A YEAR OF CHANGE

This year, in fact for the last six years, we seem to have used the word 'new' so much that we have perhaps become obsessed with it. The new system of secondary education, new syllabuses, new courses, new examinations, new this, new that. Form instead of Year, School Certificate instead of Intermediate, Higher School instead of Leaving, six years instead of five.

I suppose we call these things new mainly to stress their difference, to express their progressive nature and purpose. But yet what we have been doing in the schools in the last six years has not been entirely new: we certainly have discarded some of the old, but we have retained much more than we discarded — we have repaired here and renovated there, we have replaced and we have added. The whole process has been one of examining what we were doing, and why; of re-assessing and re-planning . . . and, one might say, of 'up-dating'.

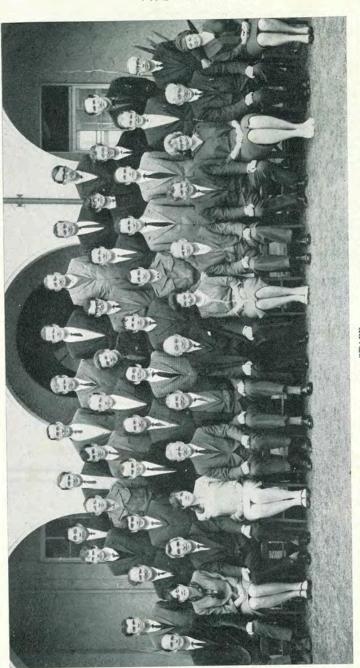

But the essential aim remains unchanged — that of providing a full educational experience, a rich opportunity for each pupil who enrols at a boyish twelve and leaves at a developed and maturing eighteen.

Sydney High has changed some aspects of its programme, its methods and procedures. But its goals are unchanged, still the same as in the days of Coates and Waterhouse, in the days when E. A. Southee won the first of the School's eight Rhodes Scholarships.

Now we have just farewelled our first Sixth Formers. They have obviously enjoyed their experience, they have taken good advantage of their opportunity, they have given an admirable lead. We can indeed be proud of them.

A. R. JESSEP LEAVES SYDNEY HIGH

Mr. A. R. JESSEP.

Seventeen years' service to Sydney High comes to an end this year when Mr. A. R. Jessep leaves to take up well deserved promotion as Deputy Headmaster of the new High School at Avalon.

These seventeen years have seen Mr. Jessep in many capacities: a capable and sincere teacher of Classics, from 1960 Master of the Classics Department, Sportsmaster for eight years, Secretary of the School Union since 1959 and, from June to December last year, Acting Deputy Headmaster.

This summary is not complete without reference to his guidance for some years of the Chess Club as Master in Charge, his enthusiastic and successful drive to increase the School's participation in G.P.S. games in Cricket and Rugby, his membership of the Committee of the A.A.G.P.S. and his personal contribution to its work.

Himself an Old Boy of Newington College, A. R. Jessep has shown a great feeling and respect for Sydney High, for its traditions and for its standing. It can be said of him that he knows the School as few other men have known it: he is a storehouse of information about it and its welfare and progress are his constant concern.

Well over 3,000 students have known Mr. Jessep in one or more of his many capacities: his teaching colleagues have numbered well over the hundred.

All who know or have known A. R. Jessep at Sydney High, students, teachers, Masters, Headmasters, parents and friends hold him in highest esteem — and wish him well.

J. G. BRADFORD — DEPUTY HEADMASTER

Mr. J. G. BRADFORD.

Teaching experience at Yanco Agricultural and Muswellbrook High Schools preceded Mr. G. J. Bradford's appointment as Science Master at Monaro High and then at Fort Street. After a two-year term as Deputy Headmaster at Westmead Junior High, Mr. Bradford transferred to Sydney High this year to become the sixth Deputy Head of the School.

Mr. Bradford quickly and happily settled in to his new position, accepting capably and surely its never-ending responsibilities. Teaching staff, students and parents were quick to recognise in him personal and professional qualities of a high order. He has shown keen interest in all aspects of school life and in the activities of the Parents and Citizens' Association and the Old Boys' Union.

The School warmly welcomes Mr. Bradford.

The Captain writes -

SCHOOL SPIRIT

All pupils acknowledge that Sydney High School has a distinguished and inspiring tradition. Some of it rubs off onto every boy who attends the school. It is not unreasonable, therefore, to ask what we, present pupils, contribute to extend and enrich that tradition. The answer lies partly with what we call school spirit.

The thrill of success in competitive sport, whether in the G.P.S. or C.H.S. context, attendance at matches, participation in school activities and support of school functions — these are some of the exterior manifestations of a deeper and more significant concept. Diligence at school, engrossment in studies, the sacrifice of time and energy to promote a school image of responsibility and education are no less ingredients.

To attempt to define school spirit in words is perhaps presumptuous. It is all to pervasive to be trapped into a single sentence, or a single paragraph — but we can acknowledge it by deeds, by accepting it as part of our faith, by consciously directing our participation towards the school's advantage.

School spirit, like religion, is a way of life. In the adolescent teens, one's life revolves around the school. This is where a life pattern is formulated: the subjects you do, the activities you participate in, your behaviour towards your fellow pupils and teachers, the ability to fit into the school programme — all go into the make-up of the pupil. No one can live every facet of school spirit. Each one of us, however, can add his quota.

JONATHAN ISAACS

THE DOTTED LINE.

JONATHAN ISAACS
SCHOOL CAPTAIN

Jon's activities and the spirit in which he has carried them out have been an example for us all to follow. Always calm, never flustered; whether in debate, on the football field or behind the wickets he has always "played fair" and has been at all times ready to face equally victory or defeat. Such dedication to leadership says a lot for both man and school.

B. O'M.

SCHOOL VICE-CAPTAIN

Col's stay at the school has been marked by versatility in sport and studies. This year he has concentrated on football and was one of the larger lads to take the field and certainly made his presence felt. His example in his style of play has exemplified a determined character and fairness in outlook, which has made him one of the leaders of the school.

Whether in the rowing boat, on the football field or in the classroom, Bruce always tries to his utmost. He is always honest and sincere, and never hesitates to express his point of view, whether in personal conversation or on the public platform. A leader in school activities, Bruce has tried in every way to give something to the shool for which he feels so deeply.

SPEECH NIGHT 1966

The 83rd Annual Speech Night of the school was held on the 14th December, 1966 when the school was honoured by the presence of many distinguished guests, in particular His Excellency Sir Roden Cutler V.C., K.C.M.G., C.B.E., Governor of N.S.W. an Old Boy of the school and Lady Cutler. Mr. C. L. Ferrier B.A., B.Sc., Inspector of School's was in the chair. The Occasional Address was delivered by His Excellency.

In his annual report the Headmaster drew attention to the many achievements of the school both in the scholastic and in the sporting spheres during the preceding year.

He pointed out that, like other High Schools, Sydney High had developed the total school year. The school was geared to work to the full, normal time table from the first day of the first term to the last day of the third. The slow start and the premature close were now things of the past, and it was most important that both pupils and parents take this into account.

On the other hand, the Headmaster suggested that it might be worth while for the Department to consider moving the period of the traditional summer vacation so that it should start a week earlier and end similarly a week before the present termination. This would have two advantages: it would meet the reality of the attractive pre-Christmas job while it would also bring Australia Day into the school year, where it could and should be celebrated.

The Headmaster noted that 1966 had been the transition year between the old system and the full implementation of the Wyndham Scheme. A New Senior School had now come into existence after many years of careful planning. Also increased contact between the schools and the Universities was being established and the previous separatist situation was now ended.

The Headmaster next examined the increased contact between home and school, a welcome change which should help both parents and teachers and which must necessarily benefit the pupils themselves.

The Orchestra and Choir under the guidance of Miss Morris and Mr. Murphy respectively and the School Band under the able direction of Mr. Goodchild contributed a very pleasant programme of choral and musical items to the evening.

FATHER AND SON DINNER

The Sixth Annual Father and Son Dinner was held this year on Wednesday, 28th June. The aim of the evening is to give fathers and sons an opportunity of meeting socially at dinner. Providing the entertainment has proved a significant part of the proceedings. In the last two years the tendency has been for the students of the school to take a major part in doing this, thus enabling the organisers to reduce their costs by hiring only one professional entertainer and not two as had been the custom previously. This year's entertainment consisted of a Victoriana with all the traditions of music-hall entertainment including the tenor soloist. The Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze, Henry VIII, a song and dance duet and the Barbershop Quintet. The audience had an opportunity to "hiss" the villian in Out in the Cold, Cold Snow, a fruity melodrama produced by Mr. M. Foy. The scenario consisting of a backdrop, complete with advertisements and centre rose garden (typical of 1890's) was completed by Mr. J. Parker and some pupils from Form III. Students from Sydney Girls' High School also assisted in the production.

The real point of the function was that of sheer enjoyment coming from people with diverse interests working together towards a common goal; it was no wonder then that the evening gave so much satisfaction to audience and participants alike.

F.M.

COMMONWEALTH DAY

Each year the British Commonwealth Movement sponsors a number of functions to refresh the public's awareness of the Commonwealth of Nations and Australia's place in it. One of these functions is Commonwealth Day.

Originally the boys and girls of N.S.W. Secondary schools celebrated Commonwealth Day at a very simple ceremony held at the Cenotaph in Martin Place. Last year the celebration was held at the Marsden High School; this year at Sydney High School.

The ceremony centered round a speech of loyalty to the Commonwealth delivered by a pupil in the presence of His Excellency the Governor, representatives of Commonwealth countries and N.S.W. community leaders — military, civil and religious. His Excellency read a Commonwealth Day message from Her Majesty the Queen and the programme was rounded out with traditional music.

His Excellency the Governor, Sir Roden Cutler and Lady Cutler were welcomed to the school by the Headmaster, Mr. M. Callaghan and the Headmistress of Sydney Girls' High, Miss D. Wane. The walk across the quadrangle to the Great Hall was lined by a detachment of school Cadets. A fanfare from the school brass band greeted the Governor as he entered the hall.

The National Anthem was sung and the visitors were welcomed by the President of the Commonwealth Day Movement who then handed over proceedings to the Student Chairman, Bruce O'Meagher. Bruce introduced the school choir. Under the direction of Mr. F. Murphy, and backed by a small instrumental group featuring flute, guitars and maracas, they presented a very colourful arrangement on Linstead Market, a Jamaican folk song.

Then followed the recognition of the diplomatic corps. Commonwealth countries with Legations or Trade Commissions in Sydney sent representatives. As each representative was introduced to the audience, his country's flag was paraded across the front of the stage and raised in salute. At this juncture the A.B.C. direct telecast commenced.

The Captain of Sydney Boys' School, Jonathan Isaacs delivered, on behalf of the Youth of N.S.W., a message of loyalty to the Commonwealth. Jonathan managed to look with optimism at the future of the Commonwealth in a world tense with war and unrest. He emphasised the need for increased aid from older member nations to the newer members, particularly in the field of education.

The Captain of Sydney Girls' School, Karen McMurchie, invited His Excellency to read a message from Her Majesty the Queen, Head of the Commonwealth.

"The Commonwealth", Her Majesty said, "is indeed perhaps the only organization that could bring together such a vast cross-section of the world for intimate and informal discussion and therein precisely lies its special value and role.

"Nor are such consultations limited to the level of government responsibilities. In fields of science, technology, law, medicine, business and education — successful conferences and meetings are frequently held in various Commonwealth centres.

"I commend to you the thought that by availing ourselves of such opportunities with enthusiasm, we shall be serving the interests of humanity at large."

The Girls' School choir sang, unaccompanied, an old Scottish Air— Eriskae Love Lilt. Proceedings were then handed back to the Commonwealth Day Movement Vice-President who thanked all concerned and closed the ceremony.

EVENING OF MUSIC AND DRAMA

This year's Evening of Music and Drama, held on the 3rd October, had for the first time a play performed in Latin. It was the Plautine play, Pseudolus. The play is about a young lover, Calidorus whose girl friend, Phoenicium is about to be sold by her master, Ballio to a Macedonian soldier. The rest of the play dwells on the machinations of Pseudolus, Calidorus' tutor to get Phoenicium back. The production itself was a great success despite the fact that the audience was not able to follow the dialogue. The director was Mr. W. C. Lucan-Roberts and the producer Mr. A. R. Jessep who himself took part in the play and gave a fine performance.

In the break between plays Ken Ho and John Gilbert gave a recital of Rimsky Korsakov's Trombone Concerto arranged for trombone and piano.

Following this interlude there was a short satirical example of the Theatre of the Absurd, The Motor Show by Ionesco, which utilised extreme incongruities to highlight some of the extravagances of the motor industry. This item of the programme was produced by Mr. N. Dawkins.

After the interval, the Odyssey of Runyon Jones, by N. Corwin was performed. The play deals with a young boy's search through the universe for the soul of his dead dog and the search takes him to various points in our solar system. The play was ably produced and directed by Mr. M. Foy.

This completed the drama section of the evening. Following this the Victoriana which had enjoyed success at the Father and Son dinner was put on and this involved a number of enjoyable singing items and a fruity melodrama. The Victoriana was directed by the Music Master, Mr. F. Murphy.

Girls from S.H.G.S. took part in all of the productions.

M.E. & J.B.

THE CHOIR

The choir as a whole has functioned only intermittently as a group though various sections of it have been involved in other performances. The first appearance of the year was the farewell concert to the S.H.S. Band before they departed for New Zealand. In accord with the light music programme for the evening, the choir sang Dam Buster's march and an arrangement of Tonight from Bernstein's West Side Story. On June 9th, the junior choral group performed a Jamaican selection Linstead Market at the Commonwealth Day ceremony and in July tenors and basses were involved in the Combined Secondary Schools Choral Concerts where the works performed were Britten's St. Nicholas and a concert arrangement of selections from Carmen by Bizet. The choir was again involved in combined items with the Girls' High School, for Centenary Celebrations at St. Peter's Church of England: the items performed were Gelinean Psalm 135 and Ralph Vaughan William's arrangement of the Old Hundredth. An attempt was made to establish an eistedfodd choir and though this has not come to fruition (mainly through difficulty of a regular rehearsal time), experience gained may well solve this problem in the future. The choir will sing again at Speech Night 1967.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

This year the instrumentalists in the school have again concentrated on working in small ensembles. In the first term the Music Dept. supplied some light entertainment for the welcome to Form I and their parents. Among the items performed were a jazz ensemble which played an arrangement of I Love Paris and a recorder group which played Il Est Ne by B. Bonsor.

At the end of the term the band gave a concert to help raise funds for their very successful trip to New Zealand.

Many varied items were performed for the Anniversary Service of St. Peter's Church, Darlinghurst, at the end of second term. The items included O Magnum Mysterium for woodwind and brass, a string quartet by Haydn, a brass quartet by Tchaikovsky and a recorder and percussion group (mainly from FormI) playing two Marches by Beethoven.

There are various grades of string rehearsals every morning before school; and we have found the beginnings of a very fine String Quartet.

M.H.

THE BRASS BAND

The past year has been quite an eventful one for the band. The highlight of course was the week from 11th to 19th May in New Zealand to compete in the New Zealand Band Championships with another of Mr. Goodchild's bands—Waverley College. This raised the standard of the band tremendously so we entered in the N.S.W. State Junior Band Championships held at Newcastle in May. Waverley College and ourselves were the only school bands competing. As was expected, we did not gain a place, but in the School Band Championships held at the University of N.S.W. we came second.

The band played in the Commonwealth Day ceremony held at the school, and three of our members: Peter Kelly, Robert and Brian Evans, played in an ensemble at the Centenary of St. Peter's Church.

Unfortunately we are to lose the Sixth Formers, veterans W. Beard, R. Evans, J. Gilbert, G. Hunter, P. Kelly, G. Klye, J. Pike, W. Selby (the foundation members of the band) after the Higher School Certificate this year. It is hoped that any effect on the quality of the Band's standard will be only temporary, thanks to the excellent tutoring of this year's beginners by Mr. Goodchild. In fact we hope to have a high enough standard to enter in the Australian Band Championships to be held in Adelaide next year.

NEW ZEALAND REPORT

The trip to New Zealand by the school band was planned primarily with the dual purpose of raising the musical standard of the band and permitting its members to gain first-hand appreciation of another country.

The financial difficulties appeared so great when we first considered the plan last year that we all but abandoned the idea. But after the decision was finally made to go ahead, we left no stone unturned in our endeavours to raise the necessary funds. From recitals, a theatre party, concerts and even by increased library fines we were able to raise $760 which was augmented by $180 from the school. Mr. Murphy, the Music Master, was able to manipulate this money so as to allow full attendance at the competition, as well as sight-seeing.

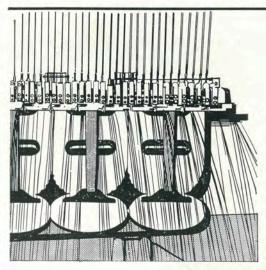

Mr. Goodchild managed our external organisation — co-ordination of our own band and that of Waverley College, with whom we were to travel. Our billets in New Zealand also had to be arranged, both in Wellington by Mana College and in Auckland by the Mount Raskill band.

The actual competition was in Wellington from 12th to 15th May, inclusive. Bands are graded according to ability and we were entered in D Grade, the lowest, as Waverly and ourselves were the only two school bands entered in the competition. Our rival bands were much older and considerably more experienced than ourselves. The contest was divided into five sections: a street march, a hymn, our own choice selection and a diagram march.

We did quite well in the street march but unfortunately it was not included in the aggregate for the contest. As far as the hymn and selections we did poorly owing, at least in part, to the completely different atmosphere and climatic conditions. Our diagram marching was perfect . . . until we had to change direction, then we took a turn for the worse, but, we were well covered as we were equal to the best A Grade bands in drill. Overall, we represented the school quite well — of the seven other bands entered in the contest, only six of them beat us.

On the 16th May, we travelled from Wellington to Rotarua. Following a day of sight-seeing, a combined Waverley College-S.H.S. band marched through the streets to give a recital at the Town Hall. We then continued to Auckland and after an hour in that city and its environs the following day, we returned to Sydney on Thursday, 19th May.

The Band taking part in Street March in Wellington,

Although our ages differed, we "got on" together very well. No-one was a "star player" — we were a team, representing the school to the best of our ability. Each failure to gain a place was considered a team failure — no one member was to blame, and each adversity increased our determination that Sydney High would do better. Unfortunately, we did not.

Responsible for the enjoyment and education we gained in New Zealand are our enthusiastic conductor, Mr. Goodchild, our Music Master, Mr. Murphy, both of whom travelled with us; the persons who helped in fund-raising and organisation, and those who billeted us in New Zealand. To all of these people we express, as members of the band, our heartfelt thanks for so memorable a holiday, and our congratulations for a job well done.

INTER-SCHOOL CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

I.S.C.F. is a subsidiary organisation of the Scripture Union complex. It is based on a school group which consists of a counsellor, in our case, Mr. B. J. Proctor and his committee, which organises the group's activities. Our motto is: "To know Christ and to make Him known". At our meetings we seek to understand the Christian faith better and to seek ways in which we may follow Him more closely. In our meetings we have Bible studies, talks, discussion panels, films and many other varied activities, in the main presented by members themselves. We aim at having warm Christian fellowship throughout the week: Christ is not just for Sundays.

During the last year we have had a time of tremendous fellowship together. We have this year a large and strong group of seniors who are giving a maturity to our fellowship which has not always been nearly so apparent. Numbers in all forms have been up and a regular attendance of thirty-five to forty has been recorded with occasional meetings with more than forty. This only represents one in every fifteen or so nominal Christians. We are at present aiming for attendances close on 100. Will you pray with us that we may achieve this aim?

We should like to thank all those who have helped us this year, especially our counsellor Mr. B. J. Proctor; the Headmaster, who has given us constant encouragement and approval; and Miss Noller and Miss Harvey for their continued support.

We meet in Room 6 at lunch time on Fridays and hold prayer meetings each Wednesday morning from 8.30 in Room 20. Also we have informal Bible discussions at recess in Room 6 every day. Do come once and try it; you never know, you may come again.

CHESS CLUB

Again this year the Chess Club has prospered, and several changes have been made in its structure. Firstly at the beginning of the year a number of players showed their discontent with the system of administration. As a result the members of the Club were allowed to elect three representatives on a four man committee, the other member being appointed by the master in charge, Mr. Wegener. This committee is elected on a biennial basis and at present consists of L. Szeckely, J. Field, K. Kinstler and A. Parker.

