Editorial

It is now well established that the Editor and Committee are struggling to catch up to the expected date of issue of The Record, namely late first term of the year following the year of the edition. This issue (expected to be available in February 2003) is out of sequence, following as it does the 1996 issue, as it is now intended to publish two, or possibly three, editions each year.

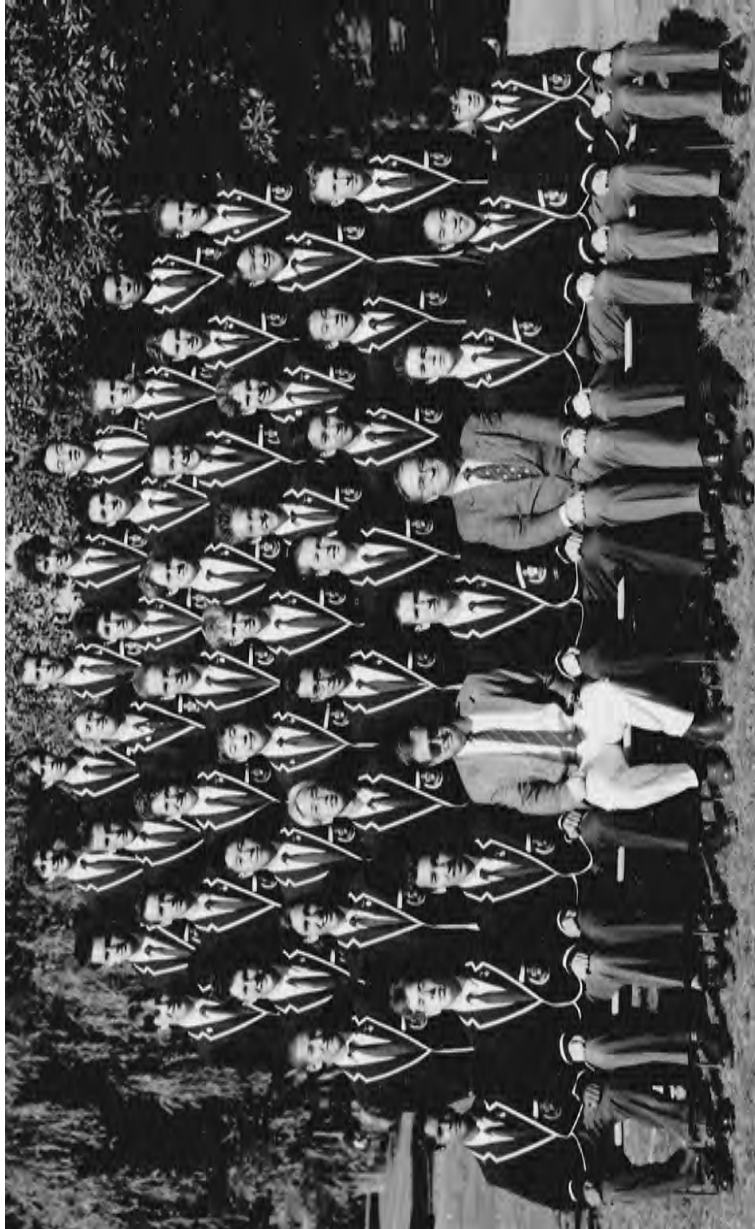

Unfortunately some key reports do not appear in this issue, and I can only assure readers that subsequent issues will be more complete.

I am greatly indebted to the Committee for their cheerful and dedicated work, and also to those parents and supporters who assisted by arranging the layout and printing of this issue.

A.M.Gainford, Editor.

SPEECH NIGHT

and

117th ANNUAL PRIZE-GIVING

Tuesday 20th February, 2001

Occasional Address by Lieutenant-General Peter J. Cosgrove AC MC
Chief of the General Staff

Principal's Report

[The following is an edited version of the address given by the Principal at the Annual Speech Night and Prize-Giving.]

Lieutenant-General Cosgrove, distinguished guests, ladies and gentleman. As I report to you this evening, I am moved to observe how inspired I have been by the atmosphere of common purpose and focus within the School Family. Many talented people are working with impressive dedication and affection to further the interests of this great school. I believe that progress was made in several areas in 2000: strategic planning, asset management, site development, marketing and promotion, financial management, communication with stakeholders, sports administration, school environment improvement, technology in teaching and learning, curriculum development and student welfare. The thirty-eight editions of High Notes 2000 have traced the steps taken in policy development and practice.

Relationships with our partners who are working to support Sydney High have been clarified and enhanced. We will strive to build further goodwill towards the school among our interest groups and supporters this year. The historical partnership between the Old Boys Union and the school P & C remains critical for our future.

I should mention four highlights of the year for me. The agreement to implement of the Living Skills program for years 7 and 8 was a vital and symbolic first step in modifying our school culture in the future. The great efforts of staff in rewriting programs and assessment schedules for all HSC courses and many junior school courses will help us to move closer towards inculcating the principles of autonomous and lifelong learning in our students. The historic signing of a Deed of Licence with Centennial Parklands has assured our sports delivery for the next twenty years. The completion of the Barris Cottage and new pontoon at the Outterside Centre raised our capacities to compete in rowing significantly.

I must record how fortunate I am to have had such strong support from Lee Ruth, Terry Meakin and Bob Outterside (Sydney High Foundation), Ken Baret (High Club), Nathan Scudder (OBU), Dennis Briggs and John Kaldor (P & C, School Council) and Bob Dowdell and John Beringer (SBHS) during my first year at High. Without their acceptance of my future directions for the school and wise counsel on priorities and implementation strategies, not nearly as much could have been accomplished. There are many fine achievements worth celebrating this evening.

High quality H.S.C. results were earned by our students again. Loius Wang was awarded a UAI of 100 and accompanied by Yi-Hong Li and Rahul Dubey, received a Premier's Trophy for Excellence. Yi-Hong also gained a Premier's Certificate for his first place in the state in 2-unit Classical Greek.

Great Mathematics results showcased the talent of our students and the professionalism of their teachers. Our 4-unit Mathematics students performed excellently, second in the state for the top 100 mathematicians. The 2-unit Mathematics results were the best for eight years.

In English the 2-unit results showed improvement despite the candidature increase to 90 students in the demanding 2 unit related course. Our results in Physics, Business Studies, Modern History, Legal Studies, and Mathematics 3-unit, were well above the school's long term average. Twenty-two of forty-four courses had results above the long term average (as measured in state standard deviation units).

At least 32 boys achieved UAIs of 99 or more, while more than 100 students had UAIs of 90 or better. All 171 applicants to university were offered places.

The elusive double in debating – GPS Louat Shield and State Hume Barbour Shield – was achieved for only the sixth time in our history by an undefeated team.

Water polo claimed the second division premiership. Fencing held the Nutt Shield again for the third time in four years.

Our cricketers regained the Cec Rubie Trophy in the Five Highs competition in Melbourne.

Michael Terry-Whitall made the Australian Under 17 Youth Water Polo team.

Hamish Scott-Stevenson was awarded a CHS Blue for rowing.

Stephen Irwin played in a combined GPS First XV; Andrew Light in the First XI and Paul Carvoni and Gabriel Knowles in First Grade Soccer.

The Australian Sports Medal was awarded to David and Andrew Jacques for Rifle Shooting.

Daniel Gilbourd won a silver medal at the International Biology Olympiad held in Turkey.

David David was successful in the National Bible Quiz, winning a trip to Israel.

Phillip Lesnie won the Sydney Theatre Company's 'Young Playwrights Award'.

Robbie Moore had his play Wolves read by an amateur theatrical company.

At the City of Sydney Junior Chess Competition, Ilya Zvedeniouk and Alex Feldman top scored in their age groups.

We were represented in choirs at the opening ceremonies of the Olympic Games, the Paralympics and the Pacific School games. Our boys worked very successfully as volunteers at these great events.

Michael Nelson, Jason Kok and Thomas Norrie played in the NSW Public Schools Symphony Orchestra.

Eugene Schofield-Georgeson had his artwork exhibited in Artexpress.

All round excellence was pursued and achieved by a significant number of our students. They showed us how talent and determination reap rewards. Tonight we honour the achievements of our students and acknowledge the support and encouragement they received in so many of their endeavours by parents, staff, old boys, peers and friends of High. To those of you who are leaving us for the last time tonight and to those of you who have more schooling ahead, I say – formulate your goals. Motivate yourself to pursue them. Override procrastination and self-doubt. Remember Claudius' words to Laertes, so ironically similar to Hamlet's self-recriminations about his own lack of effective action against the usurper:

"That we would do

We should do when we would: for this 'would' changes

And hath abatements and delays as many

As there are tongues, are hands, are accidents,

And then this 'should' is like a spendthrift sigh,

That hurts by easing..." [Hamlet, IV,vii,1 17-122]

Be resolute in the pursuit of your objectives. Congratulations on your performances.

School Notes

Fine Fellow It was announced in March that Professor Sir Robert May (Dux of SHS 1952), Chief Scientific Advisor to the UK Government and Head of the UK Office of Science and Technology, was to be elected to the position of President of the Royal Society. Previous presidents include Samuel Pepys, Sir Isaac Newton, Sir Joseph Banks, Lord Kelvin, and Lord Florey of Adelaide and Marston. Sir Robert has held chairs in Physics at Sydney University, Zoology at Princeton, and Royal Society Research in the Department of Zoology at Oxford and Imperial College London. He has honorary degrees from several universities, including Uppsala, Yale, and Sydney.

Making Peace Tim Griffiths (1984) reports that Grant Palmer (also 1984), currently second-in-command of the 8/12 Medium Artillery Regiment based in Darwin, is off to Dili to work as SO2 Operational Plans at UNTEAT (United Nations Transitional Authority East Timor).

