*The Journal of Sydney Boys High School
Moore Park, Surry Hills NSW 2010.*

Volume LXXXV

Incoming year 7s, who had shown an interest on Orientation Day, were introduced to the discipline and delights of smallbore target shooting. Even some parents, who had never fired a rifle before, had a go – under strict supervision, of course. Senior Rifle Club members helped the Range Control Officer supervise the boys and their parents.

Editorial Note

As is no doubt now expected, the Committee and I express our regrets that this issue of The Record arrives some three years late. Close observers will note that issues are now being produced slightly more often than once a year, so that there is some hope that we will catch up some time soon.

For the second year in a row it is regretted that there are no original contributions in this issue. However we welcome the return of a more detailed Valete section, and the innovation of a full year picture for Year 7.

I have pleasure in thanking the members of the Editorial Committee for their loyal and careful work. Some of them have served on the committee for three years. Finally I thank all those who have contributed reports and photographs, without which there would be no Record.

A.M.Gainford, Editor.

School Captain's Report

The class of 1995 finishes its schooldays with mixed feelings. Whilst we are keen to advance to the next stage of our lives, it is nevertheless a wrench to leave the familiar ground of Sydney High School behind us.

There is no doubt that we are leaving behind a school which has changed dramatically over the six years of our attendance. Next year's new boys will have the benefit of the new sporting complex, the senior study centre, an updated library, an extended Abbotsford Centre and modern computer facilities.

Yet in some very important ways the school remains the same as when we first entered it – a proud academic and sporting tradition, a body of dedicated staff, a supportive P & C, Old Boys Union and High Club, countless opportunities provided by GPS & CHS competition and an extremely talented and diverse student body.

Sydney High is an excellent school but it always remains up to the individual student to try to obtain the most out of the opportunities the school provides, and the key to this is application and participation.

Let me refer you to our original school motto:

“Extremos pudeat rediire”

This can be translated as –

“Let it be shameful to be content to come in last”

This exhortation was spoken by Mnestheus to his crew as they were falling behind in a boat race at the funeral games of Anchises (Aeneas's father). The crew gave their best efforts and were rewarded by improving their position from last to second.

I believe this is still an appropriate motto because it is surprising what can be achieved by all of us when we try to maximise our potential, work co-operatively and aim to achieve the best result.

We should never be content to just “go through the motions” in any facet of our school lives.

I could give numerous examples, from my year, of boys who have achieved at the highest level in their chosen pursuits during 1995. Their names appear elsewhere in The Record and we can all take pride in their success and level of achievement. However many other names come to mind of those who were not “high fliers” but who nevertheless worked hard, did their best, and in doing so they have earned the respect of their teachers and peers. They have contributed something of value to the life of the school and they have benefited themselves in the process.

In my experience participation brings both enjoyment and many friendships which are built up through shared activities both on and off the sporting field. I value those friendships, and I am leaving with a store of countless shared memories of my time at High - the mad surge onto McKay Oval after beating Joeys at rugby in 1993; the reading of Chris Rodley's brilliant play at the Wharf Theatre; Jammo's six over the factory fence at Weigall for the cricket premiership - these events will remain with me for ever, no doubt to be talked over endlessly at future reunions.

Some people need to be especially thanked on behalf of Year 12 1995. In particular Mr Stratford and Mr Baldock for their unceasing efforts to improve the school for the benefit of everyone; our teachers who work hard yet rarely receive the thanks they deserve; Mr Selway our Year Adviser who has guided us towards and through the HSC; our hardworking P & C Committee, the OBU and indeed all of the School family.

I would also like to thank the Prefect Body for supporting and assisting me during the past year, in particular, Adair Durie (Senior Prefect) and Ben Clarsen (Vice Captain) and finally Mr Gainford whose support and guidance have been invaluable.

SPEECH NIGHT and 112th ANNUAL PRIZE-GIVING

Tuesday 20th February, 1996

Occasional Address by Mr R.I. Smith, BCom DipEd Grad Cert Ed MACE MACEA JP
District Superintendent, Bondi District

Principal's Address

I join with Phillip Lyons in welcoming you all to The Great Hall tonight for Speech Night and Annual Prize Giving. Schools need their ceremonies in order to enhance their tradition and to enrich their culture. There is no more important ceremony in the life of High than this one, where outstanding achievers are acknowledged by the assembled School Family.

First of all I add my congratulations to the prize winners. I am very proud of each one of you. I am very proud of the teachers who have worked hard to get you to your standard of achievement. And I am very grateful for your contribution to the school's reputation and tradition. To the parents or guardians, grandparents, brothers and sisters and your friends who are here tonight I say that you, too, have every right to share in the satisfaction of achievement. No student achieves at this level without the support of others, generally the family. You yourselves may not have sat in the examination room, played in the orchestra or run onto the field but you have played your part. To you all, students and essential backup people, I say well done!

To those who have achieved their outstanding success at the Higher School Certificate I pay particular tribute. The Class of '95 did a lot of good things but probably the most important thing they did was to endorse, emphatically, the central purpose of the school which is to have students reach their academic potential. An analysis of the 1995 HSC will be distributed at tomorrow night's P&C meeting and will be published in next week's Newsletter to all families. The school can be pleased with the overall picture. I say in passing that members of the Class of '96 are aiming to do better. We'll see.

I would emphasise the importance of the last eighteen months in having all elements of the School Family working together in strong endorsement of the school's Development Plan. Foundation in particular has come to be identified not only with sporting facilities but also with the academic core purpose of the school. I cannot overemphasise the importance of this alignment. The willingness of the P&C and Foundation to work together to make the Senior Study Centre a reality in 1996, rather than in several years' time, is a tribute to both organisations. I hope that students and their families appreciate what has been done for them. I acknowledge again, probably again to his discomfort, the leadership of Mr Phillip Whyte. I state also my gratitude to The High Club, represented here tonight by its President, Mr Ken Baret, for making a substantial contribution towards the completion of The Outterside Centre at Abbotsford. The extensions at Abbotsford will be opened next Friday evening, capping off an historic week for the school.

I wish to acknowledge the pivotal role played during 1995 by the School Council under the leadership of Mr John Goddard. Council has worked hard over past months to produce Sydney Boys High School - Towards 2000, a strategic plan that probably 300 or 400 people have contributed to. This important document will shortly be distributed to every family and to other interested parties. The school's annual management plans will be framed within the context of the strategic plan. Members of the School have worked out in broad terms what they want to achieve in the next five years. We must now work together to bring these plans and aspirations to fulfilment.

The Old Boys Union, led by Jim Norrie, has continued to provide support and advice to the school. I note with regret the recent passing of Wing Commander Jack Davenport, a distinguished Old Boy from the Class of 1935 at whose memorial service the school was represented. The school was always dear to Jack's heart and I understand that a portrait of him is to be presented to the school. On a happier note I am pleased to acknowledge the continuing interest of another distinguished Old Boy from the Class of 1949, James Wolfensohn. Jim, as many of you know, was appointed last year by President Clinton to be President of the World Bank, a job to which he has devoted himself totally. He retains a fondness for what he describes as "my favourite school in my favourite country". He is delighted with the progress of the arts in the school and is most supportive of a centre for the arts at the school. What we are seeing is an increasing interest in the school by Old Boys and a keener awareness of developments at the school.

I commend the work of the Creative Arts Council, chaired by Mrs Brenda Corea. This body will continue to guide arts policy within the school. It is a central tenet of the philosophy of this school that we are educating the whole boy. That is why we do not measure achievement, or make judgments about so-called value added elements, solely in terms of statistical outcomes, be they related to the HSC or not.

I make special mention here of a special person who is shortly to retire from teaching: Freya McKellar-White. I say simply that Freya McKellar-White has exemplified the very best of the teaching profession in her 14 years of service at High. From her example the boys have learned much, much more than a knowledge and love of art. In Freya they have seen an outstanding example of personal commitment and of leadership of an unassuming but purposeful kind. I hope that they have taken this example to heart. Freya has led the arts to a central position within this school from which they will never be dislodged. Many students owe a lot to her. I take this opportunity tonight to thank her on behalf of the School Family.

I commend also the work of the Sports Council, chaired by Mr Harry Stanley. That body will work to ensure that we have short, medium and long term plans for sport in general and for each sport in particular. Our competitiveness will be assured. From this year the Sports Council will have responsibility for the general sport budget. Harry Stanley has contributed to the deliberations of the Moore Park Management Plan and his ideas and concepts have been given serious consideration by the Centennial Park & Moore Park Trust.

I make brief reference to High's participation in the competition of the AAGPS. One still hears from time to time that GPS is elitist. Well, in my six years' involvement in it to date I have found it to be lots of things but never elitist. It is demanding, time consuming and complex; it is hard work; it is challenging and testing; it asks a lot but it gives a lot. Let me illustrate by reference to a most intrepid group, the current 13D cricket team. To date the Ds have played 2 and won 2. The wins, however, are a bonus, over and above the camaraderie and friendship that are developing. This group of boys is still getting to know each other, having come from a number of primary schools. They come from a variety of ethnic backgrounds but no one notices, so keen are they on the common business of fearlessly taking on the opposition. High parents umpire and score for the team. A young Old Boy, Aaron Neal, coaches them. I am personally delighted to have been entrusted with the role of their manager. The enthusiasm of the boys is a delight. Their growing skill is reflected in the diminishing number of sundries conceded, though sundries remain a significant part of the opposition's score. The Ds play the game with comradeship and generosity of spirit. They take great pride in wearing the sky blue and chocolate colours of their new school. They play an ego-free brand of cricket, quite unlike some of the cricket one sees on television. In the GPS, High is known and respected for good sportsmanship and for its level of school spirit and volunteer support. The 13Ds have already started to maintain that reputation. The Class of 2001 is off to a good start. One senses that the future of the school is in good hands.

I would now depart slightly from the script and ask the Sydney High cross country team to stand and come forward, together with their coach Mr Mark Noonan. The team will represent Australia in international competition in Turkey in April. Here is your chance to acknowledge them and to wish them well.

I should make reference to the foreshadowed Centre for the Arts. You have heard the chamber choir tonight under Carol Hardy's direction and you have heard the stage band under Jason Cooney's direction playing a jazz standard Take the A Train. These groups have done their rehearsing in facilities built in 1928. The acoustics of our music facilities most definitely belong to 1928! We have nearly 200 boys involved in structured extra curricular music programs. We must now work to get them better facilities. Much thinking has gone into the planning of a centre for the arts. The bonus for the school is that a centre for the arts would allow our present art block to become part of a new library, replacing our present library which would have to be one of the least satisfactory school libraries in New South Wales. At a relatively small outlay we can convert the art block into a library stack, allowing the senior study centre to become a reading room while maintaining its present functions.

A centre for the arts, moreover, could be available to the general community as an arts facility, reinforcing the school's determination to be and to be seen as a good citizen of the inner city. Like the UTS/Sydney Boys High School Sports Stadium, a centre for the arts would provide a model of the intensive use of a school facility for the wider community. The school site is beautifully located for such a purpose. It does not have neighbours to be affected by noise; and it does not create traffic problems. Thus the two main problems that beset any new development are eliminated at the outset.

I remain optimistic that we will be able to include a purpose-built performance space or even a theatre within the concept. When we achieve a centre for the arts we will have provided the school with the facilities it needs for the next 50 years.

My last point concerns relationships with universities. It makes sense for an academically selective school to seek to develop close relationships with universities and we have done this, especially in relation to the University of NSW and UTS. Another interesting possibility is now presenting itself. Mr Ralph Watson, our Careers Adviser, spent last weekend as a guest of Bond University and has come back with a range of interesting ideas which I propose to pursue. Little or nothing may come of this but it is worth pursuing nonetheless. I am impressed by the flexibility of Bond's thinking and by the level of support for their students. It may be that one can negotiate an agreement on mutually favourable terms. The first step is for me to seek a briefing from Bond University people and I will do that shortly. Whether or not the discussions proceed will depend on that briefing.

I thank you all for your continuing affection for and support of High during 1995. I look forward to a good year in 1996.

Overall

Specific analysis by faculty will be carried out by the Principal and Head Teachers. These discussions will look at issues such as appropriateness of placement of students in courses, distribution of subject scores etc. There is a general feeling around the school that the results of the Class of 95 were very good. The median TER was 87.8.

The Sydney Morning Herald continues to give prominence to TER scores, listing the top 5000 students. Our contribution was 76. The Herald never reports that three schools which figure prominently in their list actually recruit an additional class into Year 11. You can imagine the quality of their intakes! It would boost our list significantly if we were to take an additional class into Year 11, picking and choosing from among the very best applicants from other schools, with an excellent chance that each one of the additional class would be in the top 10% of the HSC.

At the 1995 HSC, 13 students in the state tied for the highest rank. Of the 25 students who tied for 2nd highest rank, 4 came from High. Of the 25 students who tied for 3rd highest rank, 3 came from High. Viewed this way, High had 7 of the 63 top students in the HSC. For the first time in the history of the school we have had to declare a 4 way tie for Dux of the School. It would have been both unfair and Pythonesque to try to find a 'winner' from The Magnificent Four.

R.J.Stratford, Principal.

School Notes

Taking the Shilling Christopher Duffy, Trent Dickeson, and Benjamin Ng were each awarded scholarships by the Australian Defence Force Academy (ADFA) to assist them in year twelve, and guaranteed places at the Academy in 1996. All are Under Officers in the Cadet Corps, Chris and Ben in our own Unit, and Trent in his local regional unit, 208 RCU.

Old Boys I Also hearing the call was Peter Cumines (1987) who, having completed his studies in the law, has taken a commission as a Captain in the Legal Corps, after enduring a challenging three month course at Duntroon. He expects to be posted to Sydney in the new year.

A Room with a View After three long years in the stairwell near Room 108 (formerly Room 1) the Prefects have at last got a new place to call their own, at least for the time being. The new Prefects' Room was until recently briefly known as Room 801, previously having been 35A, and long ago the soft craft room. It is situated under the Great Hall, just next to the previous Study (of fond memory), which is now the High Store.

Earth to Earth During the construction of the new Gymnasium, a large mound of earth grew behind the cricket nets. After sieving, it has been used to landscape the area between the main building and the tennis courts. A verdant new lawn is making valiant attempts to establish itself here.

Room to Move Another minor consequence of the completion of the Gymnasium was that the portable classroom, which had been used as a wood technology room during refurbishment of the Technology and Applied Science area, could at last be removed from the grounds. It had been trapped by the building works. However the space it once occupied soon became part of the builders' yard for the construction of the Senior Studies Centre.

Oarsome Reception On Saturday 2nd September a group of eight rowers attended the wedding of their coach, John Croll, an Old Boy and former vice-captain of the School. The boys, in uniform, formed a Guard of Honour with crossed sculling blades as the couple came out of the church, to the delight of the crowd, which included many well known members of Sydney Rowing Club.

Glittering Prizes Recent Old Boys featured in the university medal tallies again this year. At the University of New South Wales Jason Hui and Marc Gorbатов shared the medal in Medicine, and Patrick Waugh won the medal in Anatomy. At Sydney University Ben Kremer took the medal in Organic Chemistry.

Crest of a Wave Luke Hitchings (1993) joined the professional surfing circuit this year and is regarded very highly by those in the know. He is also studying building construction management.

Oscar! Old Boy Tim Chappel (1984), and his partner Liz Gardener, won the Academy Award for Best Costume Design for the costumes in the Australian film Priscilla: Queen of the Desert.

Medal Scheme At the instigation of the Principal, discussions took place in the first half of the year to finalise the new School Awards system. Gold, Silver and Bronze medals will be awarded for participation or achievement in a number of areas of School and community life.

Work Experience? As reported in Column 8 of the SMH, Marc Bennie found his duties in the SCG Trust office included making up the numbers in a corporate box annual match. His team was captained by state player Richard Chee Quee. Marc took the wicket of Phil Emery (caught), and made six runs not out.

Sporting Scholar Ben Ebel was honoured to receive a Ben Lexcen Sporting Scholarship at the University of New South Wales in swimming.

A Knight in the Field In October Ricky Lopolis of Year 8 represented Australia in the junior division at the World Chess Championships held in Brazil.

Yes Prime Minister Leading mathematical ecologist (and Old Boy) Bob May was awarded an honorary doctorate by Sydney University this year. Upon his return to Britain he was appointed by John Major to the post of Chief Scientific Adviser to the Prime Minister and Head of the Office of Science and Technology.

Banker to the World Former leading investment banker and chairman of the prestigious Kennedy Centre for the Performing Arts, James Wolfensohn, was appointed president of the World Bank from 1st June.

Careers

Tertiary Awareness Symposium

This was once again a successful event. All NSW and ACT universities were represented, including faculty and student representatives from most. TAFE (the Sydney Institute in particular), the Australian Defence Force Academy, and private provider colleges completed a great tertiary representation.

Scholarships and Cadetships

Guest speakers from a number of institutions came to High this year. Our students have been well in the running for a number of accounting cadetships and University scholarships. Last year three boys won UNSW Co-op Scholarships and two obtained accountancy cadetships.

Interstate Study

1994 saw the University of Tasmania launch its northern campaign, and they targeted High amongst other schools. They were offering ten scholarships worth $20 000 each, and one hundred and ten worth between $7000 and $9000. This year the University of Melbourne specifically targeted NSW as a place to catch academically gifted students, and so also came to High. The upshot is that a number of our old boys are studying interstate. This is a trend that has merit as boys seek the right course at the right institution for them.

Guest Speaker Program

This program is always a success and this year was no different. A total of eighteen speakers included a notable old boy engineering consultant.

Work Experience

One hundred and seventy-six boys from Year 10 completed a week of work experience, and twenty-four of these came back for a second week later in the year. Nikyar Elhami-Manesh put together a creditable written and photographic record of the week. Some Year 11 and 12 boys also undertook one to five day placements during the year.

Green Job Day

Ten boys were successful in being selected for the Department of School Education's Green Job Day. They met and worked with people actually employed in environmentally related jobs, from the Land and Environment Court to a water research consultancy, including an excursion on the harbour to test water quality.

E-Team

Matthew Malouf, Colin Tan and Michael Benjamin of Year 11, and two girls (Rowena Forsyth and Audrey Chung) from the Girls' School were chosen to represent the Sydney High Schools for the first time in this prestigious and worthwhile exercise. The Australian Quality Council in conjunction with the Department of School Education and various employers allow student teams of five to be assigned to an organisation. The team uses the principles and tools of quality control to help solve a real problem facing the host organisation. Our students thoroughly impressed their host organisation, the state Attorney-General's Department, with the quality of their presentation.

Software

The programs Career Builder and Career Link continue to prove to be very useful resources.

Year 12

The Year 12 interview system was again a vitally important method of providing help to seniors throughout the year, particularly in the areas of clarification of HSC goals, and UAC and TAFE selections. May they all fulfil their hopes and aspirations.

R. Watson, Careers Adviser.

ANZAC Day Address

We arrived at Changi at 1 a.m. on the 21st December, 1943. The prisoners who had remained at Changi were expecting us and were anxious to find out about our friends who had gone north to work on the construction of the Burma-Thailand Railway some nine months before.

"They were waiting for us as we climbed or were lifted from the trucks which had brought us from Singapore Railway Station. We lined up on the road, some who found it difficult to stand sat on the ground but were still part of us.

"There was almost no conversation between the groups that night. To them we were unbelievable. Our emaciated, cadaverous bodies were covered in rags, we were all barefooted, with bandages covering our ulcers and we were almost all rotten with malaria and beri-beri. The shock to those who had remained at Changi evoked a gesture which was typical. All the small odds and ends which they had been saving for Christmas were given to the F Force survivors through the kitchens. Sadly, we were so ill we did not realise what had been given."

That extract is from Stan Arneil's diary of his prisoner of war experiences in Malaysia and Burma. Some Sydney High School old boys were among that group of Australian prisoners in Changi. I don't suppose that when they sat in this hall in the 1930's they would have been able to imagine what was in store for them. My own grandfather worked alongside Australians on the Burma Railway - he was a British prisoner of war.

So what is then the purpose of ANZAC Day and how is it relevant to us? Well firstly it is an acknowledgment and remembrance of the personal sacrifice and suffering of many Australian men and women during the armed conflicts which have occurred this century. They endured horrible events, many of course were killed while others suffered physical and psychological injuries which had a lasting effect on the rest of their lives.

Secondly, it is a tribute to what has become known as the ANZAC spirit. What you may ask is ANZAC spirit? Well, it's not some kind of stereotypical "digger" image as created by American film directors in the old war movies. The true

ANZAC spirit was indeed created by the actions of the men themselves and was noted and reported on by other witnesses. The spirit which was displayed by our troops was a reflection of their social and cultural upbringing and has helped to give all Australians a sense of a national identity. Under extreme hardship our troops displayed qualities of fortitude, resourcefulness, good humour and concern and caring for their comrades, which was often the difference between death and survival.

Thirdly we need to remember the complete selflessness of the ANZACs. They stood to gain nothing personally from their sacrifices except the knowledge that they were trying to make the world a better place for future generations. Their motivations were idealistic, they were inspired by duty to their country and countrymen, they believed in freedom and pursuit of the greater good.

There is a message here for us in ANZAC Day. We need to use the example set for us by the ANZACs - the selfless acceptance of their duty. We too need to look outside of ourselves and make sure we accept in the same spirit the challenges that our times and our society throws out to us.

What are these challenges? To sum up, they are what will make the world a better place for future generations of Australians. Things such as: preserving the environment, dealing with social problems such as poverty, homelessness and drug dependence, preserving ethical and moral standards, and using science to solve problems and not create more. Charles Bean, a war historian and war correspondent during World War One reported back to Australia in 1915 in these terms, "They are not heroes; they do not intend to be thought of or spoken of as heroes. They are just ordinary Australians doing their particular work as their country would wish them to. And pray God Australians in days to come will be worthy of them!"

That was 1915 and today is 1995 - 80 years on we are those "Australians in days to come."

The challenge is whether you can now be worthy of them!

Alex Lamb, School Captain.

School Award Scheme

The intention of the SBHS Award Scheme is to encourage and recognise participation in a range of activities. It is not an addendum to Prize Giving, Sports Blues etc. Thus membership of the 1st XV will count the same as membership of the 13C soccer team.

There will be three categories of award: bronze, silver and gold. A student who obtains two bronze awards will be eligible to seek a silver award. A student who qualifies for the silver award will be eligible to seek a gold award. It will not be possible to qualify for more than one award per annum and the criteria will not be cumulative beyond a single calendar year except in special circumstances, for example prolonged illness.

The scheme is essentially student-administered. Boys will seek to meet simple, well publicised criteria. It will be their responsibility to check eligibility. Awards will be presented at a special school assembly.