The other major change has been the move to a different part of the school. The Club is now divided into senior and junior sections. The seniors, 4th-6th Form's and A & B Grade players, occupy Room 23 and the juniors rooms 24-25. This has meant that the seniors may enjoy discussing a game without disturbing the juniors.

This year, with six Forms we have been able to enter seven Grade teams in the Inter-School Competition, consisting of two teams each of B, C & D Grades and one A Grade. All teams are progressing well and the A Grade has achieved second place in its competition.

Finally on behalf of the committee I should like to thank the School Union for making funds available for our various needs; also the Deputy Headmaster for making the rooms and cupboard in the Killip Wing available for our use both at lunchtime and after school when there are Grade games to be played. Our thanks are also due to Mr. Wegener who has continued not only to supervise and ensure the smooth running of the Club, but has also played many games against juniors in an effort to improve their play.

We look forward to the end of the year when we shall see the fruits of our labours in the results of our teams. We are pleased to hope that the large number of interested juniors has assured the Club's future. The committee extends an open invitation to the whole school to come and enjoy a hard battle of wits in the Club, rooms 23-25 at any lunchtime.

THE INTERACT CLUB

"The purpose of Interact is to provide opportunity for young men to work together in a world fellowship dedicated to service and international understanding". (Article II, Interact Constitution).

In the year ending June 30th, the club was capably led by Bruce O'Meagher. Under his guidance the club managed to raise $140, which was used to purchase two wheelchairs for disabled persons who cannot afford to buy their own; in March we saw the beginning of a school magazine; for the second year Interact published the Football Magazine; four well-known personalities have spoken to the club and its visitors on topics of interest; correspondence has been exchanged between places such as Vietnam, Japan, India, Italy and Canada, and we even received a tape-letter from a club in Florida, U.S.A. Thus, the club has been consolidated and this year's members have a solid foundation to work on.

But what is Interact going to do from June, 1967 to June, 1968? Our target for the first six months in $150, a goal we think well within our reach. This will then be utilised in ways the club feels worthwhile. How will this money be raised? We plan to show at a moderate price, feature films of a standard you would expect from the "Plaza"; car washes and products investigation nights will be organised; guessing competitions and barbecues will also help. But we do need your cooperation. Apart from these, and probably far more important, are the service projects of material worth: for three years Interact has staffed the record bar at the Fete, and helped out in other ways at this function: there are plans for school beautification, help to pensioners and others who suffer; the Magazine will continue; aid will be given through Windgap and Lifeline; a used clothing appeal for the Smith Family has already been run. In addition, there are projects on the international scene, and plans for fellowship with members of other clubs throughout Sydney and Australia.

The Interact Club in the August vacation completely painted three rooms at the Windgap Subnormal School at Coogee. The $70 worth of painting material was provided from our funds. We also gave the school canteen a thorough cleaning, so that it would pass the coming Dept. of Health inspection.

You can see that we have a fairly busy schedule. In September the club had 40 members. If you think you would be interested in taking part in the club's activities we welcome you at any meeting as a visitor.

UNITED NATIONS CLUB

(Report from over the fence)

Dear People,

After operating for eighteen months, the Sydney High School United Nations Club is only just beginning to become what the eleven foundation members envisaged. It has become well-known on both sides of the fence for its intellectual and social activities. Although there are not quite as many regular members as was hoped, the club seems to be "clicking" into popularity — but only with the girls! Guys, what is the matter with you? Where are all the big, brave men who have enough courage in them to enter a room, which contains some twenty to twenty-five beautiful girls from over the fence?

The club is very informal — there are no incriminating notebooks with a member's name, rank and serial number and no enrolment forms. But there is an everlasting supply of little blue badges, which can be used to decorate any type of S.H.S. blazer or uniform. These free, little badges give the wearer a feeling of importance — he belongs to the United Nations Club, which in turn means that the wearer is helping to support the aims of a vast international organisation.

These aims are not only to aid the U.N.O. financially and practically, but to broaden the members' outlook on the world's numerous problems. This is done through various effective methods including lively discussion groups, films and guest speakers. The club's financial aim is to raise U.S. $340 for a water supply to be built in a school near Seoul, South Korea.

From the social (but also financial) viewpoint, the club has had a really "swingin" itime — we've had car washes (in which I think members were washed more than the cars — but never mind, it was fun); a dance held in the Boys' Music Room at the School Fete; a party held one moonlit summer night — there have been numerous other social occasions, at which all enjoyed themselves.

Practical help has also been carried out by, for example, working voluntarily, for the Freedom From Hunger Campaign.

Many ideas and suggestions to improve the club have been put forward by the present members. We hope that these suggestions will take effect in due course. However this is possible only with the co-operation of all members and by an increased membership.

Finally, I feel all the members would like to thank not only the committee and President Mike Smith for the work they have carried out so enthusiastically, but also Miss Wane, Mr. Callaghan, Miss Wilson and Mr. Trussel and all the other people who have been so helpful, and patient with us in our work for the United Nations Organisation.

Don't forget! Meetings are held every second Friday in the Boys and Girls' Schools alternatively. Be seeing you — Yours hopefully,

B.M., Fifth Form, S.G.H.S.

DEBATING

The senior team, J. Isaacs, B. O'Meagher and M. Smith launched their campaign for a trophy this year against Randwick High in the Hume-Barbour Competition. Success was sweet and the margin comfortable; and the seniors were hopeful of defeating Vaucluse. It was not to be however — High went down by a mere point. In the G.P.S. competition, a win over Scots after a disappointing debate against Shore was the keynote of the season. Depleted, the team took on St. Ignatius, the ultimate winners of the competition, and were worsted. Garry Kyle was sport enough to stand in at the last moment and did an excellent job. Jon Isaacs capped three years of debating with the school, by being chosen to represent the C.H.S. against G.P.S. in the annual debate.

Thanks to Mr. Jenkin for his assistance and guidance during 1967. Indeed the team wishes to thank him for the time he has spent over the past three years.

The Fifth Form debating team had a successful debating season. Although not altogether so in the Cramp Cup, they won every debate in the G.P.S. competition. In the annual debate against the Girls' School, the weaker sex won comfortably, again, but the team was far from being disgraced — it only adds its name to the tradition of losing teams in the schools in this annual event.

The Teasdale Cup team (a new competition for Fourth Form) enjoyed success in the zone, but met a strong Drummoyne team in the quarter finals and were knocked out. Thanks to Miss Burns' tireless coaching before school, the teams performance was excellent and much of the kudos must go to her.

CRAFT

This year has seen the first full year's operation of the new Craft Room at Sydney High School. Completed in September, 1966 the room is situated beneath the Great Hall and has proved a very popular addition to the School.

The facilities provided consist of a large composite Woodwork/ Metalwork Room with accommodation for 24 boys, a Drawing and Design Room, an electroplating annexe, a storeroom and an office. A modern parquetry floor of Australian timbers covers the whole area and the ceiling has been sound proofed to help reduce noise. The temperature in the room varies very little throughout the year due to heating and air circulation arrangements regulated from a master control.

The room is fitted throughout with new tools and equipment and includes two Wood lathes, two Metal lathes, a shaping machine, bench drill, bench grinder, as well as propane gas facilities for heat treatment of metals. Adequate hand tools have been provided and have been arranged in bench racks for easy access, as well as more specialised tools for particular purposes.

Under the terms of the Wyndam Scheme each boy in First Form is required to have at least two periods per week of Craft, in Second and Third Form boys have a choice of Art or Craft for two periods per week. Craft is arranged on a non-examination basis and provides a much desired change from academic studies, the aim being to give boys a knowledge of tools and materials and how to use them and to recognise quality construction when they see it.

The Department has provided for Sydney High School what must be the most modern and well equipped room in the State and is a far cry from the trek across the park to Bourke Street in all weathers which had been the feature of Craft for many years in the past.

O.C.'s REPORT

1967 has been a very successful year for the Cadet Unit, with over fifty new recruits being enrolled. The predominance of first year cadets in the unit placed an increased responsibility on the C.U.O.'s and N.C.O.'s who had a difficult task in preparing the recruits for the two major activities of the year, the Ceremonial Parade in April and the Annual Camp in September. The Ceremonial Parade was held before the assembled school only nine weeks after the new cadets joined, but was marked by a high standard of drill, discipline and appearance by all taking part. The Unit also performed very creditably in the Singleton nine-day camp, where, with 82 members present, it was one of the largest of units from Departmental Schools. I feel sure that most of the present cadets will remain with the Unit next year, and thus provide a firm foundation upon which the Unit may be made even stronger.

Staff

The Unit has been most fortunate in gaining the services of two new officers of Cadets. Capt. K. Wheeler, who comes to us with the experience of having been in command of the Port Hacking High School Cadet Unit, has assisted greatly with the general training, and in particular has been responsible for the establishment of an Intelligence Specialist Wing in One Platoon.

Lt. A. Dyball has taken over the onerous duties of Training Officer. He has devoted an enormous amount of his own time to ensuring that all training given is of the highest standard possible and is as interesting as possible; the general enthusiasm and co-operation of all members of the Unit is largely attributable to the work done by Lt. Dyball.

Lt. M. Jenkins has continued to work quietly and efficiently behind the scenes in his capacity of Q.M. Running a Q store is often a thankless task but Lt. Jenkin may be assured that his Q work over the last three years is really appreciated.

Sixth Form Cadets

This year, the first in which candidates will attempt the Higher School Certificate, the Ceremonial Parade was held in first term so that the ten Sixth Form Cadets could officially leave the Unit and have the remainder of the year free to devote to study. To these cadets, each of whom had given over four years' service to the Union, I express my gratitude for a job well done and extend my best wishes for the future.

I must also thank the school band, organized by Mr. C. Goodchild, for the support given at the Ceremonial Parade, and W.O. II C. Curtis, our ARA instructor, for his assistance throughout the year.

One Platoon

One Platoon got off to a slow start this year due to the changing of the Annual Ceremonial Parade to early in the year. This meant that the cadets had to practise for it and lost many valuable hours of training for camp — the culmination of the cadet year.

However, since the parade, One Platoon has been reorganised, mainly due to the efforts of the new Training Officer, Lt. Dyball, into a specialist platoon consisting of two sections: signals and intelligence.

The signals section is very capably led by Sgt. R. Whitby who gained the distinction of coming first in his signals course.

The intelligence section, a new idea in our unit, was started by Capt. Wheeler and has since been taken over by Sgt. K. Yee and Cpl. D. Salmon.

Whilst in two separate sections One Platoon has become a compact and very capable group which should be able to hold its own at camp. Sgt. R. Hotson

Two Platoon

Two Platoon this year has been above average in numbers, there being thirty-one cadets and three N.C.O.'s. All the cadets were recruited from Second Form and their training has revolved mainly around drill and weapon lessons on the Bren L.M.G. and the rifle, with some fieldcraft and map-reading. These cadets have already taken part in the Unit's Annual Parade, as well as going on a bivouac and a range-day.

However, all the training has been aimed at Camp, where it will be put into practice in earnest for the first time. This camp is the highlight of the cadet year, and the cadets will display their skills for all to see.

Thanks must go to the other N.C.O.'s for their assistance and enthusiasm. The Platoon would not have reached such a high standard but for their efforts.

Sgt. R. Juchau

Three Platoon

The cadets of Three Platoon are all recruits and therefore training in all aspects of weapons and fieldcraft, as well as drill, has been solid in preparation for camp. There is keen competition for "best dressed" cadet and also an inter-platoon points score which keeps the cadets in practice — each trying to better the other.

Training culminated in a visit to the annual camp at Singleton where the cadets displayed their knowledge of weapon procedure on various firing practices. They were also taught in detail how to move in the bush and conceal themselves as well as many other vital fundamentals of field work.

There is reason for confidence that the enthusiasm and potential already shown will produce good results. The remainder of this year and next year hold promise for a crop of junior N.C.O.'s.

Sgt. M. Fielder.

THE ANNUAL CEREMONAL PARADE

On Thursday, 27th April at 2.15 p.m. the Sydney High School Cadet Unit was inspected by Lt.-Col. N. McG. Johnston, E.D., the Secretary of the Education Department, at its Annual Ceremonial Parade. Among the distinguished guests were Col. D. J. Duffy, M.C., E.D., and Mrs. Duffy, Col. H. A. Hind and Mrs. Hind, Col. A. B. McDonald, Lt.-Col. F. S. B. Peach, Chaplain G. Gerber, E.D., and Mrs. Gerber, Mr. F. Deer, President of the Old Boys' Union, and Mrs. Deer, Mr. A. Ferguson, donor of the Col. D. J. Duffy Memorial Sword, and Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. A. Russo, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and Mrs. J. Graham, mother of the Parade Commander.

The Official Party was received by the Headmaster and then moved to the Official Dais on the Parade Ground. After salutes were accorded to Mr. Callaghan, Lt.-Col. Peach and Lt.-Col. Johnston, the Parade Commander, C.U.O. A. Graham, reported the Parade ready for inspection and the Official Party then inspected the Unit. The Unit then marched past in quick time and reformed on the Inspection Line, where it was stood at ease.

Mr. Callaghan made an address of welcome, and Col. Johnston then addressed the parade. The following awards won by members of the Unit were then presented.

C.U.O. A. Graham: Col. D. J. Duffy Memorial Sword; School Prize for the Most Efficient Cadet; School Plaque for Senior Cadets; Leaving the Unit; Form of Appointment as Cadet Under Officer.

C.U.O. W. Donaldson: School Prize for Qualities of Leadership; School Plaque for Senior Cadets Leaving the School; Form of Appointment as Cadet Under Officer.

C.U.O. M. Smith: School Plaque for Senior Cadets; Form of Appointment as Cadet Under Officer.

C.U.O. B. Smith: School Plaque for Senior Cadets; Form of Appointment as Cadet Under Officer.

Sgt. J. Reid: Best Senior N.C.O. for 1966; School Plaque for Senior Cadets.

Cpl. R. Hotson: Best Junior N.C.O. for 1966.

Cdt. G. Dunn: Best 1st year Cadet for 1966.

The School Plaque was also awarded to:

S/Sgt. J. Isaacs, Sgt. A. Boorer, Sgt. G. Klye, Sgt. P. Ellis, Sgt. A. Lawrance.

After the presentation of awards the Sixth Form Cadets fell out and marched past in slow time, thus officially leaving the Unit. The parade then advanced in review order and a General Salute marked the termination of proceedings.

The Official Party, Guests and Sixth Form Cadets then proceeded to the Great Hall where light refreshments were served.

A noteworthy feature of this Parade was that for the first time the Col. D. J. Duffy Memorial Sword was able to be properly presented. At the Ceremonial Parade in 1965, Col. H. A. Hind, an Old Boy of the school who was Inspecting Officer on that occasion, noticed that the Memorial Sword was merely handed to the Senior C.U.O., and generously agreed to donate to the Unit a Sam Browne belt and frog. At the 1967 Parade Col. Hind was able to watch Col. Duffy present the Memorial Sword by placing it in the frog, so that C.U.O. Graham was able to have the sword drawn for the rest of the parade.

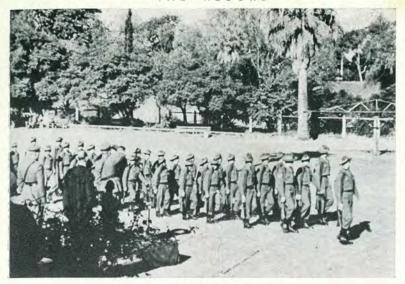

BIVOUAC

The past cadet year has been an interesting and varied one. The highlight of the first term was a weekend bivouac held in the Green Hills area. This provided an excellent opportunity for training the cadets in the fundamentals of fieldcraft and infantry service in preparation for the annual camp.

Apart from the vigorous daily training the senior cadets gave a demonstration on section movement in the field using blanks to add a bit of realism. Other activities included a lantern stalk and a night compass march.

All those who attended enjoyed themselves and extend a special thanks to Capt. Proctor and Lt. Dyball for arranging the whole exercise.

DUNTROON VISIT

On Friday, 14th April 32 cadets from 2 Cadet Brigade flew to Canberra to spend the weekend at the Royal Military College. We were met at Canberra by 50 other cadets from all over Australia.

Next morning we saw a demonstration of all the artillery, armoured infantry and signals equipment used by the college for training. It ranged from a Centurion tank, 105 mm. Pack Howitzer Cannon to a M60 Machine Gun and a radio transmitter and receiver that would fit in a coat pocket. In the afternoon we travelled about 70 miles to Goulburn by coach to watch the college Rugby Union team play Goulburn.

On Sunday morning we went on a bus tour of the beautiful area in and around Canberra. There are really some magnificent views to see, and in the afternoon we visited the War Memorial and Museum.

On Monday morning we saw a spectacular parade by the Staff Cadets; marching past in ceremonial order in slow and quick time. After this we inspected the College library, the gymnasium, the military instruction block and the engineering, physics and chemistry laboratories. All of the facilities provide a university standard teaching accommodation and are very modern. The military instruction block is for teaching theory for all weapons and signals works and for teaching the theory of military exercises on large relief maps. After lunch, we returned to our respective States by air.

From the weekend I learnt about the vital and excellent role the Royal Military College has in training officers for the Australian Regular Army. They offer five courses of which two are of university degree standard. The five courses are Arts, Applied Science and Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

ANNUAL CAMP

Eighty-two cadets arrived at Singleton on Thursday, 31st August for the Sydney High School Annual Camp. We looked forward to nine days of friendship and intensive training. It was the largest number of cadets we have had at camp for several years, but it could still be increased.

On Thursday afternoon we received the necessary "Q" store issues and moved into our tents. In the evening, with the rest of the cadets in our block, we saw the necessary film on the dangers of live and unexpended ammunition.

On Friday the senior cadets went to the field firing range in the morning and the Bren range in the afternoon. At the field firing range we were not as successful as previous years but it was enjoyed by everyone. The field firing range is a series of snap targets to simulate battle conditions. Each target appears for several seconds and the section (9 riflemen, 1 Bren gunner) on the range are given fire orders by the section commander. The Bren range was an ordinary Bren practice. The junior cadets in the morning and the afternoon had revision lessons on the rifle and fieldcraft. In the evening the whole unit watched training films.

On Saturday the senior cadets had lessons on advanced infantry. In the morning the junior cadets went to the 25-yard range to fire the rifle. There was a considerable improvement of the scores on their previous practises. In the afternoon they had more fieldcraft lessons in preparation for the bivouac. In the evening the whole unit saw a Western in the camp theatre.

On Sunday after the battalion church parade the unit moved out to the bivouac area for the next two days. It was the highlight of the camp and was enjoyed by everyone. We had some valuable training in contact and ambush drill for the guerilla exercise on Wednesday.

On Tuesday morning we arrived in camp soaked and down in spirits, but after everyone had had a hot meal, a shower and a change of clothes we could all see the funny side of the bivouac. In the afternoon most of the unit went to see a most interesting air strike by the R.A.A.F., with Mirages and Sabres carrying out strafing and bombing runs on old wrecked cars. In the evening the senior cadets had a briefing for Exercise Guerilla for the next day and the junior cadets went to the camp theatre.

On Wednesday the cadets were pulled out of their tents at 5.00 to prepare for Guerilla but the exercise was cancelled because of the weather. The Sergeants' rain dance of the previous night had had its effect, apparently.

On Thursday we prepared to break camp. In the afternoon, we had a drill competition against Maroubra and South Sydney, when the latter beat us by one point. In the evening we had a route march led by the C.U.O.'s. It was about 5 miles long, and made the cadets tired enough not to "rumble" on the last night.

On Friday we left Singleton at 9.00 o'clock with mixed feelings, some sad, some happy.

On behalf of all the cadets I would like to thank Capt. Proctor, Capt. Wheeler, Lieut. Dyball and Lieut. Jenkin for their friendly approach and organisation that made our camp so profitable and enjoyable.

CAREERS

Although the choice of a career is a more complex matter for young people than it has ever been before, it is a decision which can and should be made as a result of information and guidance accumulated over most of your High School life.

Various trained people are interested in helping you make this decision as wisely as possible, drawing the closest possible parallel between you an your career.

You will find yourself faced with three major problems in this vital matter:

- (i) The sheer variety of jobs is now expanding, literally every day, at an astounding rate; e.g. The range and nature of the careers within the sphere of banking, once thought of as a rather uncomplicated profession, is vast, with requirements ranging up to Honours Degree graduates in Commerce.
- (ii) The accent in all careers is now on skill: there are very few worthwhile jobs these days that are even semi-skilled.

