

From the Principal
The Governors Centre Update

Several site inspection visits in the last month or so have shown how much progress has been made in the construction of the building. In July and August most of the windows were set in place. The Equitone and Colorbond cladding was set in place. A rough-in of services was completed. Ceiling and wall sheeting was installed. Most of the external works except for landscaping were finalised. In September, it is planned that the gyprocking and most of the painting will be done. Services and amenities will be installed. The complex audio-visual and IT communications installation will begin. Some items, eg the internal lift, will be commissioned. The solar power generating system will be connected and some landscaping commenced. The Operating Committee which will manage TGC under the Joint Use Agreement, has been meeting to solve the myriad design and installation decisions necessary to set up a building for use by school students. I want to acknowledge and commend James Rudd and David Isaacs, our software and systems gurus, for all the effort they have put into mastering the design and specifications details for the AV, IT and telephony required for the building to function optimally. Their wise counsel, along with the astute oversight of the processes by John Prorellis, has helped me to get my head around the technical aspects of the project.

Year 10 Subject Selection Interviews

This week a team of staff members have been interviewing all Year 10 students prior to their subject selections for Year 11, 2021. Most of the cohort took the process seriously. It required them to complete a form which asked questions about their strengths and weaknesses, probed their awareness of possible careers and university courses, tested their research into ATARs and pre-requisites required, and canvassed their dispositions in respect of assessment preparation and lifestyle balance. The teacher mentors discussed these responses and analysed progress results for Year 10 and chosen courses for stage 6 in Years 11 and 12. Our intention was to promote a structured interview process to raise the level of awareness of what the tertiary sector offers and how best to fit interests and abilities of individuals into future study in that sector. Our hope is that personal subject and course selection will be informed better. Our intention is to keep a record of participation in the process and to follow up individual cases where more support is necessary or where participation was not evident or inadequate. The impact of the process will not be measurable until the end of 2022, when we may be able to track satisfaction with course selection through reduced movement between courses and student exit survey responses.

Wear it Purple Day – 28 August 2020

Founded in 2010 after several suicides of young people victimised by discrimination, Wear It Purple Day has been celebrated as a movement of young people in support of the principle of inclusivity for LGBTIQ youth in our community. Sadly, 80% of LGBTIQ teenagers are being bullied in our schools – just for being different. Wear It Purple Day is a demonstration of solidarity behind the moral principle of individuality – we all have a right to be proud of who we are as individuals. Respect, acceptance and inclusion are worthwhile values we would claim for ourselves. On Wear It Purple Day let us contemplate how well, during this latest year we have been true to those tenets of equality in our interactions with others. Coincidentally, the Department of Education has released an updated version of its policy in relation to inclusive education this week. It reiterates its commitment to making children feel welcomed in its schools and capable of learning to their fullest capacity. The same claims to a right to be treated fairly apply to students with a disability as to LGBTIQ students. If only we could all just take people as we find them and cherish our fortune to live in a civil society where individual expression of identity is not merely possible but proudly fostered.

Traffic Control

The School will continue to provide Parking Attendants for traffic control on Tuesday afternoons until the end of Term 3. This costly service is provided solely to make life easier for our students and their families. Notwithstanding that we allow parents on our site for drop-offs and pick-ups, the privilege should not be abused by individual drivers failing to follow the signals or instructions by staff. Also, we ask again that parents comply with Department of Health Guidelines and stay inside their vehicles at all times while on school grounds.

DEBATING

Debating Report

GPS Debating continued last week against The Shore School via Zoom. High were technically the home side, so were affirmative in all debates.

The boys debated well and we had wins in the Firsts, Seconds, Thirds and 8Bs.

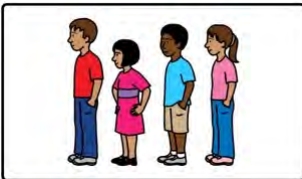

This week we are debating against St Josephs College. Teams debating are 7A, B and C, 8A and B, 9A and B, 10A and B and Firsts, Seconds and Thirds. Years 7, 8 and 9 start prep at 5.45pm and debate at 6.30pm. They should be finished by 7.45pm. Seniors prep at 6.30pm and debate at 7.30pm and should be finished by 9pm.

Thank you to the parents for abiding by the rules and collecting students from the carpark due to COVID restrictions.

There are two more weeks left of debating: 4 September v Sydney Grammar School and 11 September v The Kings School – all via Zoom.

Love your library

FROM THE JUNIOR LIBRARY

SOME OF OUR NEW FICTION MAKE US THINK
A BIT – Mini reviews

Any boy who would like to send me a reasonable sized review of any of the new books in our library will be published in the next High Notes and will also get 2 Award Scheme Points - Library@sbhs.nsw.edu.au

I have just finished reading this delightful book about

Taiwanese migrants by Chia Chia Lin. This novel is set in Alaska but surprisingly does not make a great deal of the harsh climate. Instead it focuses on the difficulties faced by many migrant cultures and the intergenerational disconnect caused by taking people out of a familiar social environment.

The narrator is 10-year-old Gavin who caught a virus going around his school. After a spell in hospital, which he cannot remember. He is told that his little sister, Ruby, died while he was sick.

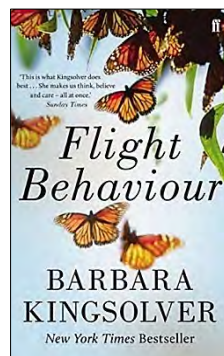

Because of its child's perspective this is a wonderful book for our students to read. The dilemma's facing the other two children, little Natty who missed Ruby so terribly and Pei Pei who fell for the boy next door, are poignant but also potentially life threatening.