Inaugural Captain It was discovered (rediscovered?) this year that the captain of the first Australian Rugby team to play a test match against England, on 24th June 1899, was Frank Leonard Row, an Old Boy of the School.

Chrystal Fountain During the work to repair the roof after the Geat Hail Storm, the fountain in the courtyard suffered some damage. As the original fountain had been a gift from a grateful final year (possibly 1969), it was decided to refurbish it straight away. The work was completed in time for speech night in February 2001.

Glittering Prizes It was announced in October that Jeremy Heimans (1995) had been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to study Government and Politics at Harvard. Earlier in the year the school learnt that Adam Pretty (1994) had won the World Press Photo Organisation's award for sports photo of the year. Meanwhile, Sydney University has awarded an Undergraduate Scholarship to Danny Ho (1999), seen in the accompanying photograph receiving his award from the Chancellor, Dame Leonie Kramer.

Historical Encounter The bell from HMAS Encounter, which until recently languished largely unremarked in a corner of the main building, was recently moved to the cloisters, remounted, and polished. Mr John Fittler, who organized the move, is preparing a small plaque to inform passers-by of the bell's history.

Foreign Affairs During late July the School hosted an inaugural visit of five students from Zhejiang Province in China. The touring party was personally accompanied by Mr Xu Yaogen, Director of Foreign Affairs for the province, and had been largely arranged at our end by Ms Fleming of the Modern Languages department.

Unbounded Energy Recent Rugby convert Michael Tokar (Yr 11) managed to play for three GPS schools in a single day at McKay. Arriving early he found that Iggies were short a man for their Fifth Grade soccer match against High – Michael cheerfully obliged. Later he played soccer for Kings Fourths against High, and finally turned out for the High 16B Rugby team against Kings. One wag said that after this match he was seen heading off to the pitches near the restaurant, where he thought Scots were playing, looking for another match!

The Moving Finger During August the School was honoured by a visit from a group of Old Boys who are published writers, including a retired ambassador and a professor or two. Professor Gary Scrimgeour addressed the gathering on the place of writing in modern society and the importance of supporting boys in their writing endeavours, and opened a new section of the K.J.Andrews Library dedicated to the donated works of Old Boys.

Family Torch Bearer Mrs Lola Harding-Irmer, who, amongst her many other outstanding achievements, was a PE teacher at Sydney Girls High School in the 1960s, carried the Olympic torch past Sydney Boys High School on the 14th of September. Her son, Patrick, is an old boy of the school, attending from 1958 to 1963 before going on to Sydney University. Both Mrs Harding-Irmer and Patrick have been involved in the Olympic games at some stage in their lives. Mrs Harding-Irmer coordinated part of the opening ceremony to the 1936 Berlin Games, and in Munich in 1972 she was Australia's delegate for the scientific congress for rhythmic gymnastics. Patrick was at Seoul in 1988 as a solo dancer representing British Contemporary Dance. In 1984 he represented the same company in the Arts Festival prior to the Los Angeles Olympic Games.

Whilst Mrs Harding-Irmer is 86 years of age, she was not the oldest runner in the group carrying the torch to Homebush, and her involvement in the Olympic Games was capped off by her run with the torch down South Dowling St, along Oxford St and into Crown St. (Robert Crofts)

Overwhelming Success In the first week of November it was announced that Hamish Scott-Stevenson had been awarded a CHS Blue in rowing. This is a very high honour indeed, as only one or two are awarded in each sport. The last High boy to be so honoured was James Holbeck (Rugby). In the same week Mark Benjamin was chosen to attend the Mathematics Summer School, and the Second XI beat Grammar outright at McKay!

Earthworks Late in the year, entirely at his own volition, recently elected Captain of the School Nicholas Armstrong completed a long-running personal task of landscaping the hill to the immediate South of the McDonald wing. The prime purpose is to provide a landing place for those brave souls who will use his main project, a climbing wall, but the work has stabilised a long-standing site of erosion.

Sons of Toil During the year the Grounds Committee, under the direction of Ms Marcia Shepherd (Head Teacher English), held a number of working bees for parents and boys on Sunday mornings, the results of which are obvious to visitors, especially at the front of the school along Cutler Drive.

Vale: Carol Hardy

Carol Hardy, a former music teacher at SBHS, passed away at the Sacred Heart Hospice in Darlinghurst on Saturday, 29th July, 2000 after a long battle with cancer. Carol and her family had a strong and close relationship with both Sydney Boys' and Girls' High Schools over many years. As a teacher here from 1991 to 1999 she made a very significant contribution to the Music Department and to the extra-curricular life of the school in a variety of ways.

Carol's funeral service was held at the historic St James' Anglican Church, King Street Sydney, on Thursday, 3rd August, 2000. St. James' Church has strong links with Sydney Boys' and Girls' High Schools and with Carol's family.

The funeral service was a deeply moving and an appropriate celebration of Carol's life. The large congregation heard about Carol and her life in eulogies presented by six different people. A large contingent of past and current students, teachers and parents, represented the school. Sydney Girls' High was also represented. The School Choir led the congregation in singing the School Song, and the Hymns, and then sang The Lord's Prayer from the African Sanctus. High students acted as acolytes carrying candles and the School Banner in procession.

Former music students of Carol assisted the choir and with the musical accompaniment. At the conclusion of the service some seventy students from Sydney Boys' and Sydney Girls' High Schools formed an impressive guard of honour at the entrance to the church, through which Carol's coffin was carried and placed in the hearse. By this time a large crowd of people in King and Phillip Streets witnessed a "sea of chocolate and blue attired students" and hundreds of other mourners paying their last respects to a courageous fighter.

May Carol rest in peace!

Phillip Day.

Barris Cottage Opening

A large gathering of rowing supporters witnessed the opening of the Barris Cottage at Abbotsford at the end of July. This substantial project was completed on time due to the great work of David Daish, and the organisational and financial support of David Wills and his fund raising team, along with Terry Meakin, the Administration Officer. More than a hundred people enjoyed the dedication speech by Lee Ruth, chairman of the Sydney High Foundation and the heartfelt response by Con Barris, our long-serving MIC rowing. The atmosphere at the morning tea after the ceremony was most convivial and optimistic, with many conversations about the bright future of the school in progress. The cottage will allow the Sydney High Foundation to operate the shed in a more corporate fashion with a live-in caretaker. Abbotsford is an asset that needs to be working and yielding a return. Students using the premises for various reasons will have the benefit of the caretaking services which will now be possible.

By the beginning of the rowing season the Abbotsford facility will be impressively equipped to deliver better services to rowers, due to the construction of the new pontoon, made possible by the generosity of the Gerofi family and the High Club. Access to the water will be swifter and more efficient, allowing more time for rowing. Again, a project for the betterment of the school was accomplished by a partnership of staff, parents, the Rowing Committee, students and Old Boys, supported by the Sydney High Foundation and the High Club. I look forward to the next school and community project to be launched using this same winning combination of talents and energy.

Australian Mathematics Competition

The Australian Mathematics Competition held early in Term 3 attracted 853 entrants from this school. There were 403 000 students from 2550 schools participating world wide.

Prizes are awarded in each year group based on the top 0.3% of the candidates. The thirty-five Sydney Boys High prizewinners are as follows:

Year 12: Vincent Chan, Faro Mok, Ren Bin Lin, Lin Li, Sidney Ho.

Year 11: Mark Benjamin, Rickie Fong, Revsion Tam.

Year 10: John Bui, Shihab Hamid, Stephen Lam.

Year 9: Charles Qin, John Huang, Peter Conomos, George Zhong, Raymond Cheung, David Li.

Year 8: Liang Cheah, Tim Wu, Yinan Zhang.

Year 7: Brian Leung, Alan Dam, Chen Yang, Edward Wang, Jeremy Huang, Ronald Yu, Hung Neo, William Zhang, Nick Bull, Saissan Rajendran, Joe Xie, Hae-Sang Chung, David Dou, Anik Sarkar, James Young.

Two of these boys, Brian Leung and Charles Qin, were awarded medals, an outstanding achievement.

In addition the following certificates were awarded: 134 High Distinction, 405 Distinction, 225 Credit, 54 Participation.

National Science Competition

This year's National Science Competition results are very pleasing indeed. Our boys have done outstandingly well with 759 students achieving a credit or better from 911 participants.

The breakdown is as follows:

58 High Distinctions
373 Distinctions
328 Credits
150 Participation Certificates.

M.Kay, Science Head Teacher.

UNSW Mathematics Competition

The following results were achieved this year in the Annual University of New South Wales Mathematics Competition, one of the aims of which is to select candidates for the Mathematics Olympiad.

Senior Division

Vincent Chan	Prize
Daniel Gilbourn	Prize
Ren Bin Lin	Certificate

Junior Division

Charles Qin	Prize
Chenthuran Suthersan	Prize
Shihab Hamid	Certificate
Austin Hong	Certificate
George Zhong	Certificate

The prizes and certificates were presented at a ceremony in the Sir John Clancy Auditorium, the University of New South Wales, on Thursday 31st August.

Australian Mathematics Olympiad Competition

This competition is held annually amongst students chosen by invitation, to determine the team to represent Australia in an International Mathematics Olympiad.

Two boys, Charles Qin (Year 9) and Revsion Tam (Year 11), entered the Senior Division (89 participants from 59 schools), and Charles was awarded a Credit.

In the Intermediate Division, twenty boys from Years 9 and 10 entered (834 participants from 180 schools). High Distinctions were awarded to Shihab Hamid and Cheng Fu of Year 10, and to George Zhong of Year 9. Distinctions were awarded to nine boys, and Credits to four. It is expected that several of these boys will be invited to go on to the next stage of selection.