Sometimes these expected skills are developd "on the job", but there are many instances where a particular background of education and school-training has already been achieved. e.g. It is just pointless to consider becoming a doctor unless you have satisfactorily handled high level courses in Maths and Science at school.

(iii) Most of us could achieve some success in more than one particular career, and yet the increased technological specialization within most fields means that mobility of transfer from one career to another is becoming less simple. Hence your initial choice must be a sound one.

You are not expected to have to make this choice alone. All pupils will sit, in Third Form, for a special series of psychological tests conducted at school by the Vocational Guidance Bureau. This is, from your point of view, the ideal test — you can't study for it, you can't cheat in it, you can't fail it. It is designed to measure potential aptitude, not acquired learning.

The results of this test, and of others, is recorded by the school, and as you approach your final year at school, we are able to give you very helpful guidance on your career, chosen or unchosen.

Learn to play an instrument

Acquire musical knowledge while learning comes easily. With the ability to play music you will never lack entertainment. It will win you friends where ever you go. Music is a universal language. At Palings there are professional musicians who'll gladly advise you on your choice of an instrument, so call in some time and talk it over.

However, in the final analysis, this is a decision which is yours to make.

If you are in 1st—4th Form and intend continuing to 6th Form, do not be unduly worried if you have not yet decided on your future vocation; few boys have.

If you wish to leave with the School Certificate, then you must begin seeking this information as early as possible.

It is worth pointing out that the first four years in secondary school (to the S.C.) are not intended to be "vocationally directed". That is to say that they are not meant to steer you towards (or away from) any one particular career.

The course has two functions:

- a) to provide a basic all-round secondary education for those who wish to make the School Certificate their terminal school examination, and enter e.g. an apprenticeship or external business training etc.
- to provide the initial framework on which potential Higher School Certificate candidates will build their courses.

Hence 5th and 6th Form students should have a fairly clear and down-to-earth idea as to their ultimate ambition, when they make their subject choices at the end of Fourth Form. These last two years of school should be working for you, towards your chosen goal. Make sure they do!

Some of you are, quite justifiably, in some doubt as to the functions and value of these two public examinations.

Realize that the School Certificate is a worthwhile terminal examination for those people who do not intend following any form of tertiary education after leaving school, whilst the Higher S.C. was meant primarily for those who do wish to follow advanced tertiary courses at e.g. a university or college.

However, with the implications of our ever more complex way of life, the Higher School Certificate should be the goal of an increasing number of boys.

Life is seldom kind to those who under perform at school, in the optimistic hope that their problems will cease once they get school out of the way and "get a job".

These people often find that before long they have to "go back to school" in one way or another to compensate for their shortcomings — may I assure you that this is hard work!

The time to make the most of your educational opportunities, far greater than ever before, is now!

GREETINGS FROM MAITLAND

Greetings to Sydney Boys' High School from Maitland Boys' High School. We are very happy that the bonds of friendship are developing. Three events this year typify this.

Firstly, Mr. M. Callaghan, your Principal, and Mr. D. Duffy, Vice-President of your Old Boys' Union, once again attended our Re-union dinner at Sydney University on 22nd September last.

Secondly, Colonel Des Duffy was the Inspecting Officer at our Ceremonial Parade on 27th October last. His address to the Parade at which the whole school and many parents were present was an inspiration to all who were privileged to hear him.

Thirdly, our First XI are looking forward to their visit to your school on 22nd November.

R. J. COCHRANE, Principal, Maitland Boys' High School.

PAINTINGS

(See pages 24, 47, 73, 150, 156 and 172.)

The paintings reproduced in this year's "Record" were submitted by Fourth Form students as Major Works for the School Certificate Examination, 1967.

They were painted at the school in Vynol Tempera colour on masonite. They are generally larger than 3' x 2'. A Major Work should indicate that the student has achieved a certain standard of proficiency and appreciation.

Many of these paintings have been selected by judges for inclusion in an exhibition of works by Fourth Form students throughout the State. This exhibition may be viewed by the public at the Commonwealth Bank, corner of Castlereagh Street and Martin Place, from mid-December to mid-January.

G.P.S.

The first match of the G.P.S. competition was against St. Joseph's on a day much affected by rain, play being possible for a limited time only, after lunch. St. Joseph's, having been sent in to bat were quickly routed under the fine speed attack of Betts, Tzannes and Selby and were quickly 8-31 when rain stopped play at 1.50 after an hour and a half of play. At 4.30, the match was resumed, Betts dismissing the last two batsmen in his first over. Tzannes 5-15, Selby 2-9 and Betts 3-3 had given High a good chance of victory. With 45 minutes of play remaining, Brand and Betts opened the innings, Betts hitting a superb six in the first over. He was soon bowled however, but Brand (23) saw High through to victory.

The next match against Newington, in contrast, was played in brilliant sunshine on a grassless pitch. Newington batted first and amassed a respectable 209. This score might have been very much higher except for a bright spell of bowling by Selby, when he dismissed the last four Newington batsmen for 2 runs. Selby (4-23), Betts (3-73) and Tzannes (3-53) were the wicket-takers. High opened unsteadily, mixing attack with defence. Hick (19), Brand (17) and Glover (13) saw the team through a testing period, but although the rest of the team defended stoutly, the Newington attack proved too steady, the last wicket falling at 90, just ten minutes before rain came to put an end to the match.

High travelled to Parramatta for its next match, against King's. Batting first King's found the pace attack of Betts and Tzannes too brilliant and on a soggy wicket were struggling at 6-28. However, they were able to effect a fine 7th wicket partnership and were finally all out for 128. Betts 4-40 and Tzannes 5-37 were the wreckers.

FIRST XI

 Front Row: G. Glover, Mr. G. Hannan, J. Isaacs, Mr. J. Congreve, J. Brand Seated: W. Donaldson

Hopeful of victory, High began its first innings confidently, but soon floundered in the face of a well-balanced bowling attack. Only Betts (19) and Brand (15) offered any real opposition, High being dismissed for 62. King's batted a second time, and were 5-64 at stumps, Betts bowling beautifully to record 4-14, as well as slinging the wicket down to complete a fantastic run-out.

The next match against Shore at Mackay was washed out.

With the weather playing such an important role in the competition, High needed a win against St. Ignatius in the next match to improve its position. Batting first, High was able to declare at 8-208. An opening partnership of 50 in 45 minutes (Brand 23, Hick 38) set the trend of play. Then Miller 51, and Donaldson 29 pasted the bowling in a partnership of 56 runs. In the final minutes of the innings, Alec Tzannes piled up a quick 23 to make the closure possible. Riverview began quite comfortably, but in his 3rd over, Tzannes wrenched his back, to complete his over bowling spinners! Incredibly so, with the last ball of his over, he bowled the opener with a prodigious leg spin! However, he was unable to bowl again in the match, and indeed was out for the rest of the season. Spured on by this set-back, the High bowlers, led by Betts, shook the Riverview team, to dismiss them for 74. Bett's final analysis read 9 overs, 3 maidens, 5-22, Glover 2-0 and Selby 2-6 chimed in with handy spells.

Now third in the competition, High met competition leaders Scots in the all-important match at Bellevue Hill. Bowling first, Betts struck a quick blow for High, but the strong Scots batting line-up soon settled down. Despite the short boundaries, Scots only tallied 186 runs, which seemed within the reach of our batsmen. The bowling of MacMurray, who replaced Tzannes was encouraging (4-43) while Betts (3-50) and Selby (2-52), gave him valuable support. The highlight of a keen fielding display was an 80-yard throw by John Brand to run out the Scots opener. Brand, whose throw played a particular role in that breakthrough, was to play an even more significant part in the High innings. After the early loss of Hick, Brand and Donaldson set about to repair the High innings. In an 84 run partnership, Brand, who had been struggling to find his true form in previous matches, slashed the bowling relentlessly, hitting six upon six, four upon four. Miller joined Brand, after Donaldson, who had made an invaluable 31 runs, was dismissed, and the two added 64 runs in 35 minutes. Brand having straight driven the Scots slow bowler for six, was deceived next ball and was bowled for 99. An innings of 8 sixes and 9 fours speaks for itself, and High found itself 3-148, 39 runs to win and 7 wickets remaining. . . our grip tighetened on the game. However the match wasn't won yet and Scots weren't going to lose without a fight, and despite a desperate struggle by Glover and Betts, Scots proved too cool in the circumstances and won by 3 runs.

With no chance of winning the competition, High met Grammar in a rather anti-climax in the last match of the season. With three of its regular members out, High was dismissed for a disappointing 57. Brand (23) was the only one to offer any resistance. Grammar fared little better in its innings, and slowly crawled to a sure victory with 95 runs on the board. Betts, completing a creditable season, finished with 4-29 and was helped by a fine bowling performance by Glover, who captured 3-15. In its second innings High staved off the innings defeat being all out for 87 at stumps. Hick 25, Brand 21, Betts 16 and Glover 16 n.o. batted well and sensibly in keeping the Grammar attack out.

Our congratulations to John Brand in being selected in the Combined G.P.S. 1st XI to Allan Betts for his inclusion in the 2nd G.P.S. XI, both for the second time.

C.H.S.

The first match of the C.H.S. competition was against Randwick. Initially down for Kensington Oval, the match was transferred to Mackay No. 2, due to the state of the Kensington wicket. Randwick batted first and laboriously put on 169 runs, batting the first afternoon and half of the second. Tzannes 4-33, and Betts 4-38 bowled splendidly in a marathon stint. Set 170 runs to get in 2 hours, High began eventfully and due to the graceful hooking and driving of Hick (36) and Brand (60), we looked set for an exciting victory. Donaldson (26) and Betts (20) carried on the fine work to get within 26 runs of the Randwick total, but inexplicably, the last 5 wickets fell for 14 runs and Randwick had won in a tense finish.

The next match was against Cleveland Street. Rain however curtailed play for the match.

High then met Enmore, and, sent in on a spongy wicket at Mackay, were soon in trouble against inclement weather and a hostile medium-paced attack. At one stage 5-15, High "recovered", thanks to Campbell (17) and Betts (16), to reach 72 before a declaration was made with an hour left for play on the first day. However this was nullified because the batting strip on the second day was perfect. Enmore reached 7-80 before declaring; (Betts 3-32, Tzannes 2-7). In High's second innings, Brand 46 n.o. and Hick 33 n.o. amassed 82 runs in 45 minutes to show the beauty of the wicket. After a token declaration, Enmore batted again being 3-40 when time ran out. Selby 2-8 and Taylor 1-5 were the successful bowlers.

In all, the season was not really successful in terms of wins or losses, but a team spirit was built up, which made otherwise dreary matches, exciting and worthwhile. The members would like to thank Mr. Hannan for the time he spent coaching the team and for his enthusiastic approach to the game. We would like to thank Mr. Congreve also for giving up his Saturdays to be with the team, and for his much needed encouragement and advice during breaks.

SECOND XI

Team: B. Murray (capt.), C. McMurray (vice-capt.), W. Halliday, C. Brown, J. Brown, D. Lyon, I. Tabrett, V. Kline, B. Russell, I. Besomo, R. Sleeman, R. Bartlett-Taylor.

Coach: Mr. W. C. Lucan-Roberts.

As was the case in 1966, this year's Second XI was handicapped through inexperience. Added to this is the fact that the team itself hardly ever existed as a team — the same eleven was rarely fielded more than twice consecutively.

The season opened with a decisive win over the R.AN.C. Jervis Bay XI, S. Hamilton scoring a valuable 41 and taking 9 wickets for 11 runs.

In the C.H.S. competition High performed as well as could be expected, and managed to gain an outright win over Enmore. The matches against both Randwick and Cleveland Street were washed out.

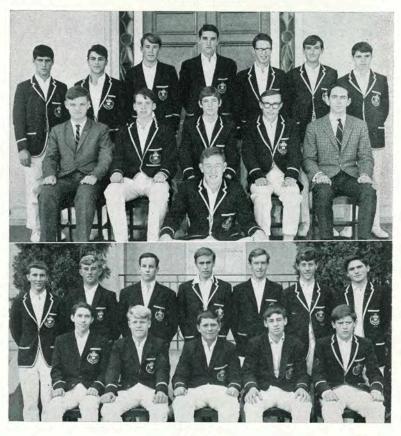

However, it was in the G.P.S. competition that High realised the disadvantage of inexperience. In some ways it was an unpredictable season. High was able to dismiss King's for a relatively low score (80); yet High scored only 37 runs. In the Scots match High reversed the situation (High 8-158 dec.; Scots 8-69). The Shore match was the only game to be cancelled due to rain.

The highest G.P.S. bowling aggregates went to W. Halliday (6.5) and C. McMurray (9.4); highest battering averages to W. Halliday (14.6) and B. Russell (15.5).

The team was particularly well served by J. Brown (12th man) whose scoring is often taken for granted but the value of his good work is considerable. The coach expressly wishes to thank the captain and vice-captain for leading a very difficult and often unresponsive team so well.

SECOND XI

16A XI

Team: R. Smith (capt.), H. Cohen (vice-capt.), G. Burns, G. Dodd, P. Dymock, C. Firth, I. Gilbert, G. Hunter, P. Johnson, G. Martin, M. Middleton, G. Odze.

Coach: Mr. de Lawrence.

The newly formed 16A cricket team was composed of boys who were keen to play grade cricket but were not good enough for the First or Second XI's.

The season turned out to be an enjoyable though luckless one. Many victories eluded High by either the game being abandoned because of rain or lack of time. Bowling honours went to Hylton Cohen and Grant Hunter who constantly took the bulk of the wickets. The most improved batsman was Graeme Martin.

The team would like to thank Mr. de Lawrence who gave up much of his time in coaching us.

ISA XI

Team: W. Lewis (c.), R. Betts, B. Chard, J. Clarke, G. Dunn, S. Epstein, T. Grose, R. Juchau, C. King, J. Robinson, C. Tope, C. Tremont.

Coach: Mr. F. Gallie.

C.H.S. Games

So far there have been three games — in the first, Sydney lost to Randwick 84 to 167; in the second, Sydney scored 179 (Ron Betts 86) but rain prevented the second day's play; the third game was an outright win against Newtown.

G.P.S. Games

Rain prevented two games, the team won one and lost one and drew three more. All in all, its record was quite good. Only Newington defeated it convincingly.

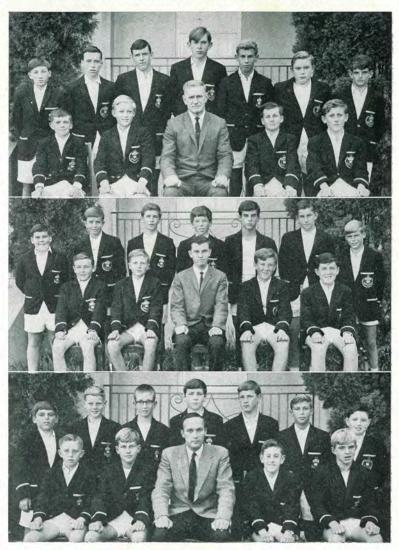

General Comments

The team has practised regularly and well and in nearly all cases a sound foundation on which to build has been laid and, in addition, there is much natural aptitude and ability. As the seasons go by, it is thought that many of these boys will perform well in the open grades.

The batting is sound right down the batting order. Although much depends upon the early batsman, a quick fall of wickets seldom guarantees a collapse. The opportunities for bowlers are usually more restricted but there is a sound and balanced attack in Bill Lewis, Robert Jackson, Chris King, Tony Grose, Chris Tope and also Ron Betts. Geoffrey Dunn is a sound, improving wicket-keeper.

Back Row: S. Epstein, J. Robinson, W. Lewis, C. King, R. Betts, R. Teeple, C. Tope
Front Row: C. Tremont, T. Grose, Mr. F. Gallie, G. Dunn, J. Clarke

Back Row: G. Sawyer, A. Dobson, G. Aroney, A. Williamson, T. Keen, G. Errington, D. Francis
Front Row: S. Halliday, D. Clark, Mr. F. Murphy, N. Sherring, D. Benson

Back Row: G. Panoretos, R. Parr, G. Saphin, D. Dela Marta, R. Oram, R. Miiddleton, P. Simmons
Front Row: S. Greig, P. Carlisle, Mr. Griffiths, L. Wright, W. Docker

Bill Lewis had good all-round prospects — a sound opening batsman and quick bowler. He took 6-4 against King's. Ron Betts' 86 against South Sydney stamps him as potentially a good strokemaking batsman. Tony Grose's two forties (against St. Ignatius and Scots) and his attractive slow bowling also mark him out as a player for future years. Chris Tope also has ability with both bat and ball, backed by a commendable soundness of temperament. Robert Juchau has been the most successful bowler with 5-12 against King's, 3-15 against Grammar and also three against both Scots and St. Ignatius — he, too, bats reasonably well. Later this year it is felt that the others will prove their quality — as batsmen, Colin Tremont (a couple of good twenties already), John Robinson (35 against Newtown, 15 not out against Scots), John Clarke and Stephen Epstein; as a bowler Chris King. It is a pity too, that Bruce Chard had so few games.

Team: P. Berghouse (capt.), K. Moon (vice-capt.), P. Bear, R. Broadford, P. Castle, R. Christie, I. Crichton, S. Long, I. Luxford, C. Moon, N. Odze, K. Searle.

Only three games were played during the season, two of which were won. The first game was against Newington, which was convincingly won. High sent into bat, was able to declare at 4-161. Newington were then bundled out for 66 thanks to the help of our two opening bowlers, I. Crichton and I. Luxford. The next game was against King's at Gowan Brae. King's were dismissed for 17 and 54. Although scoring only 38 in its first innings, High won the match outright. We then played St. Ignatius, and were soundly beaten when our batting collapsed. Despite our one defeat the season was enjoyed by all.

Team: D. Clark (capt.), N. Sherring (vice-capt.), G. Aroney, D. Benson, A. Dobeson, G. Errington, D. Francis, S. Halliday, T. Keen, R. Orr, G. Sawyer, A. Williamson.

Coach: Mr. F. Murphy.

The 14A XI, although not quite living up to expectations based on the latter part of the 1966 season, still did creditably.

The batting was highlighted by Graham Errington, Steven Halliday and Neil Sherring.

The team was handicaped by the lack of a good opening attack, with only one specialist fast bowler, Alan Williamson, who, although not having a good "foil", was still devastating on his day. The medium pace was handled by Alan Dobeson, Greg Aroney and Graham Errington, and the spin department by David Clark and Dennis Benson.

We wish to thank Mr. Murphy for his diligent coaching and helpful advice throughout the season.

Coach: Mr. G. Sims.

The team played very well this year and after two years are still undefeated. The team's main fast bowler was Andrew Brown with the spin attack being covered by Greg Goddard, Robert Marshall, Ross Allen and Peter Hansen. The medium pace bowler in the team was Dudley Ling. The opening batsmen were Andrew Brown and Dudley Ling. The top batsman was again Robert Marshall with a top score of 59 n.o. The team could not have been as successful without the help of Mr. Sims, who devoted a lot of his time both after school and at the matches. Mr. Smith, an interested parent, helped many times with umpiring and coaching on the days that Mr. Sims could not get to the games.

I3A XI

Team: P. Carlisle (capt.), D. Della Marta (vice-capt.), W. Docker, S. Greig, R. Middleton, R. Oram, G. Parnaretos, R. Parr, G. Saphin, P. Simmons, N. Simmons, L. Wright.

Coach: Mr. E. Griffiths.

Considering the short time the team has been playing together the results have been reasonable. Outstanding throughout the season was Robert Middleton and David Della Marta. The highlight of the season was a partnership between R. Middleton and P. Carlisle which produced 70 runs.

All credit for this very successful season must be given to our coach Mr. E. Griffiths.

13B XI

Team: C. Dunn (capt.), R. Brand, R. Brown, C. Dennewald, G. Jackson, M. Jamieson, G. Kendall, R. Long, I. Moore, G. Nicholas, T. Rayner.

Coach: Mr. Power.

Under the guidance of Mr. Power the team has improved considerably in the fundamentals of cricket. We suffered only two defeats in both competitions.

The team would like to thank Mr. Power for coaching us throughout the season.

FOOTBALL

The 1967 Rugby season brought home very forcibly to all concerned with Sydney High's effort the urgent need to equip our teams to meet their opponents on equal terms.

This reference is not to jerseys, boots, balls or such like; what we need is a greater number of competent coaches.

The day has passed when it was sufficient to have some one out to run the team around the paddock three or four times and class this as a training session. Rugby, 1967 style, is a highly technical game requiring a sound knowledge of the laws, and of their interpretation. Accordingly, we must strive to get the interest and support of qualified Old Boys to assist our Rugby effort.