A student will be deemed ineligible for an award through suspension; persistent failure to wear the approved school uniform; persistent unpunctuality; consistently unacceptable behaviour; truancy; misbehaviour on an excursion or on public transport; or for any other reason deemed appropriate by the Awards Committee.

Disputes will be adjudicated by the Awards Committee consisting of Principal, Deputy Principal, Advanced Skills Teacher (School Awards), Chairman and one other from the Student Union.

To gain an award a student will need to prove eligibility in at least FIVE of the categories below in one calendar year.

1 Academic Achievement

- A student in Years 11 or 12 will need to be placed in the top 50% of students in 9 units or more.
- A student in Years 7-10 will need to have achieved a grade of Credit or better in all his subjects.

The achievement will need to have been made in a single set of scheduled school examinations, which may include the Trial HSC.

2 Summer Sport

A student will need to have participated satisfactorily in a summer GPS sport or one of the following:

- A recognised school non-GPS sport eg water polo, fencing.
- Regional, State or National selection arising out of membership of the school.

3 Winter Sport

A student will need to have participated satisfactorily in a winter GPS sport or in one of the following:

- A recognised school non-GPS sport eg small bore shooting, snow skiing, fencing
- Regional, State or National selection arising out of membership of the school.

Note that the sport in category 3 cannot be the same sport as in category 2.

4 Carnivals

A student will need to have participated satisfactorily in the three annual school carnivals. The requirements are as follows:

- Athletics Carnival: Compete in three events.
- Swimming Carnival: Compete in one event.
- Cross Country Carnival: Compete in one race.

5 Cultural Activities

A student will need to have participated satisfactorily in one of the following:

- School Musical production.
- A school instrumental group.
- A school choral group.
- A formal school drama production (excluding drama class productions).
- A regional or state performing group arising out of membership of the school.
- The Schools Spectacular.

6 Other School Activities

A student will need to have taken an active part in two of the following:

- School Prefect.
- Delegate to Student Union.
- Cadets.
- Record Committee.
- Badges Committee.
- Hall Monitor.
- Library Monitor.
- Computer Room Monitor.
- Peer Support leader.
- Archivist.
- Environment Committee.
- Calendar Committee.

7. Other Competitive Activities

A student will need to have participated satisfactorily in one of the following:

- Chess Club.
- Representative debating.
- Representative public speaking.
- Tournament of the Minds.
- Mock trial competition.
- Latin or Classical Greek Reading Competition.
- Assistance with coaching a sporting or debating team.

8 Activities Arising from Membership of the School

A student will need to meet two of the following criteria:

- Entry of satisfactory standard in two of the school's Writer of the Month competitions.
- Gain a grade of at least Distinction in a national standardised test.
- Gain a grade of at least High Distinction or a Prize in a second national standardised test.
- Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme.
- Gain at least a commendation in the Herald Young Writer of the Year competition.
- Have an entry accepted into the ICI Young Playwright of the Year competition.
- Have an entry accepted into Art Express.
- Have an entry accepted into the Industrial Technology exhibition..
- Winner of a competition entered as a member of the school eg Municipal art competition, RAS.
- Gain at least a commendation in a competition such as the RAHS Essay competition.
- Participation in a Latin Play or its equivalent.

9 School and Community Service

A student will need to meet two of the following criteria:

- Participation in a working bee at the school, at McKay or at Abbotsford.
- Participation in a second working bee at the school, McKay or Abbotsford.
- Participation in twelve hours of School parking.
- Participation in Clean Up Australia.
- Participation in a school-approved community service project.
- Participation in a School Service Activity (eg flag-raising, etc)

To facilitate introduction of the Awards Scheme the following special provisions will apply:

- It will be possible for the current Year 12 to qualify for a Gold Award in 1995 but only on 1995 achievements.
- It will be possible for the current Year 11 to qualify for a Silver Award in 1995 and for a Gold Award in 1996.
- It will be possible for the current Year 10 to qualify for a Bronze Award in 1995, a Silver Award in 1996 and a Gold Award in 1997.

Five Years at the Great Hall

For five years Trent Dickenson, Philip Wong and myself were involved in looking after the Great Hall. We prepared for over four hundred school activities ranging from the now obsolete daily morning assemblies to sporting assemblies to commemorative assemblies such as the Foundation Day and ANZAC Day assemblies.

Over the years we have had a lot of fun, a lot of misfortunes, and a couple of fires. But the best part was, we could use the hall as an excuse to get out of class. Of course it was always legitimate.

Daniel David, Year 12 1995.

Sydney High School Cadet Unit

The Cadet Unit began 1995 with approximately thirty recruits and a highly motivated senior platoon. As in previous years, first term training was directed at preparation for the Annual Bivouac, three days of intensive field training held at Fiddletown early in second term. For the junior platoons this involved instruction in basic signalling skills, navigation, basic first aid, fieldcraft and drill. Senior Platoon training was devoted towards specialist training in the fields of signals, medics or assault pioneering. This resulted in a highly successful unit bivouac with cadets gaining valuable field experience and all levels of command further developing their skills in leadership and instruction or in organisation and administration.

No sooner had the unit returned from the field, than training resumed, this time directed towards Annual Camp held in the last week of second term. This is essentially the culmination of the year's training with all members of the unit putting into practice everything they have learned in the six nights and seven days they spend in the field. The training area for Camp was located in the Meryla State Forest near the Southern Highlands. The area was practically tailor-made for the unit's needs, offering an abseiling site, excellent panoramic views, multiple roads and four-wheel drive tracks for safety considerations and several cosy locations for overnight 'locs' on trek such as the old quarry which accommodated 1 Platoon on their trek. Highlights of Camp included the arrival of several recent old boys, chiefly WO2 Luke Bannister, Ssgt. Luke Farago and WO2 Sam Haeata with his 'car' (perhaps best described as a stereo system on wheels). Throughout the week 1 Platoon were called on to conduct numerous salvage operations, rescuing the intrepid driver and his mud-wrestling 'tank' from the vile clutches of countless vehicle devouring bogs and in one instance lifting the front end of the vehicle off a tree stump after its driver had 'parked' on it, albeit unintentionally ("I didn't see it - what a stupid place to put a tree stump anyway!"). These exploits resulted in Mr. Haeata being recognised with a 'Paper Plate Award' for "The man most likely to become the head of an Army transport squadron".

Other highlights of Camp included: the obstacle course skilfully and rapidly constructed by the mighty 1 Platoon (with certain sections being deconstructed even faster by a certain officer who shall remain unnamed), the competition being won by the team fielded by the Senior NCOs; the platoon treks; Cdt. J. Beran's amazing feats of mind control (no brain, no pain) in pulling hot tins of food out of a roaring fire with his bare hands; Cdt T. Chan's strange teleportation in the middle of the night from falling asleep in a cot in the Q-Store to waking up on the parade ground bound to his cot by twine; and finally the unit barbecue held on the last night of Camp. All things considered, Annual Camp 95 was both successful and memorable.

Third term activities were devoted towards weapons training. Cadets were instructed in the principles of marksmanship, drill with arms, and perhaps most importantly, weapons safety. Although greeted by rain, this year's Annual Range Practice held on the last Sunday of term was brightened by the unit obtaining the use of several L1A1 SLRs in conjunction with the usual complement of Lee-Enfield .303 in rifles. Those who weathered the heavy rain were well rewarded with the chance to try their hand at shooting with the SLR with several good groupings recorded, and Cdt M. Pollock being awarded Skill-At-Arms.

On Sunday 6th August, the unit took part in a parade held by the Kensington Branch of the RSL to commemorate the 50th Anniversary of the end of World War Two. Marching down a one kilometre stretch of Anzac Parade with the unit flag in front and accompanied by marching bands, those who participated were a credit to the unit as well as the school with several compliments being received from parade organisers impressed by the dress, drill and bearing of those from the unit on parade.

Although small in number compared to other school cadet units, notably the Sydney Grammar School Cadet Corps, the unit has always had a reputation for excellence. Evidence of this can be found by looking at this year's (as well as previous years') Combined Promotion Course results. SHS candidates consistently outperformed SGS candidates in most fields. Noteworthy performances include Cdt S. Lee and Sgt P. Nicholas who finished first in the Junior NCO Course and second in the CUO Course respectively. These results emphasise the high standards found in the unit with respect to discipline and training among other things.

On behalf of the unit and my fellow officers I wish to thank all those who have supported the unit throughout this year. Special thanks must be given to Lt Ian Barratt and Lt Richard Young for their assistance in the running of the unit. Above all, special mention must be made of Captain Mark Gainford, who after twenty years of service, eighteen of them as Officer Commanding of this Unit, will resign from his position at the end of the year. Without him the unit would certainly not have the high standards of tradition, training and discipline that it has today. Capt. Gainford will leave the unit with a good future based on the firm footing he has provided it.

Philip Wong, CUO, Senior Under Officer.

School Council Annual Report

Nineteen ninety-five was a year that has seen both consolidation and development. The most significant event of the year was the ratification of the revised constitution of Council following a lengthy period of discussion among the constituent groups and subsequent negotiation with the Department of School Education.

Council addressed the issue of school uniform during the year and came down heavily in favour of approving current uniform policy. Council noted the firm direction given by the Director-General of School Education allowing school communities to set their own standards of uniform. The Principal was given Council's authority to take firm action against the wearing of earrings and the like.

A policy was adopted for the operation of the McKay Canteen.

The 1995 school budget was approved and endorsed. Council noted with increasing concern the downturn in income from voluntary contributions following publicity which emphasised their voluntary nature. It was noted that this school had traditionally made generous provision for families in financial difficulty and that the kinds of problems that had arisen elsewhere in respect of methods of collection had not arisen here. It was Council's view that the school should have its backing to maximise income from voluntary contributions.

It was noted that a comprehensive review of the Prize Account remains to be completed. Mr Ken Matthews had done a certain amount of work before his untimely death and Ms Kerri Long had gone so far with it before her resignation. The task, however, remained to be completed. To this end Council organised a review of the Prize Account with a view to its completion at the earliest practicable time.

Council noted with gratitude the donation of two air tickets from Singapore Airlines to enable the P&C to enhance its fund raising. It is understood that there is some prospect of the donation being repeated in 1996.

Council noted the issuing by the Department of School Education of a revised Code of Conduct for students and the requirement that the school revise its code of conduct in the light of this new statement. The exercise is to be initiated in first term, 1996 and Council looks forward to playing its part in this important statement.

The construction of bus bays in Anzac Parade is looming as an important matter and Council endorsed the Principal's action in writing to the Roads and Traffic Authority to this effect. It was noted that a submission from both schools would be entered as part of the foreshadowed environmental impact statement for the Eastern Distributor.

Council noted continuing improvements to the school environment and wished to encourage voluntary efforts by school family members. To that end Council endorsed a plaque scheme whereby contributors could be acknowledged.

A parking policy was developed and approved in order to rationalise this operation.

Council created sub-committees for specific tasks during the year to coordinate preparation of the Strategic Plan and to consider the school budget.

Sydney Boys High School 2000: a Strategic Plan was prepared as a major statement of direction for the school. Council resolved to issue the plan as a good quality publication and to distribute a copy to each member of the school family. Students, staff, parents, Old Boys and constituent organisations contributed to this important document. Annual management plans will be framed within its general context. Budget and resourcing decisions will be taken the same way.

I put on record my thanks to members of Council for their conscientious attention to the work of Council during 1995. Next year, the first year of the Strategic Plan, promises to be just as challenging.

John Goddard, President.

Sydney Boys High School P&C Inc.

It is time, once again, for the Annual Report to the members of the Sydney Boys High School P&C and we can all be justly proud of the advances made this year in all aspects of our activities.

Highlights have included:

- The near completion of the Senior Study Centre.
- The accreditation of the School Council.
- The fund raising and transfer of $110,000 towards the Senior Study Centre project.
- A very successful (and profitable) Art and Craft Show.
- Successful social joint meetings with our friends at Sydney Girls High School.
- The continued efficient management of the Canteen by a dedicated staff and volunteers.
- Continued fruitful cooperation with the teaching staff in areas of student welfare and safety.

It has been a very busy year and at times a little frenetic as we became involved in the parking of over five thousand cars, the vagaries of the weather during the Art Show and lobbying of the Government to help us with staffing for 1996.

However there are still several issues which will continue to need attention into the next year as well as several areas of on going development which will need continued action and review. Among these are:

- The continual growth and review of the Welfare Committee within the school community.
- The continued effort to resist reduction in staffing levels within the school.
- The ongoing growth in the relationship between the parent bodies of both schools both socially and in the area of resource development.
- The continued support of the work of the School Council and the School Foundation as well as the staff and executive.
- The efficient use of car parking as a continually growing source of revenue to support the financing of the Senior Study Centre.
- The constant effort to improve communications at all levels of the school and its family.

We have all worked hard to help the school move "Towards 2000 and Beyond" and I am sure that the incoming executive will lead us towards those goals if we all cooperate and give just a little of our time to help out when and where we can.

As President for the last two years I have enjoyed working with you all, meeting new parents and catching up with some old friends. The accomplishments of this period could not have been possible without your executive, the support of the Headmaster and Deputy Principal, and the enthusiasm of all parents to see our association grow and continue to develop.

The future is not going to be easy as Government support is directed in wider areas of education and the social pressures on our sons increase in the areas of job competition and more complex environmental issues but we must continue our efforts.

In closing I must make special mention of a group of people without whose help and support we would not have been able to meet our objectives for the year, and they are Gary and Kerrie Hamer for their "just plain hard work and many hours", David Rosenfeld for the "quiet achievements", Karen Loblay and Sonia McAlister for their support at many meetings and Cheryl Nicholas for "filling in at late notice for just about everything".

Special thanks must go to my wife, Cheryl, for all of her support and understanding but we both strongly believe in the School and will continue to be ready to help, when needed, a school which has been so much a part of our lives.

Mr Phil Whyte, President.

Principal's Speech

Ladies and Gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to welcome tonight our special guests, the Hon John Aquilina, Minister for Education and Training and Professor Peter Johnson, Chancellor of The University of Technology, Sydney and distinguished Old Boy of High.

I take this opportunity to wish you well, Mr Aquilina, in the administration of your important portfolio. It is clear from policy statements that you have in mind a number of significant initiatives, some of them in the vital areas of computers and literacy. There will be strong support from teachers and parent groups for initiatives in these areas.

Sydney Boys High is, in word and in deed and in fact, a government school and proud of it. Like other schools in the government system, it is trying to do its job to the best of its ability. Through the school's unique historical link with the GPS sporting organisation, however, it also provides an important bridge of communication and understanding with the non government sector of education. Part of the tradition of the school derives from its unique involvement in the GPS. It is pleasing to note, therefore, the Premier's love of history and his strong sense of the value and importance of heritage and tradition in the life of the community and its elements.

To you, Mr Chancellor, I say welcome back for the second time this year. It is, as always, a delight to have you with us. The community of interest between our institutions of learning I believe to be a good thing. It will eventually find a level that is beneficial but not burdensome to both institutions.

I welcome also Professor Gus Guthrie, Vice Chancellor of UTS; Professor Tony Blake, Deputy Vice Chancellor of UTS; Mr Peter Tynan, President of UTS Union; board members of UTS Union; and Mr Michael Georgeson, Secretary-Manager of UTS Union.

I add a welcome to Mr Don Goodsir, Director of Schools, Woollahra; Mrs Margaret Varady, Principal of Sydney Girls High School; Mr John Goddard, Chairman of Sydney Boys High School Council; Mr Phil Whyte, President of our P&C Association and Chairman of the Sydney High School Foundation; Maj General Jim Norrie, President of the Old Boys Union; and Mr Ken Baret, President of The High Club.

I welcome all of you who have come tonight to see this wonderful new facility officially opened. And I thank everyone who has contributed to the occasion including our school's concert band under the baton of Ms Debra Gilmore.

Sydney Boys High School seeks to educate the whole boy: intellectually, aesthetically, physically. The school's primary mission is academic achievement and we provide a wide range of opportunities for boys with particular intellectual gifts and talents. There is also strong commitment to the arts and I note in passing that 170 boys are involved in musical or choral performance groups in 1995 and that the school finally has, by dint of extremely hard work from a lot of people, its symphony orchestra. Tonight, however, is essentially a sporting occasion and an endorsement of the school's commitment to sport and to individual fitness.

With this building we have solved a major problem. The old gymnasium, the photographs remind us, was a building in decay, a fact which demolition confirmed. Within five years it would have needed a very large sum of money spent on it. Then along came the joint venture and the rest, as they say, is history. The school's Development Plan has been able to proceed in the knowledge that the stadium has been taken care of.

The project has gone well, probably because it was a good idea in the first place. One doubts there is a plot of ground, public or private, that will be better and more efficiently utilised than this one. The concept of this joint venture can be summed up in simple terms: it makes sense. I say in passing that it may also make sense for future sharing of other sporting facilities with UTS, beginning with the tennis courts.

The stadium will provide a wonderful sporting venue for the 2030 students on the two campuses at Moore Park. It will allow for occasional use by primary schools in the vicinity. There may be certain primary and secondary representative sporting carnivals that will find themselves attracted to this venue. Sydney High has a tradition of making its facilities available to others. The McKay Playing Fields have been used by school and community groups. On Australia Day this year McKay number one ground, at the request of The Australia Day Council, was the venue for a cricket match between the Lord Mayor's XI and an Aboriginal Australian XI. The boatshed at Abbotsford has been used as recently as a month ago for accommodation by a country government school. That was not the first time nor will it be the last. The Great Hall is the headquarters of the Metropolitan East Regional Choir and is used by Bourke Street Public School for its annual prize giving. The school has been used for some years as the venue for selection trials for NSW Schools debating teams. And so on.

The stadium will provide students of UTS with a first class facility close to their place of learning. It will provide selected outside sporting bodies with an excellent venue. It will provide a training venue for the Olympics. In short, the UTS/Sydney Boys High Stadium is a significant addition to the sporting facilities of New South Wales.

The first impact of the stadium on this school will be the introduction of volleyball to the range of sports that the school offers. I have no doubt that badminton will follow. In the classroom upstairs will be computer facilities to enable the boys to establish and monitor their fitness levels.

To Michael Georgeson I give warm thanks. It has been a pleasure to deal with you, Michael. Personally and professionally, I value your friendship. To Mr Peter Tynan, President of UTS Union and to the board of UTS Union, congratulations on your vision. History will judge you well on this project. A big thank you as well to the staff of UTS Union and to staff members of the school who joined with UTS people and others in the design of the stadium.

A word of congratulations to the project consultants, Grindleys. I do hope there are other projects in the public domain that come your way. Special thanks to Mr Bob Southerton, Managing Director and to Mr Alan Carstens, Project Manager. And a big thank you to Mr Bruce Mason, the foreman. In his daily dealings with me, Bruce was forbearing, understanding, patient, tolerant and courteous and showed that he could suffer a fool gladly. I imagine he treated the rest of you, fools and non fools, the same way. To the subcontractors, a big thank you, especially the two brothers who did the floor. To watch them work was like watching Michaelangelo work. And a word of praise to the man who drove the little grader, a man known to me only as H, who was extraordinarily generous with his time and his energy. His friendly wave and G'day were typical of the goodwill on this building site.

Within the Department of School Education I must thank Mr Alex Scott, now ADG in North Coast Region, for his support and encouragement in the initial stage; Mr Denis Clancy, Director of Finance, for his carriage of the project through the Regional Office; Mr Bob Demkiw, who helped at vital stages; and, in particular, Mr Brian Jarman, Assistant Director of Properties. I have worked with Brian before. He is a good operator with a genuine commitment to education and a strong commitment to the efficient use of public resources. To you, Brian: Thanks, mate.

I thank the School Family for their support of the project. In particular I thank Mr Phillip Lambert, immediate past Chairman of Council; Mr Phil Whyte and the P&C; Mr Robert Mitchell, immediate past Chairman of Foundation; Major General Jim Norrie and the Old Boys Union; Mr Ken Baret and the members of The High Club; and all members of staff who have contributed to the project and who have supported it so enthusiastically.

I thank the May family, strong supporters of High, for their attendance tonight. Alan May, a distinguished Old Boy, left money to construct the original weights room in the old gymnasium. The room inevitably suffered demolition with the rest of the gymnasium. I feel sure that Alan May, an economist by training, would have understood. An undertaking was given, however, for the weights room in the sports stadium to be rededicated to the memory of Alan May. A ceremony was held at 7:15 tonight and Mr Phil May performed the rededication.

Mr Terry Meakin played a catalytic role in the genesis of the project. Terry and his wife Robyn are typical of the many good families of High who give unstintingly and unselfishly of their time and their sweat simply because they believe in the school and have the school's interests at heart. They and their family have a characteristic that all staunch and loyal High families have: one blue eye and one chocolate eye. To you, Terry: Thanks, mate.

The pleasure for me personally in this stadium will come when I see basketball and volleyball and badminton being played and, importantly, being enjoyed by the boys. That is the special reward of Principalship. That's what brings Principals to work each day.

Mr Minister and Mr Chancellor, tonight is an important event in the history of the school. On behalf of the School Family of Sydney Boys High School, I thank you both for being part of it.

Minister's Speech

Hon John Aquilina MP, Minister for School Education

Professor Emeritus Peter Johnson, Chancellor of The University of Technology Sydney and Mrs Johnson; Professor Tony Blake, Deputy Vice Chancellor of The University of Technology Sydney; Mr Peter Tynan, President of The University of Technology Sydney Sports Union; Mr Don Goodsir, Director of Schools, Woollahra; Mr John Goddard, Chairman of the Council of Sydney Boys High School; Mr Dick Stratford, Principal of Sydney Boys High School; Mrs Margaret Varady, Principal of Sydney Girls High School; and other representatives from both UTS and Sydney Boys High School.

Tonight's opening is the culmination of over two years of negotiation and planning. This magnificent stadium is the outcome of a process that has gone smoothly in a spirit of friendship and co-operation, possibly because the joint venture made such good sense in the first place.

The stadium provides exceptional sporting facilities for the advantage of both UTS and Sydney Boys High School. I am pleased to note that Sydney Girls High School will also share its benefits.

The stadium provides facilities for basketball, netball, volleyball and badminton. It includes a weights room, staffrooms, change rooms, a first aid room, a canteen and a number of storage rooms. It is already attracting interest from outside sporting bodies that are seeking a top class venue for important sporting events such as international volleyball tests. It is located close to the Olympic basketball venue and should attract great interest from national teams looking for a world class practice venue.

In a broader context the stadium symbolises the growing strength of the relationship between The University of Technology Sydney and Sydney Boys High School, a relationship which is also based in a strong community of interest.