The Olympic Volunteers

It was the middle of the year and the cynicism towards the Olympics was slowly, but surely, converting itself into a new, previously unseen, branch of jingoism. The call came to school to sign up as volunteers for the games and I, along with several of my friends, decided to grasp this opportunity with both hands and signed up without reading the small print.

There was one reason the government gave for people signing up: it was to join what was widely regarded as the biggest peacetime effort our nation had ever encountered. This was not the reason all members of Sydney Boys' High signed the documents. The real reason for some was to get free tickets to any Olympic event we could with as little work involved as possible.

After signing up, we were subjected to rigorous training sessions where we learnt such vital procedures as how to wear our uniform without looking like we were new recruits to Clown College (many volunteers failed this lesson miserably) and how to remember neologisms that would get us out of any difficult situations that may arise with spectators. After such extensive training we were all confident that what work lay ahead would be easy and volunteers such as ourselves would have no problem tackling it.

What arrived on the 15th September, to our astonishment, was a two and a half week journey of self-discovery that would change our lives forever. I, of course, cannot speak for those members of the school that volunteered at other venues but for my fellow workers and I at the Ryde Aquatic Leisure Centre, the Olympic games opened many doors to a world we'd never before seen. It showed us that all humans are not equal for the duration of the Olympic games. For example, the exiled King of Greece receives treatment equal to that of a god though a little boy who just wants an athlete to autograph the plaster cast on his broken arm does not get the light of day. Not only that, but most of the volunteers didn't even believe there was anything wrong with this dogma!

Rest assured, however, that the Sydney Boys' High humanitarian instincts we all possess came into practice as we, despite orders to the contrary, tried to sneak as many children with broken arms as we could into the "ATHLETES ONLY" sections that we ourselves were not permitted to enter. Meanwhile, on the other side of the venue, a young woman stood lost and frustrated because she could not find her brother anywhere. Once again our instinct kicked in and we abandoned checking people's tickets at every door so that we could reunite this woman with her long lost brother.

It was little acts like these that separated SBHS volunteers from the rest and the Ryde Aquatic Leisure Centre was known to all the regulars to be Sydney High's venue. Our fair school's name still rang in the ears of many a drunken Dutchman as the events drew to a close and the sun set on the greatest volunteer movement of all time. On the final day, when all had left, a few lonely volunteers stayed behind and tried desperately to come to terms with what had just occurred and what may happen in the future.

And as if that wasn't enough, they gave us a parade, another T-shirt and all we could eat and drink!

Adrian Pokorny.

Earthwatch Expedition

In October of last year Sydney Boys High was approached by the Earthwatch Institute in Melbourne. The idea was to send a team of nine senior High School students from all around Australia, into the rainforest highlands of New South Wales, surveying and collating data about frogs. Three students from the school applied, Tom Caley, Larry McGrath, and Miles Portek of year 11, and all three of us were selected. The project, known as "Australia's Vanishing Frogs" was run by Dr Michael Mahony, a professor at the University of Newcastle, along with two of his assistants. On 16th December 2000 we rendezvoused at Central Station, where we were met by an assistant, along with the other six students: one other from Sydney, one from Perth and four from Melbourne. We met up with the other scientists in Morrisset and then moved to our first campsite in the Watagan Mountains. A typical day on the trip would involve waking up at around 11 am, and getting into one of the 4WDs to find a suitable creek. We would then mark out transects on that creek with reflective tape at specific intervals. All of this was preparation for the coming night's work, as frogs are best found just as the sun sets. In the evening, we would all help cooking the meals, and then drive back through the bush (fully equipped this time with head-lamps, spotlights and measuring equipment) to the creek we had marked out in the day.

Some of the creeks we arrived at were completely silent, with no noise of frogs evident, however this was either because the frogs were female (only male frogs croak) or they had experienced localised extinction. To identify the frogs, we had to learn what they looked like, what noise they made when 'calling' and of course, their Latin names. We also learnt how to replicate the sounds of the frogs so we could communicate with them and find where they were hiding.

The purpose of the trip was to help find an answer to why nine endemic species of frogs have disappeared in Australia over the last thirty years. The main suspect is a type of fungus, known as the Chytrid Fungus, which is lethal to many amphibians. The cause of this fungus is still not yet known.

Throughout the trip, we found over twenty species of frogs and toadlets, including some from the tree-frog (Litoria) genus, and also many rare species from the burrowing frog (Mixophyes) genus. On one evening we found many Great Barred Frogs, which are an endangered species.

This trip has helped to further our studies tremendously, within biology and also geography. The opportunity to help in a scientific study, involving teamwork, has given us an insight into the 'goings-on' of the scientific world.

Tom Caley, Larry McGrath, Miles Portek.

The Bell of H.M.A.S. Encounter

This bell, now in the possession of the Sydney High School, is once again fulfilling the purpose for which it was cast. Recovered from Garden Island where it was resting consequent on the burial at sea of the dismantled warship, it again rings out the passing hours, and notes the changing duties for those who "listen-in." The history of the bell, supplied by the Commonwealth Department of Defence, accompanied its acquisition, and, suitably framed, gives opportunity to all who hear its characteristic ship's peal to recall some fact connected with the service to the nation rendered by the Encounter. This may well provide now and again a stimulus to some pupils to face up to their tasks with greater courage and thoroughness.

The story of its acquisition has a prologue, interesting on account of its connection with the more famous Australian warship, the Sydney. For some time, authority at the school was exercised in mind owing to the inadequacy of service of the existing school electric bell. During this period, the Sydney was put out of commission, and later laid up for dismantling. Application was at once made for the gift – and later the purchase – of the bell for the Sydney High School. Much correspondence ensued over a lengthy period, with varying prospects of success. Finally, word was received that the bell had been retained by the Commonwealth as a war memorial.

However, this had the effect of directing attention to the Navy as a possible source of supply for the School need of a suitable bell, and when the Encounter was stripped and the hull sunk outside Sydney Heads, a friend at Garden Island passed the word that the bell had arrived at the depot, and that haste was desirable owing to the fact that negotiations – by the ship's officers, rumoured – were already in progress. Prompt application, with a reminder of previous overtures for the bell of the Sydney brought equally prompt reply that the bell was available on the usual terms that were quoted. The terms being accepted, and the history of the bell neatly transcribed and framed, both bell and history have come into the possession of the School, and, as previously recorded, the characteristic ting-a-ling-a-ling will mark the passing of time and changing tasks for future generations of Sydney High School boys. The purpose in making this gift is to foster and encourage a spirit of endeavour and loyalty.

*Taken from The Record of June 1934.

History of H.M.A.S. Encounter

Light, unarmoured, "Challenger Class," of 5,880 tons displacement. Eleven 6-inch guns, eight 12-pounders, two 18-inch submerged torpedo tubes. Speed: 21 knots.

The vessel was laid down at Development Dockyard, 1902; launched, 1902; completed and commissioned, 1905. Complement: 450 officers and men. Length: 376 feet. Beam: 56 feet. Draught: 20 feet 8 inches (maximum).

Formed part of the Royal Navy squadron; maintained by the Admiralty under subsidy of the Australian Government.

Lent to the Australian Government on the foundation of the Royal Australian Navy in 1912, pending the completion of the initial program for the Australian squadron, and served as Training Cruiser. Served on the Australian Station throughout the Great War (1914-1918), being present at Rabaul after the capture of German New Guinea, and at the capture of German Samoa.

In the course of searches for enemy raiders operating in the Pacific, the Encounter proceeded off the Station as far as Fanning Island, Suva, and Tahiti, and carried out escort duty (conveying military transports) as far as Colombo. At one period of the war the Encounter was the only British man-of-war in the vicinity of Australia.

After the cessation of hostilities, the Encounter was presented to the R.A.N., and was employed as a sea-going Training Cruiser. It was paid off on the 30th June 1920, and subsequently utilised as a depot ship at Sydney, being moored alongside Garden Island.

On the 14th September, 1932, after all serviceable fixtures, fittings, etc., had been removed, the shell of the Encounter was sunk outside Sydney Heads in 39 fathoms of water – approximately: Latitude: 33 degrees, 54 minutes, 30 seconds South

Longitude: 151 degrees, 21 minutes East.

Chess

Senior Grade Chess

With Ricky Lopis (class of 99) and Gareth Charles retiring from school chess, we were now the strongest chess team in the school. Initially, there was a problem in getting a team together, due to the idea that chess is for nerds. Chess is not a game for nerds, but is a demanding sport of the mind!

We were able to form a team consisting of Steven Chang, Heng Giap Woon, Daniel Teoh, Mark Leung, and myself. There were two other senior grade teams. One team didn't put in the required commitment to play many of their games. Senior Three team, however put in a strong performance.

We lost the first two matches 1-3, with Steven Chang and myself only winning against Trinity and Maroubra High respectively. Our losses only made us more determined. Our team went on to win every game 4-0 against Scots, St Spyridon's, Maroubra, and Randwick Boys'. However our strong performance couldn't give us first position – Trinity scraped across the line. We came in at a close second.

Next year we will be back. We will have more experience behind us. This time we will take first position. Good luck to all chess teams next year.

Tony Vuong, Captain.

Debating

First Grade Debating

The Year 12 team began this season after the success of last year in winning the CHS Karl Kramp Trophy. The season started early, with the traditional trial debates against Sydney Girls', and Trinity College, as well as future GPS opponents St. Joseph's College and Sydney Grammar. Furthermore, the CHS Hume Barbour competition also began in term one, so this year's debating season effectively stretched across the whole year. There were twenty-one debates in all, the measure of our success I believe, may be summed up by the fact that we won all twenty-one of them.