Only by providing every team with a coach dedicated and thoroughly acquainted with the game can we ensure the best use of Sydney High's undoubted potential.

N. Ryan, Master-in-Charge.

Coach: Mr. N. Ryan.

S.H.S. v. Sydney Grammar School. 10-6-67

On a heavy ground Grammar proved too strong for the High combination, recording a convincing 20-8 win.

Grammar kicked off and pressed High and started the scoring after a good break by their centre which resulted in a try in the right corner.

In a lineout near halfway High second-rower Allsop leapt high and turned the ball to lock Palmisano charging round the blind; the resulting centre kick found left-winger Hamilton well-positioned and he dashed in to score: 3-3.

Several clever breaks were made by High centre Miller but Grammar's forwards began to gain the upper hand. A penalty-goal to Grammar gave them a 6-3 lead at half-time.

After the interval, Grammar swung into attack. After good tries by Grammar, High lost all chance of winning the game, but were determined to go down fighting and in the closing stages Miller streaked across the line. Whitehouse added the extras to bring the final score to 8-20.

S.H.S. v. Newington College. 17-6-67

In the second G.P.S. round Newington overwhelmed High to score five tries to two and win 24-8.

FIRST XV

Back Row: J. Austin, P. Bull, S. Hamilton, C. Wood, L. Dunn Middle Row: R. Palmisano, D. Sinclair, R. Miller, A. Tzannes, J. Burt, W. Donaldson Front Row: A. McIvor, C. Allsop, G. Whitehouse, Mr. N. Ryan, M. Smith, J. Taylor, M. Wheeler

Newington kicked off and very soon received a penalty in High territory, from which fullback Millner's kick was successful 3-0.

In High's half fullback Whitehouse stopped a certain Newington try with a fine tackle, but from the ensuing ruck the Newington prop hammered through to score: 6-0. Another try and conversion followed and Newington led 11-0.

Minutes afterwards, High registered its first points when Miller intercepted and raced fifty yards to score between the posts. Miller converted his own try and the half-time score was 11-5.

In the second half, High kicked off and drove Newington back. From a scrum, the ball spun along the High backline to winger Tzannes who turned it to centre Miller who streaked in to score in the left corner: 11-8.

The rest of the game, however, saw Newington launch attack after attack and they ran out winners: 24-8.

S.H.S., 8; Newington College, 24.

S.H.S. v. St. Ignatius College. 24-6-67

Riverview took the G.P.S. competition lead after a scrappy 9-5 win over High.

Not long after High kicked off, the ball spun along the Riverview backline to left winger Jones who beat the High defence to score in the left corner and give Riverview a 3-0 lead.

With play largely in High territory, the greasy surface led to a large amount of mishandling by both teams. High centre, Miller, cleverly found an opening and made a good thirty-yard run before passing to winger Burt who was tackled on Riverview's twenty-five.

High attacked after the interval but a loose pass was cleverly intercepted by Jones who sprinted sixty yards to score and make it 6-0 after ten minutes in the second half.

After High lock Palmisano toed the ball into Riverview territory, Burt, on the right wing, burst strongly down the side line and passed inside to Miller backing up. Miller dashed in to score in the corner and then converted his try with a great kick. 6-5.

However, Riverview pressed the High defence and from a penalty Byrne put Riverview a further three points ahead.

S.H.S., 5; St. Ignatius, 9.

S.H.S. v. S.C.E.G.S. 1-7-67

High went down to Shore in an open yet patchy tussle at Northbridge. In the opening minutes of play High was awarded a penalty and Whitehouse goaled to give High a 3-0 lead. A long kick by Shore's fullback put his team on the attack and a backline movement almost saw Hutchinson score. However, from a scrum penalty Lee goaled to level the scores at 3-3. Cowper's touch kicks brought play into the High twenty-five. From a lineout Shore winger Grahame burst through to score: 6-3. Shore again pressed High's defence, but Whitehouse relieved and finally landed a penalty to make the score 6-6. However, almost on half time Shore five-eighth landed a penalty goal: 9-6.

Immediately following the interval Shore's winger Hutchinson crossed to make the score 12-6. Following a period of scrappy play, Lee dropped a fine goal: 15-6. Stung into action High bustled their opposition. Whitehouse goaled from a penalty. However, High found themselves grimly defending. From a scrum Lee dropped a second goal: 18-6. Further untidy play resulted in a penalty to Shore. Lee goaled to make the full-time score: 21-9.

S.H.S., 9; S.C.E.G.S., 21.

S.H.S. v. The King's School. 8-7-67

After displaying its best form of the season High wilted late in the second half and went down to the strong King's combination: 20-6. King's took an early lead after a penalty goal and a try. Both teams then began to play open football with High centre Miller making two neat breaks. Winger Barry made a burst up the left flank but could not get his pass away. From a penalty, however, Whitehouse goaled: 6-3.

After the half-time break, King's again attacked. The first points in the second-half came from a penalty to King's. High retaliated with a neat field goal by Whitehouse: 9-6.

Although playing some good football High could not manage to score again, while King's increased their lead with two tries a conversion and a penalty goal. This brought the final score to 20-6.

S.H.S., 6; The King's School, 20.

S.H.S. v. The Scots College. 15-7-67

In a fast moving match Scots proved too strong for High winning: 16-11.

Scots opened the scoring after a good backline movement resulting in a try which was converted; Scots led 5-0.

However, High retaliated, with Miller breaking through and punting a neatly-angled centre kick for Barry to collect and score. Whitehouse's conversion levelled the scores at 5-5. A penalty goal by Whitehouse gave High the lead which they kept until the interval.

After the interval Scots were quickly on the attack and a converted try saw them take the lead: 10-8. Scots with some good play eventually went further on to lead 16-8. Towards the closing stages of the game winger Burt scored after runs by Bull and Miller. The final score was 16-11.

S.H.S., 11; The Scots College, 16.

S.H.S. v. The Armidale School. 22-7-67

The game began with both teams in turn attacking their opponent's line. However, the play in the first half was often scrappy, although Miller sent wingers Barry and Burt on long runs into Armidale territory. Armidale forced their way back into High's half with accurate kicking, and were rewarded with a series of long range penalties. The Armidale kicker eventually goaled.

Shortly after the Armidale forwards toed the ball through from a ruck and with a favourable bounce their second rower scored close to the posts. The try was converted and Armidale now led 8-0. High five-eighth Whitehouse retaliated with a penalty goal and at the break the score was 8-3.

In the second half High lifted their game and looked much more dangerous. Miller broke through and kicked ahead. Barry won the race for the ball and scored in the corner, but astonishingly play was recalled as Miller had been late tackled. Whitehouse's kick at goal went wide. Shortly afterwards he kicked his second penalty to close the gap to 8-6.

Armidale now pressed the High line and were rewarded with a penalty right in front, which they kicked to lead 11-6. After 30 minutes of the second half Whitehouse kicked his third penalty to bring the score to 11-9.

S.H.S. v. St. Joseph's College. 29-7-67

In the last game of the season High although playing gallantly had no answer for the speed and brilliance of the Joeys' backs. Two fine tries by winger Musgrave, both converted, gave Joey's an early 10-0 lead. Whitehouse registered High's first points with a penalty goal but not long after Joey's replied with a good field goal: 13-3.

High v. St. Joseph's — Joey's win the ball.

Photos: M. Wheeler, 5B.

After a good try Joey went five points further ahead to lead: 18-3.

After the interval High came back well and showed some fine form. From a kick through by High five-eighth Austin, Miller raced through, gathered and dived over the line: 18-6. A try by Joey's half-back which was again converted carried them to a 23-6 lead.

A good try by lock Mick Smith after he had cleverly intercepted a pass and run forty yards to the posts, gave Whitehouse an easy chance to convert and bring the score to 23-11.

MEDICAL BENEFITS FUND OF AUSTRALIA

HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL BENEFITS

STUDENT DEPENDANTS

The rules of the Medical Benefits Fund of Australia provides a cover for unmarried Student Dependant children who have attained 16 years of age.

These days most parents have insured themselves and their children against the cost of hospital and medical care.

This cover for Student Dependant children will be of inestimable value to parents of school children when considering expenses associated with secondary and tertiary education.

It is noticed many parents hold the mistaken belief that the Medical Benefits Fund does not cover school accidents. It is quite unnecessary for parents to incur additional expense for school accident insurance for hospital and medical care. Without extra payment the parents' family contributions cover not only school accidents but sickness and accidents at home.

Under the Rules all student children over the age of 16 years can be covered by the parents' family rate membership provided the student is not in receipt of income.

To include student children attaining 16 years of age it is necessary to make special application to the Fund Office or local Agent to obtain a Student Dependancy form.

The completed form and parents' membership book should be sent to:

SECOND XV

Team: W. Selby (capt.), R. Buckley (vice-capt.), R. Ayton, J. Barry, K. Berg, H. Bolling, J. Brand, R. Brooks, C. Brown, P. Cullen, P. Davies, J. Firbank, R. Foley, G. Glover, T. Karipis, A. Nicholas, G. Nicholson, P. Paling, J. Taylor, P. Wills.

Coach: Mr. N. Ryan.

This year's 2nd XV had mixed fortunes, but as far as team spirit goes, it was a highly successful season, with everyone doing his best. The team was unlucky to lose several key players to the 1st XV early in the season, but the 3rd XV players who took their places performed very well.

After early wins in the C.H.S. competition, it seemed High would perform well in the G.P.S. The season opened with a hard match against Grammar at Weigall. For High, hooker Berg played well, outhooking his opponent, but the lighter High pack were being pushed off the ball. High managed to hold Grammar to a 6-6 draw, with some splendid tackling by Tzannes and newcomer Glover.

On a wet and muddy field, the match against Newington was High's first on McKay for the G.P.S. season. With the backline handling and running well, High looked set for a win, but lost their grip on the game by giving away too many penalties. Newington finally goaled to give them a 3-0 lead, which was the final score.

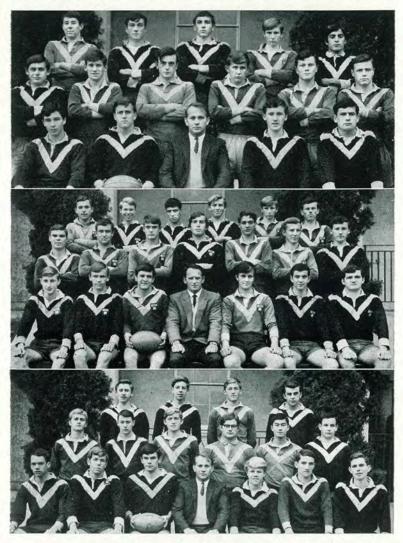

The following week at McKay, High met Riverview. In greasy conditions Riverview emerged victors, 11-3. This fast, mobile side showed too much class for the High team.

A week later at Northbridge, High went down 3-17 to Shore. The first half of this match saw a lethargic High side, but after the break a rejuvenated High combination took the field and bustled their opponents, winning a much greater share of the ball, and defending far more strongly. Dunn, returning after injury, played an outstanding attacking game.

After making the trip to Gowan Brae to meet King's, High went down 0-11 in a frustrating game. High, thanks to the good lineout work of Taylor and Nicolson, won a fair share of ball, only to see the usually competent backline mishandle at crucial moments.

The following week in a hard, open match High convincingly downed Scots College 11-9, scoring three tries to nil. The forwards dominated, bustling the Scots pack with their rugged play, and the backline penetrated Scots' defence for winger Wills to cross for two fine tries.

It was an enjoyable weekend for all when High travelled to Armidale. High were hard-pressed to beat this talented side who gave an exhibition of solid defence. The continuous bustling of High's pack, with Nicholas and Nicholson shining, wore down the Armidale side, and a fine try by Col Wood, who had a brilliant return to football after injury, sealed a 6-3 win for High.

In a disappointing last game, High lost 0-15 to eventual premiers St. Joseph's. This game was marred by continual stoppages, preventing open play.

Although the season was not as successful as hoped, the side is deeply indebted to their coach Mr. Ryan who, with the much greater responsibility of coaching the 1st XV, nevertheless found time to take the 2nd XV and mould them into a team, despite many setbacks.

THIRD XV

Team: D. Whyte (capt.), P. Karasavas (vice-capt.), A. Boorer, M. Chapman, T. Coleman, P. Colwell, P. Cullen, W. Finnerty, J. Firbank, G. Klye, B. O'Meagher, P. Paling, M. Pokorny, S. Reid, T. Uren, R. Whittle.

Coach: Mr. K. Cowan.

This year's Third Grade, under the skilful guidance of coach Mr. Cowan, enjoyed a very successful season. In C.H.S., Thirds played in the first grade competition and were unfortunate in losing a number of close games.

However, in G.P.S. Thirds had greater success. They started the season with wins over Cranbrook, Waverly and North Sydney. In the opening G.P.S. match Thirds went down to Grammar 3-0 in a rugged tryless game. A draw with St. Ignatius and good wins over Newington and Shore followed. During a slump in form, Thirds were defeated by the strong King's team. Thirds finished the season very satisfactorily, defeating Scots, Armidale and the previously undefeated St. Joseph's.

The team is indebted to Mr. Cowan, without whose conscientious effort the season could not have been the wonderful success it was.

FOURTH XV

Team: W. Beard (capt.), I. Gilbert (vice-capt.), A. Austin, G. Bell, R. Davenport, R. Harper, J. Jones, C. Little, R. Little, D. Luxford, D. Lyon, S. Marks, G. Martin, D. McKenzie, C. McMurray, J. Mitchell, R. Wood.

Coach: Mr. K. Cowan.

This year's Fourth XV had a fairly successful season. Playing as Second Grade in C.H.S. Fourths won few games but did well against more experienced players.

In the trial matches good wins were recorded against North Sydney, Cranbrook and St. Pius. In G.P.S., Fourth Grade were runners-up losing only one close match to King's. Draws resulted against equal premiers St. Joseph's and Shore as well as against St. Ignatius. Good wins were recorded against Grammar, Newington and Scots Fourths boast a particularly good defensive record — their line was crossed on four occasions only.

The success which Fourth Grade enjoyed can only be attributed to the coaching efforts of Mr. Cowan. He moulded seventeen players into a solid team and was the force behind the success and enjoyment the team experienced during the season.

FIFTH XV

Team: R. Muir (capt.), R. Cox (vice-capt.), J. Armstrong, W. Bledge, R. Fairbairn, I. Gay, M. Glass, M. Holmes, G. Moloney, P. McKlisky, G. Odze, B. Patkin, P. Smith, C. Warren, R. Whitby, G. Wintle, K. Yee, N. Yee.

Coaches: Dennis Cooney, Ian Harper.

This year Fifth XV enjoyed a fair share of success, winning five games out of fourteen played. The team was fortunate in having two student coaches who were able to explain fundamentals and tactics and share a sense of team spirit with the players. Led by Russ Cox the backs displayed a great deal of ability while the forwards were often successful in winning possession. Teamwork enabled Fifths to maintain a high standard of football throughout.

GENTLEMEN'S XV

Team: E. Ackman, A.Betts, J. Bullock, J. Coyle, P. Ellis, I. Falson, B. Griffith, I. Hind, G. Ireland, J. Isaacs, C. Jackson, P. Morris, J. Puckeridge, B. Smith.

Manager: Mr. I. Casey.

The Gentlemen's XV, comprised of 6th formers exclusively, had an enjoyable if not entirely successful season. All seasoned campaigners, they maintained a high standard of football, especially commendable as their training was limited due to the predominance of schoolwork. Much can be said about the spirit of the team and their will to win — they never flagged while on the field and their on-field conduct was exemplary.

Coach: Gary Foux.

This season Seventh Grade got off to a late start and played only two games in the season. Because of this, they were unable to practise or function properly as a team. The games, however, were enjoyed by players and spectators alike. Although both games were lost they were close and hard-fought.

Thanks must go to the playing coach Gary Foux whose help and encouragement was beneficial to the individual players and the team as a whole.

16A XV

Team: S. Hamilton (capt.), B. Hartwell (vice-capt.), P. Bentivoglio, J. Brabant, G. Burns, A. Cahill, M. Fischer, M. Georgouras, R. Hick, C. Kariazis, E. Morgan, P. Morrison, P. O'Hara, R. Piggot, S. Prodes, J. Shearer, C. Spencer, C. Whelan.

Coach: Dr. E. A. Bentivoglio.

The 1967 16A's had a very happy and enjoyable season, winning three G.P.S. games and drawing two.

Dr. Bentivoglio was the man behind our success. With his unflagging determination and patience, he was greatly appreciated by every member of the team.

Individual players cannot be singled out as every member pulled his weight and played good football at all times.

16B XV

Team: D. Hinds (capt.), R. McCormick (vice-capt.), G. Barr, C. Bennett, M. Garside, K. Hickey, D. Higgins, K. McKenzie, M. Middleton, P. Morrison, S. Murchie, R. Piggott, N. Pitpazaris, G. Nairn, R. Smith, J. Turtle, B. Welch.

Coach: Dr. E. A. Bentivoglio.

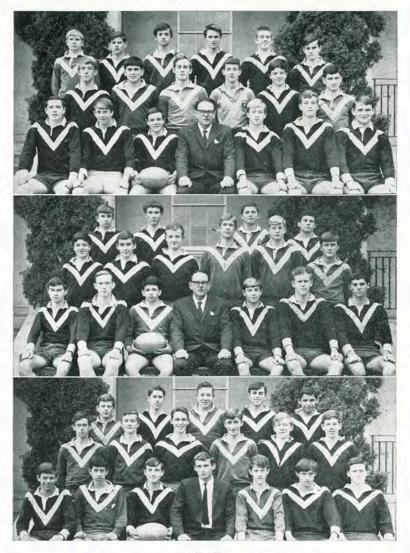

The team had a very successful season, losing only two games and even then scoring more tries than our opponents. Had fewer penalties been given away, the team might have been undefeated. The team's ability to score tries may be attributed to our coach, Dr. Bentivoglio, who encouraged us to play fast open football at all times. As a result the 16B's scored 38 tries and conceded only four. Much of the credit for this as well as for the fine team spirit must go to Dr. Bentivoglio, whom we all thank.

Coach: Mr. K. Grover.

This year's 16C team finished undefeated in the G.P.S. competition. The team put together a string of 7 successive G.P.S. victories after an unlucky 6-6 draw against Grammar. An exciting 8-6 win over the previously undefeated St. Joseph's team proved a fitting end to a very successful season. In every match, the 16C's concentrated on open football, the success of which stemmed from teamwork and backing up rather than from individual play.

Much of the credit is due to our coach, and recent Old Boy, Mr. Ken Grover, whose efforts and enthusiasm were greatly appreciated by all.

16D XV

Team: G. Crammond (capt.), N. Pitpazaris (vice-capt.), J. Barrett, J. Brown, G. Hardacre, J. Harper, K. Ho, M. Joffe, E. Joseph, B. Krout, J. Lowther, R. McMahon, R. MuSung, N. Nicholls, G. Ryan, R. Walker, F. Gerber, P. Gibbons.

Coaches: David Taylor and Bill Halliday.

The 16Ds had a successful season in every way under coaches David Taylor and Bill Halliday. Team spirit and enthusiasm were never lacking and this was revealed in the games.

The team beat Newington, Shore, King's, Scots and Joey's during the competition, going down only to Grammar and Igy's in hard-fought games.

Prominent in attack was Nick Pitpazaris while a solid pack was based around Geoff Hardacre, John Barrett and Graeme Ryan. The goal-kicking of Frank Gerber was indeed an asset.,

Thanks go to the coaches David Taylor and Bill Halliday for the time given to the team.

Coaches: Mr. J. Parker, Mr. P. du Rhone.

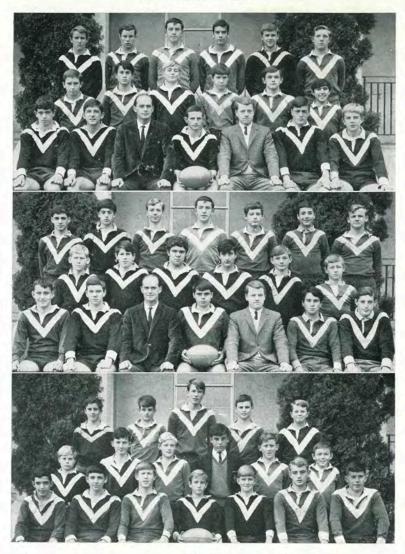

Although the 15A's this year did not win as many games as we would have liked, it could nevertheless be termed an enjoyable season.

