we have set for ourselves? Teams need a process for setting individual and collaborative goals. Write them down. Compose them with only positive statements. Put in enough detail to make the goals clear. Have them observable at training each day by all the team members.

How do teams and individuals derive benefit from the goal setting process? Goals provide us all with direction. Goals remind us to focus on what is important. Goals help us to become clear about what decisions need to be made. Goals empower us because we are managing our own futures. Goals help us with our motivation because a big task has been broken down into achievable parts. We can remain really keen to tick off each goal as we reach it. Our sense of self-efficacy or personal satisfaction can be enhanced by the process of setting goals. Above all, individual and collective goal setting provides individual and communal purpose.

Coaches in all sorts of sports have sets of saying and slogans to help bring team culture to their group. One I like is to task team members what 'success' looks like. See your goal. Understand the obstacles. Create a positive mental picture.

Clear your mind of any self-doubt you have. Embrace the challenge. Stay on track. Show the world you can do it. That is what success as an acroscopic looks like. Goal setting is a valuable life skill in academic as well as sporting situations.

I congratulate all boys selected in GPS teams this season. I exhort all team participants and coaches to work with goal setting to improve performance.

Student Awards Scheme

Last points for the Award Scheme can be earned up to Friday 24 November. If you check your participation file and detect that something is missing, it is up to you notify the MIC in charge of the activity to have the text file of successful participants compiled and sent to Mr Dowdell. Awards have to be determined and medallions/ plaques ordered before the end of the school year so that they will be ready in time for our awards assemblies early next year. Don't miss out on getting all the points you should!

Scholarship Applications

There is only one week left for students to apply for the Phillip Day Memorial and Sir Roden and Lady Cutler Scholarships. If you have financial needs due to family or special circumstances; if you are a great all-rounder; or if you have a special talent that needs extra resources to help you develop, please consider applying. Scholarships are valued at $1500 in school credit. Application forms can be downloaded from the school website – www.sydneboyshigh.com/scholarships. Applications close now on Thursday 30 November.

End of year Reports

All boys in Years 11, 9 & 7 should have discussed their reports with me. Boys in Year 7 requiring Clearance Forms who have not collected their reports will have time slots available to book in for interviews next week. I will have a 'Stragglers Reports' session when I can find some time. Check out the Waterhouse desk to enter your name on a sheet. Thereafter, they will join the other Years in having appointments only out of school time or in breaks. Please make sure that your son meets his obligations to the school and then books in for an appointment.

Orientation & Enrolment Day

Many thanks to the students who participated in Orientation and Enrolment Day and helped our 2018 students and families feel welcome. It was great to see the large number of both junior and senior students become involved. The school tours were popular again this year and our tour guides did a wonderful job.

I would especially like to thank the senior students who assisted our Administrative Staff in and around the Common Room. Your help was invaluable and allowed us to move through the enrolment process as quickly as possible. Thank you for doing such a fantastic job. Your assistance is greatly appreciated.

Thank you to Mr Mick Aldous, Ms Jeanette Leong, Mr David Smith, Ms Madeleine Rigby, our Program Managers and our MIC's for organising the students and activities.

Thank you also to Mr Jim Crampton, Mr Stewart Carlyle, Mr James Rudd, Mr Michael Silva, Mr David Isaacs and the students who assisted with the set up for the day's events.

Thank you to our tireless P&C parents who once again provided welcome refreshments throughout the afternoon for our new families.

A special thank you must go to our Administrative Staff. Thank you for your hard work during the long weeks of preparation and your fantastic efforts on what is our busiest day of the year. All this while dealing with sick students, lost property, absences, lost forms, late arrivals, parents, phones and the numerous other tasks that are carried out by SASS during the school day! In particular, thank you to those who gave up their evening and stayed until the last student was enrolled.

Music Awards Assembly 2017

Good morning and welcome to special guest Muhamed Mehmedbasic, members of the Music Committee, staff and students. I am thrilled to have the privilege of providing the address for the 12th Annual Music Awards Assembly. This assembly recognises and honours the exceptional accomplishments of all Sydney Boys High School's performance music program participants.

From performances at the Australian Chinese Community Association Annual Dinner to the Anzac Day City March, from Speech Night and Open Day to playing the processional and the accompaniment to the school song which we just sang, Sydney Boys High School musicians have provided us with the entertainment for and the soundtrack to a wide range of activities in 2017.