It was not an effortless whitewash though, many debates being painfully close and decided only by split decisions. Both the CHS and GPS competitions were strong and being Sydney High, we knew that we would be targeted especially. A quote comes to mind: "the public schools hate us because we're too rich, the private schools hate us because we're too poor." This year saw the introduction of a three-member adjudication panel for each debate in the GPS, a change we saw as a major boost to our chances, since previous years had seen ambiguous decisions bring down the better teams. It was also the first season with old-boy David Smith (1st grade 1997-1998) as coach of first and second grade, after the departure of Joe Suttie who had helped us so much in the previous year during the hard times. David brought a new energy to the team, and his vast connections with the debating network ensured that we were never short on information about our opponents.

The 1st Grade team for the GPS competition was Robbie Moore (1st speaker), Hilbert Chiu (2nd speaker) and Oscar McLaren (3rd speaker) when we were on the negative which was most of the time. On the five debates we were on the affirmative, Robbie and myself swapped speaking places. Mike Martin came in as team adviser for the CHS Hume Barbour debates.

I believe the strengths of the team were shown early in the season, when although we overcame opposition quite easily, Oscar in particular was never satisfied with our performance, continually driving us with the words: 'Got work to do, boys.' Instead we developed into a well-rounded team, Robbie's charming manner and witty performances often taking the initiative early, while Oscar's ruthless attacks tore many sides apart. The aggression under Mr. Davies's direction was well served when we realised how many times we were on the negative side (Oscar's coin tossing skills unfortunately not quite as impressive). After last year when we were affirmative almost all the time, it was clear that there was much to learn.

The first real hurdle was of course our old adversary, Sydney Girls' High School, at our old meeting place, the regional final. This debate was held at the state parliament house in front of a hostile audience. It was also our first impressive display of the 'reactive negative', a tactic most favoured by Sydney Girls' and turned delightfully (for us) against them. They didn't recover. This win made us Metropolitan South-east winners and brought us against some of the best debating public high schools in the state. We were humbled by narrow victories in both the Quarter- and Semi-finals, probably caused by complacency and we finally reached the State Final rejuvenated and a better team.

North Sydney Girls' High! The team we beat last year to win the Karl Kramp, and the team we had to beat to win the prestigious Hume Barbour Trophy. Their desire for revenge was clear – we had other ideas. The preparation for this debate saw one of the major attributes of this team, the ability to relax under pressure. While North Sydney Girls' were busy over-preparing and trying to talk about too much (a dangerous tactic against a thinking negative), we concentrated on the real issues at hand. The crowd at the Old Teachers' College in Sydney University was impressed, and it was under these circumstances that the Hume Barbour Trophy was taken home to the foyer of Sydney Boys' High, where it belongs.

With half our job completed, we then turned our attention to the GPS competition. The last time Sydney Boys' won this was in 1992, and the last time 1st Grade beat St Ignatius College was also in 1992. By fate we were up against them in the first round, the symbolism of a win here could not be understated.

As such we worked hard all through the holidays, digging up every last vestige of information on the topic area: Refugees. The final coaching session on Friday afternoon was the most tense I could remember, going through every possible strategy and making a rundown on the traditional St Ignatius 'dirty tricks'. This proved to be invaluable, when in front of loyal supporters in the library, we turned St Ignatius's tricks against them and announced our arrival in the GPS forefront for the year 2000. One down, six to go.

The Scots College were the favourites for this year's GPS premiership, not surprisingly since the captain of the State team was in their ranks. This debate was probably the closest in memory, over a sensitive issue in: 'That it is too late to say sorry'. I can't say it was easy arguing the Prime Minister's side of the topic (the affirmative), but in the end Mr. Howard's arguments took us across the line. The feeling of excruciating relief after the decision was announced is one of the most memorable feelings of a most memorable season. Scots were devastated, they were a good side and we had grown to like them. Two down, five to go.

All week we were reminded not to be complacent; all week we were told that the adjudicators were now aware of our weaknesses and would seek to make us pay for daring to beat their favourite teams. We were determined to thrash St Joseph's College if only to prove a point, and thrash them we did. It was relentless and it was without remorse. Suffice to say there were some teams in the competition we liked more than others – Joeys were closer to the latter group. Three down, four to go.

The next two debates were probably the most difficult mentally, since they were in the middle of our trial HSC examination period. The balance between study and debating study was every bit as straining as the balance between exam concentration followed by debate concentration. Somehow we managed to pull through the Sydney Grammar School debate, with barely the strength to stand afterwards. Thankfully the IVF related topic was on everyone's lips all week so not too much rigorous thinking was required. Four down, three to go.

The journey west to The King's School was memorable for one huge reason: it was the first time we saw the politics of debating at work. Being now favoured to win the premiership, it was clear that everyone wanted a piece of Sydney High, and some adjudicators prided themselves on picking out our faults. As David later said: 'If you only look for reasons why a team should lose, then it's pretty damn hard for that team to win'. Thank God for the panel system. We departed from Parramatta all the wiser. Five down, two to go.

First Grade Debating
GPS and CHS Champions

Mr G.Davies (Debating Master), H.Chiu, O.McLaren, R.Moore, M.Martin.

By now the publicity of our success was becoming widespread at school, and with the trials now finished, many of our friends pledged their support on the night of the Shore debate. They turned out in droves and completely outnumbered the Shore supporters on their own home ground. We did not dare to disappoint them, putting up perhaps the second most entertaining debate after the Joey's thrashing, to score what we thought was a clear win. It wasn't to be, one adjudicator giving the debate to Shore – for interesting reasons. The other two thought we won by huge margins. We didn't care, after an eight-year drought, Sydney High were GPS premiers again. Mr. Davies was clearly delighted, the celebrations and much handshaking dragged on late into the night. We arrived in North Sydney under pressure; we departed having made history. Six down, one to go.

It was difficult to keep focused on this final debate against Newington College. Scots could still tie the premiership with us if we were to lose, and that would undermine all our efforts in the previous twenty debates. We were determined to hold out for one more. The prep room was tense, it was perhaps the worst prep all year, and Newington were tough competition and certainly did not deserve to be winless. We scraped towards a win before Oscar gave the best speech I had ever heard him give. A captain's knock to win the day, and the GPS premiership outright. It was fitting that the man who held the team together during the tough times and who led us with all his experience should star in our final debate together. Seven down, GPS Champions.

The year 12 team 2000 was a product of the accumulative efforts of a dedicated team. This team included not only we debaters, who probably did the least, but our debating MIC Mr Davies, whose guidance since year seven crafted the CHS and GPS undefeated premiers of 2000 from a bunch of high-voiced kids who liked to talk. In between there was Mr. Whitfield, whose calm influence taught us that matter was just as important as manner; Peter Nicholas and Gareth Tilley, the men who instilled the debating sixth sense into us. They taught us to think like debaters. Joe Suttie, who showed us how important it was to know more, to be smarter than our opposition; and finally David Smith, who developed all these attributes and taught us how to win. We are happy to say that we leave Sydney High with these people at the helm, and we hope we have begun a dynasty of Sydney High success in debating.

Year 11 Debating

GPS 2nd Grade Team: Adrian Kuti, Ashley Townshend, Andrew Sudol

GPS 3rd Grade Team: Yannick Barbeau-Cooper, Adam Epstein, Henry Chapple-Cox

Carl Kramp Team: Adrian Kuti, Ashley Townshend, Andrew Sudol, Henry Chapple-Cox

Commonwealth Bank Senior Team: Adrian Kuti, Ashley Townshend, Andrew Sudol, Henry Chapple-Cox

The season started out well with a trip out to Trinity for the two GPS teams, and despite some navigational problems both 2nd and 3rd grades won. Despite this however both were close and the word from 2nd grade was “one of the two team has definitely missed the point, I hope it wasn’t us”. This debate set us up for a cracking pre-season with both teams winning their debates against Joeys and under strength Sydney Girls teams. Grammar resulted however in the first loss of the season as 3rds went down in a closely fought debate. However the battle was back on for young and old the very next week when we were up against full strength Sydney Girls outfits determined to prove who was the stronger sex. What ensued however was sportsmanship in its finest form (or utter stupidity – call it what you will), for when it was discovered that the SGHS 2nd grade had only two speakers, and would thus be at a considerable disadvantage our 2nd grade side evened the score by spending 45 minutes of our 1 hour preparation period cracking jokes and eating Tim Tams. Second term finished with the first of our Carl Kramp debates, which proved to be an unconvincing rambling win over Randwick Boys. The Commonwealth Bank Senior Team also won its zone and then overcame a strong Gynea outfit, only to be issued a challenge of a possible rematch in the Carl Kramp competition later in the season.

Third term began with a positive outlook and wins over the Conservatorium of Music and then Dover Heights to wrap up the zone in Carl Kramp. The real test though was to come that Friday night, with the toughest debate all season – the first GPS debate, against the dreaded St Ignatius. Pressure got to 2nd grade on the topic “That we should have let the Kosovars stay”; we forgot our facts and simply crumbled at the hand of a team we believed to be the strongest we faced all season. Thirds however won in style, breezing past their opponents and setting a high standard for themselves for the rest of the season. Next week bad results continued in the GPS competition with both teams going down to Scots in tight results. These poor recent results meant that the third GPS round was where we had to stand up and be counted. Both teams went out hard and 2nds came away with their first GPS victory, 3rds were crying foul play though, after their loss, wanting to know from their adjudicator why St Josephs had been allowed to define “thieves” in “That the place for thieves is in Jail” as murderers and drug dealers only, leaving little room for any compassionate arguments.

Third Grade Debating

After the Joeys debate, attention returned to the Carl Kramp (CHS) competition – our first inter-zone debate was against Canterbury Girls. In the debate itself we won fairly comfortably despite being outclassed in knowledge on Chopper Reid. But the car trips were where the action was really heating up. On the way to the school Ms Wood (our supervising teaching for the tournament) showed her brilliance in navigation, ignoring the street map in favour of her own intuition. We went way past the turn off. Lucky then that after all this off-court disputation that our next CHS debate was a quiet (and home) win over Penshurst Girls, as was our next win in the Commonwealth Bank Senior competition.