The team took a long time to settle down after several key players returned after injuries. However, towards the closing stages, the patience and diligence of the two coaches began to bear fruit, and the team was playing really good football, beating the previously undefeated Scots and the visiting Armidale teams.

The team would like to thank our two coaches Mr. J. Parker and Mr. P. du Rhone for their perseverance and the time given. Their devotion was greatly appreciated by every member.

Coaches: Mr. J. Parker, Mr. P. du Rhone.

Although winning the C.H.S. competition the 15B XV had limited success in G.P.S. competition. However, a team spirit remained throughout the season and the team never gave up trying.

The season got off to a good start with wins in all trial games and a draw against the premiers, Grammar.

From that point on the opposition proved too strong and we were not able to post a win.

The team was ably coached by Mr. J. Parker and Mr. P. du Rhone who gave their time and energy to coach us and improve our football. The team would like to extend its thanks and appreciation for their unflagging determination, patience and unfailing support.

Coaches: Geoffery Wintle and David Higgins.

This year's 15C's had a disappointing season, and this can be attributed to a number of factors. First the team did not take its training seriously enough, second they were not conscientious enough in their approach to the game, and finally they lacked team spirit and played as a group of individuals rather than as a team. However, this season should prove valuable experience for next year. Thanks go to coaches Geoff Wintle and David Higgins for the time and effort they devoted to what must have been a frustrating task.

Coaches: A. Lawrence and P. Ellis.

The team this year has had a most enjoyable season with a very high team spirit that few others can claim. On the results of the season, the team has little to show despite the fine individual performances by the fifteen rampers particularly captain Barry Bradford and the fullback Neil Odze, playing his first season of football.

Coach: Mr. G. Paling.

The 14A's had a very successful season, winning five G.P.S. competition games out of seven, and seven C.H.S. games out of eleven.

The team developed well as the season progressed and relied largely on teamwork, as evidenced by the fact that most of the tries were scored by the centres and wingers. The forwards and backs combined well throughout and concentrated on an open style of play. The team can look forward to bigger and better things next season.

Our sincere thanks go to our coach, Mr. Paling, for his constant encouragement and devotion.

Coach: Mr. Free.

The 14Bs were High's most successful team this year, being undefeated premiers in both the G.P.S. and C.H.S. competitions. Not only were they successful in the games, but each player enjoyed the season as a fine team spirit developed.

Particularly impressive was the defensive record of the team as their line was only crossed twice during the whole G.P.S. season while they themselves scored many fine tries playing good, open football.

The team's thanks go to the coach, Mr. Free, who built the team into the impressive and formidable combination they were.

Coaches: David Mitchell, Doug Blomberg, Jim Firbank.

The team started the season well with convincing wins in all preseason games and a 14-3 win in the opening G.P.S. game against Grammar. However, this success was not to continue and although a couple of games were close-fought, the team could not manage to win any more games.

The forwards often performed extremely well in the set play; the Coaches: Phil Cullen, John Jones, Derek Luxford.

Although success did not cross the path of the 14Ds, they nevertheless had an enjoyable season. Despite a very small pack and a slow back line, the team consistently fought on till the final whistle. One of the pleasing points of the season was the players' willingness to put into practice all they had mastered during training sessions. Thus by the end of the season the team was combining well in defence, resulting in fine tackling by the whole team, and excellent rucking by the pack.

The team's thanks are extended to the coaches Derek Luxford, Phillip Cullen and John Jones for the time they devoted.

This year match inexperience was the main enemy of 13As in the G.P.S. competition. Teamwork between players was much better than expected for their first season together. Although they were the smallest team they countered this with speed.

In the C.H.S. competition it was a different story with only one team able to beat them. Our 13A team was one of the biggest teams in this competition. This was reflected in high scores against all but Randwick.

Our thanks are extended to coaches Mr. Veness and Mr. Fielding who have welded us into a promising combination for the future.

experience. However, as the season developed, the teamwork and team spirit did too.

During the season the team was lucky to have two devoted coaches, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Veness, as well as many outstanding players such as Robert Hughes, Gary Cruikshank and Bradley Jelfs. Also worthy of note were the great improvements seen in prop-forward David Dellamata and half-back Van Moulis.

Although smaller in size than most G.P.S. sides the 13Cs had a fair season. At the start of the competition the team settled down very well and it was thought that it might go very close to winning the competition. However, the team did not live up to these expectations, winning only three games and drawing one.

The team's thanks are extended to John Mitchell and Stephen Reid whose coaching was a benefit to all.

Coaches: David Campbell and Ron Madden.

Although the 13Ds this year did not have much success there was a great improvement over the season.

The most impressive member of the team was Brenton Kermode who displayed some potential and led the team most capably. Mention must also be made of Paul Murray, Ross McPherson, Ian Whan, Gary Armstrong and Alan Spira who tried hard throughout.

The team's thanks are extended to the two patient coaches, David Campbell and Ron Madden.

12A & 12B XVs

12A XV:

Team: E. Zemancheff (capt.), J. Bourke, R. Brown, P. Cheslyn, G. Crawford, W. Dunne, I. Fagg, B. Gibbons, P. Harper, C. Jones, W. Knock, H. Lazar, R. Mills, S. Nall, K. O'Brien, D. Pauling, P. Simmons, R. Turnbull, R. Whitehead, C. Williams, G. Young.

12B XV:

Team: D. Pauling (capt.), J. Bourke, G. Crawford, W. Dixon, W. Dunne, I. Fagg, W. Flicker, P. Gerber, B. Gibbons, C. Jones, H. Lazar, B. Mercer, M. Morgan, K. O'Brien, R. O'Connor, G. Papaellinos, B. Priestly, R. Reid, S. Vagg, C. Whitehead, G. Young.

Coach: Mr. Anderson.

Inexperience accounted for many of the 12A's early defeats. As the season progressed improvement was dramatic and this was displayed in their win against King's, their draw against Grammar and a narrow loss to competition leaders, Shore.

Many of the 12As also played for the 12Bs. This team's enthusiasm made up for their inexperience. Although they did not play the earlier games they managed to win four, defeating the best of the opposition.

It would be unfair to give mention to any individual players as they all gave sterling performances. With the players now having a season's experience behind them, we can look forward to a great deal of success in the 13 year teams in 1968.

Both of the teams would like to express their appreciation of their dedicated coach, Mr. Anderson who gave much valuable time in teaching the boys the fundamentals of teamwork and sportsmanship.

WEIGHTLIFTING

This year saw the arrival of a new sport at Sydney High. A small group of boys took part in the N.S.W. C.H.S. Weightlifting Championships. Unfortunately the date of the championships coincided with the Union match against Scots and most lifters were unavailable. The team was nevertheless fairly successful coming 3rd in the school point score and gaining a first place in the Bantamweight Division and a second in the Featherweight Division. All the lifters performed in a manner that was a credit to the school as well as to themselves.

C.H.S. State Championships

Bantamweight: M. Livingston, 1st.

Featherweight: R. Madden, 2nd; D. Joffe, 4th.

Lightweight: S. Giardina, 6th.

ROWING

In terms of results, the 1966-67 rowing season has been one of disappointment. In the Penrith competition, the crews failed to gain a place, although in distance from winning crews Sydney High was close enough in all races to deserve commendation. Rather than a reflection of ability and determination, all connected with this season's rowing will agree that crews, or individual members, were racing out of their class. With greater depth in our crews, allowing a wider selection of rowers, I feel the coming season will prove much more successful.

Junior rowing, to the Eighth IV showed every indication of giving some of this much needed depth. New enrolments in August-September of this year, although still not as full as could be hoped, in respect of senior boys, is encouraging. From the fine response of junior boys there is every confidence that in two or three years the school will return to its place as a leader in the G.P.S. competition.

I would like to record on behalf of all rowers sincere appreciation of the work of the senior coaches: Dr. E. O. Longley, Mr. G. F. Cheers, Mr. W. B. Haymet, Mr. R. Woodham, and Mr. R. Walker; and to the junior coaches: Mr. P. Lardner-Smith and Mr. R. MacDonald. A very special word of thanks must go to Col. D. J. Duffy for his assistance to Dr. Longley, his coaching of junior crews and above all for the continual time-consuming effort he made as Camp Co-ordinator.

This season we welcome Dr. Longley as coach of the First VIII and Mr. Cheers as coach of the Second VIII. The Second VIII will race at Penrith in a new race, and is sure to attract great interest. New coaches have been appointed for the other Penrith crews. Mr. Neil Smith is to coach the First and Second fours and Mr. Alan Simons the Third and Fourth fours. Both these gentlemen are ex-High School rowers and experienced Club rowers and coaches. We are grateful for their offers and trust they have an enjoyable and successful season.

Changes in the boatshed for the coming season should make conditions more satisfactory for the Penrith crews in their period at camp. The top storey of the shed is being converted into two dormitories and a study area. It is hoped to arrange supervised study when rowers are not actually training, and individual desks and chairs have been provided. The enormous amount of work to be done in making these changes is being carried out by Old Boys and Parents. To them we express our sincere thanks.

K. E. WHEELER,

Rowing Master.

The season started early for the Eight and by August serious training had commenced. Dr. Longley concentrated on conditioning the crew at this stage rather than teaching technique in the hope of winning a regatta in the pre-Christmas season. The Eight was functioning smoothly when it entered its first regatta, but failed by six feet to beat the unconquered Sydney Rowing Club crew. At the two following regattas the Eight could once again only manage second place, but by the end of December coach and crew were quietly confident of High's chances in the Head of the River.

After a break of three weeks, training recommenced, but in a short time two members of the crew relinquished their position. P. Bull and C. Whelan, a new rower, were placed in the Bow and Two seats. Dr. Longley decided not to enter the crew in any regattas before the Gold Cup, believing that this would give the eight a psychological advantage over the other school crews.

By the time camp had commenced in early February the crew was showing potential. Being only a light combination, rowing technique was of the utmost importance. During March Dr. Longley, being coselector of the N.S.W. Eight for the King's Cup, arranged for High to pace the State crew. After several weeks of tough sprints over 1000 metres, it became apparent that the crew had the technique and now the spirit and determination to win the Penrith race. Because of an extremely high rating of 51 at the beginning of the Gold Cup race, High was beaten into third place by half a length by King's and Shore.

The Eight moved to Penrith still feeling confident. It had trained over 1000 miles during the season, raced over thrity $1\frac{1}{2}$ mile courses, which included a 7 min. 25 sec. effort — 15 seconds faster than the G.P.S. record. Dr. Longley was happy with the inspired rowing produced during the final sessions on the smooth Penrith water.

On the day of the race the wind changed from a tail breeze to a fairly strong headwind just before the race, putting High, Scots and Riverview at a decided disadvantage. For reasons that will never be definitely known the stroke was thrown from the shell about ½ mile from the finishing line. The seven man crew put up a gallant effort and finished seventh.

Throughout the season the crew members were close friends in and out of the boat and it was this spirit of friendship that made it a most enjoyable camp. Thanks go to Dr. Longley for the time and effort he devoted to the crew and for making the season the best yet experienced by the boys. Thanks also to Colonel D. J. Duffy for his valuable assistance as Camp Co-ordinator and launch operator.

The crew would also like to congratulate the King's School on their very well rowed win.

FIRST IV

D. Mackenzie (bow), C. Jackson (2), J. Puckeridge (3), R. Whittle (stroke), D. Paling (cox).

Coach: Mr. G. Cheers.

The crew was selected in the last week of the summer vacation and in the second week of First Term moved into the rowing camp at Abbotsford to begin serious training. Don Mackenzie, a first year rower, was originally selected in the 3 seat, while Jeff Puckeridge was selected in the bow. The crew did not enter any regattas until relatively late in the season and after a poor performance in the first regatta, Don Mackenzie changed places. The performance of the crew in the following regattas improved markedly. At the Riverview regatta we were able to finish third and were unfortunate, at the G.P.S. regatta, in being beaten out of a place by one foot. The crew would like to thank our coach Mr. G. Cheers for the time and effort he devoted to us and to assure him that he made our rowing season a thoroughly enjoyable one.

Racing record of the First IV:

Riverview Regatta: School First IV-3rd.

G.P.S. Regatta: 4th.

SECOND IV

P. Paling (bow), R. Foley (2), G. Cheers (3), D. Whyte (stroke), N. Madden (cox).

Coach: Mr. G. Cheers.

This crew was finalised early in February after the delayed selection of the VIII. Under the expert coaching of Mr. Gordon Cheers this very light crew began to shape up quite well. The crew raced in only three regattas during the season prior to Penrith.

The season, although not highly successful, was a most enjoyable one for all members of the crew. The crew are very grateful to Mr. Cheers for his untiring efforts.

Racing record of the Second IV:

Newington Invitation: 3rd. C.H.S. Regatta: 5th. University Regatta: 3rd. Riverview Regatta: 4th.

THIRD IV

M. Chapman (bow), R. Ayton (2), W. Finnerty (3), D. Luxford (stroke), G. Taylor (cox).

Coach: Mr. W. B. Haymet.

Training began early this season for the Third IV, when an initial crew was chosen in mid October. At camp, although two new rowers were included, the Third IV was soon producing some very fine training rows.

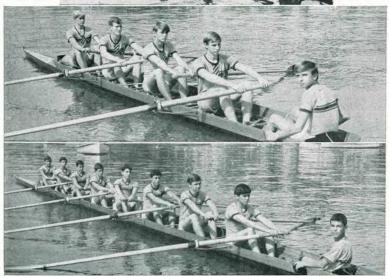

We would like to express our deep gratitude to coach Mr. Haymet for giving his time and energies to his old school's rowing effort. Our only regret after the wonderful season is that we could not perform better.

FOURTH IV

S. Murchie (bow), A. Lawrence (2), H. Bolling (3), P. Cullen (stroke), G. Barr (cox).

Coaches: Mr. R. L. Woodham and Mr. R. G. Walker.

The Fourth IV was selected early in November, and was able to enter in a club regatta after three weeks' training. After the Christmas holidays three changes were necessary and the crew soon settled down to rigorous preparation.

The season was an enjoyable one, thanks largely to the untiring efforts and enthusiasm of our coaches Ross Woodham and Bob Walker, two Old Boys who gave up their valuable time to their old school.

Racing record of the Fourth IV:

Leichhardt Regatta: Novice IV: 4th. Metropolitan Regatta: C.H.S. IV: 2nd. University Regatta: 1st.

Coach: Col. D. J. Duffy.

The Junior VIII was picked relatively late in the season, owing to alterations in the senior crews. The crew managed to combine well although they had only been together for a short time. Early club regattas proved unsuccessful, but as the season progressed the crew achieved greater success. At the Riverview Regatta the crew performed well and qualified for the final, where it was unplaced.

The crew would like to thank our coach for his devoted coaching throughout the season.

Racing record of the Junior VIII:

Metropolitan Regatta: 3rd. Riverview Regatta: 5th.

FIFTH IV

J. Brabant (bow), T. Booler (2), W. Foley (3), E. Morgan (stroke), I. Madden (cox).

Coach: Col. D. J. Duffy.

The crew was finalised after the Christmas break, and settled down to a hard training schedule. It was fortunate for them that their coach, Colonel Duffy, also trained the Junior VIII, as this advanced competition in training rows, showed out in performances at regattas. The crew was also fortunate to be able to use the new tub four, the "Phil Madden", and from twelve starts in the season, the boat had ten wins.

Coach: Mr. P. Lardner-Smith.

The Sixth IV was formed early in the season and though very light (averaging below nine stone per man) showed good promise and the will to work.

With regattas approaching, the crew swung into a gruelling training programme under the coach Peter Lardner-Smith and did more courses than any other junior crew.

Having gained several places in earlier regattas the Sixths won the final at Haberfield Regatta.

To their coach, Peter Lardner-Smith, go the crew members' sincere thanks for a really enjoyable season.

Racing record of the Sixth IV:

Coach: Mr. R. McDonald.

As it was the first year of rowing for all the members of the Seventh IV we were all very keen and looked forward to the season with some hope of winning the Riverview Regatta. We did do reasonably well in minor regattas and seemed set for victory at Riverview, but luck was not with us and we had to be content with second place to a crew we had already beaten twice in the same season.

The crew would like to thank our coach Mr. R. McDonald for making the season a very enjoyable and successful one.

EIGHTH IV

B. Voyages (bow), B. Ramsay (2), P. Flambas (3), M. Livingston (stroke), S. O'Dwyer (cox).

Coach: Mr. P. Lardner-Smith.

This year the two tub pairs, 1st (Livingston, Flambas) and 2nd (Ramsay, Voyages) who were coxed by Robert Lambert, combined half way through the season to form the Eighth IV. As tub pairs both crews rowed well against Homebush's "split-up" first four, and were placed third twice. As a four we had moderate success but on one occasion were split up again while the stroke rowed bow for the Sixth IV. At the St. Ignatius Regatta we were placed 3rd in our heat. Our thanks go to our coach, Peter Lardner-Smith, for his continuing patience and effort.

BASKETBALL

This has been a year of rebuilding in basketball. Last year's senior teams were made up almost entirely of final year pupils; consequently younger or inexperienced players have had to take their place. It says much for the enthusiasm and team spirit of the players that the First Grade is so far undefeated and that all teams have performed creditably. Training sessions have been very well attended and team captains have shown a fine sense of responsibility. Junior teams are fortunate in having gained an experienced coach in Mr. Dawkins, whose knowledge of basketball has proved invaluable.

FIRST GRADE

Team: R. Furness (capt.), W. Evans (vice-capt.), C. Lewis, C. Kiriazis, P. Paitry, I. Hamblen, B. Jakeman.

Coach: Mr. L. Ross.

First Grade has moulded itself into a very keen combination, despite the comparative youth and inexperience of the team as compared with previous years. For this, much credit must go to their captain, Robert Furness, whose leadership, enthusiasm and general play have been an inspiration to the rest of the team. The team has developed a very tight defence and a methodical style of attack which does not result in high scoring, but which is proving an effective match-winner. The vice-captain, Wayne Evans, is a cool and purposeful player and the drive and power of Paitry, Jakeman and Hamblen and the speed of Kiriazis are important elements in the team's success. The team would like to thank Mr. Ross for his interest and support.

Coach: Mr. L. Ross.

Second Grade has enjoyed a reasonably successful season. During the early matches the team lacked co-ordination, but enthusiastic training sessions and the leadership and drive of the captain, Luciano, have done much to rectify this fault. Particularly pleasing has been the willingness of players to blend their own playing styles into a team effort. It would be unfair to single out individual players except to commend each one individually for a fine team performance. Our thanks to Mr. Ross for the time he has devoted to training the team.

THIRD GRADE

Team: M. Lakeman (capt.), D. Cheetham (vice-capt.), P. Davies, T. Fietz, C. Spencer, R. Alexandrou, W. Blejde, T. Elvy.

Coach: Mr. L. Banbury.

The team is at present undefeated, having beaten both Randwick and South Sydney twice each. Although scores were low, Sydney High were always the better team. With more practise in attack the scores would be more convincing.

Special note of Carl Spencer must be made; in his first year of basketball he has became a very promising centre.

The team plays a very orthodox game of basketball, but there is a lack of understanding between guards and forwards in both attack and defence. If they can improve these points they could do very well.

Thanks must go to Mr. Banbury for the time he has given up to coach us during the season.

15 YEARS

Team: S. Fenton (capt.), D. Joffe, K. Howland, A. Price, M. Green, N. Samios, P. Uren, T. Macdonald, C. Woods.

Coach: Mr. L. Banbury.

The team, which is composed mainly of players from last years 14 Years team, settled down very soon to play as a combination. It began the season well defeating Randwick twice in very exciting games. It continued playing quite well and was unlucky to lose to Newtown and South Sydney. The players' enthusiasm and team spirit have reflected on their play, thus making the season very enjoyable.

Top scorers in the team were David Joffe, Stephen Fenton and Kim Howland.

The team would like to thank Mr. Banbury for the assistance and attention which he has given to them throughout the season.

13 YEARS & 14 YEARS

13 YEARS:

Team: G. Maloney (capt.), M. Williams, R. Howell, R. Humphries, W. Verus, T. Robitnytskyj, G. Reynolds, L. Sioux, A. Sheldon, J. Cramer.

Coach: Mr. Dawkins.

Both these teams performed extremely well in the first term. Some changes occurred in the 3rd term, but if the general progress shown is continued, the first teams will have a strong source of excellent players to choose from in the years to come.

First Grade: W. Clayton (capt.), B. Jakeman, R. Loon, G. Odze.