I support you, Mr Chancellor, by giving to this stadium the good wishes of the Government of New South Wales. It is an exemplary joint venture and an important addition to the sporting facilities of Sydney.

Drama

It was a disappointment that there was to be no senior drama class at High in 1995, but fortunately Ms Elizabeth Surbey, the drama teacher at Sydney Girls High School accepted five boys into her senior drama class. Steven Brandon, Daniel Fitzgibbon, Andrew Ivanov, Pascal Rueger and Ben Wood auditioned and were accepted. The boys and girls spent the entire second term engrossed in the production preparation for The Caucasian Chalk Circle by Bertolt Brecht. The performances gathered full houses which was good for the students as they not only acted but also produced, directed and designed the whole show. As a result Daniel, Andrew and Ben received scholarships to the Australian Theatre for Young People, Daniel and Ben for acting and Andrew for technical production.

The five boys from Year 11 and the entire Year 10 Drama class attended the Metropolitan East Regional Drama Camp this year. There they participated in workshops on improvisation, character, Commedia del 'Arte, script writing and play building. Two of the playbuilt pieces were selected to be shown at the 1995 Festival of Drama at the Newtown Studio Theatre. Cluedo and Aeroplane were performances written and directed by the students at the camp. The Year 11 Drama class from SGHS also presented a scene from The Caucasian Chalk Circle.

Steven Brandon and Andrew Ivanov were also chosen to attend the State Drama Camp. This year the camp was exclusively for Year 11 drama students drawn from across the state. The camp concentrated on the development of playbuilding skills which are essential for the HSC course. During the camp, professional industry tutors gave workshops in movement, mime, improvisation and characterisation. The camp was treated to a performance of Saint Joan at the Sydney Opera House, as well as The Real Thing at the Marion St. Theatre.

Sydney Girls High had their annual Shakespeare Festival for which students could enter in the categories of duologue and groups scene. Daniel Fitzgibbon and Yi Chen won the duologue category with a scene from Romeo and Juliet. Steven Brandon, Steven Laurent, Nikki Marczak and Bryoni Trezise won the group scene category, performing A Midsummer Night's Dream. These both went on to perform at the Regional Shakespeare Festival and A Midsummer Night's Dream was highly commended.

At the Sydney High Student Art Show a group of year ten students performed Toyz in the Hood a play written by student Jon Berengut. Steven Brandon and Ben Wood performed a classic Monty Python sketch The Book Shop.

China Exchange, October 1995

THE UNKNOWN JOURNEY

The inaugural trip to China opened many doors for the school and students who participated. In 1995, Mandarin students from Years 8 to 10 were able to obtain a learning experience like no other.

Many left Australia for the first time, leaving behind their way of life in preparation for the strange new world. No tears were shed however, since many of the students were too excited to think about missing their families for nineteen days.

This was a first for many students and it was the first for the school. When we left no one could foresee the journey that lay ahead. To many this was just another simple holiday, but by the end of the trip we all knew better.

The group of twenty-five students were led by Mr Davies and Ms Xayasy. Add to this a handful of parents giving a group of over thirty. Such a large group is always hard to manage, but surprisingly there were no major mishaps.

One of the greatest learning experiences for us was in Shenzhen, a fast growing city, just a train ride from Hong Kong. Students were able to stay with students from the Shenzhen Experimental School. The school itself has facilities which match our own, placing it among the best schools in China. Students there welcomed us with open arms. Their hospitality was amazing - not one student could say he did not enjoy the stay.

Students from both schools were able to participate in cross-cultural games, including basketball and soccer, as well as a concert where we sampled the best from eastern and western cultures. Even though we did not always win, all the students felt the importance of the friendly competition, strengthening the bonds between the two schools and hopefully the bonds between the two countries. Unfortunately our Shenzhen stay had to end, the three short days flew by in minutes. Many students felt the need to come back on future holidays, urging the teachers to extend their stay at the school for future visits. Friendships which were only allowed a few days to bloom, had strengthened into inseparable bonds. Many hope that our Chinese billets will be able to visit us just as we visited them.

The group then moved onto Guilin, where we were able to experience the night life of China, from the dancing to very distressing scenes, such as birds in cages waiting to be purchased and a man drinking a glass of snake's blood.

We then moved into a very small town named Yangsu. There is an old Chinese saying about Yangsu:

*Guilin has the best scenery under the sky,
Yangsu has the best scenery in Guilin.*

We greatly appreciated the chance for a bicycle tour of this small town and its environs. Even though a few had never ridden a bicycle before, they quickly got the hang of it. There was a case of a student falling into an unmarked ditch but incidents like that were rare. After riding for over three hours, Ms Xayasy and a few others resorted to taking a taxi back.

The group moved onto Xian, the site of the Terracotta Warriors, life-size clay statues of men buried with the emperor, so that the emperor could have a place like earth for him to rest underground. Unfortunately, photos were not allowed, but nevertheless many clicked away anyway.

Clicking away led some into trouble. At the Prince Zhang Huai Tomb, a member of our group was caught videotaping the museum, which was not allowed. It was argued that videotaping was not the same as taking photos but this argument was not accepted by the guards. Risking hefty fines and the confiscation of the tape, our travel guide came to the rescue. Speaking a different dialect, the guards and the guide came to a deal, the offender would slip 100 yuan (around $15 Australian) to the guard. This experience gave the group an insight which could not be gained from any text book.

On the first day at Beijing, the students saw something that was an utter amazement, and a much needed relief from Chinese cuisine, a Kentucky Fried Chicken store. This find brought uncontrollable joy, like hunger crazed maniacs we went for the store. Some students had limited ability to speak Mandarin fluently, but this did not hinder them from purchasing, with skilled pointing and waving, their desired purchases.

Beijing not only had KFCs, there were also McDonalds and Pizza Huts. There were many unsuccessful attempts to get pizza delivered, but when the correct phone number was found, the students decided Chinese cuisine was not that bad after all.

China Trip

Tian An Men Square was much more peaceful than the last time I saw it on television. It was very crowded, and taking photos became a challenging task. Dodging and weaving out of others' camera view, whilst attempting to take your own without the added extra nimbleness and diplomacy, but by the end of the trip many of us have perfected this skill.

There is another Chinese saying:

That is exactly where we went next. The Great Wall is a very tricky enterprise, more steps than one can imagine, due to the hilly terrain of China. Obviously we did not complete the 3000 km that the Great Wall stretches, as we only had four hours. Many of us could not take the pressure, returning to the bus after a few towers. Some, inspired by Mr. Davies, managed to make eight or nine towers in that time, no mean feat by anyone's standards.

Like all good things this trip had to come to an end. This fruitful experience taught us in many ways, strengthened friendships not just among ourselves but with our new friends 10 000 km away. Everyone thought this experience was successful for different reasons - some were just glad they could practise their Mandarin! Also, thanks to the teachers and parents who put up with twenty-six junk-food crazed Sydney Boys High students for nearly three weeks. Hope to do it again soon.

The King and I

Tuesday 5th September, Wednesday 6th September, Friday 8th September and Saturday 9th September.

With the book closed on two successful musicals, Mr John Walker (Director) and Mr Stephen Jubb (Musical Director) decided to open it up one more time and put on a third triumphant musical, The King and I. Little did they know that they had an ace up their sleeves. Ms Marcia Shepherd, former Sydney High teacher and musical director, returned to Sydney High and put her talent to work as co-director and costume designer.

The King and I is Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical based on the novel Anna and the King of Siam. An English school teacher, Anna Leonowens, was brought to Siam by King Mongkut to give his heir, Prince Chululongkorn, a western education to complement his classical teaching. The musical revolves around the relationship between the King and Anna, the love of two slaves and the teaching of the royal wives and children through a delightful array of music and dance.

After a week of auditions and two weeks of waiting the anxious students found out what roles they were lucky enough to obtain. Naomi Hart, former chorus member and pit singer, climbed her way to the top as she deservedly won the role of Anna. After weeks of waiting, persuading and shuffling of roles Ben Wood was proud to call himself "The King" and he lived up to the name with a brilliant performance.

Talented singers Pascal Rueger and Yi Chen were awarded the roles of Lun Tha and Tup Tim. Although extreme amounts of body makeup was used, Shelley Rosenberg was delighted to play the role of the King's head wife Lady Thiang and Steven Brandon had a great time being evil and arrogant as the prime minister - the Kralahome. Heading the junior cast were Sam Poulter and Michael Lewis as Anna's son Louis and Prince Chululongkorn, these two talented boys are sure to go far. Other principals included Drew Sutherland (Captain Orton), Greg Nottage (Edward Ramsey), Andrew Johnston (The Interpreter), Rachel Saffron (Princess Yaowlak) and Tahnya Rudzyn (Phra Alack).

This year's chorus consisted of forty-two members who were ready to sing, dance and act anytime as long as it did not interfere with the visits to the Turkish bread shop or an Apollo run (a group-devised game bringing hours of fun for all). The team worked hard to perfect English and Siamese accents and spent time adjusting into their lavish costumes. Unfortunately, Mr. Jubb had prior commitments and was unable to be with us for the last weeks of rehearsal and the show. Ms Ingrid Sakurovs stepped into his shoes and conducted the twenty-five members of the orchestra to achieve an outstanding result.

Special mention must be made of our Year 11 stage manager, Andrew Ivanov. Not only did he organise sets but he helped build them, not only did he cue the lights but he made the lighting design. All this, as well as organising scene changes, cueing actors, coordinating everything backstage, and making sure the show ran smoothly. Andrew gave up countless hours of his time for this production and must be thanked immensely as it could not have been done without him.

On 5th September we were ready to go on stage. Amid the panic of tight costumes, hooped skirts, using five cans of black hair spray and six tubes of gel a night, the curtain went up and we were away, whistling a happy tune. Special thanks go to Ms McKellar-White whose artistic direction brought the show to life, Ms Gilmore for supervising sound and lighting, Ms Carol Fury and Ms Fiona Hart for their tireless efforts helping with costumes and to Mr Walker and Ms Shepherd for putting up with the whole thing and seeing it through as it became a huge success.

Orchestra

This year was one of the best years ever as far as the development of the orchestra is concerned. The group has improved in all areas, and has come a long way since its humble beginnings. As a result of long hours of practice, many morning rehearsals and much assistance from our conductor, Mrs Gilmore, we are now playing as a cohesive group, rather than as a group of individuals.

This year saw the addition of several musicians to the orchestra's ranks. The departure of some of our Year 12 members was a great loss to us, but this only furthered our determination to work harder. Our Year 7 members have settled in and now feel that they are part of the orchestra, and are accepted as important members. People from other musical ensembles have also been invited to join the orchestra this year in recognition of their talent and ability. These factors have all balanced out to make for a well rounded group with a wide range of abilities and skills.

The pieces of music that the orchestra worked on this year would have to be the most challenging that we have received yet. They required us to learn many new techniques and fine tune those already possessed. Most importantly, though, the new music called for extra practice as a group to create a solid, and connected feel to our performances. although there are many different levels of skill present in our ensemble, ranging from the complete beginners to those who have studied music for most of their lives, it was important that the whole orchestra, and not just a select few experts, contributed to the overall sound in order for it to be full bodied and rich.

The orchestra rehearses once every week, although on most occasions only the string players needed to attend. Other members, such as those playing woodwind or brass or percussion instruments, were only required to come to rehearsals at the request of our conductor. This was because the string section forms the main body of the orchestra and much work was put in by our conductor to achieve the sound which was required of it. The woodwind and brass sections of the orchestra were assumed to be practising their parts in the music at home. These sections needed more individual work by the instrumentalists to perfect. When we rehearsed together everything seemed to come together and the guidance of our conductor improved our combined sound further.

There were several performances for audiences, such as during the Winter Festival, and at the final concert at music camp. On all occasions, our hard work and long hours of practice showed through, and there were very few errors. However when things did go wrong, such as errors of note-reading or timing, they only heightened our understanding of the things which needed to be improved for the next performance.

Summing up, this year represented a major leap forward for the orchestra in all areas. None of this of course could have occurred without the hard work of all our members and, most importantly, Mrs Gilmore. As our conductor she has had to prepare the music we play, attend every rehearsal and spend time correcting our mistakes, and lead us on to cover new territory.

Nicholas Seow, Year 8.

Chamber Choir – 1994

[This report was inadvertently omitted from the 1994 edition of "The Record".]

The Chamber Choir of Sydney Boys High School had a year filled with diversity and variety but also with hard training of our vocal chords.

Our first performance of the year was about one month after the return of school (and the start of high school for my classmates and me) at Speech Night. We entertained the students and parents with "Save The Child" (where soloists Rowan Savage and Ben Hart should be noted) and two spiritual pieces.

We trained our voices at the first ever Music Camp at Stanwell Tops and the result showed at the final concert.

Again, we were a part of the Combined Secondary School Choral Concert Massed Choir. On the evening of the concert, we, with other pupil vocalists, outsang the challenging Mozart's Requiem and the collection of Beach Boys hits.

Prior to the Winter Festival, we rehearsed and practised a lot of "Renaissance rounds", "spirituals", "Save The Child" and a duet (soloists Shannon Barnes and Rowan Savage), so we could really show our talents.

The most fascinating aspect of 1994 was the Choral Workshop, conducted by Richard Gill, in which most of the Choir and other interested non-members of both Sydney High Schools involved themselves. We learnt and performed folk songs in the main foyer. We appreciate Richard Gill's wonderful time and would like to thank him for his effort to coach us in singing.

Another unique and unusual experience we attended was Ms Hardy's father's funeral. Although we only presented one item, "Save The Child", we received an astonishing response. We'd like to thank Ben Hart of Year 12, 1994, for his guidance and support on this occasion.

Apart from the annual Foundation Day, Orientation Day and Student Art Exhibition, the Chamber Choir provided the Summer Spectacular listeners with the "Best of the Beach Boys", a song from "Joseph's Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat" and selected rounds.

Special achievement awards were awarded to Zachary Alexopoulos and myself, Daniel Leelarthapin of the Choir.

Our thanks go out to our conductor, Ms Carol Hardy, for her encouragement, motivation and direction throughout 1994.

Daniel Leelarthapin, Year 7

Chamber Choir – 1995

The Chamber Choir has had increased participation in performances and activities over the year.

We, with the new Year 7 members, worked hard and successfully performed at the Music Camp in early April, especially with the experience of working with Melissa Hoile, a vocal tutor.

The Combined Secondary Schools Choral Concert, which was very hard work, was and is the main performance we look forward to every year. With many other high school choristers, we "lifted" the roof of the Opera House Concert Hall by singing to our best ability. The massed choir started with Haydn, followed by a contemporary Australian/Aboriginal work and concluded with an Abba medley.

Our next performance was with St George Girls High School choir, at their school, belting out "On The Banks Of The Condamine" accompanied by a didgeridoo.

The loneliness of the Cross Country runner.

At the mid-year concert, The Winter Festival, we satisfied the audience with the Abba medley, conducted by the unforgettable Stephen Jubb and assisted by the joyous Debra Gilmore.

Besides the Student Art Exhibition, in which we performed many items, we attended the Metropolitan East Region Festival at Darling Harbour Convention Centre where we sang as a part of a secondary and primary school massed choir.

Also, we took part in the usual Orientation Day, Foundation Day, Speech Night and Summer Spectacular during 1995.

Special achievement awards were awarded to Justin Ong, Victor Ling and Chris Dooley of our Choir.

Some members of our choir joined other choirs such as Sydney Girls High School's choir and the Metropolitan East Region choir.

We would like to thank Ms Carol Hardy for her guidance, leadership and tolerance and also to the particular committed SGHS girls who completed our Chamber Choir of 1995.

Chess

The 1995 year for chess at Sydney High saw excellent results. The team of Ricky Lopis (Year Eight), Gareth Charles (Year Seven), Simon Ho (Year Nine), and Danny Ho (Year Eight) totally annihilated the field it came up against, which usually consisted of students from years ten, eleven and twelve. Every single match was won easily with only the odd game ever dropped. The strength of the side was shown with a 4-0 win in the finals!

Chess looks particularly strong at Sydney High now, a position that will last for a number of years yet with most of our promising players in the junior ranks. We can expect many more premierships yet with players ratings very high compared with other schools. It is many people's opinion that perhaps Chess is the strongest sport or game at High at the moment!

Second Grade Debating

Second Grade Debating had not won anything since the all round successes of 1992, when all four open competitions were won. Thus we were determined that this year Second Grade would win at least one of the two competitions. Term II saw three trials, against Trinity, Newington and Cranbrook, with the trial against Sydney Girls cancelled. There was one spot in the team to be decided during these trials, and also some much needed practice was to be had. Wins against both Newington and Cranbrook and a loss, due to a technicality, against Trinity sorted out the team and prepared us for the season to come.

Thus the side, Peter Nicholas (1st Speaker), Prashant Khera (2nd Speaker) and Alexander Daniel (3rd Speaker), was ready to take on the GPS competition. We won our first three debates against Shore, Joelys and Kings by comfortable margins and were building in confidence and skill. We knew however that it was the next three debates that would make or break the premiership dreams of the side. Our debate against Newington was prepared (an idea brought in last year by the GPS: every second debate is prepared) and thus took a lot of time. The topic "That Australia needs a Bill of Rights" had us running around to get legal textbooks to increase our knowledge in this area. In what was a master stroke of rebuttal in the debate itself, we managed to point out that they were asserting the fact that Australia was a fair, democratic and stable country and, since this argument was the whole foundation of their case, we won. We knew however that the most important debate still lay ahead of us: St Ignatius.

The week was a very nervous one, trying to guess what topics we might get, and you can imagine the relief that we had when we got an historical topic as Peter and myself have a certain reputation in history. The topic "That the allies were right to drop the bomb" had us jumping with joy all the way to the prep room. Being on the negative, we kept ourselves away from the tempting moral issues and focussed on the real reasons for dropping it. In what was a very surprising result, the adjudicator, who confessed afterwards to having very little knowledge of historical events, gave the debate to Ignatius, who had built their case on historical "facts" which would and did make every history teacher present cringe! It was one of the worst feelings ever: from the possibility of champions it looked like we would have to win every debate to be co-premiers, with a team (Ignatius) that we should have beaten. However this served one purpose which was very useful. We were really psyched up (It is possible to get psyched up for a debate, not just a game of football) to win, and win convincingly. At least destiny was still in our own hands.

Our next debate was a prepared debate against Grammar on the topic "That American culture is an oxymoron" (cringe!) and we spent days reading definitions of culture and thinking how we could argue it was not. Again it was our rebuttal of their case which stood us in good stead. We managed to make one of their arguments look silly and turned their point about Americans being too different for the culture not to be oxymoronic into a truism and used it as a point for ourselves, pointing out that there were certain things that all Americans, no matter how different they are, have in common.

We had one debate left after this win, and we were still certain co-premiers if we won that but because St Ignatius had won the trophy last year, they would have kept it. We beat Scots easily but it was the Ignatius vs Newington debate that held our interest. We couldn't see it and didn't know the result of it until the next day when Peter found out from one of the cross-country runners that Newington had beaten Ignatius! We had done it! We had won the GPS and we couldn't have been happier.

During the year we were also involved in the Karl Cramp competition. The team of Sherman Lai (1st Speaker), Prashant Khera (2nd Speaker), Alexander Daniel (3rd Speaker) and Adam Malouf (4th Speaker) completed our round-robin with ease, defeating Maroubra, and Leichhardt and winning on forfeit against Marrickville. We then travelled to Strathfield Girls High where we again won convincingly, having what I would judge as our best performance of the competition. Then we came up against Sydney Girls. Although we had only ever debated them three times at that point, we'd lost all three, the most recent the Monday of that week (the debate being held on a Friday). Our confidence was less than high, but due to a good all-round performance we beat them, on adjudicator's calculations, by half a mark! This meant that we were now in the regional final, to be held the following Friday out at Peakhurst.

The debate against Sydney Tech was one which we would all rather forget. For starters the person who decided to have the debate start at 10:00 a.m.

(meaning that prep starts at 9:00 a.m.) got it wrong. It is too soon after getting out of bed to be psyched up. We did not really perform to the best of our ability, the adjudicators failed to appreciate our rebuttals and were not happy with our case. Needless to say, we lost and were out of the CHS competition. It is worth pointing out that one of our coaches, Mr Neil Whitfield, said that if we had done half as well in the morning as we did against Kings that same night, we would have won easily!

The successes of the season would not have been attainable if it were not for the invaluable help of everyone involved. Thanks especially to our two coaches, Mr Neil Whitfield (staff) who not only coached us during the Karl Cramp but also managed us for the whole season and had the initiative to secure the services of David Eysers (old boy). With David's help during the GPS competition we started learning some of the finer points about debating, points that will no doubt help us next year when we are in the important debates of all competitions. We thank these two men for giving up their time to help us, watch us (win) and tell us we should have when we did not. Thanks also to the debating master Mr Glen Davies for organising everything to do with the competition. Finally, our congratulations go to the First Grade side who this year retained the Hume Barbour trophy, a feat we are looking forward to repeating next year.

David Verco Debating

The Commonwealth Bank Senior side (debating for the David Verco trophy) this year were all from Year 11, the team being Andrew Goodwin, Prashant Khara and Alexander Daniel, who constantly changed speaking positions. Sherman Lai also debated in one of the round robins when I was sick. The competition began with an extremely badly prepared debate against Waverley. Being a competition in which preparation time is unlimited, an hour of preparation on the flat was not really good enough to win. This brought the realisation that we actually had to think hard about the topic before we sat down to a preparation. In what was an extremely close debate against St Catherine's on the topic "That intelligence is overrated" we eventually convinced the adjudicator that it was and thus we won. Luckily for us Waverley had lost their debate against Kambala so each team had won one debate. This turned our final round-robin against Kambala into a semi final. Debating the negative side of the topic "That leadership is a lost art" we were able to use their definitions of what a good leader was to prove our point and thus won fairly convincingly.

The zone final was our next step and it was to be against St Catherine's. Even though we organised it for a Sunday and all turned up, they did not. We were kind enough to make more time but again they failed to turn up so we were zone premiers.

Our first inter-zone debate was against GyMEA. This side had recently been beaten by our Hume Barbour team. In what was a debate between two very good sides High was arguing "That Shakespeare should be compulsory". This adjudication proved to be the longest of our lives. He took ten minutes just to decide (normally five minutes is the usual time) and then took half an hour to tell us. Not good for stomachs as weak as ours. Finally he told us what we wanted to hear, we had won. This win propelled us into the semifinals against Sydney Girls. This was another forgettable debate. We had forgotten the lessons of Waverley and went in only half prepared. The basic sides of both teams were even but as the side proposing to abolish state governments, we had to provide an alternative, which we failed to do.