Back to GPS competition and the fourth round, this time vs Grammar. Strange debates ensued and despite wins for both teams one couldn’t help but feel a little confused after what happened in the 2rid grade debate. Not only was the result given on a split decision (two of the adjudicators siding with us, one believing Grammar to have won) but one had to believe that the art of debating had changed when the opposition (who were negative) proclaimed with their first two words “We agree,...”. The fifth GPS round also ended up with two wins, but one would always prefer the way 3rd grade ensured their victory, by forfeit. This left just 2nd grade with the traditionally painful trip out to Kings.

Back to Carl Kramp and this time to the regional final, and the promised rematch with Gymea. Far from being a fair debate this became the grudge match of the season after our team took a personal dislike to the opposition’s second speaker. Fortunately we again had the last laugh and knocked Gymea out of a second competition. In Commonwealth Bank Senior luck was also on our side as although we faced a team from Wollongong. We drew them at home and with the support of our own classmates were able to move through to the next round.

Then came a horror two days which blew Year 11 debating 2000 apart – two state semi-finals and then round six of the GPS competition. On the Thursday we lost to James Ruse in Carl Kramp – a fair result as we were unable to convince the adjudicators that without the dole both the unemployed and the country would be better off. The debate that really sapped spirits though was on Friday afternoon in the semi-final of the Commonwealth Bank Senior competition. In a special debating seminar the audience was treated to a close debate and a little inventive adjudication. Knocked out of two competitions in two days we headed for Shore that evening low on confidence and inspiration. In preparation 2nds threw away a perfectly good set up after twenty minutes and presented a completely unviable definition. Seconds had lost after the first affirmative speaker. Two of the adjudicators couldn't accept the set up, which was fair enough. Third grade also lost, claiming they got rolled. All up a bad few days for us all.

The very last debate of the season was the seventh round of the GPS season. We faced a red hot Newington who were out chasing a Second grade GPS premiership and a leading place in 3rd grade. The teams were driven by a dislike of this particular set of opponents, and a desire not to let them win the comp. Third grade also had the added experience of Mike Martin, a seasoned campaigner whom you would expect to add some backbone to the team. However some of his Year 12 debating associates felt that third grade got a raw deal. Anyway, despite Mike's appearance, third grade lost their final debate. In second grade it was a different story though as we grasped the debate right from the word go, and left Newington and their following to go home empty handed. The second grade premiership we believe went to Grammar.

Overall the season was quite successful – in both Carl Kramp and Commonwealth Bank Senior we made it to the state semi-finals; in GPS second grade we had a 4-3 record and beat both Newington, and Grammar, the team we believe won the competition. In third grade it was 3-4 with every debate being close. Yet in some debates it just seemed all teams lacked the killer instinct really needed to win tournaments. An instinct I am sure will not be lacking next year, because the signs are there for a great season.

Andrew Sudol, Third Speaker.

Year Nine Debating

The debating season for 2000 started well. We had excellent preparation during the pre-season against high-profile debating schools such as Sydney Girls' High and Sydney Grammar. We debated well and won most of our pre-season debates, whilst gaining valuable experience.

When the GPS debating season arrived, we again debated to the best of our abilities. We had a fairly successful season overall. Although we had the potential and confidence to win all our competition debates in this year's season, considering our success of last year, things did not actually turn out as we had hoped. We lost a few debates in both the As and the Bs, but as always we learnt from our mistakes and improved our debating skills even further. That is to say that this was more of a learning season than a winning one. Perhaps the most outstanding part of the season was that we had won against the more potentially together teams, including Shore and St Ignatius. These victories included glimpses of form from our "headkicker" Angus Ng.

Although having a 3-4 season the As enjoyed the fact that in their losses they had always forced a hard decision, most particularly against Grammar, our nemesis.

In retrospect the Bs, filled with young apprentices, with the exception of David Li and Tom Petty, became mindful debaters, adopting a better style and better approach. Stand-out performers included David Li against Shore, who turned the tables and formulated a most powerful counter-attack, which turned into a victory. So the future of High debating is secure in the hands of this Year 9 team, who look forward to a very successful season when we come back and debate next year.

Angus Ng and David Li.

Year 8 Debating

Year 8 debating has had a very successful season and everyone should be applauded for their efforts!

This year, Year 8 debaters participated in two competitions, the GPS competition and the Year 7-8 State Debating Competition.

In the GPS competition, we started off the season with social debates against schools such as Sydney Girls, Trinity and Waverley College. When the actual competition started, we were fully prepared and this showed through out all our debates, with more victories than losses. Overall,

Year 7A Debating

Our team walked away from our first debating season with many newly acquired skills: how to argue against one's own beliefs (and win); how to prepare as a team; even how to change the team's case-line after discovering it is circular (i.e. it just restated the topic) five minutes before a debate against Grammar – and be the victors six speeches later. It was these skills that led us to be the second-most-successful team of the season, with six wins out of seven games, but these skills would be worthless without a good team to back them up.

Fortunately, we did have a team of proud debaters (sometimes too proud) for the whole season. Most of the time it was myself as the first speaker, Yaegan Doran as second, and Tom Kaldor as third, but in the earlier debates some members were replaced by the highly reliable Mitchell Seow or the just-as-reliable Dawei Qi.

Gareth Tilley, a Sydney High Old Boy and more relevantly our coach, was an enormous factor in not only our official success, but also in our improvement as debaters. Had he not been our coach, many debates would have been lost to the opposition, and we wouldn't be much better now compared to what we were in the preseason debates. And we weren't very good then – in one debate against Sydney Girls', "That our society puts too much emphasis on sport", Tom and I (not so much Tom as myself) considered defining sport according to one of the more obscure definitions in the dictionary – i.e. an animal or plant that is strikingly different from its parent(s). Thankfully we didn't, but it could have been a much more interesting debate.

Many rituals were developed in the third term – the most important was walking from school to Taylor Square every Friday so the whole team could have a solid two hours or so to prepare before the debate at Tom's mother's workplace. Had this not happened, many cases would have fallen apart at the seams, so thanks go out to them.

But how did we lose that one debate? Many rumours may flare up, so I'll set the record straight: an eyeball stole our speeches, leaving us with only half an hour to re-write them. And that is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Except for maybe the bit about the thieving eyeball ...

First Eleven

The First Eleven Cricket Team consisted largely of a younger group of boys, who were relatively inexperienced at the beginning of the year, but who showed a lot of potential.

The team improved in each match over the course of the year. They were highly competitive against Shore and Grammar, and achieved a good win against Scots in the last game of the season. This win, the first in three seasons, gave a welcome boost to team morale, evidenced by raucous bellowing, of the school song emanating from the Fairland Pavilion at McKay. Hopefully this team spirit heralds a major turnaround in the fortunes of High Cricket, with further success in 2001.

Notable Performances

Andrew Light, Dean Comino and Christopher Rutherford all achieved 50s in the batting, Andrew gaining two. Christopher also achieved a score of 63 against Joeys.

Robbie Dooley and Dean Comino were the most successful bowlers. Dean also caught a blinding catch against Shore.

The team was grateful for the help and support of Mr Kourtesis, and they presented him with a signed copy of Mark Taylor's book, "Time to Declare" in appreciation of his efforts on their behalf.

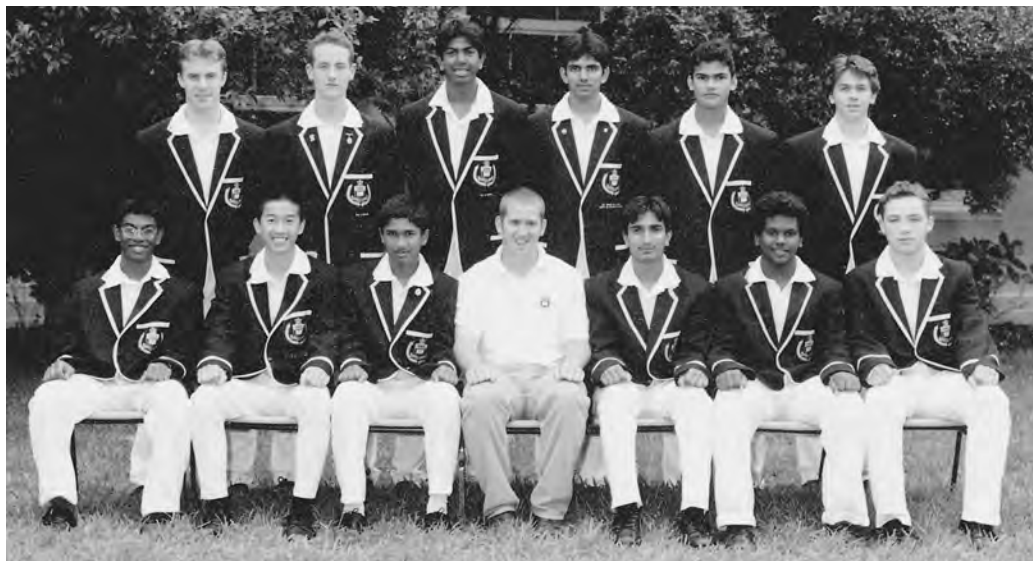

Most of the team went to Brisbane to play in the Five Highs Cricket Tournament, the highlight being the selection of Robbie Dooley in the "Five Highs Selection" of the best players in the tournament.

Thanks also to the loyal band of parents who showed their support in many ways, especially those who provided us with so many delicious lunches.

As a gesture of appreciation to the school the Rutherford Family have donated "The Captain's Shield" to the school to record the names of all First Eleven Captains.

Good luck to all those boys currently playing cricket for High, and may your sportsmanship do you credit and achieve for you success in the coming years.

