

From the Principal High Talent

At the All-Schools Basketball tournament the Association winners played off against each other. As CHS winners, High was invited to play against the winners of GPS, CAS and CCC. Our boys won through to the final but were outlasted by Newington College. Congratulations to our team for a great finish to the season and to MIC Ben Hayman and coach Marquis Navarre.

Debating Dinner

It was a pleasure to be invited to the debating and public speaking dinner last Saturday evening to acknowledge and celebrate the achievements of our debating and public speaking programs headed up by MICs Ms Rigby & Ms Pride. It was great to be back in the Great Hall at a celebratory dinner. It will take time to build back this culture of end of season communal bonding events where parents can mingle and students can celebrate in the company of their like-minded peers. It is a nice way to thank all the coaches in the program, too.

Athletics Assembly

My speech to the athletics assembly is reprinted below:

'Staff, parents, students, coaches and selected GPS athletics representatives, good morning and welcome to our annual athletics assembly. I acknowledge this morning the Gadigal people of the Eora nation as the custodians of the land on which we meet and pay my respects to elders past and present and extend that respect to any First Nations people here today. We should also acknowledge the passing of Queen Elizabeth II on September 8. Australia is in a 10-day period of mourning for our devoted and much loved monarch. Her state funeral will be held on Monday September 19 and our Prime Minister has declared a national public holiday on September 22 to honour the extraordinary life of our longest reigning Head of State. The formalities of constitutional change were televised for the first time as Charles III was proclaimed king. Today the King and Queen Consort will appear at Westminster Hall where members of both Houses of Parliament will express their condolences. They will then fly to Edinburgh and attend the Palace of Holyrood house where the Queen's coffin is in state. They will follow her coffin on foot to St Giles Cathedral where a service of reflection will be held and where the Queen will lie in state for Scottish mourners to pay their respects.

We are assembled together today to celebrate our intensive athletics season, which culminates in the GPS Carnival to be held on Saturday. Our athletes are special because they are making extra sacrifices to compete in athletics as well as in a summer sport. They are dedicated to the team and to earning points by competing in events – whether at championship or Division level – to help our overall standing in the competition. They are courageous to compete in front of a very large crowd, even when they have no real prospect of gaining a podium finish in their event. They show compassion for their teammates who try and fail or who are injured. They model integrity by sticking to their training and meeting their competition commitments. They respect their opponents and each other in their events. Our boys need your support to cheer them on to give that extra few percent that makes the difference in gaining one place better or not.

On behalf of the staff and students, I want to thank Kurt Rich again for his capable, long-term leadership of our program as MIC of athletics. Thank you to Natalie Luu and Elly Harcourt for assisting with supervision. Kurt's team contains ten Old Boy coaches who relate closely to our boys and inspire them with their passion for athletics and for the school. Fitness gained through athletics helps in most other sports. Thanks to all our coaches. For 100-400m - Joshua Tassell (SHS-2010), Neil Song (SHS-2015), Justin Nonis (SHS-2021) and Liam Scolari. For 800m-3000m – Daniel Ma (SHS-2018), Felix Cao (SHS-2020) and Adam Booth (SHS-2012). For Hurdles - Jason Huo (SHS-2017). For Shot put - Jerry Gek (SHS-2016) and Jack Bowditch. Thank you also to Davina Strauss, our long-term coach for long jump and Ray Gu (SHS-2017) who assists. For high jump this year we have Raghav Ramanathan (SHS-2019) and current School Captain Joshua Suto (12S). Thank you to everybody in the athletics program for working so hard to raise the standard of athletics performance at High.

The Commonwealth Games have been held each quadrennial since 1930, with the exception of 1942 and 1946 due to World War 2. Athletes with a disability have been included as full members of their national teams since National teams since 2002, making the Commonwealth Games the first truly inclusive international games. In 2018 gender equity was achieved with an equal number of medal events for men and women. Australia has participated in every Commonwealth Games, topping the medal count on 13 occasions, the latest being recently in Birmingham with 178 medals, including 67 gold. The Commonwealth Games allows emerging world class athletes to compete at a level below the Olympic Games and World championships. It brings together the countries of the Commonwealth in friendly rivalry at a high level.

Despite our great success overall, Australia still struggles to win often in track and field events at this level. In Birmingham, Australian men earned 4 gold, two silver and two bronze. In the T38 100m Evan O'Hanlon won gold, as did Matthew Denny in discus, Kurtis Marschall in pole vault and Oliver Hoare in the 1500m. Brandon Starc (high jump) went close, as did young Peter Bol in the 400 metres. Australia lacks a large population, necessary to produce enough able competitors statistically. It has facilities and centres of excellence like the AIS and Little Athletics at the grass roots. Generally, the weather is comparatively mild. We suffer from the distance our athletes need to travel to gain strong international competition on a regular basis. We do not have enough coaches who themselves have been successful at an international level. The sport does not generate the media attention, nor draw large crowds the way that cricket, swimming and the football codes do. Australian athletics needs more funding and a higher profile to attract more athletes.