We were thus out of the competition, a let down, but considering our beginnings it was in the end a good effort from all involved.

Thanks go to our manager Mr Michael Selway (staff) whose driving skills took us all over the Eastern Suburbs (looking for Kambala) and for organising the delicious teas (and suppers). Without his help and guidance, we would not have known who we were debating, when and where. Also thanks to everyone else involved with this competition.

Alexander Daniel

Nineteen ninety-five was a good year for Year 8 debating. We had four to five teams of keen and eager debaters. However other schools could not supply more than two teams a week, so that we had to rotate the debaters around so everyone got an equal number of debates.

We won more debates than we lost but I think 1995 will be looked upon as a learning year for us. Everyone progressed a lot during the year and this, coupled with the amount of interest in debating, bodes well for the future. A special mention must be made of Kyle Robertson who received the debating award, and of Peter Cumines, an Old Boy of the School, who coached us this year.

First Eleven

The 1994/95 season for the First XI was one full of excitement, drama, heartbreak and plain bad luck. Following on from last year's premiership winning side and attempting to emulate its performances was never going to be an easy task. In the CHS one-day knockout competition, the Davidson Shield, we progressed further than last year's side in reaching the quarter finals (last eight from 256 schools). It was unfortunate to then be disqualified on a technicality.

In the GPS competition we experienced mixed fortunes with some fine individual and team efforts being recorded along the way to finishing a creditable fourth overall in the competition.

vs KINGS (Gowan Brae)

KINGS 205 (Gibb 2-22, Koren 2-23)

HIGH 5-165 (Gray 64, Lamb 38)

Draw - rain stopped play

Our first GPS game... we were confident of beginning the season with a win after some solid efforts in the trial matches. Having won the toss we elected to bowl hoping to run through the Kings top order. With Adair taking a wicket with his third ball it seemed as though our task would become a formality. However disaster struck only two overs later with "Teddy" having to leave the field with a back injury... a problem which would plague him throughout the entire season.

With Adair out of action we used seven bowlers that day. Koren, Flynn and Gibb all took two wickets each. The next week was rain affected and with the wicket being conducive to bowling we batted steadily with all batsmen contributing to reach 5-165 before rain stopped play. Cameron Gray (Year 9) top scored with a fine 64.

vs St JOSEPHS (Mackay)

HIGH 187 (Bowmer 55, Webb 26) and 5-194 (Gibb 76no)

JOEYS 308 (Gray 2-22, Gibb 2-18)

1st innings loss

A disappointing loss considering our solid first round effort. We won the toss and batted. Several players made promising starts but couldn't get past the twenties. Grant Bowmer top scored with a superb 55. Our total of 187 was always going to be hard to defend and so it proved. Our bowling and fielding were mediocre and with Joeys batting well the next week we found ourselves saving an outright loss.

Fortunately James Gibb and Cameron Gray displayed resilience in their attitude and placement in their shot making to guide us out of trouble.

vs SCOTS (Bellevue Hill)

HIGH 243 (Webb 46, Durie 42)

SCOTS 109 (Durie 6-36, Gibb 3-25)

1st innings win

Our final match for 1994 was one in which we were keen for a result. Having won the toss and batted, Matthew Webb and Adair Durie combined to take the team to a good total of 243.

With Adair back to fitness, we routed the Scots line-up dismissing them for just over one hundred. James Gibb bowled some extremely well flighted leg spin to capture three wickets. Scots were forced to bat again, but they managed to see out the remainder of the day to be 0-155 at stumps.

vs SHORE (McKay)

HIGH 100 and 6-205 (Gray 56, Lamb 62)

SHORE 291 (Grover 2-26, Jones 2-45)

1st innings loss

Shore were competition leaders thus far and they certainly showed us why. We began by bowling well and at one stage had them 3-38. However, Shore managed to post a huge total of nearly three hundred. We were not able to match this especially after Matthew Webb retired after breaking his cheekbone. In the second innings we showed both Shore and ourselves what we could do with the bat - reaching 6-205 by the end of the day - a positive finish to the game.

vs GRAMMAR (Weigall)

HIGH 7-149 (Gray 43, Lyons 18no)

GRAMMAR 145 (Czerski 6-28, Lamb 2-31)

1st innings win

This was an extraordinary day for the spinners in our team. Our off spinner Andrew Czerski bowled beautifully to pick up 6-28 off 22 overs! A devastating performance which contributed to Grammar only making 145. With some solid batting throughout our innings we were never going to lose - it was only some wickets which fell late in the day that made the score seem closer than it was.

vs NEWINGTON (Stanmore)

HIGH 9-132 (Durie 47, Czerski 24)

NEWINGTON 117 (Durie 6-32, Flynn 2-17)

A win

This was a one day match and because of some overnight rain the game was reduced to 40 overs per side. This appeared to suit our team. After a solid start to our innings we lost wickets steadily to be nine wickets down for 132 after our 40 overs. Some big hitting from Adair (three sixes onto the roof of the workmen's shed) kept us in the game. All our bowlers were ravenous for wickets and led by Adair (6-32 off 15 overs) we managed to hold our chances and bowl Newington out for 117! One of the highlights of our fielding was when Daniel Wong held onto a screamer at backward square to dismiss the Newington captain. Adair's six wickets brought him to a total of 88 over the four years that he has been playing first grade and we were all hoping that he could pick up twelve more against Ignatius.

vs St IGNATIUS (Mackay)

HIGH 81 (Czerski 20) and 152

(Lamb 79, Webb 24)

IGGIES 145 (Durie 5-43, Czerski 2-23) and 91

(Durie 7-36, Lamb 3-21)

An outright loss by 3 runs!

This match was easily the most exciting of the season. Although we batted poorly in the first innings we came out firing in the second; and to add to the drama Adair had given himself a chance of reaching the 100 wickets. This he did, 7-36 off 24 overs - surely one of the best ever bowling performances seen at McKay. Iggies were stunned and we were left with 156 runs for outright victory! At 2-10 we looked to be in trouble, but some solid batting from the middle order saw us cruising at 5-134 and later 6-143. The pressure was somewhat too much for us however, and our last man was run out in a terrible mix up. We were left three runs short!

An outright victory would have seen us placed second overall - as it was we had to settle for fourth.

Player Profiles

Andrew Czerski: "Chads" has been in first grade for the past three seasons as an opening batsman. However this year he excelled in his role of team off spinner, bowling with maturity, control and guile. Andrew possesses a heap of ability and should go places with his cricket beyond school.

Cameron Gray: Although only in Year 10 "Rowdy" displayed the consistency and discipline in his batting which would have befitted a more experienced player. His fine hand of 64 against Kings helped to highlight his talents and also reward him with a place in the combined GPS U 17's. "C Gray" was unlucky to miss out on a spot in the GPS squad, however, he still has two more seasons to prove his worth.

Grant Bowmer: "Bowie" showed his potential to be a devastating middle order batsman in the match against Joeys. He also fancies himself as a left arm orthodox spinner although his opportunities were limited in this capacity. Always acting as a mediator of any disputes arising with opposing sides, Grant was a steadying influence within the team.

Matthew Webb: A member of last year's team, Matty is an extremely solid batsman who is capable of damaging the morale of any bowling attack. He possesses an uncanny ability to rescue the team from uncomfortable situations and indeed was called upon to do this more than once this season. Webby is still working on his left-arm mediums but when these are perfected he will truly be a complete cricketer.

Nick Grover: Although Nick did not have the best of times with the bat, his bowling progressed through the season and he managed to pick up several key wickets for us.

Adair Durie: "Teddy" was easily the most venomous, and definitely the fastest bowler in the competition. Troubled by injury early in the season Adair came back in the New Year to take 26 wickets at an average of 9 runs apiece. His ability to bowl long spells with both the old and new ball helped him on his way to picking up his 100 wickets in GPS over four seasons. Adair was once again rewarded with selection in the combined GPS XI and from there the NSW Schoolboys team - something which has not been achieved by a High cricketer for a very long time.

Phil Lyons: With his rejuvenated attacking batting style and his natural ability as a wicket keeper (especially to the spinners) PL was an integral part of our side. Phil's attitude and commitment to training is second to none and it is this enthusiasm which will serve him well in next year's competition.

Greg Flynn: "Errol's" experience and persistence made him a valuable bowling partner for Adair. Greg will play an even bigger role with both the bat and ball in next year's side.

Matthew Bowman: "Heavy B" managed to intimidate and trouble many batsmen this year. He also displayed surprising agility for such a big lad and along with his commitment to training he proved to be a valuable member of the team.

James Gibb: "Gibbo" was the tradesman of the team. Being our opening batsman he would be called upon to see off the new ball and then set about building an innings. James hardly ever failed in his task - his fine array of shots both in front of and behind the wicket frustrated even the best of teams (70 against Joeys). He matured considerably as a legspin bowler and towards the end of the season was an integral part of the attack.

Daniel Wong: "Wongy" has been an extremely exuberant and passionate member of our side this year. With the best throw in the side, Daniel always led the way in the field and he managed to pull off some ripping catches over the season.

Isaac Koren: Isaac played the first half of the season with us and bowled with plenty of fire and determination which befitted his character.

Such a successful and memorable season would not have been possible without the valuable support we received throughout the pre-season and the competition itself. Firstly thanks are due to all the parents of the boys in the team who gave up their time to provide and serve the lunches and afternoon teas at the home games. Our lunches have built up a reputation of being the finest in the GPS and this year was no different.

I'd also like to extend our sincere appreciation to Mr Mark Hockey our trainer and mentor who worked with us during the pre-season and the GPS competition and who helped to improve our fielding and attitude towards the game immeasurably. Mr Ron Gray must also be thanked for his great effort of scoring for the team both for GPS matches and our CHS games. Mr Stratford and Mr Baldock have given valued support on Saturdays along with many other old boys and friends of the school who came along to the games.

Finally, to Mr Kourtesis who manages, coaches, organises and does just about everything else for the team - we extend our deepest gratitude. Mr Kourtesis has become a friend to many of us and his dedication and devotion to the First XI has been invaluable, not just in 1995, but over many years of involvement with Sydney High cricket.

To the players of the First XI thanks for your support and for a season which was unforgettable.

Alex Lamb, Captain.

Third Eleven

The Sydney High Third XI of 1994/5 was remarkable for its consistency. We were continually turning up to play cricket and consistently got beaten. Sometimes it wasn't by much, but other times... well, the less said the better. At least we enjoyed ourselves immensely, which was, after all, the main reason for playing. Winning competitions was up to 1st and 2nd Grade. Third Grade's job was to provide cannon fodder for other schools and to enjoy ourselves. Here then is a report of a season in which, though we didn't manage to win a game, all team members thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it.

Although we were meant to have two day games, another thing that was remarkably consistent was the rain which always managed to turn the planned two day games into one day games; well, at least you can't get beaten outright in a one day game! Our first match against Kings was, because of rain in the first week, turned into a one day game. It was a game in which Serdar Bolen showed that when he was around, there was going to be some sort of unusual happening. In this case it was an over, which because of the number of no balls, had a double digit number of balls bowled. The next game was against St Joseph's (and yes, it was a two day game which we lost outright) and it really showed the fighting spirit of the team. We scored only 71 runs (A Daniel 31) in our first innings, in over three and a half hours. Joeys had all but wiped out the deficit by stumps. The next week Joeys continued on their rampage and eventually sent us in to see if we could avoid defeat. High took up the challenge and our last man fell at 12:55 pm. Stumps would have come a few minutes later. Refreshed by this we faced our next game, against Shore, with relish. Again we were bundled out cheaply and, in a game with some rain interruptions, we lost outright well into the second day. Credit to Arto Hakkinen, who did his best in staving off defeat. Hence we finished the calendar year with little success.

On our return we were scheduled to play a two day game, and in fact were able to play the first day of the game. Batting second James Roser and Arto Hakkinen put on a great partnership and were still undefeated at stumps. The team was willing to go on with the challenge the next week but rain put an end to this. Nonetheless we managed to play a one day game, but, because of a mud patch on the bowler's run up, were only able to bowl from the one end. We were sent in by Shore and played quite well, but a little too much in the two day style to which we were accustomed. Stephen Cheng did a good job of anchoring the innings after the fall of an early wicket and Arto Hakkinen (31) and Alex Daniel (28 n.o.) scored the bulk of the runs. However the most memorable part of this game was Serdar Bolen. He took a run up from the boundary, on McKay 2, incurring the laughter of the opposition, especially when he was hit for 4. The laughter stopped when they were walking back to their little camp. In the end we went down but not by much.

Our next game was also reduced to a one day game, and it is one which will stay in the memory of all who played thanks again to Serdar. Batting first, Serdar came in at number 6. He only lasted an over, but managed to score 20 runs. On his sixth ball he skied it and was caught, so, instead of walking off, he walked to the man that had caught him and exchanged a few words. I don't know what was said, but I'm certain he wasn't being congratulatory. When we bowled Serdar opened the bowling, and yes he did run in from the boundary! However the Newington batsmen thought that he would outsmart him. Just as Serdar had run in all the way and was about to bowl, the batsman stepped away and forced Serdar to do it all again. When Serdar did it again, he bowled him. Although we lost the game, it was a most amusing one. The next couple of weeks were washed out completely, leaving us with only one game for the season. Since it the last game for the Year 12s, we mixed up our batting order, with some interesting results. True to the form of the rest of the season, we lost the game, but we went down fighting and enjoying ourselves.

We had a great season. Thanks to Mr Donnellan for looking after us, and umpiring for the first half of the season. Thanks also to Trent Dickeson, our captain, who was always organised and always had our kit prepared. The members of the 3rd Grade Cricket season 94/5 would like to urge all to have a go, because that is, after all, what it's all about.

Alexander Daniel.

16A Eleven

The Sixteen A cricket team for 1994-95 is living proof that enjoyment isn't measured by success. Although the result sheet for the season is quite a depressing sight, the spirit and commitment of the team epitomised what cricket is all about. At the beginning of the season with the team's future in jeopardy, because of a lack of personnel, we were privileged to gain the services of Elan Rosenthal, Al Copeland and Ben Wood, who were salvaged from the basketball wilderness. However their contribution to the team exceeded "making up the numbers", as all three found ways to shine at various points of the season.

The season did not pass without some outstanding individual performances. Elan Rosenthal captured the only hat trick in cricketing history with three balls which rolled. Adam Papageorgiou and Jim Ward made fine 30's in saving the team from the brink of an outright loss to Scots. Al Copeland fielded like a man possessed all season and Ben Wood kept wickets and batted like a true champion.

Special mention must also be made of Jordi Bates who joined us halfway through the season and Kieran White who was nominated our most improved player. The team consisted of - Gautham Srinivas (Captain), Ben Wood, Elan Rosenthal, Adam Papageorgiou, Al Copeland, Arul Thillainadesan, Winston Cooley, Jim Ward, Anthony O'Rourke, Kieran White, Jordi Bates and Greg Nottage.

14A Cricket

The season was one that suggested that had we begun training earlier than we did we would have been up there with the best of our opponents. Because of this we started at a disadvantage which we never caught up.

With great improvement from the fast bowler Mark Retter our bowling attack was very formidable. As proof of this, on every occasion but one we bowled the opposition out for less than one hundred and fifty runs. However, as was the case on most occasions our batsmen were unable to capitalise on this advantage.

On the same note, the new-found talent of Jonathon Dooley as an opening batsman bolstered our confidence for next season. With good showings from Anthony Legg and Vijay Potukuchi we looked set to put a big score on the board, but our middle and lower order were dismissed cheaply.

In the field we have generally improved from season 1993/94 with the inclusion of David Rosenthal who is an extremely good close-in fieldsmen. Throughout the season we had problems with a wicketkeeper but Olivier Charkos steadily improved through the last few games and looks a good prospect for the next season.

On behalf of the team I would like to thank Mr Hassall and Mr Legg for coaching throughout the season.

Anthony Legg, Captain.

13B Eleven

Unfortunately, the 1995 season was an extremely short one. We were only able to play three matches; all the rest were washed out.

Our first match was against Kings, who were allegedly a very good side. We won the toss and elected to field. Kings made 116 in their 36 overs which could have indeed been a lot more if High had not fielded as well as we did. Lin Li took an excellent catch to dismiss a batsman who was well on his way to a big score, 42 was enough!

High made 84 which sounds a lot worse than it actually was. Every player stayed in for a few overs, and even though they didn't get many runs they still got a good look at the bowlers. However, lazy running cost us about ten runs. Bruce Du batted well for his 12 runs, as did Kenneth Tan (7), and with myself snaring 23 our innings was very promising without being brilliant. I also should mention Rhys Hardwick-Jones who kept very well and was very enthusiastic.

Our next match was against St. Ignatius. We again won the toss and elected to field. The first wicket fell at 2, but that was our only jubilant moment for quite some time. Riverview's No. 4 batsman hit a magnificent 77, which gave our bowlers a real lesson in life. Ken Tan again showed us what a fine cricketer he was, taking 2/8 off 2 overs. Paul Carvouni again bowled well (1/18) and I took 3/41. Riverview ended up making 147 which was almost impossible to catch on a sticky wicket that had a few surprises for the batsmen.

High made 71 in reply. Simon Chowdhury batted extremely well but was only able to score 4 not out, which was not a true indication of how well he really did bat. That was our main problem, we were too willing to block every ball. Sam Starrett, Nesanthan Srianandarajah and Brendan Gallagher all got starts but got unplayable balls that dismissed them. All in all another promising performance. I must mention the help and coaching we received from our coach and Principal, Mr Stratford, who unfortunately could not attend our last match which was against Scots.

Unfortunately I was called up to the As for this match so the records will be a bit inaccurate. Scots batted first and made about 110. This was an excellent display of bowling and fielding. Rhys again kept well, Paul took about 4 wickets cheaply, and Michael Nelson took three excellent catches in the gully. Our batting performance was again excellent. Rhys was out for a duck, but he did bat well. There were signs of a collapse when Brendan was dropped off his first ball. It was a drop that the Scots boys regretted. Chris Hughes scored a well deserved 52 retired and Brendan scored a quick-fire 28 retired. When these two retired Paul and Neerav Bhatt came and smashed the attack to all corners of the ground to finish off the remaining runs required. This was a great victory for the Mighty Bs!

The team consisted of: Lin Li, Paul Carvouni, Bruce Du, Neerav Bhatt, Sam Starrett, Chris Hughes, Kenneth Tan, Michael Nelson, Rhys Hardwick-Jones, Nesanthan Srianandarajah and myself. It was a most enjoyable year, and a great introduction to cricket at High.

Hunter Millar, Captain.

13C Eleven

Nineteen ninety-five was a learning year for the 13Cs. We got to know each other and became confident in our own ability and in the ability of the team. We had several star players, some of whom are expected to be selected in the B team next season.

We improved with every match, culminating with a victory in our last game. Every member of the team enjoyed the season, and just wanted to keep on playing.

Udara Peiris, Captain.

13D Eleven

We did not win a game in the 1995 season, but we enjoyed it thoroughly. The people in the team were: Mr Simon Board (our coach), Jason Killorn, Hilbert Chiu, James Clulow, Jonathan Ailwood, Zane Pearson, Kelson Ho, Gareth Charles, Faro Mok and myself, Peter Trewin.

The whole team played well, and it was a pleasure to be captain of the Sydney High 13D Cricket Team.

Rowing

Captain of Boats

The achievements and disappointments of the 1995 Rowing season are detailed in two parts. The first is an edited version of the address given by Gareth Morgan, Captain of Boats, at the Annual Rowing Assembly, a week before the Head of the River finals. It is followed by detailed results of the Head of the River Regatta.

Atmosphere at the Sheds

The camaraderie at the sheds this season has been better than any before in my experience. Off the water everyone is good mates and the Shed as a whole gets along very well. In previous years there was fierce rivalry between the crews but this year all crews are encouraging each other on, genuinely happy for those performing well, and genuinely concerned when things go wrong. This has promoted a friendly atmosphere and meant that we all enjoy time spent at our home away from home. But the mateship doesn't stop with just the crews. The coaches have been supportive of everyone and I think every crew considers their coach to be one of their mates. Also the bond with those who help out at the Sheds is very strong and the encouragement and support from all the parents has ensured that the bond extends right throughout the rowing family.

There is a great selection of personalities this year ranging from those with good humour to those with poor humour, those who make things happen, those who wonder what happened. But everyone has contributed to form a bond between friends that will remain intact well after the finish of the season.

Dedication

For anyone to succeed in anything, I think we all know there has to be a huge amount of dedication and commitment towards their goal. In the case of rowing there must be underlying dedication from all ten members of the crew, being the eight rowers, the coxswain, and the coach, and in the case of the fours, all six members. The commitment this season has been unsurpassed. The rowers of the top few crews are selected on their sculling ability and their fitness is tested on ergometers. With such pressure on all the rowers to make these crews we saw them doing fitness training since the end of last season, we saw them doing twenty kilometre sculling races two to three times per week and we saw them doing unending weights sessions to build them up for the tasks ahead.

These rowers have endured pain this season that rivals any years of the past. The determination to make their crews and to succeed in one race, on 1st April, saw some out at the Sheds at sunrise even on Christmas Day. The sculling, runs and weights combined with the pain that the coxswains and coaches have inflicted upon them in the Fours and the Eights have led to Sydney High producing its toughest fleet this year in the history the sport.

Standard of the Season

Each year the standard of the GPS competition improves dramatically. It happens in Rugby, it happens in Cricket, Basketball and Waterpolo and any other sport you could name. Rowing is no exception to this. Most crews put on the water during a season would be capable of winning the Head of the River of the previous season. This was the case with the Sydney High VIII last season, the season before, and for as long as I can remember. This goes to show how intense the competition is and how every stroke that each crew makes during the season will contribute to that crew's result when the big day comes.

The training of this year's fleet has supported that theory and has allowed Sydney High to once again be up with the competition. In the First VIIIs and in the Second VIIIs the competition is closer and faster than it has ever been. Almost every school has had its share of victories in these disciplines and now, at the end of the season different crews are hitting their peaks, which means the outcome of the race will be determined by the race itself. There are no longer any preset winners – it now comes down to the crew that is the toughest and wants it the most on the day.

Crews and Coaches

One crew that will certainly put the effort in is the Fourth IV. At the CHS State Championships these guys came within two metres of beating the Taree First IV for first place. This crew is dedicated and they will be doing their best over the next two weekends. With a stylish rower at either end and a very powerful middle pair, the Fourth IV will be driving themselves all the way down the course under the influence of Neville Morgan's coaching.

The Third IV is an enthusiastic crew that will be pushing themselves to the limit both in the heats tomorrow, and in the Head of the River finals next Saturday. They are coached by Old Boy Darren Coleman whom I had the honour of coxing two years ago. He knows all the tricks of the trade and this team is determined to make the Head of the River their best result yet.