Christopher Rutherford, Captain.

vs Newington (Stanmore)

Newington 7(dec)/225 (Patel 3/53 [16], Chowdhury 2/61 [19])

High 60 (Georgeson 29, Ross 16)

1st Innings Loss by 165 runs

First up we had Newington to play away at Stanmore. It was always going to be a difficult task after several late withdrawals from the team to prove ourselves a force. The weather was terrible both weeks and we ended up with a first innings loss after winning the toss and electing to bowl in a soaked outfield and cloudy weather. After a decent economical start things fell away for us with Rahul Mukherjee succumbing to a back problem just 6 overs into the match. As time wore on we were exposed due to the soggy ball and being a bowler short. Despite the heavy loss there were some positives to come out of the match with regard to individual performances. Nitesh Patel showed great ability with the ball to pick up 3/53 (16), all 3 of his wickets coming in his second spell where the ball was as slippery as a bar of soap. Costa Georgeson (29) and Andrew Ross (16) showed great heart in constructing a 43 run partnership in the middle order. In the end the terrible weather saved us from an outright loss as play was called off after lunch on the second day due to pouring rain.

vs St Ignatious (McKay)

High 27 (Boyd 8, Panda 5)

& 60 (Patel 12, Lim 11)

Iggies 8 (dec.)/75 (Chowdhury 4/24 [10],

Georgeson 2/16 [6.2])

& 2/18 (Patel 1/6 [2], Georgeson 1/10 [2])

Outright Loss by 8 wickets

This game was a very low scoring affair due to the terrible pitch, slow outfield and predominantly overcast conditions throughout the match. We were on the back foot in the match before the toss, with Andrew Ross tragically dislocating his shoulder during pre-match training. Many thanks to Daniel Willis who very kindly showed up as a replacement when called. We lost the toss and were sent in. Despite the conditions there was no excuse for the failure of our batting, especially in the first innings. Our wickets just kept falling and there was no chance to build a partnership. Koushik Panda was the only one to put up a fight – he was in for 45 minutes before being dismissed. Our bowling was of a high standard during the match, with two 20 run partnerships proving the difference between the two teams. All the bowlers did their jobs in this game, with everyone picking up at least a wicket. The strength of our bowling forced a declaration from the opposition late in the first day. Our second innings was of a much higher standard than the first innings with four of the top five batsman occupying the crease for over 35 minutes. A sudden loss of 5/4 in the middle order dashed any hopes of us setting a competitive total and with the help of Patel we just scraped through to avoid an innings loss. In their second innings Iggies were left to chase the mammoth total of 18 and they were reeling at 2/5 at one stage. Unfortunately a stunning 13 run partnership bailed them out from this mess and consequently we suffered a loss. This match was one that got away but the main positive to emerge from the match was the high standard of bowling mainly by myself (4/24) and Georgeson (match figs 3/26).

vs SCEGS (McKay)

High 101 (Jegatheeswaran 25, Boyd 24)

& 87 (Lim 19, Jegatheeswaran 18)

Shore 5(dec.)/183 (Jegatheeswaran 2/38 [9], Chowdhury 1/30 [9])

& 1/9

Outright Loss by 9 wickets

Shore was placed second on the table when they came to McKay to take us on. Despite the daunting task of facing them our batsmen responded adequately, occupying two sessions worth of time at the crease. High won the toss and we batted. We reached three figures for the first time in the season and there was potential for the total to be much more. The fall of wickets was again relatively steady and batsmen got dismissed when they were set. Six partnerships between 13 and 25 during the course of the innings show the missed opportunities. Murrall Jegatheeswaran and David Boyd lead our charge, each scoring over 20. Koushik was again very good up the top of the order – he was dismissed off a full toss after doing all the hard work during the initial stages of the innings. Our bowling effort was very disappointing and as a result we failed to bowl the opposition out. An exception was Murrall who bowled consistently and picked up two wickets. Our second innings was nothing spectacular, despite the fact that we managed to make Shore bat again. The positives to come from this match were the fact that many different people had reasonable stays at the crease and we showed an improvement in our batting. The most disappointing aspect was our bowling, the inconsistency of which was what killed us in this game.

vs St Josephs (McKay)High 114 (Lim 34, Nelson 18)& 57 (Lim 24, Manetti 16)Joeys 257 (Chulaturanga 3/50 [11], Panda 2/48 [11])Outright Loss by an innings and 86 runs*

As I was absent from this game after surgery information is limited. Joeys were at the top of the table by a long way by this stage and they were the team everyone feared. Conditions were perfect for cricket and the sun was shining brightly. We were sent in by Joeys, and we were on a roll at the tea break at 4/101. Our top order had performed adequately and our middle order was looking outstanding, with Nathan Lim (34) leading the way. He received good support from Michael Nelson (18) and David Boyd (16). After the tea break disaster struck however, with us losing quick wickets we slumped to be all out for 114. Our bowling showed potential at times, but never got on a roll. Rahul Mukherjee (1/25 [12]) was looking very menacing in his return from injury and was unfortunate not to pick up many more wickets. Chamilla Chul-atunga (3/50) made the most of his call up to 2nds, taking 3 middle order wickets to pick up the best bowling figures of the innings. The second innings was disappointing. The only bright spot was Nathan Lim (24) and Simon Manetti (16) putting together a partnership of 30. The positives to emerge from this match were the batting of Nathan Lim.

vs Kings (White Oval)High 118 (Panda 21, Sriravindrarajah 17)& 6/66 (Panda 23, Sriravindrarajah 9)Kings 7 (dec.)/204 (Mukherjee 4/39 [17], Chowdhury 2/73 [16])1st innings Loss by 3 wickets*

We went into this game with very high expectations, as the loser of this encounter was most likely going to take out the wooden spoon of the competition. Our batting never managed to gain any momentum during the match, with Kings always striking at key times and we also threw away wickets with three run outs and one stumping in the 1st innings. Koushik Panda (21), Muhilan Sriravindrarajah (17) and Nathan Lim (15) all played well but considering the lack of variety of the opposition bowlers and the conditions we needed at least one of them to go on and score close to 50. This did not happen and we were bowled out for 118. By the end of the first day the game was wide open with Rahul Mukherjee (4/39) bowling brilliantly to pick up two wickets just before stumps. On the second day we went in a man down but this did not hamper us due to help from Andrew Walters from the under 15s who fielded very enthusiastically for us. Our destiny was in our own hands for the game, and we let it slip unfortunately. Their number four batsman was the one who took it away from us – he was dropped three times and went on to make an unbeaten 59 and lead Kings past our total. Special mention must go to Rahul Mukherjee however, as he bowled extremely well during the course of the innings and was unfortunate not to pick up the team's first 5 wicket haul for the season. Muhilan also fielded brilliantly, taking the catch of the season at short mid wicket. Kings passed our total with just 3 wickets in hand but after that our bowling fell apart. They had a stunning unbeaten partnership of 90 for the 8th wicket and all of a sudden we were facing an outright loss. Our batting held on though, despite the fact we were batting with ten people. We held on thanks to a handy opening stand between Panda (23) and Udara Peiris (8) who occupied the crease for over an hour. Towards the end wickets began to tumble but we held on. The game was disappointing as we showed much potential and ability in both batting and bowling but we failed to finish Kings off in both departments.

vs Grammar (McKay)High 122 (Sriravindrarajah 28, Hardwick-Jones 18)& 84 (Sriravindrarajah 22, Patel 19)Grammar 204 (Chowdhury 5/56 [15], Patel 2/28 [8])& 1/3 (Mukherjee 1-2 [1])Outright Loss by 6 wickets*

Grammar has always been strong rivals of ours and we went in extremely determined to make an impression. We lost the toss and after being sent in we showed them we were there to play. Our top order occupied the crease and put up a good fight. At tea we were 4/106 and Grammar had their heads down. Muhilan (28) and Rhys Hardwick-Jones (18) had done very well to put together a 40 run partnership. After tea disaster struck, we lost 4/0 in the lower order and were bowled out for 122 when it looked like we were going to easily achieve a target of 150-170. Our bowling to Grammar was characterised by too many loose deliveries. They were on a roll but some quick wickets taken by myself (5/56) and Rahul (2/33) at the end halted them. Our second innings batting was unspectacular but we managed to make them bat again thanks to Muhilan (22) and Nitesh (19).

vs Scots (Bellevue Hill)

Scots 172 (Patel 4/35 [9.2], Mukherjee 3/24 [10])
High 123 (Peiris 41, Lim 23)
49 run Loss

The last game had a lot on the line. The losers would be wooden spooners so there really was a lot on the line. The first day was rained out and as a result we had a 50 over one dayer the next week. We had Scots on the ropes at 5/65 early in their innings but they came back strongly to post a total of 172 after a 75 run partnership in the middle order. Our batting was almost an exact replica of Scots' innings, except we collapsed after being 3/81 instead of mounting a partnership. Udara Peiris (41) played an extraordinary knock that deserved a 50. He was on track to be a match-winner but he did not receive any support. Unfortunately for Udara, a certain individual overshadowed him by the name of Chowdhury who decided to go out to bat without a box. There was no time to go back and get one as the team was in the middle of a collapse. Let's just say this Chowdhury fellow will never bat without a box again.

Player Profiles

David Boyd: "Boydy" was a very useful member of the team whose unorthodox batting bought us many runs. He is also a very skillful and reliable keeper. Unfortunately for him and the team his season was cut short by a broken arm suffered from a bike accident.

Chamilla Chulitunga: "A*o" has the ability to swing the ball unbelievably. He does well to produce such speed and movement considering his lack of height. He was elevated to the team after picking up a bucket load of wickets for 3rds.