At High, we run the athletics program free of co-payments because we want to encourage fitness and energy in our student population. Athletic competence is at the base of every sport. We want to encourage and support athletics in any way that we can. I want to congratulate the athletes who have been chosen for the GPS carnival championship and division places in our team. You have earned your places by showing dedication and integrity by turning up to train, meeting your commitments and competing in the lead-up carnivals. I wish you the best of luck on the big day.'

CHESS NEWS

On Sunday 11 September we entered two teams in the annual Inter-Schools' NSW Junior Chess League one day competition, The Terrey Shaw Shield.

The games were played at North Sydney Boys' High School and, like most other competition, it was the first time in two years that live matches were able to take place.

Congratulations to both of our teams on their success on the day. We are proud to announce that our Junior Division team (Ahn Quan Nguyen, Nestor Chan and Anay Gautam) was placed first and our Open Division team (Jack Keating, Austin Liu and Toby Huey) came equal second.

DEBATING

The Debating Season finished last week with the last round of the GPS against Grammar on Friday night and the return of the Debating Dinner on Saturday.

We had a fabulous turnout at Grammar on Friday – many 2022 Prefects and the 2023 Prefects-Elect, as well as the two Year 10 GPS Debating teams turned up to cheer on the Firsts in their final ever high school debate on Friday. Jerald Joseph, Tim Hannah, Archie Wolfson and Cosmo Song debated exceptionally well, but the debate went to Grammar in the end. The Seconds managed to win their debate on the night, as did the 8As.

On Saturday night we had the Debating Dinner, featuring “The Great Debate” where the SBHS coaches debated on stage (in reverse order). It was a fun evening. A huge “thank you” to Shauna Wolfson and her team of parent helpers who enabled the Dinner to go ahead and worked tirelessly to set up, serve dinner and clean up. Without parent support, we cannot hold these events.

Thank you to all the students who debated all year, the boys who regularly turned up to coaching and the parents who came to watch debates and collect their sons late on Friday nights. Thanks as well to Mr Paul who stayed back for the late debates for the GPS season, Ms Cook who managed the FED competition and Year 9 and 10 PDC debates, Ms Harcourt who managed the Year 11 and 12 PDC Debates and Ms Curry who is still managing the Year 7 and 8 PDC debates, which is the only debating that is continuing with the Year 7s in the Regional Final on Monday 19 September.

Judy Cassab Prize 2022

On Monday 29 August at the Illuminate Festival, artist and art educator, Ben Soedrajit, announced his selection for the winning and the highly commended artworks.

WINNER of the 2022 JUDY CASSAB PRIZE

Teonie Quach, The Fox

"In East Asian folklore, foxes are depicted as spirits possessed of magic powers. These foxes are often depicted as mischievous, tricking other people with the ability to disguise themselves as beautiful women."

This is the culture behind the windows of my eyes, the genetics of my features. A culture established upon dynasties of people who were similar, similar to me. Yet in a land surrounded by people who had to pull their eyes back to be lesser, what mattered was not that there were people out there like me. It was that I was like me, here, and that was inescapable.

Beautiful women? But beautiful women were not fox-eyed.

And then when I thought I cared less, thought it didn't matter that my features were viewed as inferior, I saw that they weren't.

On certain people, they weren't.

On certain people, they were praised.

This is what matters.

The Judge's comments

Teonie's highly detailed close-up portrait depicts a figure manipulating parts of their facial features in a thought-provoking and peculiar manner. The subject's hands are focused on controlling and changing the shape of each of their eyes in contrasting ways, distorting their natural structure and altering them temporarily in extreme positions. Teonie's depiction of this action in the artwork explores concepts relative to physical appearance and ideas around identity. The artwork has been executed using technical expertise in the field of traditional portraiture and demonstrates careful consideration of form and manipulation of materials. Well done to Teonie for producing such a technically accomplished and conceptually engaging artwork.

HIGHLY COMMENDED 2022 JUDY CASSAB PRIZE

The Judge's comments

Ryan Liang's expressive landscape painting depicts a familiar suburban scene and explores the contrasts between the built and natural environment. The artwork moves dynamically between the flat structures of rooftops, fences and roads to the organic and moving surfaces of bushland and the open sky. There is a strong sense of atmospheric light depicted within the work that highlights key features of the artwork's composition and Ryan's choice and application of colour. Ryan's energetic and diverse use of mark-making enliven the surface of the work and provide a sense of movement to what is often a still scene. Well done to Ryan for producing a dynamic and energetic artwork.

SBHS Athletics Week 5 Update

It is Championship week! Congratulations to all the athletes who have been selected as an athlete or reserve. I have been so proud of the athletes and coaches for how they have gone about this season. In just a few weeks, each athlete has made tremendous improvements which will not only help them in track and field but their other sporting endeavours. The athletics season is testament to the importance of general conditioning, skill development without physical preparation is like building a Ferrari without an engine.