The Second IV are another great combination. With the experience of coxswain Willie Chi they will be coping well with the pressures of the Head of the River. They work well as a crew and are determined to make their best performances those at Penrith. Their style has been worked on by the experienced coach and great personality Reg Stride. These six people form a great team and will be pushing themselves in the name of Sydney High.

The First IV have been getting the results since the first race of this term. They have made the final of every race they have entered, but have so far been denied a victory by Shore. Under the experienced and influential coaching of Mr Barris this crew looks as though they will hit their peak just at the right time. With a Sydney High First IV not having won a Head of the River since 1976, this crew is looking for a victory and they have more determination to get it than any other First IV in the GPS. They have the potential to win the Head of the River.

The Sydney High Second VIII is the biggest Second VIII on the river. These guys have the grunt to bunt dinghies skyward and leave everything else trembling in their wake. With the technical know-how and the enthusiasm of Roger Jackson, their coach, these guys can really rip the oars through the water. They have more psych than any of their rivals and the undying determination to achieve their goal of a Head of the River victory will be supported by the combination of experience and raw power. These guys are just off the leading crews but have been improving many lengths per week. Their determination will see them peak at the Head of the River and with this in mind they have a good chance of taking out the major final.

The First VIII this year is the fittest, the most experienced, and one of the biggest crews on the river. After a brilliant start to the season we had a performance slump, but the experience of this crew and the pure determination to win the Head of the River saw us pull out of that slump to be better than ever before. We have pulled back four lengths per week on the opposition and are about to hit our peak and overtake everyone. We have the knowledge and dedication of our coach John Croll who has stuck by us and driven us up to where we are now. For most of the crew this will be our last Head of the River. A Sydney High First VIII has not won the Head of the River in thirty-six years, and we are going to put Sydney High's name back in the record books.

Last Saturday we made the final of the Riverview Gold Cup. From a fleet of twenty we made it through to the top four, which no Sydney High VIII has done in a long time.

The Head of the River

For those of you who have never been to a Head of the River, you have no idea how big it is. It is huge. It has been described as being the biggest event in the GPS calendar. Eight of the nine GPS schools turn out to determine which school has the best crew in each discipline. For several of the seven other schools, Scots, Newington, Grammar, Shore, St Ignatius, Kings and St Josephs, it is compulsory for the boys to attend. There is a grass hill on one bank of the river and the entire population of the GPS fills it. The noise and the atmosphere are unrivalled.

These guys that you will see before you have been training, some of them have been training for five years for this one race. It means everything in GPS rowing. These guys have endured pain, suffered hardships and given up a huge amount of their time so that they can represent your name in this one race. Every year we paddle down to the start and the first crowd we pass is Sydney High, you guys have the best position, right on the finish line. But every year, although we get psyched up by those who do support us, we always feel a hint of disappointment at the fact that every one of our rivals is represented and cheered on by at least a thousand supporters. Sydney High sometimes has about two hundred. This year we want it to be different. These guys have endured pain so that they can represent you, this school, in their one race, the Head of the River. When these guys come down the river next Saturday they are going to feel a pain like they have never felt before and they are going to do it in your honour so that you can bear the name of Sydney High proudly.

This year we want to feel that we have our school, you guys, behind us. When the pain kicks in these guys are going to need something to spur them on and this year we want you guys to be the ones to do it. We want you to help us show the other schools that Sydney High can leave them all for dead and win the Head of the River. Because these guys are tough enough to do it, they just need you, every one of you, to push them that one step further, back into the record books.

We want your support, don't let us down.

Gareth Morgan, Captain of Boats.

First Eight

The group of rowers who were to comprise the '95 VIII came together in September of 1994 expecting big things from the coming six months. Many rowers had been building for this season for a number of years, all having been in reasonably successful crews in previous seasons, and all having trained hard throughout winter. Physically, things were looking good, it would be a reasonably big crew, and early erg tests saw impressive scores.

We began a term of gruelling training sessions, spending a great deal of time in single sculls, mostly doing long sessions to improve our endurance base. The benefits of this hard work began to show in the early regattas. We won the North Shore Rowing Club Regatta by a considerable margin over the rest of the field, headed by Sydney Rowing Club, and

The Head of the River finals for 1995 were also held on the Nepean River at Penrith, on Saturday 1st April. In perfect weather the twelve races were conducted without incident, and, significantly, subsequently proved to be the last Head of the River races held on the Nepean River. The results achieved are set out in the table below.

According to one system of allocating points to results High convincingly beat Scots, and came very closely behind Grammar and Newington. At the post Regatta function at the Sheds the atmosphere was very buoyant, particularly because of the result of the First IV, but generally because of the enthusiasm and spirit exhibited by all crew members throughout the season. The overwhelming consensus was that High was definitely back on the rowing map.

placed third in the Head of the Parramatta River Regatta against all the other GPS schools. This was the best result that High had achieved for a number of years, and proved that we were capable of being a very successful crew.

During the Christmas holidays most Members of the crew trained at least every day and, came January camp, erg scores were being recorded that were up there with the best in the GPS. Congratulations to Crom Ollivier, who clocked the best erg and also won the final sculling race at Penrith. Credit must also be given to our bow pair of Paul Morris and Daniel Jones who elevated themselves into the crew by training especially hard over the Christmas holidays, and proving to be tough racers in the sculling races. Daniel, being in year ten, has given himself the opportunity to be in the eight for three years – a feat achieved by only five others in the history of the school (one being our cox and 1995 Captain of Boats Gareth Morgan).

January Camp at Penrith saw us completing some hard rows and clocking up a lot of kilometres, however we struggled to find the technical form we had had before the holidays. On the final day of the camp we had a disastrous series of races against Shore, whom we had beaten in the Head of the Parramatta, and expected to beat again. They beat us convincingly three times and we went home from Penrith with our heads hanging low. Unbeknownst to us was that this Shore crew were to go on and remain undefeated through the season, winning the GPS Regatta, the National Championship and the stern four winning the World Junior Championship.

We struggled to make the finals in our early season races, fighting over the tail end of the field with Scots and Joeys. Everything we tried to increase our boat speed didn't seem to work and we didn't come out of this slump for a number of weeks. We did eventually begin to get things together and improve our boat speed, however by this time, we were far from the leading crews of Shore, Newington, Grammar and Kings.

Over the last few weeks of the season we caught these crews considerably, and began to show glimpses of our potential. We finished third in the school eights at the Riverview Gold Cup Regatta and made the final of the Gold Cup, something no Sydney High School crew had done for many years.

The heats and repechage for the Head of the River were held a week before the day of the finals. Although we were improving rapidly, this day came too soon. We found ourselves having to beat Newington or Kings for the first time in the repechage to qualify for the A final, a feat which proved to be just beyond our grasp. The fact that we got to within a length of Kings, who were beating us by almost five lengths only three weeks before, was some consolation, and we couldn't have been disappointed with the way we rowed, which was a marked improvement on races earlier in the season.

To our credit we maintained enthusiasm and kept improving in the week leading up to the B final, even though we were racing the bottom half of the GPS and couldn't do better than fifth place. Gareth's speech at the rowing assembly was inspirational, really firing up the whole shed, and the standing ovation following it left us feeling that the whole school was behind us.

In front of the largest and most enthusiastic Sydney High rowing crowd I had seen in my six years at the school, we won the B final by clear water to Joeys, Riverview and Scots. This was by far our best outing of the season, which we raced very aggressively, leading from start to finish, and it was enjoyable winning a race in front of such a huge crowd, even if it was for fifth place.

Congratulations to Shore, who won the A final from Newington, Kings and Grammar, and to the First IV for their great season culminating in their second place in the Head of the River.

The last regatta we entered as a crew was the National Championships in Collie, Western Australia. On a disappointingly windswept course we did some good racing, coming within a length of Newington three times, and beating the winners of the Victorian and South Australian Head of the River Regattas. We came fourth in the Men's Junior VIII, and finished seventh in the Schoolboy VIII.

On the behalf of the crew I would like to thank our coach, Mr John Croll. Both technically and motivationally John's ability as a coach is second to none. His experience and dedication have been invaluable in bringing the Sydney High Boatshed to the point where fifth place is a disappointment, rather than an achievement.

Many thanks from the First VIII to the organisers of the Western Australia trip, in particular to Mr Barris, to Mrs Morgan for her fantastic food at our twice weekly camps, and to all the other parents and teachers who helped at the sheds.

Ben Clarsen, Stroke.

Second Eight

With rigorous pre-season training and selections complete, an interesting combination of athletes came together to form the 1995 Second VIII. Heading the crew were the three experienced "gurus", Daniel Park, David Bowman and Peter Hynd. These three led by example and inspired the others to follow. On the other hand the crew contained three sweep-oar novices, but they quickly settled into their new environment.

The season started promisingly with a fourth placing in the Head of the Parramatta time trial regatta. With one of the best Second Eight boats on the water, our crew was feared both on and off the water. Making the finals at most regattas we were a real chance of winning each week.

We would like to thank everyone who made this unforgettable season possible. Rowing Master and guidance counsellor Mr Barris, boatman Mr

Our heartfelt thanks go to our coach, Roger, who was definitely one of the boys. We thank him for his endless hours of effort to provide us with the tools for success, and for teaching us to believe in ourselves.

The season was a huge learning experience in all our lives, where nothing was ever easy, and caused us to develop a bond we hope will never be broken.

First Four

The first IV of Alister Hosking, Cameron McKnight, Martin Philipp, Tom Bellenger and Peter Nicholas was an outstanding crew, which, under the brilliant coaching of Mr Con Barris came second to The Shore School in the Yaralla Cup. The crew was put together in January after much shuffling. We then received Sydney High School's first bow coxed IV, the Dallen Morgan which turned out to be one of the fastest IVs on the river.

The mixed crew was not expected to do well as we were not very big nor had we trained especially hard in term four. But the crew was full of spirit and determined to prove themselves and achieve their goal in the Head of the River. The crew moulded together perfectly and found excellent rhythm which allowed the boat to move its fastest. Determination and commitment in training paid off, so that in our second Regatta, St Josephs at Iron Cove, we were able to win our heat by four lengths and did well in the final.

We then made steady improvement as we got closer and closer to Shore. At St George we won a division of the Men's C Grade IV and we came a close fourth in the 1st Four final. Then at the Twilight Regatta on the following Wednesday we shocked everyone by leading for the first 1000 m, only to be beaten by Shore. We then came second at the Shore Regatta, showing constant improvement. At Riverview we won the heat but come fourth in the final. At the heats of the GPS we achieved one of our best performances, winning the heat and going straight through to the final.

At the A final of the Yaralla Cup, the Head of the River, we were placed in the lane right next to Shore. The race was close for the first 800 m with St Josephs, Shore and us all close. Shore pulled away and St Josephs moved ahead by about half a length. We then pushed together into the finish and lost St Josephs in the last hundred metres to come second. We showed our potential in the headwind as we concentrated on our final achievement.

We would not have had this focus without the experienced coaching of Mr Barris, who directed us unerringly towards our goal.

Peter Nicholas, Cox.

Fourth Four

For the Fourth IV the 1994-95 season was an interesting time to say the least. With crew changes throughout the season, right up until one and a half weeks before the Head of the River, we had a rather unsettled time. We were by far the least serious crew on the river, mainly concerned about having a good time, but we always gave one hundred percent in all our races. The high points of the season included coming second (by two metres) at the CHS, and the discovery that we had the heaviest man in the GPS – all 115 kilograms of Ross McCauley. Despite our somewhat disappointing race performance, the bad times were far outweighed by the good.

Third Quad Scull

The 1994/95 summer rowing season was one long continuous learning curve for the Third Quad. Although not successful at face value, the Third Quad improved steadily throughout the season. Towards the end of the season the crew rowed some impressive and much improved times, under the guidance of our coach, Mr Coan, whose dedication and effort helped turn us around from coming dead last in the first few races to becoming a competitive force by the end of the season.

Although we never won a race, the crew enjoyed competing together at such a high standard.

Gareth Huxham.

Fourth Quad Scull

The Fourth Quad had a good season as we went really well in all our races. We managed a first place once and only came last once. In some training sessions we would race the third quad and beat them. It was a good year and I enjoyed being stroke of the crew.

All our crew would like to thank our coach Mr. Coan for all the hard work he put into coaching us and Mr. Gainford for organising everything, because without them nothing would have happened.

Our crew consisted of : Cox: J.Kavanagh; Stroke: Oscar Harding; 3: Tristan McAfee; 2: Greg O'Toole; Bow: Laurence Osen.

Fifth Quad Scull

The Fifth Quad was a learning experience for everyone. We were not drastically successful in the races, but we had fun. We were all committed, and enjoyed training and keeping fit together. We have some fond and amusing memories of the scramble for the rowing bus on Wednesday afternoons and the subsequent colourful bus ride to the sheds.

We are all looking forward to next year's season.

Sixth Quad Scull

The boat consisted of Tom Brydson (bow seat), James Slezak (two seat), Jonathan Davies (three seat), myself, Freddy Kimel, in the stroke seat, and Ben d'Espiney as coxswain.

It was a season of mixed fortunes, but on average we did not perform as well as we would have liked. The 1995 season gave us a chance to improve, and to have a good time.

Thanks to Mr Hespe for coaching us throughout the season.

Freddy Kimel, Stroke.

16C Basketball

The 16C Basketball team of 1995 is one of the greatest basketball teams ever assembled in the GPS. This bunch of eight boys were unmatched in terms of skill and court sense. They always played fairly and showed great sportsmanship.

They formed this team because they didn't want a coach, like the As and Bs and they did it for the love of the game. Winning wasn't important, having a good time was the main priority. And with this attitude they ended up the unofficial GPS champions, having no losses in the regular season.

The team was: Yin Shum – a ball handler with no equal; Paul Tuck – the defensive specialist; Mark Schiralli – unstoppable in the paint; Jan Ergen – a brilliant small forward; super strong and very scary Jason Rhee – the opposition would draw straws to see who would guard him; Woojoo Jun – defensive master; Sam Park – the speediest guard ever born; last but not least, the huge Steven Allison, who was not only good on defence but had a mean three point shot.

These men have gone in history as unofficial GPS champions, and are one of the best teams High has ever produced (such modesty!).

Paul Tuck, Captain.

15A Basketball

Not many teams can say: "11 out of 11!" With an average score of 45 points for and 22 against, this was certainly a demolishing season for the 15As. Every opposing team was easily dismissed, with the average winning margin being 23 points. This really is a mighty team, and has set a standard against which subsequent teams will be measured.

The team had everything – speed, strength, height, and amazing shooting abilities. It consisted of the following players:

Michael Glass: Was this man made of steel?

Cade Heyde: The quick finisher of the team.

Craig Lundy: The man with the ever-reliable sweet jumpers.

Trent Nicholas: The blue-eyed hard-toiling monster in the middle.

Michael Patoka: Always led by example, and scored the hard points.

David Snelgrove: The one-on-one specialist who always drove hard.

Raga Veratau: Always twice as fast as his luckless opponents.

Ashley Walton: The ever-reliable shooting guard.

Our results, all victories, were:

Pre-Season: Kings 50-27, Shore 59-21, Scots 40-21, Grammar 68-21, Newington 45-26.

GPS Season: Shore 49-19, Grammar 34-16, Kings 34-19, Newington 55-20, St Josephs 33-27, St Ignatius 27-25.

Finally we would like to thank the team coach. Even though training was not regarded as fun by the team, Coach Veratau really gelled these talented individuals into a mighty fine team.

Christopher Fong.

15B Basketball

This team was full of talent from top to bottom, including high-paced scoring abilities and monster rebounding at the other end. Unfortunately we could not win all our matches but we certainly battled on until the last second of every one. With embarrassing losses such as those to Joeys and Grammar came brighter moments, such as the match against St Ignatius. Their forwards were bigger and more powerful than ours, but we still won comfortably thanks to our great will to win against the odds. All in all it was a good season, greatly enjoyed by every member of the team, which consisted of:

Steven Gerendas: Powerful in the middle, and showed non-stop determination.

Jason Odze: Great outside shooting and inside driving.

Justin Wagstaff: Great defence and reliable short range shooting – a constant contributor.

Joshua Stern: The heart and soul of the team, his example lifted the standard of us all.

Christopher Fong: No comment...

Oliver Dwyer: A reliable player who used court time well by scoring from everywhere.

Eric Chan: The master of driving and making incredible lay-ups, as well as amazing shots.

Alexander Fung: The power pack of the team whose drives to the basket and acrobatic jumpers lifted the team.

Daniel Chersky: A never-say-die attitude coupled with great dribbling and assisting.

Donald Mitchell: A great talent, kept out of play for most of the season due to injury.

Our results were:

Pre-Season: Kings W 37-13, Shore W 39-17, Newington L 22-27.

GPS Season: Scots W 50-23, Grammar L 23-30, Kings D 25-25, Newington W 44-15, St Josephs L 26-32, St Ignatius W 37-30.

In all the team is on the improve, so supporters are urged to look for a sharp rise in fortunes next season. Great thanks are due to Coach Veratau, who whilst also coaching the As, devoted herself to developing our skills.

Christopher Fong.

15C Basketball

The 15Cs were a talented group which combined and was formed into a powerful and dominating team. Prevented by a pre-season loss to St Josephs from claiming the title “undefeated”, nonetheless they won the return match, and indeed every other, thus securing the unofficial 15C premiership. The team included Jack Chen, Christopher Yip, Chadi Ayoub, Tom Van, Sean Lee, Harry Mak, James Yao, Stephen Kong, and captain Richard Li.

Christopher Fong.

14C Basketball

We started the season strongly with convincing wins over Scots, Grammar and Newington. Helped by an aggressive forward lineup, we annihilated our opponents in the key.

We met our match, however, at Joeys. The game was the closest we had played, having become used to forty point victories. The score piled up, the lead ever changing, but with neither side getting more than three points ahead. Finally, by use of a slick and well planned move the Joeys boys managed to win by two points at full time.

The rest of the season brought us further success. We would like to thank Mr Ryan for his coaching and energetic lay-up practice.

13A Basketball

This season was very successful as we only lost two games in the GPS season, against Newington and St Ignatius. The team was coached by Mr Baldock, who did a great job in organising and running the team. Our teamwork and personal skills developed well, and led to some convincing wins.

The team consisted of Sam Cheung, Nick Chew, Will Fry, Will Furness, Joseph Kim, Luke Nicholas, Dudley Robens, David So.

Luke Nicholas.

13B Basketball

This season was a very successful one for the members of the 13B team. We won seven of our games, including victories over SCEGS, Scots, Joeys, Iggies and Newington. Top players were Sam Eddie with his fast drives, Stanley De Silva with some excellent play in the key and Eddie Mo with some brilliant three-point shooting.

Even though the individual skills of each player were not so good at the start of the season, a brilliant team effort enabled us to win so many games. Each and every player was part of this: Kishan Sathanandan, Roshan Sathanandan, Sam Eddie, Eddie Mo, Andrew Lim, Sang Lee and the captain, Stanley De Silva.

Stanley De Silva.

13C Basketball

In our first season of basketball at Sydney High we were privileged to be the best team in the unofficial competition. In this season we were beaten in only one game, in which we played on an inadequately covered court, and were forced to play a half-court game.

The team consisted of Hudan Nuch (Captain), Jack Boag, Vincent Salomon, Michael George, Jamie Pongrass, John Hsu, Andrew Jo, Michael Kim, Tristan Keller, Juno Yu, and our coach Mr Boag (Jack's brother).

Our results went as follows:

18 Feb vs Grammar (home)

25 Feb vs Kings (away) Win 38-14

4 Apr vs Newington (away) Loss 20-21
11 Apr vs St Josephs (home) Washed out
18 Apr vs St Ignatius (away) Win 27-15
25 Apr vs Scots (away) Win 18-10

All in all a very successful season for High basketball.

Juno Yu.

13D Basketball

The 13D Basketball team of 1995 was not successful in winning very many matches, as we were all inexperienced in the game. Importantly though it gave us a chance to meet friends as we started out in our new school. For all of us it was a great learning experience.

The team consisted of Jared Cohen, Hamish Scott-Stevenson, Stephen Irwin, Matthew Addison, Keegan Au, Daniel Fagg.

Daniel Fagg.

13E Basketball

In the short time that the 13Es had to get together, we did exceptionally well.

The team was organized quite quickly, swapped and changed many times during the season, with no real nucleus of a side, due to the never-ending team and player changes. The biggest change came half way through the season, when we changed from the 13Fs to the 13Es, to suit the needs of the under twelves.

The season produced a mixed bag of results for the Sydney High 13Es. A large victory of 50-12 over Newington was our, and the 13s, biggest win of the season. We had other wins, except as soon as we started to gain momentum, we would come crashing back down with a loss. In the end we had a successful season in which the wins outweighed the losses. Our team had many outstanding performers, including Christos Papas, Eugene Schofield, Mike Martin, Wayne Yoon, Patrick Khuu and Nathan Lim.

I would also like to thank our two committed coaches, Mr Baldock and Mr Deeming, for all their help during the season.

Mike Martin, captain.

13F Basketball

Nineteen ninety-five was a good year for basketball. We had sixty or more boys enrolled for and playing 13 years basketball. There were so many people we had enough for a special Under 12s team, but as the other schools were not providing 12s teams we had to play against their D teams.

We had many talented players on our team. Coming off the bench we had Nick Kok, a big player who would bump everyone around; See Yong Hong, a streaky shooter who could take the shot under pressure; Dushan Arnautovich, a swingman who could take it to the hoop.

In the starting line up we had even more talented players. At point guard we had Dion Jackomas, a player who could consistently finish the fast break; at shooting guard Herman Chow, a player with a great pull up jump; at small forward Alex Gibbeson, a player with hounding defence which led to fast breaks galore. At power forward we had Sam Casimir, a tireless player with a great work ethic, and at centre myself, the power player who had to do all the dirty work.

Together we made up an outstanding team, which cruised through the season undefeated, downing all challengers by double digits every game.

Brendan Lee, Captain.

We would like to thank Mr Davies for his effort throughout the season. All in all, our team had a most enjoyable and successful season.

Kim Kiat Chan, Captain.

15A Tennis

The 15A Tennis team of 1995 has experienced a topsy-turvy season. The pre-season saw the team lose most of our matches and all hoped that 1995 would bring the team success. With a strong team it was only inevitable that we would win.

Unfortunately this did not happen. We continued to lose, however the matches were much closer and more tightly contested, with only a few points determining the final score. We were getting close to winning overall, and finally we overcame a strong Scots side. The team was victorious on every court, which increased our confidence and hunger to win more. Eventually we also beat Kings, which meant that we had beaten two GPS opponents. Everyone in the team had fun and we hope to continue to win in all our future tennis endeavours.