Rhys Hardwick-Jones: A member of 2nd XI last year, Rhys showed great determination in everything he did. Rhys spent the early part of the season in the top order and did not have a good time of it. The second half of the season was much more successful for him as he scored some runs down the order and also filled in as wicketkeeper when David broke his arm.

Nathan Lim: "Nads" was the most consistent batsman in the team throughout the course of the season and consequently he had the best aggregate runs in the team. Despite starting the season with three consecutive ducks he came back strongly to score heavily and make the number four batting slot his own. He is also a reliable fielder with safe hands and he had a steady influence on the team with whatever he did.

Simon Manetti: Simon was a very handy utility player of the team. He had safe hands at slip and took some key catches. A member of the team last year, he had a hard time of it with the ball this season and was often left stranded with the bat due to others collapsing around him.

Rahul Mukherjee: A very determined left arm fast bowler, Rahul was unlucky to suffer a back injury after bowling just three overs in our first game which caused him to miss two games. He came back with a vengeance however, picking up 11 wickets at an average of just 11.82. Rahul had the best average in the team and was also the most economical. He is a definite player of the future and would have picked up many more wickets if our fielders had helped him.

Michael Nelson: "Gunya" was plucked out of obscurity for the Joeys game and surprised everyone with his determination and relatively consistent scoring. He grabbed his opportunity in Seconds with both hands and did not let go. He remained a fixture in the middle order in the second half of the season. Michael is also an excellent fielder – he held a scorcher at gully at Kings off the blistering pace of Rahul.

Koushik Panda: Only in year 10, Koushik is a definite player of the future. He is an excellent opening bat, a capable bowler and a very determined fielder. He did wonderful things in all three departments throughout the course of the season. Koushik has the ability to occupy the crease and is mentally one of the strongest batsman I have ever seen. The only thing that got him out was his creativity. As he gets older I'm sure he will get amongst the centuries. Although he was beaten in the aggregate runs department by Nathan, it can be safely said that Koushik easily occupied the most time at the crease.

Nitesh Patel: "Nitu" is a very determined cricketer who always contributed something to the team. He did handy things with the ball, the bat, and in the field during the season. Nitesh is always in the game, if his batting fails he makes it up to the team by solid bowling, or vice versa.

Udara Peiris: "Uderro" was a solid member of the team who provided good support to Koushik up the top order. Despite his solid build he was not in the spotlight much and was often overshadowed by Koushik. Udara finished his Sydney High cricket career with a big bang, scoring a magnificent 41 in the last game.

Muhilan Sriravindrarajah: “Mulli” proved to be a very reliable middle order batsman, and he enjoyed coming to the fore in the second half of the season showing great consistency. He was also easily the best fielder in the team. He possesses an unbelievably strong arm and has great hands. Muhilan took many catches and affected many run outs with throws from the boundary. Mulli is another who is sure to be a force in the future.

Most Wickets: Simon Chowdhury (15)

Most Runs: Nathan Lim (143)

Best Bowling: Simon Chowdhury (5/56)

Highest Score: Udara Peiris (41)

Best Bowling Average: Rahul Mukherjee (11.82)

Best Batting Average: Murali Jegatheeswaran (16.33)

Most Economical Bowling: Rahul Mukherjee (2.39 RPO)

Although our season was not the most successful, it was an improvement on the year before and I thoroughly enjoyed leading a team of such fine individuals. Many thanks go to all of the parents who helped score and prepare lunches during the season, including Mr. & Mrs. Hardwick-Jones, Mrs. Patel, and Mr. Nelson.

Many thanks also go to Mr. Anderson for coaching us so passionately. All the players are very grateful for what he does for Sydney High cricket and the future looks bright with him at the helm. To all the players of Second XI 2000, thank you for all your support and to those of you who remain with the school, good luck in gaining promotion to the First XI next season. Despite not having the strongest season it was an honour to represent such a splendid school in such a prestigious competition.

Third Eleven

The glorious Third XI, as traditionally happens in the school, had an excellent season. Just like any team we had a few losses, but we had a more than commensurate share of victories and close games which ended up as draws. Our winning streak and fine play all came together after we narrowly missed out on defeating Grammar in a draw after we ran out of time. In the subsequent game against Scots, we were unbeatable and we hammered them in a game where they never really looked as though they could turn the tables.

Each individual in the team played a decisive role, and together we formed a formidable unit. I would like to draw attention to their achievements and abilities by writing a brief note on each of them, highlighting their strong points which gave us many thrilling games.

Gulfam Ahmed: “Gulfam’s captaincy held us together throughout the season, being a hard man when necessary. He helped us play to our strengths and maintain a die-hard attitude to the very end. Thanks for the leadership Gulfam” – Players of 3rd Grade

Simon Burnett: Simon was the biggest improver in the side. At the start of the season he couldn’t bowl, but by the end his pace was frightening and his accuracy impeccable.

Hilbert Chiu: As our opening batsman he was solid in defence and innovative in attack. He helped us to many good starts. When he bowled, he was accurate and consistent, and possessed an excellent yorker which saw the demise of many a batsman.

Jamang Chong: Our opening bowler had so much pace that even the wicketkeeper got worried sometimes. His unpredictability saw the end of many batsmen. He was also an extremely aggressive batsman, attempting to drive every ball to great effect.

Pathum Dissanayake: Pathum was an excellent batsman, reliable and solid. He played all the strokes to perfection and scored profusely, without once looking like he would get out. His part time off spin came in handy, as he was able to take wickets when most needed.

Bruce Du: Bruce had a style with the bat reminiscent of the great Mark Waugh. He not only scored runs with charisma, but often helped build an excellent platform of runs to defend. His bowling was dangerous, and he was capable of (and did) causing injury to many batsmen with his deceptive pace and bounce.

Brendan Gallagher: Brendan was a very powerful batsman; he hit more sixes on his own than the rest of the team did joined together. Often he would demolish a bowler’s good figures by smashing the ball all around the park. Brendan was a handy part time bowler; his short run up giving him deceptive pace and swing.

Gabriel Knowles: Gabe was an excellent all round player. With the bat he scored profusely, and with style. He was a solid and reliable run scorer. His bowling was excellent. Bowling off spin he often bamboozled the opposition batsmen and picked up many wickets in every game.

Michael ‘Gunya’ Nelson: Gunya was our wicket-keeper/batsman before he was promoted to the 2nd XI. He scored many runs for us and was reliable behind the stumps.

Udara Peiris: Udara was a solid top order batsman,

Fourth Eleven

reliable and a proficient scorer. His part time off spin often gave us the crucial wicket we needed. He was promoted to the 2nd XI later on in the season due to his remarkable ability to score.

Sam Starrett – Sam turned up to every game and was very enthusiastic. When batting, he often danced on the crease (away from the ball) before hitting the ball. His bowling was scary; on the days he was good, he bowled very well, however on the other days he was a bit erratic.

Frank Thirachulvam – Frank was a late bloomer with both the bat and the ball. In the second half of the season he just couldn't stop scoring runs, and a lot of them too. He became a consistent and reliable batsman. His bowling was accurate, and often swung late, leaving the batsman with no idea.

Brad Windshuttel – Brad was one genius of a keeper. He was quick, intuitive and reliable behind the stumps – always ready to take that catch or make a stumping. With the bat he was one of our middle order batsmen, and showed enormous talent. If he bowled it was always swinging deceptively and more than a match for the far more inferior opposition batsman.

Yu Tao Zhang – Yu Tao opened the batting for us. His style and charisma especially when he played his piercing cut shot, was a source of awe for the opposition. He showed amazing talent, and was quick on his feet to score many runs.

This is the squad of the Third XI, and we enjoyed a successful season together. I hope that the 3rd XIs of the future can carry on the tradition of excellence, and I wish them the best of luck.

16A Eleven

In terms of results the 1999-2000 season was not the most successful for the Sydney High 16As, with five losses from six games with one game washed out. The losses were against St Ignatius, Kings, Shore, Grammar and St Joseph's. The washed out game was against Newington and our win against the always competitive Scots.

The win was a very fulfilling one being the last game of the season and it being against the overly confident Scots College. We batted first scoring 161 off our 36 overs thanks to a fine 72 from Tim Davis Frank. Scots then went into bat and we managed to knock them over for 110 thanks to a fine bowling performance from Robin, picking up five wickets. A special thanks to Justin Garber who filled in on very short notice season, it was quite the opposite. In most games we were highly competitive right up until the end. For example against St Ignatius, where we had them 8/60 chasing 130. They managed a 50 run partnership to surpass our score. Also against Grammar, we had scored 105 and then had them 5/38. They managed to knock up 7/170 declared then knocked us over for 62 to win outright.

There are many people who played well throughout the year. Some of these people include Tim Davis Frank who topped the batting averages with an average of 23.5. He had an aggregate of 141 and a top score of 70. Keiran Lewis topped the batting aggregates with 176 at an average 17.6. In the bowling department Robin Alexander topped the wicket table with 15 at an average of 16.5.

There are many people who deserve to be thanked for their help and commitment during the season. Mr Dowdell gave the team great help and commitment, and without him the kit would never have turned up on Wednesdays. Mr Lewis gave us his knowledgeable words on the game, and Mr and Mrs Alexander their scoring expertise. And finally we thank Mr Kelly for his umpiring.

Nicholas Kelly, Captain.

16B Eleven

Taken as a whole season 1999/2000 was a very pleasing one for the 16B Cricket Team. We had a slow start to the season as we only managed to get 7 runs while chasing a target of around 200 in our first match. The second game of the season produced pretty much the same outcome. After two major thrashings the team got its act together. In the next game we put up a much better fight. Our shining light in this game was middle order batsmen Brenevan. He hit a sparkling 47 in the first innings which included many fours and sixes. The second innings saw Brenevan hit another 40. However we lost the game due to the many wides and no balls bowled by our star bowlers. Karthik and Alex Voyevoda. The end of this game saw the end of the trials.