For the Championship, Athletes can find their event(s) time on the Game Day Sheet located on CANVAS – Sport – Announcements. All athletes must report to the athlete tent by 8:30am this Saturday. All athletes must stay till the end of the presentation at the conclusion of the Championship.

Ticketing: Tickets must be pre-purchased prior to attending on Saturday on the following link - AAGPS Athletics Championships (ticketebo.com.au). There will be no gate sales via cash/eftpos. If a spectator arrives without a pre-purchased ticket/s they will have to purchase on the spot via Ticketebo barcode which will take time and slow ingress down considerably, so it is important this is the rare exception.

Live Stream: The link for the live stream has been uploaded by Cluch if you want to send the direct link to your communities - AAGPS Athletics Championship | Cluch.TV (login required).

Students in school uniform can attend for free to support, parents are welcome but are required to purchase a ticket at the entrance.

Day by day wrap up of the CHS Athletics Championships written by Justin Lee-Nonis, Athletics Coach

CHS Day 1 Wednesday 7 September 22

The warm opening day of competition welcomed an enticing atmosphere and a great performance by High athletes. Max Russell and Ren-Shen Balnave put on an astounding display in the 17+ Boys 3000m. Max clocked in a time of 8:51.03 to finish 2nd after a thriller sprint finish. Ren-Shen ran a fantastic race. His time of 9:50.33 placed him 13th. A huge congratulations to Max and Ren-Shen. Lachlan performed spectacularly, jumping 5.84m to The

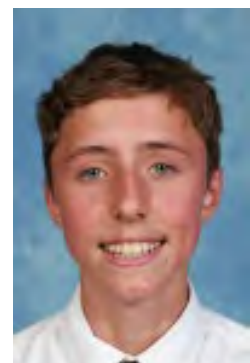

The 14s Boys 4x100m Relay team had two late changes due to a school camp, but still performed extremely competitively. Despite this effort, the narrow result margins placed them 15th with a time of 50.79. It was a truly commendable effort from the team and they should be proud. Nicholas Fung preformed incredibly in the 15s Boys Triple Jump while competing up an age. His distance of 11.20m placed him 8th in the finals, an incredible feat from the 14-year-old jumper.

CHS Day 2 Thursday 8 September 22

Dylan Dutt and Jayden Ho faced off in the 15s Boys 100m Hurdles. Dylan performed spectacularly having got into a "good rhythm" early in the race. With a time of 14.78, Dylan placed 7th and qualified for the finals. A misstep mid-race got the better of Jayden, however, he recovered quickly and finished well. Jayden clocked in 16th with a time of 18.65. Astonishing results by Dylan and Jayden. Caden Ma flew through the 17-19 Boys 110m Hurdles finals. His time of 15.59 placed him 4th, a tremendous and well deserved result. However, Caden believed his short warm up and tight pants proved too deadly, having clipped the third hurdle. Dylan Dutt also competed in the 15s Boys 400m, showcasing his well rounded athletic ability. Dylan had an explosive start, but his outside lane disadvantage drew clear by the last bend. He placed 18th with a time of 58:60. It was a massive day for Dylan. Alex Ruhfus excelled in 13s Boys 100m with his sharp technique keeping him above the game. His 12.23 run placed him 4th overall in the heats after wind adjustments brought his position higher. This was an incredible feat from the young sprinter and he deserves to be overjoyed going into the finals.

CHS Day 3 Friday 9 September 22

Max Russell began the morning on a high note, competing in the 12-19 Boys 2000m Steeplechase and 17-19 Boys 1500m. He powered through the steeplechase, leaving the pack in the dust by the third lap and victoriously claimed 1st with a time of 6:12.03. In the 1500m, Max had a solid 4:04.43 run to clocked in 2nd. Amazing work from Max and an incredible CHS run. Dylan Dutt starred in the 15s Boys 100m Hurdles finals. Although Dylan was unable to display the good rhythm in the heats having scaped numerous hurdles, he had a strong 6th position with a time of 14.91. Well Done Dylan!

Lachlan Leung and Nicholas Fung clashed in the 14s Boys Long Jump. Lachlan performed spectacularly, jumping 5.84m to secure 4th place. The wet track got the better of Nicholas who had difficulties hitting the platform.

His 5.08m jump proved just shy of getting into the finals and placed him 11th. Congratulations to Lachlan and Nicholas on their CHS campaign. Aiden McManus secured fantastic results in the 12-14s Boys 1500m. His fierce competition sparked a close race, of which he came out 2nd with a time of 4:25.83. The long distance specialist displayed a brilliant race. Alex Ruhfus executed a surgical performance in the 13s Boys 100m, taking home the silver medal. His exhilarating 12.12 dash began with an explosive start and ended milliseconds before the main pack. Spectacular effort Alex!

Congratulations to the High athletes who competed at the CHS competition. The effort displayed at training came to light at CHS and all athletes should be proud of their performance, whether it was through podium results or gaining competition experience. All the best to athletes in their preparation and participation at the GPS Athletics Championships and future endeavours.