The team owes much thanks to our coach Ms Tuthill, whose constant support helped us tremendously. Overall, the 15As had a very successful season and are hoping to improve more and more for next year.

Mark Perez.

14A Tennis

Under the faithful guidance of Mr Choy the season began. It proved to be a season of few high points. Most games were lost in straight sets, but a win over Scots and a surprise win over Kings filled the team with confidence, and with the assurance that at least we did not come last in the unofficial competition.

Michael Klooster.

13A Tennis

The 13A Tennis team had a good season with some mixed results. We had easy wins over Scots and Grammar, and we narrowly beat St Josephs. We were just beaten by Kings and St Ignatius but were beaten easily by Newington.

All in all it was a good opening season. The consisted of:

A1: Alex Ryvchin

A2: Aaron Piercy

A3: Feng Yeng

A4: Alvin Lung.

We all played good singles throughout the GPS season but our doubles form was not as good. It was a good foundation year, with all the 13s teams trying hard and playing well.

The 1995 season was a good one for the 13C Tennis team. Many of the games were washed out, but we had fun on the Saturday mornings on which we did play. We achieved a mixed bag of results, including a few wins, close losses, and one blow out loser.

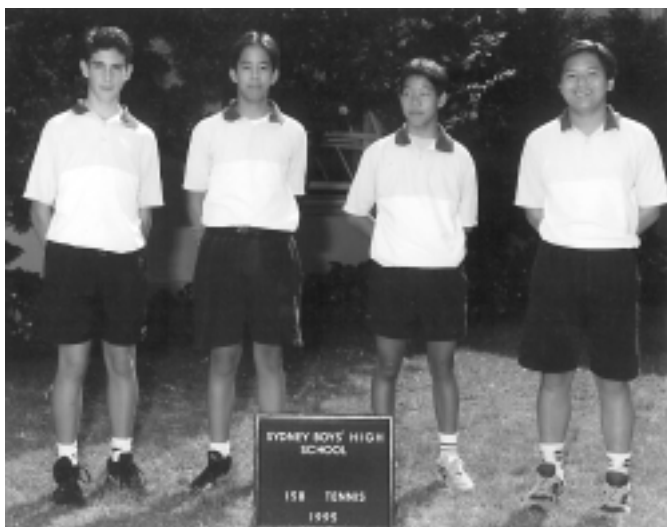

The team thoroughly enjoyed all the matches, and showed good sportsmanship.

Swimming

Captain's Report

The 1995 swimming season was very successful for High swimmers. A demanding race schedule saw our swimmers compete in eleven carnivals in ten weeks and achieve some outstanding results.

The GPS season began with a bang. The first carnival was aborted midway due to a spectacular electrical storm.

The High team gained many places throughout the season, and in particular our juniors were outstanding. Notably Daniel Fagg, Steven Irwin, Steven Hunt, Matti Gencur, James Moar and Peter Nixon swam brilliantly in all carnivals and we were probably unlucky to have only two swimmers, Steven Hunt and Steven Croft, chosen in the GPS Representative team.

In the CHS competition Sydney High School's dominance continued. The school carnival at Heffron Pool displayed the talent and competitiveness of all High swimmers. The majority of those who competed at the Zone Carnival progressed to the Regional Carnival. Here the level of competition stepped up a notch, and our team rose to the occasion admirably, many boys progressing to the CHS State Finals.

At the state level our 15 Years Relay team won the bronze medal, and our 16 Years and Open relay teams were finalists.

The season concluded with a dinner held at the Moore Park Golf Club, which proved to be a most successful and enjoyable evening.

Finally, special thanks are due to Mr Phillip Day, whose enthusiasm and relentless dedication is greatly appreciated by the Sydney High Swimming Team.

Steven Croft, Captain.

Rugby Master

Nineteen ninety-five proved to be an exceptional year. Our 1st Grade were unlucky not to win the GPS Competition, coming second, and the 15 Years made the semi-final of the state wide Buchan Shield Competition. Special tributes must be extended to coaches Tony Hannon (1st Grade) and Steve Codey (15 Years).

Mark Stcherbina captained the Australian Schoolboys to Europe and together with fellow tourists Luke Mann and Jason Jones-Hughes these boys join an elite group in the tradition of High.

Special thanks must go to the staff who coach all our teams, together with the coaching support given by old boys and senior students. In particular Tony Hannon, Michael Smith, Ross Eggleton, Paul Bigelow, Geoff Gilligan, Steve Codey, Mark Gainford, Rebecca Phibbs and Simon Board. In addition Harry Stanley, Ken Robinson and Bobby Jinman deserve special thanks for their help with 1st Grade. To Tony Wilkes and Helen Mussett (the physiotherapists) go special thanks.

In addition thanks must go to Sister Cheryl Dunn and Dr Margaret Gencur for their support as medical personnel. Visiting sides are full of praise for the professional way they discharge their duties.

Filling Mark Gainford's shoes as Rugby master this year has been a special honour. The arcane practices of High Rugby organisation have been dutifully passed on by Mark. I deeply appreciate his guidance during the year. Indeed without the fine organisation and spirit of cooperation from the parents, match days would not be the great success they are. The luncheons at McKay for staff and officials are the envy of all our opposing schools. The quality of food, the good cheer and atmosphere makes lunch a special time on match days. The parents' tireless efforts running the canteen and BBQ have kept very large crowds well nourished.

Mrs Henderson who types the program each week has made my job so much easier, as have the boys whose cooperation in cleaning up McKay Oval, ensuring the ground is left in good shape.

The future of the game at High is somewhat under threat by the apparent reluctance of some parents to give their boys permission to play, notwithstanding their keenness. Often we find these same families purchase bicycles, roller blades and skate boards and then their boys come to school sporting serious injuries they have incurred playing on them. The myths regarding the dangers of the game have led to some poor reasoning. The coaching, supervision and discipline of Rugby are designed to prevent boys being hurt. The school has had great success in minimising injuries, a point that should not be lost when a boy wants to join the code.

Thanks to all the boys, staff and parents who have made 1995 a great year for High Rugby.

Steve Storey, Rugby Master.

First Fifteen

The Captain's Report

With expectations not as high as in the previous two years to win the GPS Competition, we found that "the monkey" was "off our back" as they say. Again, due to our lack of size we had to be very well drilled and very fit. All thanks must go to Mr Hannon, Bobby Jinman, Helen Mussett, Tony Wilkes, Ken Robinson, and, of course, Harry Stanley. The results were very satisfying as we came from behind in many games to take victory due to our fitness, and to our "never say die" attitude, which was one important factor that Coach Hannon always drilled into us.

First grade this year was a lot different from the previous year's as we did not have a group of established veterans, and had to learn the ropes as we went along. The side that was selected was a young side without much grade experience but it quickly adapted to the pace and standard of GPS first grade. An advantage we had this year was depth in the other grades so that players who replaced the sick and injured in Firsts, at vital stages of the season, fitted in smoothly and effectively.

Under the direction of coach Tony Hannon our first grade squad became well drilled and disciplined, able to play the typical style of Sydney High rugby, the running game. This was a successful approach which saw us win all trial games and four out of seven GPS matches. We came fourth in the GPS Competition, but could just as easily have come second... once again. We chose fourth just to break the monotony.

The Trial Games

Waverley (3) v Sydney High (30)

There was plenty of pressure coming in to this game. Here we would see if we had the necessary talent, and if all the hard work and dedicated training would pay off. It was a great first up victory against traditionally strong opposition. There were excellent debuts from many players, amongst them the Young Guns Kendall Robinson and Grant Houldsworth, whose superb individual performances saw them score a try each. After the game it was obvious that there was still plenty of work to be done, but the potential was obviously there. This first trial was a great confidence booster with a good season in the offing. The word was out: Sydney High again back to their best for a promising season.

Armidale (3) v Sydney High (27)

Great food?... great accommodation?... great bus trip?... Despite all this... a great victory. Our second away victory proved that we were becoming a unit, a real team. This year the weather was glorious, sunny and mild, so different from the usual blizzards provided by the Siberia of the North. We did not have the best preparation coming into this game after the long bus ride and the 'sleep' on a packed basketball court. Sore backs took away some of the running for a while, but this game showed that the team was full of character. Number 8, Michael Kovac, began to show his ability as a penetrative power runner. Ben Khan, breakaway, made a memorable debut causing havoc amongst the opposition as he arrived first to the breakdown to carry on the attack or to spoil TAS ball.

Sydney High (92) v Scots Bathurst (7)

Scots Bathurst had many of their best players trialing for the NSW Country Schoolboys' team. So, about eight of them had already played that morning. As well, Sydney High was beginning to peak. Although not the ideal trial to prepare for the hectic GPS competition ahead, the game proved a wonderful opportunity to practise all of our rehearsed moves. Full credit went to Scots Bathurst who never gave up throughout the game. In this game we witnessed the power and speed of Todd Ollivier who set the pace for the rest of the team with his appearance all over the park in support or in slamming defence. Out wide fullback, Josh Nicholson, carved holes through the defence escorted by the flying wingers Johnny Reynaldo and Michael Hennessy. This was another confidence booster... three matches, three solid wins.

Cranbrook (18) v Sydney High (20)

This was a torrid encounter against a very physical side. Too many handling errors, pushed passes, and wrong options put us under a lot of pressure from a talented and in-form Cranbrook. We were well behind on the scoreboard at half time. This was the first time we were behind during the trials which proved to us that we were definitely not invincible. A few fired up words from Mr Hannon pulled us back into line. This second half was going to measure our pride and patience as we all knew we could really win this game. We started the second half throwing everything at Cranbrook, running the ball from all over the park. We scored a great team try which started from a forward rush of mauling and rucking which then gave the backs plenty of room out wide with Grant Houldsworth scoring the try after a great pass from Robert Mecham. The game was only won in the last seconds by a Sydney High penalty goal. It was an exciting comeback from a long way behind. This was a test of our mettle, our patience, and our perseverance. It was a sweet victory vital for that feeling of quiet confidence which is so important going into the GPS competition.

The GPS Competition

Shore (13) v Sydney High (18)

This was a titanic contest to open up the GPS season. Shore was one of the highly rated teams, a real challenger for the GPS title. As an inexperienced side we were rated underdogs. The game started evenly with both teams throwing everything at each other. We knew Shore's strengths were in the forwards due to their size. This meant we had to run them all over the field, and we managed this through several sustained phases of play, so the game saw lots of free flowing running rugby as the score see-sawed during most of the match. A typical Sydney High forward rush and some quick hands led to a sharp try by half-back, Jon Delaney. This gave us confidence that we could win this difficult game. With the tight five led by Mark Huber going forward, our loose forwards, with Gavin Bishop leading the way, found space to run into supported closely by the backs. This meant that our centres, Grant Houldsworth and Robert Mecham, were able to penetrate the defence and find targets out wide. Our fullback, Josh Nicholson, had a spectacular game in defence and attack that day. Still, so swiftly did the fortunes turn in this game that High had to tackle for the last ten minutes, inches from their line, to defend the narrow lead they had worked for. This monumental defensive effort secured an exciting and well deserved victory over a valiant and skilful opponent.

Sydney High (25) v St Joseph's College (58)

In an awesome display of running rugby from both sides Joeys' relentless attacking forays, despite High's desperate defence, established a handy lead. For a period of fifteen minutes we were a bit intimidated by the fact we were behind when things were not going the way we wanted them to go. Joeys lightning fast forwards took the ball from us and kept it for long periods of play. This forced our side to chase the ball from side to side, tackling desperately. However, just before half-time, Michael Kovac burst from the back of a scrum and blasted his way to the line for a spectacular solo try. This kind of determination was typical of the whole team, and so the second half was a different story from the first. From what looked like a hopeless position the team behind the hit ups of strong forwards like Mark Huber and Paul Morris raced in three super tries, (Michael Hennessy, Mark Huber, and Johnny Reynaldo) to pull to within nine points of Joeys, and were hammering their line. However, the speed of the Joeys side prevailed on the day. It was a courageous effort by Sydney High and a marvellous game full of fine tries from both sides. A special mention must be made of Lindsay Crawford who was thrown into the limelight with no first grade experience to prove that he was well up to first grade standard with quick, safe hands, and clever kicks in general play. We learnt a great deal in this game and were not too disappointed. We were beaten by a superior team, subsequently GPS Champions, on the day.

King's School (14) v Sydney High (17)

We came back to the winner's circle with a gutsy win in the countryside out at Gowan Brae. King's flat line of defence provided few opportunities in attack. Josh Nicholson hit the backline several times at pace and looked very threatening. Phil Lyons had been brought up into the team and held his own with some great options as he got the backline running. Our backrow was a constant worry to Kings with Gavin Bishop, especially, running strongly. Chris Daish's lineout jumping got a supply of good, quick ball for the backs to work with. A classy chip and chase by Grant Houldsworth enabled Josh Nicholson to dive over for a try in the second half. The clincher came late in the game with a charge down by Kendall Robinson falling into the clutches of Jon Delaney. It was a scrappy win mixed with some luck, but it was a gutsy effort following the let down after playing at such a hectic pace the week before.

Sydney High (8) v Newington (9)

This was possibly our best game despite the loss, which was really meaningless because both sides put up powerhouse performances. We could have won this game, after all we did score the try, and they won by goal kicking, but the fates were against it. The last time that we played Newington on McKay the score was 9-8 to us, and they scored the try. So, we were doomed by an amazing reversal planned in heaven (or hell!). It was a great game: a nail biter. Two evenly matched and balanced teams (apart from the monster Newington pack trained by Tony Daly) faced each other. Newington were stronger than in previous years and had a game plan based around their forwards. High's forwards, led by Mark Huber did everything asked from them with very tight mauling and aggressive rucking which won us plenty of ball. We saw a big game from Serdar Bolen who defended well and whose passion for the game was catching. This was a game of commitment from both sides, and both sides enjoyed the brisk encounter.

Sydney High (15) v St Ignatius (27)

Riverview being one of the favourites to win the GPS at this stage of the season proved they were going to be very hard to beat. This became a keenly contested encounter with much at stake for both sides. A number of missed opportunities saw the match slip from our grasp. Great games came from halfback, Jon Delaney, whose accurate, zippy passes and sudden dashes showed that no opposition side could keep him under control. Michael Kovac, again, proved to be threatening with his slamming cover defence and his stampeding hit ups. Plenty of possession came from the lineouts when "Jin-Man" and Chris Daish were hooker, Mark Huber's, targets. A special mention must be made of Steve Blacker, the Seconds halfback, who played winger with courage. His try-saving tackle on a large Iggies back, towards the end of the game, was memorable. He picked up the ball carrier and carried him over the sideline.

Sydney Grammar (14) v Sydney High (17)

High, desperate for a win after two consecutive losses, were not disappointed. This was a strong victory against a determined opposition. Never losing sight of the game plan was the secret to our success. Relentless forward play paved the way for the backs to secure victory. Todd Ollivier was outstanding in this hard hitting game in the heat. His concentration never wandered from the game. His impact was vital. He was rewarded when he scored a block busting try. In this match, although we scored three tries to one, Grammar's excellent running game tested our defence to the limits. The lead changed four times as the dust rose from the field in what seemed to be a late summer's day. Had we skipped somehow into the middle of February? It was a nerve-racking game as the referee tagged our errors under pressure with 14 penalties to Grammar in a row. Grammar ended the game banging away at our line, with us only three points in front, and with toes curling in the heat. When the referee blew the final whistle both sides collapsed and lay motionless, a range of emotions contained in the heaps of bodies on the grass. It had been a fine encounter.

Sydney High (24) v Scots (8)

This was another sweet victory against arch rivals, Scots. Keen to end the season on a winning note High was fired up for a grand finale. Dull skies and a wet track did not dampen our enthusiasm, nor that of our supporters. Scots, too, were up for the game. So far they had found the going tough but were a fine, hard side. It was a spirited performance from both sides as the rain came down. The ball was moved around and play used up the whole pitch. Oddly enough, although all the points were scored in the first half, the game did not bog down, both sides using every move they had in the book in this last, enjoyable encounter of 1995. In the end, the coach, Tony Hannon, joined his side in the mud slides, gaining a chocolate coating as a just reward for his work with the side. His youthful speed did not save him from the ambush.

Grant Bowmer, Captain.

The Coach's Postscript

I enjoyed this season. It was a clever and brave side which again represented Sydney High. Grant has thanked the coaches, trainers, and helpers, and I did the same at the Rugby Dinner on the night of the last game. I am amazed at the dedication of people like Ken Robinson, Harry Stanley, Bob Jinman, Tony Wilkes, Helen Mussett, Steve Jones, the Olliviers, Cheryl Dunn, all the wonderful ladies in the kitchen, and so on. Again, thanks to all who helped. I want to thank, as well, the Rugby Master, Steve Storey, whose job is always difficult, and who was always helpful, organised and cheerful. Also, Michael Smith, the coach of the mighty Second XV, was passionate about his job with his team. He was committed to every duty needed to make his team the best it could be every week. It is Harry Stanley who must be especially thanked, because he is the one who started and runs the fitness program which fuels the First and Second XVs. He is a self-sacrificing, cheerful person, a talented speed and fitness coach who is vital to our preparation. Bob Jinman is unique as well. He finished with us this year after three years of dedication which has changed forever our approach to the physical and mental aspects of our play. Ken Robinson, the long serving, organised, energetic assistant coach and manager smoothes the way, and looks after our needs at all times. The physiotherapist team of Tony Wilkes and Helen Mussett have gone beyond the ordinary in their care and attention and advice to all of us. Tony, especially, comes down to training to look after the aches and pains of the squad. He also works hard to stop us losing our sense of proportion. To him, an old Joeys boy, every game should be played for fun above all. This, I believe, is absolutely correct.

Grant Bowmer was the ideal captain. He was as brave and as clever as anyone else on the team. As a captain he gave stability and proportion to the job. He never allowed losses to weigh heavily on him. He loves to win, he is a tremendous competitor, a hard player, but he plays for the enjoyment of the game as well. This happy spirit he managed to transfer to the team as he led them from the front as a pro-active specialist five-eighth. His loyalty and cheerfulness are his hallmarks.

Congratulations to those chosen for GPS Thirds: Mark Huber (captain), Todd Ollivier, Chris Daish, Jon Delaney, Grant Houldsworth, Michael Kovac, and Grant Bowmer. Grant Houldsworth got some time in the GPS Seconds. Grant Bowmer and Jon Delaney went away with the NSW IIs and ended up as the main half and five-eighth combination. All of those chosen played and contributed to the fine GPS performances. Well done.

Tony Hannon, Coach.

Fourth Fifteen

Fourth Grade Rugby at Sydney High has always been of a high standard, and “a real man’s game”. The 1995 side aspired to these great ideals.

Although a team of relatively small players we were never intimidated by the opposition. Whether we were playing Joeys or Kings their six foot plus players never worried any of our team, whose average height was a little over five foot one.

Coaching from Mr Eggleton, and his promise to make us superstars, kept us playing to our full potential right up to the full time whistle in every match.

“Superstar” players included out goal kicker Toby Yates, with his ability to drop kick a goal from virtually anywhere on the field. James Roser was the star on the wing, with Dillon Yeats and Ross McCawley the backs responsible for consistently passing him the ball.

The forwards always played as hard as they could, with special mention due to Luke Emery and Gary Hastings who led them and kept them motivated.

The season started well with a 23-6 defeat of Cranbrook and only narrow losses to Shore and Riverview. Unfortunately Kings and Joeys played much “bigger” than us and our defeat was inevitable.

Finishing the season with a 10-6 win over Grammar was a great end to a great season.

Our appreciation and thanks go to Mr Eggleton for coaching and constant urging and focus on our good points. Without his “superstar” coaching the season would have been nowhere near such fun.

Damian James.

Fifth Fifteen

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. For the word had spread that season '95 was going to include a fifth grade team, to play rugby at the grass roots, for love not money.

Only a select few would proceed into the team and after a rigorous screening program the team assembled with coach, managers and so forth. It's different here, on the other side of the paddock, the thundering boots are replaced by gentle shuffles.

Fourth Fifteen

Everyday high class rugby players dash into the game just as quickly as they dash off, but the less fashionable take a different path, not over any hills, but over mountains. Here tread rugby's gladiators, they belong not to royalty but to the people. This is not the story of a team of out and out champions who had it all their own way.

Mr P.J.Day was always going to be a Super Coach, all he needed was a Super Team and in 1995 he didn't just get any Super Team, he got the Super Team. In hindsight we shouldn't have even made it onto the field, but science can't explain genius.

Only two trial games were played resulting in narrow defeats to the seasoned campaigners Waverley and Knox. But at our first GPS game the Shore School got away to a lead, almost accidentally hinting towards our preferred style of game, the spine-tingling type. We flashed home that day to go down 3-51. Without the sturdy boot of Craig Macintosh, the team would have been a mere shadow of what it could have been.

The next week we met St Joseph's College, the day we were entitled to throw it in. Well Craig Macintosh was there and Daniel Thomson and Mr Day, and Brett Killion, best he explain it.

"Joeys was a great performance, we were a bunch of guys who played a game of touch once a week and these blokes, they train twice a day five or six times a week. We went into the game in the right frame of mind and came out of it with our heads held high, and although we didn't score a single point, to contain Joeys to 33 points was a performance which I feel should go down in Rugby folklore."

The next two weeks saw convincing victories over the highly regarded Kings School and Newington College with their refusal to even field a side.

St Ignatius put in a fine performance to down us but that only set us up for a gutsy game the next week when Sydney Grammar School were completely outplayed, outsmarted and outnumbered by a dogged High School. So we come to our last game, but moreover our last game in the Chocolate Brown and Sky Blue. There's an empty feeling for these so called ones for the road. In blinding rain we were dealt a cruel blow from the Scots College. That day we finished behind triumph but ahead of failure. But at day's end never let it be said that the Cavaliers didn't go the distance, never.

Special thanks must go to our players, Craig Macintosh, Adam Robilliard, Ben Surrest, Gary

And without the tireless work by Neil Aitken, Gavin Chesher, Andrew Killion and Mr P.J. Day the 1995 season would not have been possible and we are forever grateful to them for their contributions.

ity with some excellent running rugby. In the conditions they were able to handle the ball well. Both forwards and backs managed to maintain an upper hand on their opposition.

As well as the GPS competition the 15s competed in the midweek Buchan Shield knockout tournament. Here we were a force to be reckoned with winning four games and bowing out to a determined Randwick team.

The team is most grateful for the support and encouragement it received from coach Mr Gilligan and Darren Shaw. Also a thank you to Mr Gainford and his 15Bs side who were always at the games and at training backing us up.