We owe thanks for our outstanding music program to the enthusiasm of the music staff: Sarah Kim, Rita Miller and Suzanna Lim with administrative support from Louise Graul. In addition the music program we deliver at High would not be as exceptional without the music tutors. This year I would like to give a special thanks to Riley Irwin (Class of 2014) who is the conductor of the Senior Strings and has prepared them to perform at a number of events. We give thanks to the Music Committee which has been very supportive of the music program. A particular thank you to President Angela Liang, Vice president Marina Liao and Secretary Lonna Wong

This year Alan Harvey, Winthrop Professor of Neuroscience at the School of Anatomy, Physiology and Human Biology at the University of Western Australia, has written a book entitled Music, Evolution and the Harmony of Souls. In it he explores the importance of music throughout human evolution, and its continued relevance to modern-day human society. He postures that for humans, music and dance have been the primary drivers of social and cooperative behaviour. In fact the pre frontal cortex and the nucleus accumbens which are areas of the brain found to be most active when listening to music are the same as those found to be most active when undertaking cooperative tasks. These areas of the brain are key to the development of our personalities and are active when we gain pleasure. To me this shows that the human connection to music has become as natural and beneficial to us as our connection to other humans has always been.

In Harvey's book there is a quote by Charles Darwin that I would like to share with you. "If I had my life to live over again, I would make it a rule to read some poetry, listen to some music, and see some painting or drawing at least once a week, for perhaps the part of my brain now atrophied would then have been kept alive through life. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness."

Someone who is certainly not in danger of such loss is our special Guest who I have the honour of introducing today.

Muhamed Mehmedbasic (SHS 2009) completed his studies in Double Bass Performance at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music in 2012 and also graduated in law from the University of Sydney in 2014. He has been a student of Maxime Bibeau and David Potts. Muhamed undertook studies overseas at Domaine Forget Music Academy in 2011 in Quebec and at the Music Academy of the West in 2012 in California.

He was an ACO Emerging Artist in 2010 and 2011, and has been involved in Australian Youth Orchestra programs since 2010. Muhamed has performed with and alongside the Australian Chamber Orchestra, Melbourne Chamber Orchestra, Sydney Symphony Orchestra, Melbourne Symphony Orchestra, Canberra Symphony Orchestra, Tasmanian Symphony Orchestra, Auckland Philharmonia, Australian Ballet, Sydney Dance Company, Australia Piano Quartet and Australian Haydn Ensemble.

Also a Jazz musician, Muhamed was chosen as a finalist for the James Morrison Jazz Scholarship in 2010 and 2011. Muhamed is currently working at the A R Conolly & Co. which doubles as a legal practice and legal education provider.

As far as balancing music and law, Muhamed performs with a Jazz Quartet residency in Redfern. This week he has taken some time off work to play in the Shostakovich program with the Sydney Symphony Orchestra.

With that impressive CV, I am sure you will be as excited as I am to hear what Muhamed has to say and join me in giving him a very warm Sydney High welcome to the 2017 Music Awards Assembly.

SHOOTIN' HOOPS

Welcome again to another week of Shootin' Hoops. A few games were rained out on the weekend against Riverview. A few tough games in the lower grades, but still real promise showing. Good job to 1sts in the Rashke Cup for coming third, missing out on first place by 3 points, and Kore Wilson and the Seconds for their defensive and absolutely dominating in the Yeend Shield competition. And some real blowout games in 16s makes the future look great for Opens in the next season.

Meanwhile, First and Second Grade had a long day competing for The Rashke Cup and The Yeend Shield respectively. Firsts had some tough pool matches; they had a loss in their first game against Riverview, but were able to beat Kings this time around, and once again dominated Grammar. The end result was a three-way tie between High, Kings and Ignatius, and the top team would be determined by for-and-against, and High missed out by only 3 points. Still, hats off to the lads for a great effort; we have and can beat Ignatius, and all the other teams too.

Seconds, after a scare against Ignatius, breezed through in their next two games by 20 points. This meant they would go through to the Final to compete for the Yeend Shield against Newington. Newington's team was big, but the boys' effort was bigger, and in the end brought back the goods, winning the Yeend Shield for the first time in six years. Well done boys!