Second Grade: N. Smalley (capt.), R. Walker, N. Killion, P. Warnecke, I. Dickings (reserve).

Coach: Mr. K. Cooper.

During this season, First Grade was convincing in all winning matches and was defeated only once by the strong Randwick team. However, out of the total of fourteen matches, five were washed out and there were two byes. First Grade won five of the remaining matches and were unfortunate enough, together with Second Grade, to have to forfeit one match owing to confusion over grounds.

Second Grade fared similarly, winning five matches and losing one. Vaucluse and High were very evenly matched in the first round, with High running out eventual winners by two games.

Thanks must go to Mr. Cooper who spent much time arranging practice for byes and on wet days when competition was not possible.

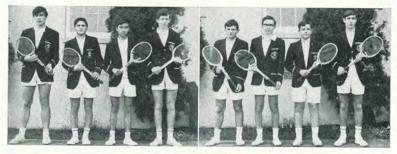

Third Grade: A. Price (capt.), J. Ehrlich, W. Lewis, R. Juchau.

Though two of the team were playing their first school competition, results were very pleasing. The team lost the first two matches but recovered to go through the rest of the competition undefeated. Considerable interest was displayed throughout the season, and the team should prove a good combination in future years.

Fourth Grade: A. Williamson (capt.), J. Weinstein, P. Wertheim, A. Sheldon, A. Hollington (reserve).

This was the first school competition for all players. The results were indicative of mixed luck, but throughout the competition the boys showed great enthusiasm and should develop into a sound combination for future years.

All teams thank Mr. Cooper for the time and effort he put into the coaching and organisation of matches.

WATER POLO

This season ends on an unusually optimistic note for water polo. As usual we have the regular number of "improved players" leaving for rowing at a time when their presence is most needed; however, in 1967 things aren't quite as drastic as in previous years.

The training programme and the recruiting of water polo players from First Form, which started several years ago thanks to the enthusiasm of Mr. Wegener, is now paying dividends. For the first time in the five years I have been associated with water polo we actually have a surplus of "would-be" players and sufficient numbers to make up for the annual leakage to the rowing camp.

Although near chaos prevailed when the Domain Pool was closed, we have been able to obtain admittance to Bondi, but it did mean that the inclusion of a Fourth Grade side and a consequent extension to this zone's competition had to be forgone, for the present at least.

Probably the greatest asset to water polo 1967 is the arrival of Mr. Fraser on the scene. This has enabled Mr. Wegener to take care of the administration as well as preliminary coaching to those entering the game while Mr. Fraser has undertaken the coaching of First and Second Grades.

Improvement in the standard of water polo is evident from the results and at this stage it seems likely that all three grades may be premiership teams.

Next season should prove even more successful. With only three Sixth Formers leaving, and a small number of Fourth Formers there will no doubt be a glut of prospective players and competition to make a grade side will be high. No longer will water polo be a sport for "shirkers" and "skylarks" who enter the sport merely for the Wednesday "sun-bake" and the occasional competition game. I say this as a word of warning to the few junior players who are not willing to make an effort or undertake regular training.

I can assure such players that water polo as a school sport will only be open to them on these conditions: Firstly that they have proved their ability and keenness. Or, secondly, that they are willing to continue conscientious training in the event of them not making a grade side.

A player's ability, as regards all sports, can only be truly assessed on his attitude and since we have sufficient numbers, those who wish to remain in the teams will have to show their enthusiasm by attending all training sessions.

All the teams express their thanks to Messrs. Wegener and Fraser and I would personally like to thank Peter O'Hara whose dedication and assistance rendered in organising and coaching has proved invaluable.

Lastly, to the blokes who are playing water polo I wish good luck for the coming season and sincerely hope that the standard and spirit will continue to improve.

Coach: Mr. J. Fraser.

The competition has been somewhat farcical so far this season. Earlier in the year the team played only two competition games, the others having been apparently cancelled due to rain — undoubtedly in fear of the players getting wet.

Despite this lack of competition games and the poor standard of organisation, the standard of play has been very high. In the first of these two games (both against Randwick) the team was unfortunate to lose a hard-fought contest at Bondi. In the second, through superior teamwork and passing, First Grade completely overwhelmed the opposition in a determined display of precision water polo.

With the recommencement of the "competition" the team's first game of this latter half of the season was against Vaucluse. Expecting a hard game (as Vaucluse had two C.H.S. representatives) First Grade was surprised and relieved to find that these two were not playing, and the team ultimately annihilated the opposition 10-0.

It seems highly probable that First Grade will be either Zone Premiers or co-Premiers for 1967.

The side has combined extremely well, with the emphasis on teamwork and accurate passing. This augurs well for the future as the side is quite a young one. The forwards, Peter O'Hara and Lindsay Cotterill, formed an efficient attacking and scoring unit; the halves "Benny" Gilsenan, Ross Day and Graham Dunn, gave the forwards a feast of the ball, with the latter making many quick breaks up the pool; Mick Smith and Les Dunn, the backs, formed a solid defence.

Mick Smith did a fine job as captain and deserves congratulations for his contribution to water polo over the last couple of years. Mick devoted much of his time and energy towards encouraging and recruiting young players — laying the groundwork for future Sydney High School successes.

Last, but by no means least, the team takes this opportunity of thanking Mr. J. Fraser for his invaluable coaching which has greatly benefited the side.

SECOND GRADE

Team: P. Ellis (capt.), T. Coleman, S. Gell, J. Elliot, K. Hickey, J. Field, R. McMahon, S. Martin.

Coach: J. Fraser.

This season Second Grade was very successful, going through all games undefeated despite many upsets to the team. At the beginning of the season, B. Hartwell, R. Buchanan, and M. Fisher were lost to other sports and later Coleman, Gell and Elliot advanced to First Grade. However, their replacements, W. Turnbull, S. Vidal and P. Connell played well, scoring 5 goals between them against Cleveland Street.

Our thanks go to our coach Mr. Fraser for his expert and helpful assistance throughout the season.

THIRD GRADE

Team: S. Vidal (capt.), W. Turnbull (vice-capt.), P. Connell, S. O'Neill, S. Layman, G. James, E. Kritzler, P. Berges, R. Allsop, P. Willcox.

Coach: Mr. C. Wegener.

The team had a fine season and a fair share of wins despite the fact that it was inexperienced. A good combination has been formed in the forwards of W. Turnbull (L.F.), S. O'Neill (C.F.), and P. Connell (R.F.). These boys have trained hard and deserve the many goals they have scored.

Third Grade has a sound backline with a good last line of defence in P. Willcox, the goal-keeper.

The thanks of the team go to Mr. Wegener for the time and effort he has put into our training.

SIR CHARLES McDONALD

SIR CHARLES McDONALD.

From the proud past of Sydney High School have come many distinguished academics, and one such man is Sir Charles McDonald, C.B.E., K.C.S.G., M.B., Ch.M., F.R.A.C.P., F.R.C.P.: a shining example of a successful man in every sphere of life.

Born on the 25th March, 1892 in Newcastle, Sir Charles was a pupil of the Mary Ann St. school from 1907 to 1910, and culminated a very successful school career by becoming the school's first Senior Prefect in 1910, the year in which the prefect system was inaugurated by the Headmaster, John Waterhouse. One of Sir Charles' most vivid memories of the school is the announcement to the assembled school of the names of the prefects.

Perhaps the most significant and permanent impact Sir Charles made on the school was accomplished while at High when he and a friend, Frank Tidswell, decided to establish the school magazine, "The Record". He was therefore the first editor and Frank Tidswell the first manager. "I remember writing the first boyish editorial," said Sir Charles, in recollection. He places emphasis on some form of extra-curricular activity, and this explains his interest in starting the journal.

THE RECORD takes pleasure in continuing the series commenced in 1964 on outstanding Old Boys of Sydney High School.

In his day, sport was necessarily restricted to first and second grade teams; boys were more preoccupied with their achievements in the academic field than with sport. Participation in sport was not compulsory.

Entry to the school at this time was difficult if one wished to avoid paying fees. It was necessary to win one of six State scholarships contested every six months, or one of six bursaries which were subject to a means test. Sir Charles won one of the scholarships. At this time fees were three guineas for each of four terms per year. This gives an indication of the tremendous strides secondary education has taken in the past fifty years.

Debating is another activity Sir Charles regards as important in school life. He debated and took part in mock trials at High and while he was attending the University, he used to debate against the boys in his old school. In his own words "not only is debating important to permit young people to learn to make an impressive speech, but it is also important because of the thinking required for its preparation".

Upon leaving school he intended doing law, but a last minute change of mind turned his fancy to medicine, and it is here Sir Charles has made a profound impression on the profession. His devotion to his work has been an inspiration to those who have worked with him, or in any way come into contact with him. He has also published a considerable number of articles and addresses on medicine.

During the First World War, Sir Charles served as a Captain in the A.I.F., and he gained the rank of Lt.-Colonel in the A.I.F. during the Second World War.

Following his first army service he returned to his medical career where by all standards he has had an outstanding life. He has held, and continues to hold a number of high and distinguished positions. He has been a Fellow of the Sydney University Senate since 1942 and a member of the Finance Committee since 1943. He was appointed Deputy-Chancellor in 1953-54 and Chancellor in 1964; he is also a member of the Faculty of Medicine.

Between 1950 and 1954 Sir Charles was Censor-in-Chief and from 1954 to 1956 he was President of the Royal Australasian College of Physicians. In addition he is a director of the Royal Prince Alfred Hospital; he is on the N.S.W. Board of Directors of the Union Fidelity Trustee Company of Australia, and is a past director of the M.L.C. Assurance Ltd. and of the Royal North Shore Hospital. He also heads many other organisations, for example, he is President of the Praesidium

Litterarum Humaniorum of Sydney High School. He is Chairman of the Australian Rheumatism Council, of which the Duke of Gloucester is the President and the Governor-General, Lord Casey, the Vice-President.

A true academic, he believes classics play an important part in the foundation and rounding-off of education. A tertiary education he regards as particularly important because of the need for graduates of all faculties in a growing country like Australia.

Having made medicine his career, and having come into contact with many other professions in his position at the University, Sir Charles regards medicine as possibly the most rewarding and satisfying career a person can undertake, because of the doctor's ability to do a lot of good quietly and unobtrusively, out of the public eye. For community service, medicine is the best career to undertake. He advises anyone wishing to pursue a career in medicine to preserve the keenness of his mind and above all to be ever tolerant of others and never to lose patience with the job in hand.

Reflecting on his school days Sir Charles regards teaching as one of the great professions. He remembers vividly and gratefully his old headmaster, John Waterhouse, and G. C. Saxby, one of his mathematics teachers whom he quotes as an example of a good teacher. "A good teacher," he says, "is one who teaches in a bright and interesting manner. Boys sum up their teachers and hold the good ones dear in their memory; they are appreciative of those who taught them well. A teacher who loves his subject and teaches it conscientiously is always respected."

As a climax to an outstanding career, Sir Charles who, had been created a Commander of the British Empire in 1956, received a Papal Knighthood from the late Pope John in 1960 and was knighted by the Queen in 1962.

Not surprisingly he is proud of his association with Sydney High, in this respect being like the present Governor, Sir Roden Cutler, who once said "Sir Charles and I both went to the same good school". He believes that it is important for a man to have interests other than his career so as to broaden his mind. He is grateful to the school for teaching him to study a number of subjects, not as a task but as a pleasure. It is important to take an interest in movements which are developed to help other people, but one's first duty is to one's profession.

Sir Charles is a staunch believer in the maintenance of a connection between Old Boys and their school. He is himself a past President of the Old Boys' Union after being on the Council for many years.

A man should have pride in his school and Sydney High School is proud that a man who has made such a deep impact on the community should have passed through its portals.

Sir Charles was interviewed by J. Brown, M. Middleton and R. Walker, Fifth Form.

High Honours

ARTHUR FREDERICK DEER

Arthur Frederick Deer was born in the American State of Nebraska in June, 1910. Today he holds a key position in the Mutual Life and Citizens' Assurance Co. Ltd., one of Australia's most important companies in the assurance field. Mr. Deer, as a leading business man, holds many forceful views on matters of world-wide and local importance.

The foundation of Frederick Deer's later success was first laid at Manly Public School. He then went on to two and a half years schooling in Wellington, N.Z., later returning to Manly. His secondary education began at Cleveland Street Intermediate High and was completed at Sydney High School. While at High Mr. Deer played in the Second XV, and was among those who watched High win the Head of the River on the first two occasions it competed. His Leaving Certificate result clearly illustrates his capabilities and leanings. He gained First Class Honours in Modern History, Second Class Honours in English and B's in Latin, French, Maths. I and Maths. II.

Mr. Deer then attended Sydney University where he studied Arts. In 1930, after gaining his Bachelor of Arts degree, he joined the M.L.C. He graduated in Law in 1934 and was admitted to the Bar of New South Wales in the same year. By 1943 he was appointed Manager of the South Australian Branch of the M.L.C. Transferred to the Head Office in 1946, he became Assistant General Manager in 1954. He rose to the position of General Manager of the Company in 1955 and in 1956 he was appointed a Director.

Mr. Deer has played a part in many varied aspects of community life; nevertheless he found the time, on the way, to gain an Economics degree. In 1959 he became a Fellow of the Senate of the University of Sydney and was Chairman of the Finance Committee the following year. In 1964 he became a member of the Executive Committee of the Council on New Guinea Affairs. He is a Member of the Australian Institute for Aboriginal Studies, an organisation concerned with the anthropological background of Australia's original inhabitants, and is also Honorary Treasurer of the Australian Rheumatism Council.

At present he is the President of the S.H.S. Old Boys' Union, an organisation which, as we all konw, plays a large part in assisting the school in so many ways.

Mr. Deer believes that education is of paramount importance in today's society; although a great deal of emphasis is placed on science, the humanities should not be neglected; our English language, for example, is a beautiful and necessary means of communication. Advances in technology lead to more leisure, but man's mind must be educated, not merely trained, to make full use of this. Indeed, so important is this understanding of the world around us that it would greatly benefit High School students who do not have History and Geography in their curriculums to do extra reading in these areas.

Evergrowing opportunities in his own field of insurance for boys with the High School Certificate are envisaged by Mr. Deer, particularly University Graduates in Law, Science and Economics. The urgent demand for actuaries gives one small example in this field. Such careers, Mr. Deer believes, gives men and women the satisfaction comparable to that from other professions in that they are performing a vital and beneficial service to the community.

Better educational facilities are an urgent necessity Mr. Deer pointed out; but these could only be achieved if the community were prepared to go without other things; however, it is difficult to forsee a government with the political courage to take such a stand for it could soon find itself out of office.

Mr. Deer stressed that Australia is a force in South East Asia and that it must play an increasingly significant part in this area. Many little known projects are already helping to cement friendly relations. Australia must realise its unique advantages gained from its isolation from the major centres of the world. It must be remembered that Asia still looks on Australia with some envy and it is hoped that the ever increasing number of exchange students will heal this.

Australia, Mr. Deer feels, can also do a tremendous amount for New Guinea, even though it is already doing a great deal; it would be a tragedy if New Guinea were forced into independence too soon. The transition from a large multifarious number of primitive races to an independent and integrated nation will be a slow, gradual process, but it will come. He said that on the whole the indigenous population appreciate what Australia is doing for them, and feel that continued contact with this country can do nothing but good.

To meet Mr. Deer is to realise the vast scope of significant interests and activities that can open out to a business man and a scholar. But then, it is the man that counts. We are proud that such a man was and is today associated with Sydney High School.

Mr. Deer was interviewed by D. Blomberg, M. Engelman and D. Mitchell, Fifth Form.

THE SUICIDE

It was just a normal bridge on a normal day,
And I suppose he was just a normal man, perhaps not.
Anyway he was over the rail by now and onto the ledge.
His mother was there, and his wife, or girlfriend,
It doesn't matter,
And, of course, the police; oh, and a priest . . . and we.

I suppose there must have been a hundred or so in the crowd by now. I looked around.

I saw no familiar faces and yet I recognised them all.

That man, the one in the grey suit, wearing his mask of misery.

Him I knew.

He seldom thought, He didn't like to, it upset his prejudices. At least the man on the rail had thought,
At least he offered some solution.
For him, the step into oblivion would offer relief from the Periodic tightrope skipping of life.

There was a woman behnd me, a spinster, Emburdened by the leaden arms of desiccated chastity. She was sick.

I looked at him, a dejected figure,
His gullies of summer had long given way to the torrents of winter,
His thoughts were bare and defenceless.
And then I thought of myself on top of that rail,
And of loneliness, not solitude, but loneliness.
And then I had to turn away,
Because I knew that deep in my heart,
I wanted him to jump.

A STORM AT SEA

Soon as our ship reached deep water
No longer was there more land than sea,
Waves everywhere, sky on all sides.
A black storm cloud hovered overhead
Bringing the night and the tempest.
And waves surged in the darkness.
At once the winds throw up the sea and great swells rise.
Scattered, we toss in the flooded expanse;
Clouds envelop daylight and dark night steals the sky,
And fire cleaves the heavens and clouds breakaway
We are thrown off our course and wander over invisible waves.
Even Palinurus, the helmsman, admits he can't discern night and day in the sky,

Nor in mid-wave can he remember the way.
For three full days uncertain with as many starless nights
We drift upon a sombre sea.
On the fourth day, at last, we sighted land,
Viewing mountains and columning smoke in the distance,
Down fall the sails, without delay, up with the oars,
The sailors churn the foam, gliding over a sea incarnadine.

From the "Aeneid" of Vergil.

FOR A HAPPIER LIFE

These are the qualities, O pleasant Martial,
That may make for a happier life:
Wealth is not produced by work but by bequeathing wealth;
A productive field, an eternal hearth;
Never an argument, fine clothes, a peaceful mind;
Delicate strength, a healthy body;
Frankness without folly; equal friends;
A pliant society, simple meals;
A night of sobriety free of troubles;
Sleep that hastens the morning;
Be willing to be what you are and to be content.
Neither fear your final day, nor pray for it.

From the Latin of Martial.

THE WEEKLY TRIP

Eva stepped cautiously out of the snow-clad house into the street. Once a week she would make the dangerous journey to the trusted antique dealer, braving the dreaded Gestapo. Eva, being the youngest of her comrades hiding in the bunker, had been chosen to carry their remaining valuables, one at a time to the dealer, who pawned them in return for food. She knew well the small dog of the dealer, for whenever she entered his house the dealer would say "Go and find Eva's jewels". The dog would always find them, and happily play and lick this well-known visitor.

Eva, a Jewess who looked like an Aryan, stood impatiently at the tram stop, trying her best to appear and act as if she was a Pole. As she peered down the line, searching in vain for the tram, the harsh sound of jackboots pierced her ears. Taking fright, Eva walked quickly through the snow. The German was approaching rapidly; now he was running. Her heart cold with terror, Eva quickened her pace but refrained from breaking into a run. Finally he caught up. "Fraulein", he said, "You have lost your belt". With mumbled thanks she took the proferred belt.

Relieved, Eva boarded the oncoming tram, and settled down for the short trip. She alighted after an uneventful journey, although she almost accepted the ticket, a habit frowned upon by Poles.

Rounding the corner of the wind-swept, snow-covered street, she came upon her canine friend. The dog growled viciously, pushing, shoving and snarling at Eva. She attempted to pass but the dog blocked her way, tearing at her socks. Eva, not wanting to attract unnecessary attention, pondered over this unwanted behaviour and walked away across the flaky snow on the pavement. She decided to return some time later, with the hope that the dog would be gone. However, the dog followed her to the tram stop, making this impossible. Reluctantly she clambered into the tram and returned to her comrades.

The following Monday, no dog appearing to obstruct her way, she entered the inconspicuous home of the dealer. The dog immediately sprang to its feet, but this time in joy. Eva seeing the creature, angrily told the dealer, "We had to go hungry last week. I tried to get here as usual, but your dog wouldn't let me enter. He was fierce and vicious, you would hardly have recognized him."

"Come," the dealer whispered, "for the good Lord's face still shines on your people. Last Monday my house was watched and searched by the Gestapo."

ABSTRACT INFINITY

As I sat there
I had a feeling.
I looked at the ceiling.
I was — I know not where!

Not a well in sight. I stood in the room, Night — no light; The floor? — wood.

I ran, I ran -I went nowhere.
I felt more animal than man.
And yet . . . nothing.

Infernal darkness Never ending I felt starkness — My soul — mending.

Suddenly — a light The smallest flame. Far, far to the right Run — was I game?