Stephen Huber, Captain.

15A Fifteen

Having won the final two preseason games, the team entered the GPS season with great confidence.

At the first game in the GPS competition we were confronted with Shore, a team with well drilled forwards and speedy outside backs. After some less than perfect defence from our backline, Shore ran in some early tries. Before the halftime break, the High forwards were able to crack the Shore defence and hit back with a well earned try through tough forwards play. Unfortunately in the second half our game plan failed and Shore ran out winners, 39-5.

While we knew Joey's would be tough opponents, we were mentally prepared for a defensive game. The forwards were able to retain some excellent ball but the backs were not up to the pace of the game and therefore could not capitalise. In the last ten minutes, Joey's ran in some easy tries to take the final score to 33-0.

The run of play continued to favour our opponents throughout the rest of the season. Our final game against Scots proved to be the crowd pleaser. On the wet paddock, the backline showed their abil-

14B Fifteen

First of all I would like to say that over the 1995 season the 14Bs improved dramatically. Our first trial game was against an ominously large Waverley team, and with a makeshift side and no coach we were thrashed 0-101. This was followed by a 10-10 draw with The Armidale School and an 8-17 loss against Scots College. We then went down 0-20 to Cranbrook and a heavy loss to Shore didn't make us feel any better.

Morale was pretty low going into the St Joseph's game, but this soon changed when we won 51-0 in a very enjoyable game of rugby! Our next three games were pretty heavy defeats, until we played at Grammar. Even though we lost to them 10-24, we had a brilliant second half, keeping them scoreless. Our last game was a good effort for a losing side, going down 0-36. Overall it was a very enjoyable (albeit quick) season, and it showed that we will be a very competitive team next year.

Rifle Shooting

Captain's Report

The First Grade lineup for 1995 remained basically the same as the previous year with the exception of the replacement of Anthony Guth with Daniel Thomson, the major change occurring in the second grade team with an entirely new team being fielded this year. This team would later prove their worth at the GPS Premiership, equalling last year's excellent performance in the competition.

As usual, training commenced in early January with training camps at Anzac Rifle Range, Malabar and at the McIntosh Rifle Range in Canberra. During these training sessions, hundreds of rounds of both full bore (7.62 mm) and small bore (.22 in) ammunition were sent down range with new shooters learning the ropes from the senior club members, and experienced shooters and coaches brushing up on their existing skills. Many hours were also spent indoors studying the theoretical aspects of shooting such as sports psychology, body position, breathing technique, effects of wind and light conditions, and plot interpretation with the coaches.

As the months progressed and performances in training sessions and prize shoots were examined, things were looking good for both teams in the GPS Annual Shoot with First Grade expected to make a big improvement over last year's exceptional performance (the best result for High in a decade). Second Grade were also improving dramatically and looking like they could give TAS and Kings (the predominant schools in shooting) a run for their money.

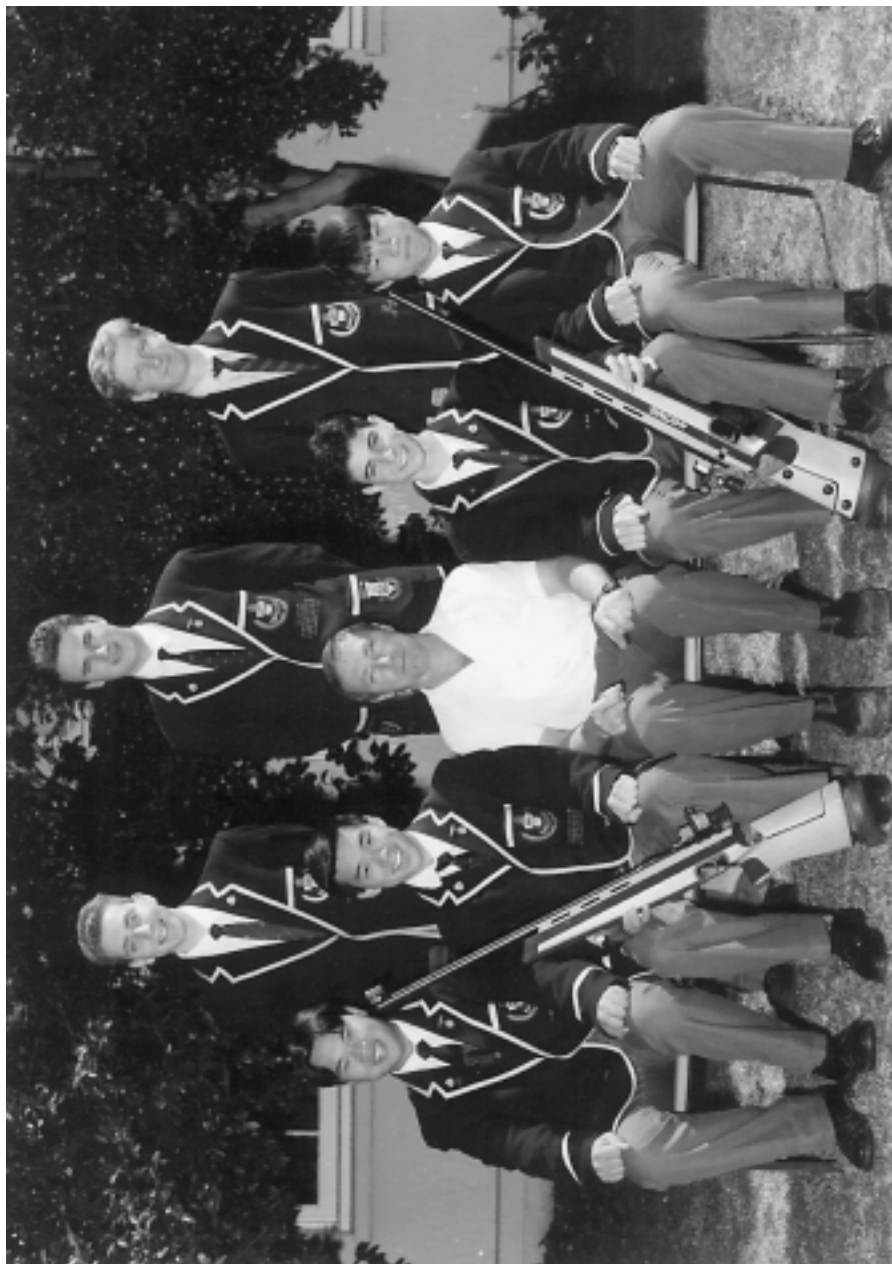

On Monday 17th July, both teams were driven up to Hornsby Rifle Range by Mr Blinkhorne in the school bus. Typical frigid winter conditions greeted us as we arrived at 8:30 in the morning to begin the official "preparation" but unofficial "let's see what you've got" day with the other GPS schools. The day progressed uneventfully with all schools outwardly minding their own business but covertly sizing up the competition with many sideways glances at opposing team scoreboards and targets being made. As each school departed at the end of the day, every team coach had a copy of every other team's scores, furiously copied down from scoreboards by team spies who "just happen to be passing by". Intelligence gained through such acts of sporting espionage gave all coaches an indication of where each school stood in the competition.

Official Competition began the next day for First Grade at the 500 m mound with the first stage of the Rawson Cup. High began well with two 'possibles' (full scores - Daniel Thomson 35-2, Phil Wong 35-4) being recorded. However, after the next stage at 600 m, High had finished a disappointing sixth, 12 points behind the winners of the Rawson Cup, Sydney Grammar School. After lunch (prepared by the parents of team members) High came back with a vengeance in the next competition, the NRA Shield held at 600 m, finishing second behind TAS - the highest placing Sydney High had achieved in a competition in the GPS since it won the Buchanan Shield in 1931! The day ended with First Grade leaving Hornsby still within striking distance of the Premiership and the coaches of the other teams still flapping out at our powerhouse performance in the NRA Shield.

The third and final day began with the Second Grade Premiership Competition, which takes place at 500m and 300m. As the wind coaches of the team, Matthew Pollock and Tom Vogelgesang did an outstanding job reading the tricky wind conditions and adjusting the sights of their teammates. Second Grade finished fourth in their competition, equalling last year's result which was the best result High had achieved in the Second Grade Competition for about 25 years. Top scorer was W.Lee with 64-5 out of 70-14 followed by Anthony Mak with 64-2.

The final competition for first grade, the Buchanan Shield, was held in the afternoon at the 300 m mound. The tricky conditions which had hindered Second Grade in the morning remained resulting in lower scores in all teams compared to results of previous years. At the end of the first stage High was running fifth, top scorer being D.Thomson with 39-2 out of 40-8 followed by Ben Ng with 38-2. The second stage, Snap, was literally a hit and miss affair for all involved (some more than others) with a large spread of scores (from 4 to 40 out of 40). Despite a valiant effort, High again finished fifth in the Snap (Top scorer being Peng Ly with 38 followed by Kris Webster and P.Wong on 37) and fifth in the Buchanan Shield. This resulted in High finishing a disappointing sixth in the GPS Premiership (Our expected improvement in fact turned out to be a degradation of 1.5% compared to last year's result, but who's counting?).

Rifle Shooting

Our spirits were not lifted by the fact that had we gained a mere two more points (out of 560) in the Rawson Cup, we would have finished fourth, on par with last year's effort. On the bright side, High managed to get two of its team members selected for the GPS Combined Rifle Team (D.Thomson and P.Wong). In the last two years SHS has now had three shooters selected for the GPS Combined (Scott Denton - GPS Combined 1994). As far back as can be remembered, before 1994, the GPS Combined Team had never had a single High Representative in its lineup.

Any traces of disappointment remaining in the team quickly evaporated after the release of the GPS Smallbore Postal Competition results later in the year. The Open team entered by SHS finished an unprecedented second in the competition behind one of the open teams entered by Joeys. This was the best result Sydney High had ever achieved in the short history of the smallbore competition.

At this point it should be noted that no results, good or bad, would be achieved by either team if it were not for the tireless efforts of certain individuals. On behalf of the club I wish to thank: Angus Edwards and Nathan Scudder for their tremendous efforts in coaching, organisation and administration in every aspect of the club; Mr Geoff Blinkhorne, our Shooting Master who spent (and continues to spend) mind boggling amounts of time in the care and transport of both people and equipment to wherever they need to be whether it be Canberra, Armidale or Mudjee, in or out of school time as well as in the general running of the club; Mr David Rosenfeld, Chairman of the Friends of the Sydney High School Rifle Club committee and all the parents and associates who make up the committee. Your support is valued and much appreciated. On a personal note I wish to thank Vice Captain Scott Denton, fellow Wind Coach Kris Webster and Second Grade Captain Peter Ree for their support and friendship throughout the year.

Philip Wong, Captain.

Soccer

First Grade Soccer

Another successful season for Sydney High soccer... this is how many will no doubt remember First Grade's campaign for 1995. However our fight to gain the GPS premiership which eluded us so cruelly last year was by no means a formality. The team did not have an easy game in the GPS season and if it were not for the determination and spirit of both the players and our coach Mr Dolan, things may well have turned out differently. We battled injuries and other setbacks to record a "tradesman-like" performance of five wins and two draws in the competition, which was enough to gain us the premiership by the second last round.

Our real preparation for the season began back in first term with Mr Dolan's fitness sessions, followed by a succession of trial matches in which we recorded impressive victories against keen sides such as Moriah and Cranbrook. Although we were eliminated from the CIS Cup in the early rounds we felt we were ready to produce a consistent performance in the GPS competition. This was how we fared:

vs SHORE (Northbridge)

HIGH 2 (Wong, Lamb) SHORE 0

This was a relatively tough game to have first up, in which we proved our worth under pressure. Some characteristically strong defence from the backs and a "touch of class" (as Mr Dolan put it) from Daniel Wong ensured a favourable result. A solid start to the season.

vs St JOSEPHS (McKay)

HIGH 0 JOEYS 0

Joeys were last year's premiers and we were expecting a gruelling game. This proved to be so. With both teams having limited scoring opportunities, the match ended in a scoreless draw. This result was disappointing from our point of view as it now meant that we were slightly behind both Kings and Newington (our opponents in the next two rounds) and that we could not afford to drop any more points.

vs KINGS (Gowan Brae)

HIGH 3 (Wong, H Y Lim 2) KINGS 0

Kings were the favourites in some circles this year and had already achieved impressive early round wins. Our plan was to smother their attack with four across the midfield, then to advance down the flanks and make use of the larger field. With a great deal of persistence we found our opposition wilting under the pressure of not being able to have control of the ball, and when Ho Young headed a free kick past their keeper we knew their spirit had been broken. Ho Young added another from a fast break and later Daniel Wong sealed the victory with a well executed penalty. Our defence had played superbly and along with Mr Dolan we realised then that if no team could score against us we would go on to overall victory. Now on to our Nemesis of recent years - Newington.

vs NEWINGTON (McKay)

HIGH 2 (Tunggal, Duffy) NEWINGTON 1

This was a sweet win. We were determined to alter the trend of recent years when Newington had narrowly beaten High to premiership and knockout wins. I myself wished to exorcise the ghost of the memory of a dreadful defensive error back in 1993 which led to a crucial Newington goal. (This would have been long forgotten had it not been for the constant and cruel reminders of my lapse from the only other surviving member of that 1993 team.) Mr Dolan's pre-game talk had a little more "gusto" than usual and the host of old boys who turned up had not come to witness another nailbiting loss.

Unfortunately Azri, our sensible right back, was sent off with the score at 2-1 and left us to hold off Newington for what seemed an eternity (actually about 25 minutes) until the referee blew his whistle. With both our goals being scored by defenders this result showed that all our players were indeed versatile and that Mr Dolan's fitness campaign was beginning to pay dividends.

vs St IGNATIUS (McKay)

HIGH 1 (Butt) IGNATIUS 0

Another extremely hard-fought contest in which Daniel Butt produced one of the goals of the season from a header just inside the penalty area off a long throw-in. Late in the second half, with our goalkeeper Adam Pold beaten and the ball about to drop into our goal, Riaz Deen running at full tilt managed to launch himself into an overhead and clear the ball right on the line! An extraordinary incident and surely all our luck was now used up.

First Grade Soccer

Back Row: D. Butt, A. Pold, T. Dickeson, C. Duffy.

Second Row: J. Taylor (Manager), H-Y. Lim, N. Fisher, J. Gibb, A. Tunggal, M. Arima.

vs GRAMMAR (Weigall)

HIGH 2 (Butt, Arima) GRAMMAR 0

If it were not for Adam Pold this game may well have turned out differently. Grammar applied constant pressure for the first ten minutes of the game during which our defence fell asleep and left Adam with three one-on-one chances to save. Inspired by our goalkeeper we then went on to totally outplay the opposition and Daniel Butt again scored a menacing header.

Masato Arima came off the bench and scored a cracker from outside the penalty box. The premiership was at least partly ours - a win or draw against last placed Scots would ensure an outright grasp of the trophy.

vs SCOTS (McKay)

HIGH 1 (HY Lim) SCOTS 1

With McKay 5 looking more like a swamp than a soccer field it was incredibly difficult for either team to develop any continuity in their play. The first half was a scrappy affair with the Scots keeper fortunate not to be sent off after an incident outside the penalty area. An amazing goal from our year ten striker Ho Young from at least twenty-five yards out put us ahead in the second half. It was only a late goal from the Scots captain that prevented us from winning the game - unfortunate but hardly disappointing. The GPS premiership was ours!

PLAYER PROFILES

Adam Pold - Goalkeeper

Easily the best goalkeeper in the GPS, Adam has saved Sydney High on numerous occasions over his three years in first grade and this year he conceded only two goals in the GPS competition. "Merv" was again chosen in the GPS firsts and performed with distinction in those games. Adam possesses an extraordinary amount of natural anticipation and skill which will ensure his success in soccer after school - a name to look out for.

Riaz Deen - Left back

The youngest player in the side, Riaz proved he was able to make the transition to first grade with ease. Riaz has a mature attitude to the game and the experience he gained this year will make him an extremely valuable asset for future seasons.

Alex Tunggal - Centre back

Alex's athletic ability meant that no opposing forward could either outjump or outrun him for the ball. His selection in GPS thirds was well deserved - an extremely tough competitor.

Azri Deen - Right back

Azri's blistering pace down the right flank posed a constant problem for the opposition. He improved greatly during the season and was rewarded with a spot in GPS firsts.

Warwick Segal - Sweeper

Warwick showed incredible maturity and organisational skills in his role at the back this year. He has a great left foot and was near perfect in his positional play. Warwick can look forward to another successful season in 1996.

Chris Duffy - Centre midfield

Chris proved to be one of our most reliable players this year. His military-like organisation engendered confidence within the midfield and he was also part of the reason we conceded so few goals. Chris earned a well deserved place in GPS seconds.

James Gibb - Right midfield

James's ability to read the game and his incredible stamina and fitness were an invaluable asset to the team. Mr Perpetual Motion was unlucky not to obtain GPS selection.

Daniel Wong - Forward

An enthusiastic and extremely talented player who scored a couple of really classy goals for us this season. "Wongy" was selected in GPS thirds. He displayed amazing determination and never ceased to encourage his team mates.

Daniel Butt - Forward

Daniel represented in GPS seconds last year as a full back, however this year he revelled in his new role as striker and was again selected in GPS seconds. Daniel's strength both on the ball and in the air made him almost impossible to contain for any defender. He scored all but one of his goals throughout the season from headers.

Ho Young Lim - Forward

Only in Year 10, Ho Young burst into first grade with two match winning goals against Kings and never looked back from that point. Another player with a lot of natural skill who will flourish in 1996. Ho Young was very unlucky to miss out on GPS selection.

Masato Arima - Forward

Masato's ability to run with the ball at the defence and his incredible dribbling in the penalty area made him a deadly proposition for opposing defenders this year.

Nick Fisher - Forward

Nick gave good service to the other forwards with his accurate crosses from the left wing during the first half of the season.

GPS REPRESENTATIVES

1st GRADE	Adam Pold, Azri Deen, Alex Lamb
2nd GRADE	Daniel Butt, Chris Duffy
3rd GRADE	Alex Tunggal, Daniel Wong

We owe great thanks for our successful season to our magnificent coach, mentor and experienced tactician - Mr Dolan. He has put in enormous efforts for Sydney High soccer over many years now, not only with the First Grade side but also with many of the junior teams. Mr Mark Kaizik, Old Boy of 1992 and coach of second grade this year must also be thanked for his generosity and selflessness in giving up his time and expertise by advising and treating members of our side who sustained injuries during the season. He is both much respected and appreciated by the boys.

Finally thanks to all the many dedicated parents who provided delicious afternoon teas and our many loyal supporters including both Mr Stratford and Mr Baldock who came down to the games and gave us encouragement - we hope you enjoyed the season as much as we did!

Alex Lamb, Captain.

Third Grade Soccer

We had what you could call a successful season. We all enjoyed ourselves and won most of our games. Our commitment in the games, although not evident at training, was unbelievable. We didn't have to come from behind too often but even when we were in front, we always stuck to our guns.

Theoretically, at the beginning of the season, we were all eligible for 1st Grade, and it took a couple of weeks to sort out who was to train where. When we assembled for the first time as the 3rd and 4th Grade squad there were some familiar faces and some unfamiliar ones. Most of the players from last year's 16s were here but it was our first time playing with some of the Year 12 boys, who were a year older than us. By our first game however, we all knew each other's name and the teamwork that made us such a great team was already becoming evident.

The first match was against Waverley, who have been traditionally hard to beat. We scored in the first minute and our two other goals all came from beautiful moves that started in the backs as a counterattack and finished as a goal. The goal conceded was a communication mix-up. A win, by 3-1, was a good way to start the season but we still had things to do. In the rest of the pre-season we played Scots twice, winning 3-1 and drawing 1-1. We beat Cranbrook 2-0 and, in our best match of the pre-season, we beat a St Patricks team that was bigger than us in size, with a team that was not at full strength: Score: 3-0. Thus the pre-season was over, we had had four wins, one draw and had conceded no more than a goal a game. We were working well as a team, enjoying our soccer as much as the success.

The season proper began after we had not had a game for a few weeks. Against Shore we were leading 2-0 at half time and 3-1 a little later, but a lapse in concentration and a penalty gave us a 4-2 win. We were still confident of big wins. Against St Josephs the next week we won again, 1-0 including a beautiful strike from Michael Stavroulakis. It was essentially a defensive game, with our backs working well against the faster Joeys forwards.

Our next encounter was against Kings. We were very confident and had a lot of chances. We played better, had more shots, but a controversial goal gave them the lead. Our commitment at this stage was outstanding but a mixture of factors led to us not being able to peg them back. A 0-1 loss, our first, and we were determined for it to be our only one.

Newington was another defensive game. With only five minutes to go Newington scored. Our second loss was staring us in the face but we dug deep and came up with a goal with one minute left. Newington's shock was incredible, and we were just pleased about what we had done. We won our next game against St Ignatius fairly easily, 2-1 and then came to face Grammar.

This game again brought out the fighting qualities of our side. Here were two teams which seemed fairly evenly matched. At 1-1 at half time we were getting an unbelievable pep talk from coach Gifford.

Front Row: K.Webster, J.Azzi, P.Richard, Mr T.Dolan (Coach), D.Wolf, B.Ng, A.Dang.

He was telling us that we should put away five in the second half. As it was, we came close. A ball was thrown in, someone in the team passed it back to Dave Hoang who then ran through four defenders and beat the keeper with a brilliant shot. We all thought "goal". The referee didn't agree. The linesman had called offside and he couldn't overrule his linesman! Many decisions went against us on the day, but it only served one purpose. We were fired up! We didn't let them get close and from a great move Raymond Budavari scored a goal that won the game.

The final match of the season was against Scots. For some reason there is a tendency for rain when we play Scots. It had rained last year and earlier this year. Sydney hadn't had a drop of rain for fifty days, but then we played Scots. By the start of our game, at 11:00 a.m. the field was muddy, full of puddles and generally not what we were used to. It was a game we drew 3-3, but a game which we could have easily won if the ball had not done the funny things that soccer balls do in the wet. It was not the way we had hoped to end the season, but at least it was not a defeat.

Our strength was our defence. Only in that final game did we concede more than two goals in one game, and we only conceded two once. We played twelve games, won nine and drew two. We scored twenty-three goals and had twelve scored against us. The backs would often manage to quickly turn defence into attack and the mids and forwards were waiting. Our only real problem came with scoring goals. We got into position fairly often, but had trouble converting the chances.