This book tells how Gavin's family fell apart with grief over Ruby. This is exacerbated by the father of the family having difficulties at work, his intransigent wife and the resultant poverty and dysfunction caused by the family's isolation which are challenges common to all migrants.

It is particularly sad that these children come to judge their parents as failures, In this case both parents loved their children but their shortcomings nearly caused the children's deaths on a few occasions. Migration has harsh consequences and the hurdles are high.

In this next book American prizewinning novelist, Barbara Kingsolver, is trying herself out with the beautiful imagery of endangered Monarch butterfly migration and a young woman trapped into marriage by pregnancy. So in a sense this is a novel about change – climate change and change in social attitudes towards women's value to society and whether women should be educated. It is also taking a shot at description and beautiful imagery. So has this worked?

This book was shortlisted for the Women's Prize for fiction. This is a tough gig in the gigantic American book market.

Barbara Kingsolver has some winning themes going for her in this book. Her many novels are well worth exploring. She is not afraid of a challenge.

Neal Schusterman's 2018 collaboration with his son, Jarrod is my next new book review. Dry is a more conventional school library book, it is a Dystopian Speculative fiction with real climate change truth for California following hard on its dystopian heels.

The Schustermans speculate about how California running out of water suddenly might play out.

What is particularly worrying is their narrative regarding government's and bureaucracy's mishandling the situation.

With Donald Trump, Australian south coast bushfires, world-wide COVID and now more bushfires in California the scenario which plays out for the teenagers in Dry is all too likely to become real life.

Like Barbara Kingsolver the Schustermans have added in a little romance, teenage heroism, betrayals of friendship, and resilience to spice up a climate change novel.

As with many authors a Wikipedia search on Neal Schusterman is worthwhile. How do you become a successful author?

SBHS Tennis Welcome

Hello parents. Summer sport selections occurred this week and at this stage training will commence in week 10 of this term. I have created a Tennis module on CANVAS so if your son has chosen tennis, they will need to view the selection criteria and training schedule available there.

Matches may start as early as Saturday 17 October in Week 1 of Term 4.

I will also be looking for a leader for each group (14, 15, 16 & 4-8th grade). If your son would like to be considered for this leadership role, he will need to indicate his interest to me. This year, another initiative will be streamlining the post-match evaluation process.

I look forward to what will hopefully be a fun, developmental & safe season.

Sydney High School Old Boys' Union 2020 Student Webinar – A Career in Law 6pm Tuesday 1 September 2020

The Sydney High School Old Boys Union holds regular mentoring, interview training and careers advice sessions for students at the school.

Due to the COVID restrictions, we cannot provide these face to face in the school hall as we normally would do. As such, The Old Boys, led by Eric Wong of the class of 2000 and a member of the Union Committee and Foundation Board of Directors, will be holding a series of webinars.

Usually these are available to Years 11 & 12 students who are up to date on their annual Old Boys Union fees, or for a small fee to non-members. However, we are making the first session available free of charge to all students from Years 7 to 12.

A Career in Law - Legal Mentoring Webinar

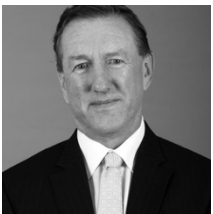

The Second in the series is the Legal career mentoring session.

The aim of the session is to hear from four Old Boys across various fields in Law, explaining the varied nature of careers available and their personal journeys. The boys will also have time to ask questions of the mentors.

You will hear from the following Old Boys:

Bruce Ramsay (1977)

Partner, Litigation, Herbert Smith Freehills

Bruce represents clients particularly in corporate contractual disputes, financial services class actions, in investigations, examinations and enforcement actions by regulators and in competition law disputes. Bruce in particular has represented clients in major litigation with the ACCC including related follow on claims. His litigation and inquiry experience includes acting in class actions, civil actions or regulatory inquiries for both corporate clients and major professional firms.

Bruce is frequently engaged to assist the firm's clients by advising on alternatives to litigation or on other solutions to disputes or before disputes arise. Before joining Freehills he was an associate to

Sir Nigel Bowen, the former Chief Justice of the Federal Court of Australia. Bruce was also the recipient of the School Honour Cap in 1977

Alex Feldman (2003)

Chief Strategy Officer and General Counsel

Alex Feldman holds the position of Chief Strategy Officer and General Counsel, he is also the Company Secretary. Alex has been with amaysim since it listed in 2015 and is responsible for the Group's legal and regulatory functions, as well as investor relations and strategic corporate development opportunities such as mergers and acquisitions and significant partnerships. What is the Old Boys Union?

The Sydney High School Old Boys Union (SHSOBU) was founded in 1892 and is Australia's oldest alumni Union. Over the past 128 years, its aim has been to foster and continue the friendships formed by students while at School and then to contribute, through this fellowship, to the corporate spirit and well-being of the School.

In a very real sense, the OBU is one of the most consistent and stable part of the School's community. The Old Boys Union is governed by an Executive Council whose members are elected annually.

Impressive Old Boys are available to assist the School, led by patrons such as Sir James Wolfensohn (1949), AO, KBE, formerly, president of the World Bank. Our alumni include community and business leaders across many fields including the medicine, law, engineering, technology, arts and banking, and Government

What membership offers

Membership provides a lifetime of professional, social, sporting and academic connections with Sydney Boys High School, its extraordinary network of distinguished and successful Old Boys, and the alumni of other GPS schools.

Each member also receives regular e-Bulletin magazines via e-mail. Our High Achiever and OBU Mentoring programs held yearly, provide valuable guidance to Student Life Members about university courses and career options and interview practice. We also provide employment support and connections to Old Boys across many careers and leadership roles to support you as you move through your chosen career.