I ran, ran, ran,
An eternity but —
The light: small, the same.
Weariness unbearable.

No hunger, pain or thirst. Emptiness Hell could not be worse. No sound — nothing.

Run — was I game? Lord have mercy! Run — frustration. God, is there no mercy?

I ran — ran — ran
But still Nothing
Empty, timesless oblivion.

I run, I run
I run forever,
Towards the almighty
Emptiness that engulfs me.

Finally I am lost.

Lost to everything mortal

Lost to God and things immortal.

I am a speck that

At the very end glows brightly

But then I am dissolved:

Abstract infinity.

THE ACCIDENT

Quavering, he was wheeled in on his chariot of gleaming steel, into the tall, cathedral-like room with its myriad shining implements. Above him, the blood-red ceiling gave a foreboding of what was to come. Around him in the dim, yellow light, the dull, distant murmur of voices sent an icy feeling of terror through his veins. But not for long: darkness was fast removing all his fears as he fell into a deep slumber.

Immediately, the artificial suns poured forth columns of white light to illuminate the spectacle. The stage was set.

For a few seconds the green-clad figures pondered over him. Then, the actors sprang to life. A line was drawn vertically across the shining skin. Slowly and carefully, the surgeon's scalpel made a cut along the line, allowing a viscous crimson liquid to ooze out of the slit. This was wiped up by an already blood-stained sponge. Another slit was made horizontally across the first, forming a cross, the corners of which were lifted back to display the white bone of the skull. The operation had begun.

The grinding sound of metal against bone pervaded the tense atmosphere as the surgeon drilled into the patient's skull. Now came the climax of the operation: the removal of the tumour. Rivulets of sweat rolled down the surgeon's forehead as he dabbed a globule of concentrated sulphuric acid on to the purple growth.

Hardly moving, straining for perfection, the strong steady fingers bent the fragile phial to the delicate task. Suddenly, with a barely audible click, the cruet broke. Concentrated sulphuric acid descended on to the naked brain which dissolved, bubbling and fizzing in a cloud of pungent, yellow fumes.

SELF-CONSTRUCTION

"You'll never guess who I saw the other day — that Professor Hardig."

"Hardig . . . hmm. The name sounds familiar, but I can't quite place it."

"You remember . . . he said that he had found a way of removing one dimension of an object, but when the process was applied, if the thing was a living organism, it was supposed to die a short time after."

"Of course no-one believed him. Then a William Sloane was reported kidnapped and . . ."

"And Hardig confessed to his murder. Yes, now I remember. A stupid way of trying to prove his ideas. Lucky for him they ignored it."

Pause.

"By the way, where did you see him?"

"At the exhibition. The Aldern Art Prize, you know."

"An art-lover, eh?"

"No, a winner."

"Winner! What did he paint?"

"A life-size portrait. Amazing likeness, no wonder he won."

"Who did he do? Anyone special?"

"I suppose you may say so . . . William Sloane."

HAIR SPLITTING

Silken, flaxen, downy hair,
Tossed by wind, scorned by water,
Infused with potions, some deadly
Others so meek —
Centre of her universe, orb of her world
All her life around her head
Each strand tenderly caressed
Only to be cut, ravaged and torn
Up, down, the hair in a maze —
Rollers and cream, beer and shampoo
A curious concoction of the strange and the queer.
For what — a man's delight?

HARDSHIP

The sun beats down, Extracting moisture from the land; Its brutal rays pound, The shifting desert sand.

On the parched outback plains, Drought and death are synonyms; The farmers pray for rains, But curse the flood's sins.

When a vivid flash of lightning, Streaks across the sky; And the dull roar of thunder, Sounds on high.

When the dark cloudbanks threaten, To burst the bulging dams, Oh how the farmers curse the rains, Which fall upon their lands.

Why must nature alternate Between such extremes: The parching, withering, desolate fate, The overflowing streams?

D. CLARK, 3A

FACT OR FICTION

Over a million light years away the creatures on the other planet watched with interest the formation of the new planet, the new Earth. It was forming in a very useful place, nearly mid-way between two of their outer stellar stations. When the exploding, whirling gases had cooled it would form an excellent way station. But until then they would have to wait.

Hundreds of years passed. The scientists had kept a close check on the new planet, noting figures on surface heat, chemicals present, solar energy, etc. It was now considered, by the Most High Authority, that the planet was ready for development. The orders were given and the scientists prepared the essential ingredients. Finally, after many years work, of storing and stock piling, the great stellar freighters were loaded and they set out to prepare the way for habitation, not by the people themselves, but by robots, made in their image, that could be controlled and guided in their actions.

After the cooling of the surface of the planet, the surrounding gases cooled and condensed, falling on the still warm surface. It had warped and split, releasing fresh molten material, which had, in turn, been cooled. Great sections of the area had been forced skywards, others had been warped into great crevasses and gullies, thousands of feet deep. The surface of the planet was stark and naked, and it was quiet, save for the periodic roar of escaping gas and the crackling beat of the acid falling from the sky.

Then the sky lit up. They were here. The stellar ships had arrived. They were up above, spraying the clouds with their chemicals and slowly the acid turned to water. Days later, they had completely encircled the planet, twice, to make sure all the cloud area had been covered. A drone ship was now sent down through the cloud, automatically controlled, to test conditions. Its report was favourable and so the people at last landed on the Earth.

It took nearly another half a century to complete all the work but at last it was finished. There were large areas of fertile soils, there were trees and grass; the crevasses and gullies were full of clear, pure water, the sun was warm and the air was pure. All was ready.

Orders were received from the Most High Authority to make the two robots. It was very delicate work as everything had to be fashioned exactly and after a time the scientists stood back and surveyed their work. Before them stood two perfect likenesses of their own kind but each was different from the other. One was male and one was female. This kind of robot would be able to reproduce their own kind and thus save the scientists a lot of difficult work. They had four external protrusions which would allow them to travel and work. Two were called arms (these being the upper and working protrusions), the other two were called legs. Their memory bank, controlling unit and guiding and communicating sensors were located in a bulge on top of the main body.

The robots were now activated. Their memory banks were filled with the knowledge of how they came to be there, how they were made and what was useful to them as far as energy material was concerned. The scientists now only had to wait another year. In that time reproduction was accomplished successfully and after they had checked the new generation for faults; finding none, the scientists boarded the stellar ships and left for their home planet. Control was now coming from there.

For hundreds of years the People passed back and forth through their way station. The robots served well and it seemed that the plan was running smoothly.

One day, an impulse was received by the home planet that should not have been received. A mutation had occured, something that the scientists had never thought would happen. One of the robots had a will of its own. It could not be controlled. A special ship was sent off from the home planet immediately but it took some time to reach the Earth. By that time the mutation had reproduced in quantity and these had changed a good deal of the others and they met the arriving ship with force. The home planet had lost control of Earth.

The People landed in small bunches on isolated areas and made another lot of robots that they thought would destroy the first series. The Earthlings called them dinosaurs. Some did achieve their purpose but mostly they were hastily built and faults soon occured. The dinosaurs turned on each other and before long destroyed themselves.

Seeing direct action was useless, the People tried other methods. They brought a great fleet of stellar ships to the vicinity of Earth and tried to upset the balance of the seasons. The ice advanced down the face of the Earth but did not destroy the robots. So now the people could only hope that the Earthlings would develop into a good, peaceful race and as they could influence but not control them, they would try to help the Earthlings to help each other.

At one stage the Earthlings were nearly destroyed quite naturally. The people saw the emergence of a great storm and tried to warn the Earthlings but they would not listen, except a group led by an Earthling who (Earthlings having given themselves names) was called Noah. These built a very large boat, loaded in as many of the animals, male and female, inhabiting the Earth as they could and were thus saved when the great flood occured. After this the People did not try to take over again but let the Earthlings go their own way.

Years passed and the Earthling population grew. The People tried to guide them as wisely as they could but the amount of control became less and less. The Earthlings developed emotions. They came to know love, but they also come to know hate. Brotherhood and hap iness came, as did lust and greed.

Most of this story took place thousands of years ago (the Earthlings, in due course, had developed a time scale). The Earthlings expanded over the face of the Earth. Their outer skin became white or dark, according to the region. They warred and they made peace. Men (as the Earthlings call themselves) have begun to reach for the stars.

Think! More and more frequently sightings have been reported of U.F.O.'s. Things happen that defy explanation. Are we still, to some extent, controlled or guided by the People? Do they protect us? Do they still watch over us from their stellar ships, visiting but not landing? And will we, one day, come face to face with our makers?

SYNCHRONIZED SOCIETY

Synthetic light pervades the air; Slow creatures move quickly, Shattering the foundations of Man, Slinking away.

Vast spaces of death, Occupy the many spheres of Life; And destroy them with their weight, That drowns thought.

Gentle wind shatters my face, Irrelevant time is so important, I feel no pain of nature, Only the growing agony of the Future.

THE CONFLICT

Suddenly I found myself surrounded by an amorphous mass of humanity. The hostile mob was going mad, jeering, swearing. I tried to convince myself I only had about fifty yards to run till I'd be safe. I saw a gap and ran. Forty yards to safety. I felt a hard crack on my head and stopped — dazed momentarily. I looked around terrified, noticed an opening. I sprinted, then — thud — I was grounded. I picked myself up. My heart could hardly beat. I noticed another gap in the ferocious mob. I ran — blocked again.

The mob was wilder and more hysterical than ever. Only thirty yards to safety now. I scrambled through another gap, hysterically cursing myself.

Why did I have to become a soccer referee?

THE CONQUEROR

The Spaniard in his shining array, Plumed helmet, vest and shining sword, Strikes here, strikes there, a dying cry. The conqueror is King of all. His subjects cower, his soldiers proud Of a master bold and brave, With an iron hand he controls the land With whip and sword he rules his slaves.

A whisper here, a whisper there,
A plot is now unfolding,
A plot full of hate and death,
A plot full of foreboding.
A traitor in the conqueror's horde,
A man with a lust for money,
Supplies the weapons for young and old,
Arms for the people's uprising.

The attack begins, the guards are dead,
The palace is captured by men,
Whose broken spirits have been restored
By the lust for sweet revenge.
The conqueror springs in anguished sweat,
He is now faced by the mob.
The lunge is made, the tyrant falls,
The man once bold and strong
Who ruled the land with an iron hand
Is dead while life goes on.

YAHOOS

A million years have passed away Another time, another day; Some things rebuilt, some destroyed Some are waste, some are void A little knowledge here and there, A little cheating everywhere.

New discoveries every day, New temptations in the way To revive or just survive? It doesn't matter what you do, Just stay alive and live for you.

You're as puny as can be Still you claim some dignity, Yahoos for evermore? Pique yourselves with vanity, For you disgust me!

THE BUBBLE

You can hear it in the early morning.

A living thing. Discarded by day.

Like an owl;

Only at night.

It runs at the windows, And bounces off

With a sound like the rustle of grass,

Like rain on wet roads, Like dirt on a coffin-lid.

Its breath steams up the windows,

And its tears lie on the morning ground.

It'll wander the earth 'til someone stops talking.

It's us, you know.

You and me.

It's where our thoughts go when we rest.

And, I think, our souls.

But it's only the air beating on our ear-drums;

Not the earth beating on our consciences.

RESURRECTION

The savage sun burns down on a tortured, dry earth. Spreading its legacy, famine and death.

Death to the horses, the cattle and sheep,

Death and decay to the moistureless grain,

Loss and privation to men in its harshness.

But the sky darkens, the lofty clouds gather, The discord of storm is a music to farmers, All living creatures rejoice at the coming, Of hope and plenty A new life arisen from loss and despair.

AYER'S ROCK

It's a barren land,
Twisted and contorted.
Yet, to some,
It does hold beauty,
Poetic beauty, carved in stone,
Ayer's Rock, alone
Withstanding Nature's mighty force.
In the centre it is the source
Of legends tall and legends true,
Red against the sky of blue.
Stark and naked against the sky,
The Red Heart will never die.

WAR

The blue-pie bay was still and full, Twilight silky; willows weeping. The crippled man gazing deeply, At cruel star-pricks in water dull.

Like some queer marionette, he lay;
A God-child's plaything,
Limbs twisted, bent; heart rent,
Sorrow-spilled and gushing, life oozing
Crushed.

Nineteen years of nurturing, maturing Were dripping, flowing into the blue-pie bay.

NEW ZEALAND DIARY

At last the day of our departure arrived and, reluctantly absenting ourselves from the last day of school, we took off from Mascot after restrained farewells.

We arrived in Wellington at 6 p.m. and were greeted by a band of students from Mana College, who gave a recital of Waltzing Matilda. There we boarded a bus which we had hired for the rest of our stay, and were transported to Titalie Bay — a satellite city of Wellington, where we were introduced to our billets.

The next four days were occupied almost entirely with arduous practice. However, we did manage to explore the city during our breaks for lunch and tea. The weather was bitterly cold and so windy that many of us were seriously contemplating the purchase of motor-cycle goggles just to walk along the streets. Most of the buildings are of wood (the tallest were only about five stories high); their most predominant feature is an abundance of fire-escapes into the main streets. The few masonry building sported ugly cracks as a result of earth tremors.

During our stay we found that N.Z. is closely linked to Britain in tradition and customs right down to a British accent and police uniforms.

Between sight-seeing and practising we did manage to participate in the competition.

On Monday morning, early, we set out on a tour by bus, to Auckland via Rotarua. Throughout the duration of the trip we were fascinated by the lush green vegetation which carpeted the land. The only brown patch on this carpet is the Desert of which every New Zealander is immensely proud. It is a grass-covered, treeless plain which is blanketed in snow for half of the year. In fact it was snowing while we traversed it.

Rotarua gave us a warmer reception though — it being the thermal wonderland of the country. Having arrived there at 6.00 p.m. we were immediately whisked off to waiting meals by our billets. The next morning we were taken on a tour of such places of interest as: Mount Tarawera, which erupted in 1886, spewing forth lava to a vast height and killing 34 people; Fairy Springs, where the hundreds of huge rainbow trout are tame enough to be hand fed and finally, the thermal region: a collection of geysers, boiling mud pools, and smoking earth, situated beside a restored Maori village. That afternoon we marched through the city's streets to give a recital at the Town Hall.

We found the topography between here and Auckland, unlike the southern part of the island which was rugged and mountainous, to be reminiscent of the western slopes of N.S.W. Also, for the whole length of the island we remarked on the well-mown state of the grass adorning all populated and public areas — apparently the Moas have not really passed into extinction.

Again we reached our destination after dark, and again billeted, this time with the Mt. Raskill Band. The next morning, Wednesday, we toured the city and its environs, and were surprised to find it a small replica of Sydney, even down to a poor imitation of the Harbour Bridge.

A unique factor, however, is an aboundance of extinct volcano cones. some of whose craters have been remodelled and turned into reservoirs — an idea for eliminating eye-sores which certainly holds water.

On Thursday morning at 8.00 a.m. Sydney time we boarded a Qantas V-jet and headed back for the mainland.

THE MATCH

The ball was kicked to such a height
That it almost flew quite out of sight;
The opposition caught the ball
And forward rushed to break the score.
I rushed forth to bring him down
But landed with my face to the ground;
Onward he ran 'til the goal was near
And he dived for the post regardless of fear.

The whistle had gone for the end of half-time We were all in position and ready to climb. Our team gained possession and started to pass From right-wing to centre the ball moved fast. All of a sudden our winger hit ground And the mud began to fly all round The whistle was blown and a scrum took place. The half-back held the ball by the lace And quickly threw it into the pack. The ball emerged between boots at the back And we took to play once again as before. The crowd all around commenced to roar As we pushed them back a little more. Finally we reached that far white line And every eye was following mine As the ball was passed and the backs moved in fast And with a fierce lunge we evened the score.

We had just kicked the ball
And they gained possession
But we tackled them low
In quick succession
And once again we reached that line
And we scored a try in the "nick" of time.
The buzzer was heard and we let out a cry,
As the opposite team heaved a long sigh.

LULLABY FOR LOTALIAN LOVE

The drab
Drip,
Trickle
Of night rain
Stirs my misty dreams
To nightmare clarity
As they grow,
The sounds of Tap, Knock;
The dying gurgle
Of a man's throat
Falling away from my door.

I

Am amidst the vile swirl of bodies,
Distended stomachs, reeking sores, the weeping eyes of blindness,
With a few circling grains of life-meal
Clutched against my hope,
Grateful it is not me, the object
Of the mourning songs.
I
Have the dead tread of regimented feet
For my lullaby in an iron-caged
City of bayonets and silently let blood,
And my freedom is a voting list, "yes" or "no" —
The negative an indiscretion for surveilance

And probable informal execution.

Have flies on my crusting blood and Snatching the corners of my eyes, eyes Blinded with the thrashing surge of greed, My warping body, slimed with mud, Lies; the living image of God, destroyed, But clinging to the hope of a next day.

Slickly

I grasp a floating edge of consciousness
And clamber myself awake.
I murmur incantations to my light switch
And coffee-maker
Receive their hundred watts and caffeine stimulus
Gape at my measure of the remaining hours of sleep
Remove the spell

And voyage down paths of now moonshine darkness Wheeling and cavourting In the ecstasy Of fantasy

DESTINY

The silvery iridium shield suddenly glowed in the murky interior of the laboratory; the eerie dull red glow pulsing increasingly brighter — blinding. The Man as he stared in amazement, sending what seemed to be red-hot needles through his eye-balls and into his brain.

Slowly and deliberately he rose, for in another section of the building he had heard a blood-curdling shriek. His mind was in a daze and his body tingled all over with a strange sensation that continually throbbed in every limb as he staggered over to the place from where he thought the sound had come.

The body of his associate was there, and the Man noticed the skin — charred in places and marked with green and purple blotches.

He turned aside, revolted.

Outside a city stood still; passengers in turbo-cars were slumped in the seats; the heli-ports, centres of the bustling activity of the great city, lay devoid of all life; people in their homes were still gazing fixedly at the screens of their positronic live-image projectors, although their eyes did not see, their ears did not hear.

The Man knew what had caused this wanton destruction of life. He knew that the leaders of the now all-powerful Dominion of Oceania had ordered a beam of high-frequency micro-waves to be focused on the city. He knew that the beam would have been amplified by the maser principle and that its sole purpose was the decomposition of protein tissue. He knew also that the iridium shield, for use in unified-field theory physics, was the only thing that had saved him.

The Man knew all this and he hated. He hated Oceania; he hated the foolish politicians who had refused to heed the signs and warnings; and most of all he hated the bodies; the bodies that mocked him with their agonised and horrified expressions; their grotesque markings and their lifelessness.

As the Man meditated he knew that the inevitable self-extinction of the human species was fast approaching.

SOCIETY

Don't do that, it's not done. Smile when sad, be good when you're bad, Don't cross that line or step out of place: Be like the rest of the flock.

Mix in, your confined, but don't rebel, Dress, look, eat and talk the same. You're too paltry to cause a fuss. Wait a while, you'll understand.

THE REAL ESTATE OFFICE

The old man wandered into the office. There were seats scattered here and there; two men, one in a chair obviously waiting, and one behind a desk, took occasional glances at a woman who was sifting through some filing cards.

He walked over and sat next to the first man. He took out a small business card.

"Er - excuse me." the old man said slowly, ". . . is this . . .?"

"Yep! The only one in town," the man answered with a smile.

The old man did not understand.

He looked about the room. There was nothing out of the ordinary: a busy clerk, a pretty young secretary and a partially empty office. However, there was one thing he could not quite grasp. There were two sections on the desk — IN and OUT. The odd part was that there were no OUT's but quite a large amount of IN's.

The old man did not understand.

The man behind the desk stood and walked over to the young man.

"Have you looked over the pamphlet, John?"

"Yes."

"Tell me, do you like plot — er — lot 45? It has a wonderful view; the unit has full accommodation necessities plus luxuries; a lift can take you to your room in an instant and there are no restrictions whatsoever."

The old man did not understand.

"Yes, it sounds quite pleasing. I'll take it. Anything's better than my old house," answered John.

The other man laughed. "I hear it burnt down — and you with it."

Both men laughed. The old man did not yet understand.

"I don't think he understands," said John.

"No, I don't understand," said the old man.

"Well, my name is Peter — we use first names here. What brought you here?"

"My insurance man gave me this address."

"Aha — well I'll see you in a minute . . . this is Joan, my secretary . . . she'll show you to your room."

The secretary opened a door at the other end of the room. There was a bright light coming from the other side. She and John walked out.

Now the old man understood.

"My, but you look nice with wings!"