However, our on field successes would not have been possible without the help we received. Thanks to our coach Mr Richard Gifford for not only managing, as he has in previous years, but this year also coaching during the games. His half time pep talks, although they often asked for the impossible, consistently made us get a part of the way there and this was enough to make us win, most of the time. Thanks also to Mr Tom Dolan, who often refereed our matches. Thanks also to Ms Jacqui Taylor, who did all the managing of the sides, especially important to the lower sides. First grade may know where they are playing, but not everyone in the younger years does, and these are the boys who will continue the proud tradition of Sydney High School Soccer. Congratulations to the First Grade side for winning the premiership this year, and again to Mr Tom Dolan, who coached them so well. Finally to the team, thank you for such a great season. I really enjoyed the year.

Team List: Michael Lion, Stephen Cheng, Arto Hakkinen, Justin Denes, Michael Stavroulakis, Matthew Malouf, Raymond Budavari, Dave Hoang, Timor Tez and myself. We didn't have a consistent goalkeeper, but thanks to Yaniv Ben-Nissan and Ben Ng for filling in as required. We are, needless to say, looking forward to next year.

Alexander Daniel, Captain

Fourth Grade Soccer

Fourth Grade Soccer 1995 enjoyed huge successes and went from strength to strength in a hard-fought season full of outstanding performances. The pre-season consisted of a number of light-hearted matches, in which the third graders doubling up made outstanding contributions, leaving us undefeated with huge wins. However, by the time the GPS season began, a dynamic but stable team had developed.

Gareth Sutherland, Tom Rochester and Kris Webster were rock solid as our outside backs, and David Wolf and Pierre Richard (myself) as a rotating centre pair anchored the defence and brought up the attack. The powerful running of Yaniv Ben-Nissan, Michael Grant and Carlos Mora kept the opposition in a spin, breaking open the play. Justin Azzi was a stalwart midfield and Barry Fialkov's and Kamil Unver's pace down the wings were highly successful. Stavros Vlahos and Alex Dang provided clinical finishing, with Dang returning from injury to score ten goals in six matches. Ben Ng was inspirational as occasional goalkeeper, and match winning scorer. Many other players made valuable contributions to the team throughout the season.

The 1995 season will be remembered due to our massive victories and magical moments both skilful and comical (Wolf's goal from halfway in a clearance shot not the least among them). Fourth Grade exhibited the true spirit of High Soccer, giving full voice to the war cry before each match, and playing as a united multicultural team, who swept all before them on the road to glory.

16A Soccer

This was a year of revelations and discoveries in the 16As soccer. The season started slowly, but steadily we improved as a team.

In the first match of the season we went down to Shore 1-3, the goal being scored by Justin Lodge. In the second round we played St Pius X 2nd XI and had a 2-2 draw, with goals by Jay Chinchin and Sam Park, both goals being set up by Nick Daunt Watney.

The third round against The Kings School brought the return to form of the A team. We convincingly won 3-0 with two goals to Andrew Bennie and one to Jay Chinchin. The fourth and fifth rounds brought up the toughest opponents. Unfortunately we narrowly lost both in the last five minutes. In the fourth round against Newington it was 0-1 with five minutes to go, when Justin missed an opportunity from right in front to draw the match.

Next up against Riverview we lost 1-2, the goal being scored by our new "star" import Ian Frenkel from a penalty. Grammar were our opponents in the sixth round, which started off with a beautiful goal from our sweeper Sean Garber, in the wrong

net. We were 0-1 down. However, High turned the game around with goals from Jay and Ian (from a penalty).

Our final game of the season against Scots College was played in atrocious conditions. It was a tough match which ended in a 1-1 draw because of a final minute goal by Jay, taking his season tally to six goals. Przemak Zajic the goalkeeper, kept for his first season and our goals against record was impressive with only nine (including the trial matches).

Andrew Bennie, Captain and Coach.

16B Soccer

The pre-season was a manful attempt by Leroy Lobo and Cheyne Tan to construct a football team from a bunch of jokers. The arrival of the Sarge (Przemek Zajic) and Jay Chinchin caused a revolution in the ranks of the 16Bs. After dropping several players we began to form a team which would show courage, guts and determination. Nathan (Fantab) FitzSimons was the heart of the team with some spectacular slide tackles in the midfield. The Freak (Ian Frenkel) was also a welcome addition to the team with some Robbie Fowler type performances up front. All in all, the season was in terms of results, rather disappointing, but the improvement in the team was absolutely incredible.

The GPS season began with a seven goal thriller against Shore, with us going down in the final minutes 3-4. Sarge's debut performance earned him a goal along with Peter Moller and Winston Cooley. The second round provided a shock 0-2 loss to the Joeys 16As after we totally dominated the game.

The third round provided us with our first high point of the year, with Sarge scoring a late equaliser (with the celebrations being a sight to see). Some outstanding saves from Jay in the goals kept us in the game. Opposing GPS teams had learnt not to mess with us, a fired up Sarge (now known as "The Enforcer") saved little Adam (Nugget) Sitta from certain injury at least once. The Newington game was disappointing with a 0-2 loss due to the absence of several stars, even though Fantab Fitz was outstanding.

The next round was the long awaited debut of Ian Frenkel. Although we went down 2-4, we proved we could handle a difficult situation as Grammar were awarded three penalties for improper offences. Ian Frenkel scored a screamer and Leroy Lobo scored a fluke header off the back of his head with his eyes closed, connecting with one of Przemek's classic crosses. Frenkel was sent off amid several fiery protests. Jay was yet again a tower of strength in goal with only atrocious defence costing us goals.

The last game was our only victory as well as being our best game together. The game began badly as several poor defensive mistakes from Cheyne Tan, Steven Lee and Leroy Lobo cost us two early goals. This was the extent of the Scots scoring with Fantab Fitz coming on and marshalling the defence. The second half was totally dominated by us with Ian Frenkel being exceptional up front, scoring two goals, and Winston scored a spectacular long range one. The goal of the season had to go to Daniel Zabow with a Gullit like header from a corner. The score however was kind to Scots with Zajic's thirty yard screamer hitting the post, being fumbled by the keeper, and then being missed from a very easy scoring position by Ben Lim.

Jay (Jayman) Chinchin - Goalkeeper: Outstanding, his keeping efforts included three saved penalties.

Ian (The Freak) Frenkel - Striker: Robbie Fowler type domination of the games (2 goals).

Przemek (Sarge) Zajic - Forward Mid: Tough captain who led by example (2 goals).

Nathan (Fantab) FitzSimons - Defensive Mid: A real workhorse with 23.2 average tackles per game.

Daniel (Zab) Zabow - Sweeper: What can be said about "the man"?

The 1995 15As had a lot of new faces, especially in the backs, where Josh Stern, Ben Garber, Richard Law and Rex Chan made their A team debuts. Ben Loughman was also starting his first season in the top side.

The team was coached for the third year running by the ever-committed Old Boy Richard Sandall, and captained for the second year by Richard Michael. The first match was against Waverley, and High was clearly outplayed and convincingly beaten due to the side's lack of properly developed teamwork. The pre-season saw the team get better with every match, including convincing victories over Scots Bathurst and Cranbrook.

The GPS season started against Shore, and the team, now playing with great spirit, won easily 3-0. The rest of the season saw the team go through undefeated, with especially good wins over Grammar (1-0) and Scots (3-2).

New players for the 15Bs this season included Steven Gerendas, Tom Ryan, Tristan McAfee, and several part-time players.

The Bs performed excellently during the pre-season, and took this form into the GPS season, during which they suffered just one defeat. This was partly due to providing key replacement players for the A side.

The team, and their experienced captain Ariel Jankelson, offer their thanks yet again to long-standing coach and mentor, Richard Sandall.

14A Soccer

The 14As went into the season with many people having doubts about our team's strength compared to last year, having lost many players but also having gained others. We were all extremely confident in the period leading into the trial games.

First up were Moriah. With a fairly depleted line-up, we still managed to come up with a 3-0 win. The whole team was very proud.

The next game was the only stain in an almost perfect season. Playing Waverly, it was extremely close until the last five minutes, when we conceded two goals. Waverly are always a hard team and a 0-2 loss was not too bad.

No-one was prepared for what happened to us against SCEGS Redlands. With Ben Romalis scoring eight goals, we secured a smashing 14-0 victory.

With the aim of trying to equal last week's score, we met with St Spyridon and were never troubled in a 2-0 win.

Next on the agenda was Cranbrook. We went out and scored an early two goals. The whole team played beautifully with the end score 3-1.

St Patricks were next and it turned out to be quite a close match. We just held out for a 2-1 victory.

The last trial game saw us playing Moriah again. Hoping to finish the preseason on a winning note, we went out and won with a good scoreline of 3-0.

The GPS season began and we played SCEGS first up, at home. It was amazingly close right up until the end. At 2-2 we were desperate for a goal and when we got a penalty, Alex McAlister wasn't going to miss it. The final score was 3-2. A shaky but successful start.

Kings were next and we were playing them away. A quick goal against us early had us on the defensive straight away. However late in the second half Alon Ilsar scored a goal, followed by a miraculous goal from the sideline by Ben Romalis, allowing us to escape with a 2-1 win. We took a lot of heart from this win.

Newington have always been a hard team to beat. We went down to them the previous season. Despite this we were able to counteract an early goal with one of our own, to finish with a 1-1 draw, in a game that saw the ball see-saw from one end to the other.

Next was St Ignatius at home. We were never in any trouble, due to our brick-wall-like defence. Jonathon Dooley, Alex McAlister, David Thompson, David Rosenthal and goalkeeper Max Stender all played well, contributing to the 4-1 win.

Grammar at home was our next task. Our midfielders were using the wings beautifully, and John Cusbert and Steve Webb played superbly with our centre mids, Alon Ilsar and Raaj Govintharajah putting the "through balls" through. The result was a sound 2-1 victory.

Our last game of the season was against Scots at home. When the final whistle blew it was 1-1; however the referee called us back on for another five minutes, because he ended it too soon. We scored during this period! The final final score was 2-1. A great way to win a superb season.

Our special thanks go to James Lafiatitis who coached our team - he took the training sessions and was present at every game.

14B Soccer

The 14Bs had a very successful year in 1995 losing only one game in the GPS season. We lost to Riverview 0-1 in a close game with an under strength team. Our top goal scorers for the season included Stephen Yun, Michael Klooster and Elkie Sanchez.

14C Soccer

I joined grade soccer this year for the first time hoping for a lot of excitement out of the game and it was exactly what I got. Unexpectedly I was appointed captain at the first game against Waverley which we lost 0-5 probably because of pre-game nerves and a lack of flow in the team. We learnt a lot from this first game and everything seemed to go uphill from there. Our team came together and everyone slotted into his appropriate position. The tables turned in the next weeks with two great wins over Scots, 6-0 and 3-0. The team picked up its skills, and my confidence also grew higher in the following weeks as captain. With only one more loss to St. Patricks in the Trial season we were set to attack the GPS.

The 14C grade side made a great first impression with a 7-0 win over Shore and the team was running at a high. With a bye the next week because of Joeys lack of soccer teams we prepared for a tough game against Grammar and that is what it was with a tight 1-0 score line in our favour. However we faltered against Riverview with a 1-2 loss but a controversial 1-1 draw against Newington made us even more determined to win against Grammar again. We played hard and after 2 goals down we made a thrilling comeback to win 3-2. In the last game against Scots for the third time we played with flair and a little cheek which gave us a 4-0 win. This was a perfect way to end the near perfect season of 1995 for the 14Cs Soccer

13A Soccer

The 13A soccer team in 1995 started the pre-season trials with mixed successes losing against Waverley and St Patrick's. However, we came back with a strong win against St Spiridon and a 2-2 draw with Cranbrook. The team was fast improving and we looked forward to the GPS season with confidence in ourselves. Coached by two High old boys Boris Bronfentrinker and Michael Keller, both of whom played first grade soccer in previous years, we trained throughout the school holidays in preparation for the weeks to come.

The GPS season had finally arrived. After training twice a week for almost two months we were ready. The hard work put in was reflected in our results. We had wins against Shore, Grammar, Scots and Riverview and a 0-0 draw with Kings. Unfortunately we lost 1-2 to Newington in a thrilling game. Overall this was a wonderful season for the 13As in 1995 and as captain I would like to thank our coaches Boris Bronfentrinker and Michael Keller as well as the boys for a great season.

13B Soccer

A training camp just days before the GPS season started certainly showed coaches Boris Bronfentrinker and Michael Keller who the committed and uncommitted players were. A few of the players from the Cs forced their way into the Bs by showing commitment and the right attitude during these training sessions at McKay.

The pre-season games against Waverley, Cranbrook and St Patricks were all successful, with High showing all the skills needed for a triumphant GPS season.

It all started well with a 2-0 scoreline favouring High. Then, in the next game, High showed Kings how to play soccer. High out-played Kings in every department and controlled the game from the opening whistle. This was undoubtedly High's best game all season. The next three games were make-or-break for the now almighty 13Bs. Unfortunately we broke. With refereeing calls going against us in the games against Newington and Grammar, we lost narrowly on both occasions. In between these two games we beat Riverview at home, and in the last game of the season, we came away with a comfortable victory over Scots.

Although we did not win the unofficial GPS competition, all of the players came away from the season with invaluable experience, and their first real experience of playing GPS sport for High.

On behalf of the team I would like to thank our two coaches, Boris and Michael, who come from university each week to coach us.

Mike Martin, Captain.

The 13Cs played a total of twelve games (trials and GPS) for nine wins and three defeats. Forty-nine goals were scored by the team with only eight against. Our toughest matches had to be a trial against St Patricks Strathfield and a GPS game against Newington.

The team saw six players promoted to the 13Bs, a sure sign of the team's improving standard. At the conclusion of each match the players looked forward to the man of the match medal and the chance to back up for the As and Bs.

Our weekly news sheet "GOAL!" kept players and parents informed of all the soccer news. It was very good to have so many parents supporting us throughout the season and we thoroughly enjoyed our end of season barbeque. Many thanks to Mr Watson for all his efforts in coaching the team, for what was a very successful and enjoyable season.

13D Soccer

The 13D soccer season was a turbulent and exciting one. They have progressed from a 0-15 loss to a very well played 0-0 draw. Every game was an improvement, thanks to Mr Selway who put in many hours of his time, and to the parents for continually supporting the team. The best game played was the last one, in which both sides were playing so accurately it was commented it looked like a ping-pong match! Special mention must be made of our goalie, Anastasy Panagiotelis, whose amazing saves left the spectators breathless and gave him extremely dirty knees. The team worked together very well towards the end of the season, the never-tiring forwards continually advanced, crossed, sidestepped and took shots at goal each game. The defence and midfielders were always ready to use their skills to clear and push the ball forward. Overall the 13Ds had a very good season despite their record and will look forward to an exciting season next year.

Cross Country

Under 16 Cross Country

The consistency of the SHS Under 16s Cross Country team could be seen from early in the season, beginning at Normanhurst and climaxing at the GPS meeting. In every race, a Sydney High runner or two could be seen finishing in the top ten.

Every year the St Ignatius Relay produces the most enjoyable competition of the calendar. This high-spirited event often shows which team has the best chance of taking out the GPS Championship at the end of the season. This year the number one Under 16s team, consisting of Marc Bennie, Andrew Bennie, Sean Garber and Justin Lodge finished fourth overall and won their age group. Good form in the next four races showed that High was a force to be reckoned with.

The GPS Championship was held at St Ignatius by Newington and High lived up to its earlier promise by winning the 16s team event with the small total of 14 points, beating its nearest rival by 30 points. This was the first time that any age group from Sydney High had won such an event since the advent of Cross Country as a GPS sport.

Under 14 Cross Country

Team: Joshua Lodge, Thierry Lamvohee, Kelvin Mo, Edmond Chan, Peter Grzic.

Barker/Knox Meet

The first official race of the GPS season took place at a very flat Parramatta Park. The course consisting of small obstacles proved to be a good place to start the season for old and new runners. Having no hills, race tactics needed to be applied.

Results: Thierry Lamvohee 4th
Edmond Chan 68th
Peter Grzic 90th
Team 8th

Sydney High Meet

The High course was a bit more challenging than the previous Saturday. This was a race where not only speed was needed but also endurance. With sand and a hill near the finish this course was suited for everyone.

Results: Thierry Lamvohee 5th
Joshua Lodge 10th
Kelvin Mo 97th
Team 10th

Shore Meet

On a wet and slippery course at Macquarie Uni Joshua achieved our best individual placing of 1st. Leading most of the way he fended off challenges from Newington and Shore to win fairly comfortably. This day also produced good runs from Edmond and Peter who showed great improvement from previous races,

Results: Joshua Lodge 1st
Edmond Chan 22nd
Peter Grzic 42nd
Team 9th

Newington Meet

On a hot day we had our first look at what was to be the GPS finals course. Being held in the grounds of St Ignatius College the course was definitely one of the toughest. With hills and tight turns it was a race dominated by strong legs.

Results: Thierry Lamvohee 8th
Kelvin Mo 85th
Edmond Chan 89th
Team 13th

Scots Meet

Another tough course which seemed to be much longer than it actually was, proved to be a race where patience and a knowledge of when to use a burst of energy was definitely needed.

Results: Thierry Lamvohee 4th
Edmond Chan 78th
Kelvin Mo 82nd

St Josephs Meet

A perfect day for running the St Josephs course was one of the most enjoyable. Consisting of small hills and dips it did not offer too much of a problem for the front runners. Joshua and I had very good runs and were able to pick up five places in the last 800.

Results: Thierry Lamvohee 3rd
Joshua Lodge 4th
Edmond Chan 65th
Kelvin Mo 73rd
Team 8th

Grammar Meet

A scenic course through the North of Centennial Park, we managed to achieve one of our best overall position of 5th. Outstanding in this race was Joshua who was in the leading pack most of the way and achieved a 4th placing in a sprint finish, with myself not far behind.

Results: Joshua Lodge 4th
Thierry Lamvohee 8th
Kelvin Mo 87th

Kings Meet

No report.

Results: Joshua Lodge 6th
Kelvin Mo 68th

GPS Meet

The grand finale of the GPS season proved to be a memorable one. Hosted by Newington and held at St Ignatius this course was the best place to finish the season. Having many hills, sharp turns and uneven ground this was by far the hardest course. We all had good runs with Josh and me finishing 4th and 5th respectively, Kelvin put in a great effort finishing 46th and Edmond also going well finished 58th.

Results: Joshua Lodge 4th
Thierry Lamvohee 5th
Kelvin Mo 46th
Edmond Chan 58th

The CHS season started off very well for us, with thirteen boys making it to the Regional Carnival. We won the 13s and 14s team event while the 12s came a close second. The outstanding individual results were Reece Hamer 2nd, Peter Trewin 5th, Seong Hong 7th, and James Salter 9th, in the U12s. Jonathan Alexander 4th, Matthew Bowden 5th and Gabriel Knowles 9th, in the U13s. In the U14s race we had myself winning the race, Joshua Lodge 2nd, Peter Schofield 6th, Thomas Wills 8th, Ben Romalis 9th, and Alon Ilsar 10th.

At the Regional carnival we wanted to make a big impact, but illness in the 12s and 13s prevented us from winning the team events. Reece clinched 2nd in the U12s and qualified for the state in a close finish, and James placed 32nd.

The U14s won the team event with myself placing 3rd, Peter 16th, Ben 18th and Joshua 21st.

The State carnival proved to be much different from the previous carnivals. With competition coming from all over the state we performed fairly well. Reece placed 32nd, myself 66th, Joshua 75th, Peter 98th, Ben 102nd and the team getting 7th. Overall our CHS and GPS seasons were most enjoyable.

Skiing

Following on the successes of previous seasons, the ski team of 1995 performed well.

Mr Spencer took down a large group of senior and junior boys to stay at Jindabyne and compete in the Northern Division, which includes all schools north of Goulburn. We had teams in all divisions competing in Alpine, Moguls, Cross-Country and Snowboarding. The Division 3 Alpine team performed well, finishing in the top ten, but failed to make it through to the state finals. The open Moguls team performed well but due to falls we failed to gain a high placing, despite my twelfth placing in the individual results.

Our senior Snowboarding team was the largest competing. There were many outstanding performances: Ben Surrest, Adam Robilliard, Peter Nixon and Adam Hamer all did well. The team only just fell short of qualifying for the state competition.

In the Cross-Country the open team of Michael Hennessy, Lindsay Crawford and I won the open division. All members of the team performed strongly in the 3x1500 m relay. In the state competition the team performed well, only to be beaten by two on-snow schools, and came third. The conditions were bad but bearable.

The team now went on to the National Competition held at Mt Blue Cow. It was now the eighth time in three years that the team had raced on this course, and our experience gave us an edge over the Victorian schools. The team finished fourth after passing Ivanhoe Grammar B team with five hundred metres to go. For their outstanding efforts the team was awarded school skiing blues.

All this would not have been possible without the help and guidance of Mr Andrew Spencer, and the willing support of our loyal parent group.

Peter Nicholas.

Fencing

Master's Report

In Brisbane in July, the SBHS A Team (Henry Adams M.A., Luke Twigg and Karl Grenet), convincingly demonstrated their primacy in Fencing in Australia by winning the National Championship.

They fought their way through ten opposing teams to the finals, when they outfenced Newington College B Team by 5-3. To reach the Nationals they had had to play 30 State Teams.

In the Individual Schools' contest, Henry Adams was placed 2nd (foil), while Luke Twigg (5th) and Karl Grenet (a second former) showed promise for the future.

In the Under 17s, Henry, Sydney High School's Magister Armorum, won 1st place in epee and 3rd in foil. Luke Twigg and Karl Grenet (Under 15s) were medallists as well.

The State Representative Teams matches at Brisbane also saw SBHS pupils to the fore. NSW A was captained by our M.A., beating Victoria, NSW B and Queensland, to carry off the palm in foil. Luke Twigg captained the Bs with a 3rd place result. This success was repeated in epee with the

M.A. captaining NSW to a 1st place by defeating Victoria and Queensland.

To give a small illustration of the stamina shown by our three fencers, the team bout started at 8.30 am (call-over), finishing at 10.30 pm on Saturday and Sunday. This was in addition to a couple of days spent on individual competition.

Fencing may not rank as a numerically major sport in the school but the talent, skill, expertise and sheer hard work shown over the various competitions leading up to the National Championships were vindicated by their spectacular success.

It is only four years since Henry Adams, then a Year 8 boy, without any teacher support, introduced the sport to SBHS. Four years on our Magister Armorum can look with unalloyed pride at his achievement and leave the school well satisfied with what he has done.

The school congratulates all three boys on their spectacular wins and achievements.

The writer, in turn would point out that none of this would have been possible but for the moral and practical support of both Mr Bob Outterside, former Principal SBHS and Mr Dick Stratford, Principal SBHS.