That's all for now. Last week marked the start of the official GPS season after the end of the preseason, and Round 1 is against Newington College. They won't give up easily, so work hard during training, keep the team together, and High is sure to win. Play Hard, Play Smart, Play Together

Captain of Boats Rowing Report

The weekend started with a nice early Saturday morning up in Penrith, the High crews ready for another day of racing. The flat waters of the morning in the back of every boy's mind as they pushed off from the pontoon, preparing themselves for the day racing ahead. Through the first heat there were a few mixed results from the High crews, with a stand out performance from the Year 9 first quad, finishing in a close group between 4th and 8th, toppling Grammar. The first race was a good way for the boys to get their racing legs back, as this was only the second GPS regatta of the season.

Yet the weather changed for the second race, a strong tail wind picked up making the racing much more difficult, challenging technique and pushing the crews around their lane. The overcast conditions coupled with the strong winds were an unpleasant change from the week before with sun and flat water, yet the boys weren't phased by such conditions. Strong performance came out by both the senior 1st VIII and the 2nd VIII, taking out grammar with a more positive race and pushing up close towards the rest of the field.

Well done on a strong effort this week boys, let's carry this on to the coming regattas and next year.

HIGH SAILING

Building on excellent results in the Fleet Sailing competition, High once again entered a fleet of nine boats. While torrential wind and rain caused morning racing to be cancelled, we took advantage of the rain dying away and entered the water for a high-intensity training session in high winds, practicing boat speed and handling and providing an opportunity for each sailor to press his claim for the upcoming selection of the Firsts team. At 11am, the provisional Firsts Squad of Kai Huang, Max-Wharton Jones, Ben Kernohan, Jarrod Khaw, Jack Vorgias, Jonah Beer, Nick Palmer, and myself, prepared for the opening day of the incredibly competitive Teams Sailing competition. With the winds remaining high, the team were incredibly nervous, but with a fierce desire to compete against the best. As the day progressed, this desire turned into results as High remained competitive with all opponents, our training paying dividends.

Miraculous team tactics saw us emerge victorious over Ascham's Firsts despite being behind for most of the race, raw boat speed allowed us to comprehensively dispatch both Cranbrook's Firsts and Seconds, and our aggressiveness and speed off the start line meant we led national champions Scots for a considerable portion of the contest. With each race our performance improved, Ben in particular developing from dead last in early races to leading on multiple occasions. Satisfied with our results, the team returned to shore at around 1:30pm.

The intense competition surrounding the limited First Grade positions is a testament to the dedication of High's sailors, and the promising results bode well for what is sure to be a successful season ahead!

The final round for the year commenced with the two-dayer against Newington this week.

1st / 2nd XI Reports

The 1st XI, coming off a bitter defeat against Grammar started the innings batting well enough to see through the new ball. However, at the end of the first session, we found ourselves 4/40 due to small lapses of focus. The team stuck at it, with Menuja scoring 25 before Hunar and Abhijot put on a 47 to take us to 8-112 by the end of the second session. Credit to Hunar and Raghav for taking us past our target of 150 with a 50 run partnership and concluding on 164, with 20 overs to do some damage. Congrats to Hunar for batting through a tough period, and boys came out firing and Newington finished 4-down, with 2 wickets each for Nick Leong and Abhijot.

2nd XI started off well with the ball, taking 3 early wickets to put the pressure on Newington. Unfortunately, they couldn't continue with this same momentum and wrap up the innings, conceding 246 runs. With another day yet to play, batting time and being selective with our shots will be crucial in winning the game.

This week we'll be continuing our two-dayer, with the winner of the 1st XI match being awarded the Joseph Coates Trophy. Good luck to the boys and remember to play hard!

To all parents and players, don't forget to go through the points below:

- If the weather is inclement on a Saturday, you can find any changes to the fixtures on the SBHS website on the home page. No changes = game is definitely on.
- Make sure that all boys wear SBHS logo hats and tops.
- Make sure they drink plenty of water and carry a drink bottle with them to training and fixtures.
- For training sessions and Saturdays, parents are to email through the specific details of absence (Student number, name, sport, team, reason and date of absence) to:

- absences.sport@sbhs.nsw.edu.au
- Remember all cricket games are important to attend to each Saturday, otherwise you are letting your team down. A 100% attendance record equates to 5 Award Scheme points for juniors.
- Please notify their coach if they are unable to attend training or their fixture.