A girl's voice answered: "Thank you, we all have them here you know."

SCHOOL SPIRIT

So proud am I to come to High And be in great surroundings. But t'would be better to the letter If it weren't for prefects' houndings. "You've no school spirit," they all cry. "I've paid my fees," is my reply. (Or have I?). And so punctual am I: Three-thirty won't see me in this terrain; ('Cept Fridays, when I'm unavoidably detained). The regatta? Sure, my keenness is way in. I'll turn on the "tely" if Souths aren't playin' (And the best of luck to John Brand and his crew) Follow the cricket? Of course I do. At the beach each weekend, my thoughts, which are few, Are with High at Northbridge, 'gainst Kings (or is it 'View?) In winter at the football, I'm there, brown and blue: Rust brown-cord coat, blue-jeans (fast fadin' too!) My own sport? Alas, this toe-ache (confound!) Keeps me in Room 8, all year round. But now I have strayed from my original discourse On school pride, with the above as example, of course.

THE BEE

Bee — a little creature from nowhere Sometimes a pot of gold and Others, a sting of pain;
Both entwined together in nature.
This bee, symbol of creation,
God's messenger
Carrying glittering granules of life
From here to there, and back again
Unceasingly;
Drained it will not be
Till affronted with ignorant fear.
But then, there are always other bees.

Sitting,
Completely camourflaged.

Meetings Third Thursday of each month at 7.45 p.m.

At the Annual General Meeting of the Association held in the Great Hall at the School on Thursday, 16th March, 1967, Mr. W. F. Halliday, the retiring President, was re-elected to serve for a third consecutive year in this office. Most of the other retiring office-bearers were also re-elected, an exception being Mr. H. C. Bell who relinquished the office of Vice-President. The President welcomed Mr. R. A. Blomberg who was elected in his place and expressed the Association's appreciation to Mr. Bell, who continued to serve in other capacities, as well as to the other retiring office-bearers for their work during 1966.

In 1967 the Association's efforts have again been directed towards the twin tasks of raising finance to support academic and sporting activities at the school and of helping to organise and run those sections of these activities which lie within its ambit.

Raising the Money

The Association's total expenditure for 1967 was budgeted at $10,900 and the chief means by which it sought to raise this large sum were once again the Ladies' Auxiliary activities, the Headmaster's Appeal, the School Canteen and the Annual Carnival Fete.

The work of the Ladies' Auxiliary is dealt with in detail in its own Report which follows but it can be said here that parents owe a very real debt of gratitude to the ladies for their unstinting and very successful efforts to raise money and for the happy knack they seem to have of bringing a co-operative, family atmosphere into the various functions held at the school during the year. The best way of showing appreciation for this work is for more and more of the mothers of the boys at the school to join the Auxiliary and help. Here we can only place on record an appreciation which all who are active in the Association feel for the efforts of the ladies. We could not possibly carry on without them.

Meets on the Second Wednesday of each month

I p.m.

Mrs. N. RUSSO, President. 94-3722. Mrs. D. BEARD, Hon. Secretary. 38-7744.

In mid-year Mr. Callaghan again launched his Headmaster's Appeal, this time for a record target of $5,000. The Association's funds have generally become rather depleted at this point and the Appeal acts as a very welcome and needed transfusion. It is the only appeal during the school year which is made as an appeal to all parents individually and it was very successful in 1967. It is most strongly urged that generous support always be given to it, for funds really are needed at the time it is launched and ever-rising prices for equipment and sporting gear impose increasing burdens year by year.

The Canteen Committee, this year presided over by Mrs. Madden, once again worked hard and long to provide the school with its excellent canteen service where foodstuffs and requisite stationery items may be purchased. Students using the service can thus not only purchase their ordinary needs conveniently at the school at competitive prices but, by so doing, can help to provide their own new equipment, for Canteen profits go into the common fund. Mothers who can find a day or so a month to join Mrs. Madden and her forty or so regular helpers may be assured of a very warm welcome and the satisfaction of doing a worth-while job and enjoying good companionship while doing it.

Mr. Blomberg once more headed the Fete Committee for the Association's main money-raising activity, the Annual Carnival Fete. He and his committee got to work shortly after the Annual General Meeting in March to organise the Fete which was set down to be held on 21st October in the third term. This is a major undertaking and its success — and it is pleasant to report another successful Fete — depends on the combined efforts of a great many people. The thanks of the Association must go, therefore, not only to the busy organiser and his committee but also to all those who helped to man the stalls and other attractions on the day, to the many companies and individuals who made generous gifts of money or goods and to all the parents, students and friends who attended and spent on the Friday evening and Saturday at the school.

Other Activities

Apart from raising money the Association has many other activities which fully stretch its resources of finance and of man- and woman-power and a number of sub-committees are appointed each year to deal with these matters and maintain the sporting and other facilities at the school at a level in keeping with its unique place as a member of both the Combined High Schools' and the Great Public Schools' Associations.

The McKay Sportsgrounds in Centennial Park are managed by a committee to which the Association appointed as its representatives this year Messrs. R. E. Bird, H. C. Bell, E. Uren, F. C. Brabant and R. Lakeman; this committee, assisted by parents who came along regularly to lend a hand, worked actively throughout the year to maintain these grounds and their ancillary facilities. A number of working bees were held — painting, clearing water channels, erecting goal posts and sight screens; helpers were also kept busy on the days of the home football matches looking after the players and the many visitors who come along and manning the canteen service which is maintained at the grounds on these days.

Similarly, the Rowing Committee, to which the Association appointed Dr. Bentivoglio, and Messrs. R. A. Blomberg, J. Bertram, F. Randall and A. F. Russo as its representatives worked hard and long to maintain and improve the boatsheds at Abbotsford and the racing fleet. This year the committee was faced with a major task of carrying out alterations to the sheds to provide more accommodation and amenity space for next year's annual Rowing Camp. This work had to be commenced before the end of football season; the result is greatly improved conditions at the sheds which should add much comfort and efficiency of the 1968 Camp. Again a number of other parents came along regularly to help but, as with the McKay Grounds, not always enough so that the main effort tends to fall on too few.

The Maintenance and Grounds Committee under the leadership of Mr. Ringham, thanks to the recent renovation work done at the school, did not have very much to worry about this year. However the committee was there in case of need and, as the Education Department only allows the small sum of $200 to help in the work, it is obvious that this would not go very far if the grounds were allowed to deteriorate.

The Dance Committee, led by Mr. Duckworth, also had less to do this year as less than the usual number of dances were held. Those that were held, however, proved successful and added to the Association's funds; it is hoped that next year will see a resurgence in the popularity and frequency of these functions which provide an opportunity for boys and girls to meet socially and enjoy themselves under suitable and properly supervised conditions.

For some years past, the first Thursday of each month had been set aside for a Meeting of the Ways and Means Committee which consists of all the members of the Association. This year, however, it was found that most of the matters coming forward for attention could be handled quite adequately at the Ordinary Monthly Meeting of the Association; accordingly so the special meetings were not held and the various functions usually arranged by this Committee — a Mystery Car Trial, Opera House inspections, Crazy Whist Night for instance — were initiated at the Ordinary Meetings. These proved very successful and members benefited by the change in not having to turn out to the extra meeting.

Again Mrs. Couani and her assistants performed excellent work in producing the "High Notes" which keep people informed of the activities of the Association. There is a lot of work in collecting material, editing it and arranging for printing and distribution. Mrs. Couani and her helpers deserve great praise for their fine efforts.

Before concluding this section it should be of interest to note that, of the large budgeted expenditure of $10,900, some $2,500 will go towards maintenance of the McKay Grounds, $1,400 to Rowing, $1,200 to the school library and $2,600 for various other items of school equipment. Contributions will also be made to other sporting activities, to the gymnasium and for the fixed charges and expenses which have to be met, e.g., bank overdraft, stationery and so on. It will be seen, therefore, that whilst it would be unthinkable that Sydney Boys' High School should ever lose the unique place it occupies in two school systems, retention of that place does entail money and effort. This money and effort must be forthcoming year by year and at the times it is needed for specific projects.

General.

The Association records with regret the deaths during the year of Mrs. A. J. Foster, the wife of our Honorary Treasurer, who, like her husband, was a devoted worker for the Association for many years and of Mr. E. Crocker, the School Caretaker, who took a very active interest in our affairs and rendered us assistance on innumerable occasions. Both are sadly missed and we extend sincere sympathy to their families.

In conclusion the Association desires to record its appreciation of the very many parents and friends who have come forward to help in so many ways and on so many occasions during the year and to the Headmaster, Mr. Callaghan, his Deputy, Mr. Bradford, the teaching staff, Mrs. Braithwaite and Mrs. Byrne, the school secretaries, and Mrs. Crocker and her family for all their help and co-operation through a busy year. The Association always endeavours to work in close harmony with the staff of the school and it is pleasant to not how much this endeavour seems to accord with the wishes and actions of the school staff on its side. Indeed this harmonious relationship seems to grow stronger year by year and it is our sincere wish that this should be so, for it goes a long way to make easier the successful accomplishment of the common task of improving conditions and ensuring better education and greater well-being and happiness for our boys during their important formative and development years at Sydney High School.

LADIES' AUXILIARY OFFICE-BEARERS, 1967

President: Mrs. A. Russo. Treasurer: Mrs. A. Dymock. Secretary: Mrs. B. Beard.

Under the capable guidance of our President, Mrs. A. Russo, the Auxiliary commenced its activities this year with an Afternoon Tea to welcome new mothers. This occasion is always arranged with great expectations, as it usually indicates the support we can expect from new parents for the coming year.

Our activities have been varied this year, and we have endeavoured at all times to cater for different tastes. Undoubtedly the social event of the year was the Dinner Dance aboard "Galileo", and, despite a late change of date, we feel sure it will be remembered with pleasure by everyone who was fortunate to be present.

A Progressive Dinner was held in February, with another arranged for October. These evenings prove most profitable, socially and financially. Many other members have made their homes available for luncheons, demonstrations, etc., and we are most grateful to these hospitable people.

We have also spent enjoyable evenings at the Doncaster Theatre Restaurant, and at the Randwick Town Hall where we held our Combined Auxiliary Ball in August. A Fur Parade, by courtesy of Cornelius Furs Pty. Ltd., was also arranged during April, and in June we held a Racing Party at Randwick Racecourse. For variations we also held tours of inspection of Lindemans' cellars, and, at a later date, of historic Victoria Barracks.

Our Sixth Father and Son Dinner was a most successful function, and this year we were fortunate to have as our guest speaker Mr. Norman May, whose bright personality, together with the excellent musical items rendered by the boys, made the evening a thoroughly enjoyable one.

At the time of writing we have several important functions still to be held. The first is to be a Melbourne Cup Day Party, and later a "Wurst and Wine" Evening, and we trust both of these occasions will be successful. Sixth Form boys will be given a Farewell Luncheon in October, and this occasion will naturally be a little sad for some mothers. Our final function for the year will be a Christmas Luncheon at the Carlton-Rex Hotel early in December.

All these activities have been instrumental in raising the $3,000 we require annually to assist the Parents and Citizens' Association. We therefore urge the support of every mother, as it makes our task so much easier when the load is shared.

Our group of mothers from the north side of the Harbour have given continuous support to the Auxiliary again this year. To these ladies, under the leadership of Mrs. D. Barr, we offer our sincere thanks.

The Canteen continues to prosper and progress, and this reflects great credit on the Canteen Committee, which comprises of Mrs. P. Madden, President, Mrs. H. Whittle, Secretary, and Mrs. L. Bull, Treasurer. Our gratitude, too, for the voluntary help given by so many mothers in the Canteen, under the guidance of Mrs. Enid Simpson, our very capable supervisor.

To mothers who help in so many different ways we say most sincerely — Thank you. We are fully aware of how much this loyal group of mothers do for us, always there to assist whenever called upon for help.

Finally, we thank the Headmaster, Mr. M. R. Callaghan, the Deputy Headmaster, Mr. G. J. Bradford, and the staff, for their willing help and advice at all times. The School Secretaries, Mesdames J. Byrne and B. Braithwaite, have given wonderful co-operation and have been of invaluable assistance to us.

The members of the Executive Committee gratefully acknowledge the advice and practical assistance given throughout the year by Mr. W. Halliday, President of the Parents and Citizens' Association.

OUR SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR

Seventy-five years ago, on Tuesday, 6th June, 1892, Mr. T. B. Trebeck, a Master of the School presided over a meeting in the Girls' High School at Castlereagh Street which formed the Sydney High School Old Boys' Union.

The committee was P. J. Pratt, F. W. Doak, A. B. Zlatkowski, C. H. Cook and H. Vallentine.

The first President was Mr. Joseph Coates, Headmaster of the School, the Secretary Mr. Arthur Eedy and the Treasurer, Mr. A. H. MacTaggart.

Arthur Eedy was the first pupil enrolled at the school in the year of its commencement-1883.

Arthur MacTaggart was Captain of the 1st XV in 1884 and won the first Honour Cap awarded by the school.

Since its inception the contribution made by the Old Boys' Union to Sydney High School has been well recognised.

School rowing was initially founded and financed by the Old Boys' Union.

The McKay playing fields were planned and brought into being by Old Boys of the school.

Prizes, gifts, bequests and assistance in the organisation of sporting activities have been material contributions, a jealous guarding of school tradition and the promotion of its esprit de corps have been our spiritual contribution to the school.

Today the school occupies a position outstanding in New South Wales. With a great headmaster, an excellent teaching staff and plenty of fine young men among its pupils, it has through long well-established traditions a distinction not reached by any other high school.

In its seventy-five years the Old Boys' Union can claim rightly that it has helped the school to reach this pre-eminence.

But even though we Old Boys are 10,000 strong we cannot match the contribution being made to the school financially and in other ways by the Parents and Citizens' Association — and we pay tribute to the association with deep gratitude.

To those critics who say "the school is not what it used to be" we answer, "don't you believe it".

Sydney High School today has academic, sporting, cultural and citizenship standards that were never reached in "our" day. It has a new science wing, freshly painted buildings, a fine gymnasium and 900 pupils pursuing a six-year course — including Latin and Greek to satisfy the traditionalists.

But while much can be said for the school — it cannot be said for its Old Boys.

Only one out of every ten Old Boys is a financial member of the Old Boys' Union.

Our boat shed on the river despite gallant efforts by an enthusiastic team of parents and Old Boys is still ramshackle.

Yet right alongside is an excellent piece of ground owned by the School Council still waiting a building — and this has been so for seventy years.

We still wait for our Grandstand at McKay Oval.

Our School Chapel is still on the drawing board.

The Cutler Drive is only a dream.

The High Club still battles to keep going in its inadequate quarters inspired by a dedicated committee.

But all of these things could be achieved so quickly and so easily if our "band of brothers" would only come together.

We have much to be proud of in the past three-quarters of a century, we pay homage to those in our ranks who have given much to the school and to the Union; we rejoice that we have 75 years of history to prove our strength and stability.

However, we would feel much more satisfied if our team was 10,000 strong as well it could be, and not the mere 1,000 it is today.

Extremos pudeat redisse.

SYDNEY HIGH SCHOOL OLD BOYS' UNION

Membership

Financial membership of the Union reached a record figure of 1,268 which is not really satisfying since most of the other G.P.S. Old Boys' Unions have over 2,000.

The High Ball

The largest number ever — 961 — attended the Round House for our annual ball. The guests of honour were the Lord Mayor of Sydney and the Lady Mayoress. Six debutantes were presented to the Lord Mayor.

Annual Dinner

The Rt. Hon. Harold Holt, P.C., M.P., was the guest of honour at the annual dinner held at the Doncaster Theatre-Restaurant to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the foundation of the Union. Some 400 old boys were present.

The High Bulletin

The Bulletin was published irregularly during the year mainly because of the need to limit production expenditure and high cost of postage.

Annual Church Service

This service to commemorate the 84th anniversary of the founding of the school on 1st October, 1883 and to offer thanksgiving was held at St. James' Church, Sydney.

The Rev. Wesley McBride delivered the sermon to a large congregation of Old Boys. Lessons were read by the School Captains.

Our distinguished visitor this year was the Lieut. Governor of N.S.W. Sir Kenneth Street.

The O.B.U. Ladies' Auxiliary served afternoon tea in St. James' Hall after the service.

The High Club

The club continues to provide a centre for Old Boys and their friends for business and social activities. The support of all Old Boys is most necessary if the club is to continue. Membership of the High Club is a privilege envied by many other schools. Let us preserve it.

Ladies' Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Old Boys' Union continues to provide significant funds for this Union and our appreciation of their efforts can never be expressed often or fully enough. This Auxiliary meets at 1.30 p.m. on the first Wednesday of each month at the C.E.N.E.F. Building at the corner of Kent and Bathurst Streets, Sydney, and a ready welcome awaits all mothers or wives of old boys who would care to join its ranks.

Football Match versus The School

Because of torrential rain it was not possible to hold the annual Old Boys versus the School Rugby Matches.

Six teams were to represent the O.B.U. this year and the unavoidable cancellation of the games was most disappointing.

Football Club

Three teams were fielded in the Metropolitan Junior Rugby Union competition this year. The Whiddon Cup side led by Johnny Hartwell were minor premiers in their division and the Burke Cup team reached the semi-finals going down 6-3 to Petersham the ultimate premiers.

Ray Lawrence, Football Club Secretary, has done a magnificent job in organising, and our appreciation of his efforts are recorded with sincere gratitude.

Don't put that jersey away, join S.H.O.B.S. and play Rugby at its best.

Honorary Life Membership

This was conferred on Mr. F. Randall and Mr. R. Paillas for outstanding service to the Union.

Remember next time! So save your Millers Crisps until you can enjoy the crunchiest good taste in peace. They're always fresh and crisp because they're cooked in pure peanut oil. (And Millers Crisps add a tang to salads and seafoods; a salty lift to steaks, or any meal at home).

Just be sure they're Millers

Back to School Sunday

Professor Oscar Vonwiller, School Captain in 1898 and Rev. Peter Smith, who left Sydney High School in 1893 were the oldest Old Boys present among the 500 Old Boys, and their friends and families who went "back to school" to this annual function.

Both of these personalities looked remarkably fit for elderly men and recalled vividly memories of the old days at Castlereagh St.

Afternoon tea was provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

A most interesting exhibition of historical relics and records of the school was arranged by the Headmaster.

New President

Mr. A. F. Deer, B.A., LL.B., B.Ec., was elected to the presidency of the Union this year and is proving a dynamic leader.

He is General Manager of the Mutual Life and Citizens' Assurance Coy. Ltd. and President of the Australian Insurance Institute.

Mr. Deer is a Fellow of the Senate of the University of Sydney and Chairman of its Finance Committee.

His wife is an Old Girl of the Sydney Girls' High School and his daughter a teacher at the girls' school.

LODGE SYDNEY HIGH SCHOOL No. 631

United Grand Lodge of N.S.W.

After a very successful year as Master of the Lodge, Sid Pointing (1926) installed Alan Harper (1937) as Master at the Installation meeting held Friday, 11th August, 1967.

Alan is well known as a Rugby referee, and distinguished by having three sons attending Sydney High School this year.

George Lapham (1930) was welcomed as an affiliate to the Lodge, and John Pointing (1958) was nominated and duly initiated by his father. More nominations have been received and Alan Harper should have a very busy year.

The Lodge was well represented at the 1967 High Ball and at the Old Boys' Dinner, the latter being held at the Doncaster Theatre in the distinguished presence of the Prime Minister, the Rt. Hon. Harold Holt.

Visiting between the various School Lodges took place throughout the year, and it is hoped that the goodwill and comradeship being built up between the respective members will be passed on to their sons attending the various schools with consequent benefit to all concerned.

Ken Stuart (1926) and Viv. Littlewood (1948) are both now in the United States attending respectively to the business of Qantas and the R.A.N. They, and the many other members who are overseas and interstate are kept up to date on Lodge and personal matters by our monthly publication — "Topics".

It is with regret that we record the passing of Alex Ross (1933), Col Smee (1948), John Clark (1923), and Bruce Lenehan (1920).

Restricted to Old Boys, Masters and ex-Masters of High, the Lodge meets on the second Friday of each month (January excepted) at the Masonic Hall, 279 Castlereagh Street, Sydney, and a warm welcome awaits all visitors, especially Old Boys and visiting members of interstate and overseas School Lodges.

The Honorary Secretary is Rex Iredale (1931), Box 1995, G.P.O., Sydney (telephone 28 1518), and he will be happy to receive any communications regarding the Lodge.