The turn of the year saw a much improved 16B side. With players such as William Phu. Chenturan Suthersan and myself Dinesh Ramanan returning from duties in the 16As, the 16Bs were sure to be a threat to the hot shot teams.

The first game against Joey's was a very promising match. Playing in forty degree heat was very tiring and this was shown in our bowling. Joey's managed to get 220 which was seen by many as an impossible target. Our chase started off very well as we were none for 69. The run chase was brought to an amazing end. As soon as opener Chenturan Suthersan got out for a magnificent 45 our team had a drastic collapse. Our next 5 batsmen got out for ducks.

Our next game saw us up against Kings. Our bowling once more didn't hold up as we let go around 350 runs. However our batting was much better. We managed to get 107 with Chenturan Suthersan getting 40 and myself getting 25.

The next game was against Sydney Grammar. This game saw the 16Bs once more short of men. Luckily for us Murukesh Sukumaran, Akash Aggarwal and Senthuran Eswaralingam were kind enough to stay back and play for us. Our bowling was much improved as we only let go 220 runs. Akash was on a hat trick and almost got it as the ball just eluded the fielder. Our batting in this game was probably the highlight. Although we got off to a disastrous start by losing two wickets for no runs we recovered thanks to an aggressive partnership of 78 between William Phu (50) and myself (17). Akash also starred with the bat. He (60) along with Senthuran Eswaralingam (23) put on a partnership of 72. We finished on 189. Grammar put on 110 and then declared. We were trying to get a draw and almost achieved it. Unfortunately we got bowled out on the last ball of the day.

Our next and last game was against the Scots College. We played a twelve over game because both sides only had 6 players. We batted first and put on 95. William Phu (24) and myself (39*) put on an entertaining partnership of 52. This was our big chance to win a game. Scots got off to a slow start but soon started to smash our bowling attack. In the end we restricted Scots to 84. WIN! WIN! WIN! The 16Bs had finally managed to win a game. This was amazing as most people had written off the 16Bs to win a game after we had been bowled out for 7 in our first game.

Our highest run getter in season 1999/2000 was William Phu. Although William did not have the most consistent year he still managed to get 160 runs. I managed to get the most number of wickets (7) and also the highest average. We had a very enjoyable time and are all looking forward to season 2000/01.

Dinesh Ramanan, Captain.

15A Eleven

The 1999/2000 cricket season was a very productive one and was a big learning curve for our team.

We had a very competitive GPS season but the highlight was winning the Trans Harbour Trophy when we went through the competition undefeated. Our team was able to win this competition through brilliant team efforts. Tom Andrews was always setting the platform with controlled batting and valuable slips catches.

Lachlan Mitchell became one of our most important players with his batting and Locky also taught us a few words, with his ever expressive bowling [Kings for example].

Murukesh Sukumaran was fearless and one of our main strike weapons with his very fast bowling.

Akash Aggarwal proved to be a valuable asset and his cricketing ability improved out of sight.

Senthuran Eswaralingam was a surprise packet and his bowling proved to be priceless in tough situations with the batsmen having no idea.

Matt Mulroney was a force to be reckoned with when he went out to bat and was a powerful striker at the ball when he connected. Matt did need a bit of work on his running as he preferred to hit boundaries.

Peter Levido was one of our strike bowlers and an effective batsmen. Peter managed to get a hat trick in the final of the Trans Harbour Trophy.

Andrew Walters was a powerhouse as a batsman and played some very valuable innings. Andrew was a key member of our team.

Alex McCauley showed his talent as a cricketer whenever he got the opportunity never failing to answer any challenge which appeared.

Sam Anderson was a brilliant keeper and played some valuable innings with the bat.

Overall 1999/2000 was a very successful season for the 15As.

The 1999/2000 Cricket season was not the most successful season ever, but it was an enjoyable one. This is a list of all the player's profiles.

Mark Bayliss: Our very enthusiastic keeper, he had a great season behind the wickets taking some excellent catches.

Milton Das: Milton has improved twenty-fold this year in his fielding, bowling and batting. Milton proved himself to be an important member of the team with his blistering pace bowling.

Lachlan Drummond: Lachlan's consistency throughout the season has been invaluable. He would be one of the most enthusiastic members of the team.

Mugunthan Gunasingam: A master of the bat, his frequent scores above thirty saved us from total embarrassment multiple times!

Andrew Hall: The fearless opener, he took on any bowler smacking fours in all directions often leaving the opposing team out of breath.

Anthony Kim: Anthony's fast, swinging and accurate bowling took many wickets this season. His courageous batting efforts were unmatched.

Satchin Kumar: The opening bowler and slogger of the ball. This man doesn't take back chatter from anyone. Definitely an invaluable member of the team.

Perlon Leung: Perlon is probably one of the best fast bowlers in the team – he was just unlucky to find form in the end of the season. Well done!

Angus Ng: The other opening bowler, accurate and fast – what more could you ask for!

David Sheens: Missed quite a few games, but his batting was always on key.

Niropan Yoganathan: A key player. Always keeping the spirit of the players high, he always displayed his batting elegance when called upon.

Once again, well done to all the team for putting your highest effort at all times.

The 14As enjoyed a successful season with outstanding team performances and excellent individual contributions. We won four of our GPS games with victories over Grammar, Joeyes, Kings, and Newington, and with a bit of luck we could have easily won all seven rounds.

Outstanding performances were produced by Hugh James (119), Ravi Amirthalingam (4-3), Glen Carroll (71 and 5-18, and Matt Shiner (55).

The highlight of the season though was our victory in the Trans-Harbour Trophy Tournament, which was played on Tuesday afternoons. After narrow victories in the quarters and semis, we totally annihilated our opponents in the final to take the trophy in the junior division in its inaugural year.

Special thanks to Peter Carroll, Peter Shiner and James Friis-O'Toole. We all greatly appreciate your help and for giving up your time.

Glen Carroll, Captain.

14B Eleven

The 14Bs brought a similar team into 2000 as they had had for 1999, though with two fresh faces in the team – James Slimnicanovski and Krishna Ramarathinam, both experienced and good cricketers. The 14Bs had nothing to lose, after all in the practice season in fourth term they had not won a game.

The season started considerably well against St Joseph's College – High's bowlers did well, cutting the Joey's batsmen down to half of what they put on last time these two teams met, although poor batting let the team down as they were left stranded with only half of what Joey's made.

King's was another team that continually troubled High and after almost being beaten outright by King's the previous year, High made sure it did not happen again with the game going right down to the wire.

The first of two teams that High had a realistic chance of beating was Newington, and after some initial sledging between our wicketkeeper, Rajeevan Muralitharan, and the Newington captain, High came away with the victory, Kapil Khanna taking 3/18 and the star Krishna taking 5/18 each from seven overs. Shakir, Anirudh and James each had a good day with the bat.

The next great chance for the team came against

Grammar. The bowlers did a decent job restricting Grammar to about 130 runs. It was a shaky start with High's first three batsmen falling cheaply. This brought Jason to the crease, who was able to steady the innings and continue the run chase with 39. As the High run rate began to fall, it was Shakir who came to the rescue blasting a quick 21 to get High's run chase back on track and put them in a good position. Ultimately High's last batsman fell cheaply in the last over, and the game ended in a draw.

The Riverview game was a disgrace. The opposing team's two opening bowlers tore through the High batting order with only Varun and James posing decent scores. Two Riverview players scored half-centuries and High were again sent in, but thankfully were able to survive outright defeat because of time.

Shore were tough opponents on and off the field, after High struggled to 84 with Nimalin scoring 22, Shore fell five overs short of what they were meant to bowl. High appealed for the six run an over penalty for not bowling out, but lost the argument as they did not have a coach. It was a poor bowling effort by High as there was only the one wicket taker in Andrew Jacques who took all four wickets.

Anthony, Ritchie and Pat were handy players, they always chipped in down the order with good running and had the ability to break big partnerships at crucial times for the team. High's wicketkeeper Rajeevan Muralitharan also did a good job behind the stumps with good encouragement and intimidating the batsmen.

Overall it was an encouraging year for the team with great improvement and a lot more of it to come.

Jason Ong.

14C Eleven

The 14Cs had a rough year with many players not turning up. Only in two games this season did we have nine or more players and just once we churned up a full eleven-man team. We played only six games this season as three others were forfeits (not enough players) and one was called off because of rain. Of those six we won one and lost five. I am able to report in detail about two matches.

vs Kings

We played on a wet slow ground. The obvious choice was to bowl first but after losing the toss we had no say and were put in to bat.

Edward and Raj opened the batting on this day. Raj was to get out in the second over bringing in Aman (one of only three capable batsmen in the team). Edward and Aman batted for a long time until Edward got out (to a medium pacer that ripped on into his stumps) for 29 which was his biggest score of the season. Clement Shiel came in next and fought bravely against a pair of left arm spinners. He then got out for a long-sought-after 11, which also proved to be his highest score of the season, following two ducks. David came in next and smashed a 21 off one over. He then got out first ball of the next over. With the tail starting to wag,

Edward told every batsman to block for at least five overs and to let Aman score the runs, which he did. But with little to support him he could only manage 56 not out, whilst the rest of the batsmen, Wei, Jack, Bo, and Allen scored a duck, duck, four, and a duck respectively.

We had to bowl on a dry pitch and against a dry outfield and had to protect 135 which we found a good total considering our last two were 75 and 64. Bo and Fergus were our two strike bowlers that were only able to get one wicket between then when Fergus took a catch off Bo's bowling. This was the first time these two devastatingly fast bowlers had not got 2 wickets each off their opening spells. The two openers had hit 63 runs off our first 12 overs then David and Clement came in and they provided the break needed. Getting the remaining opener out for 32 David also got another wicket in the over. Clement then got a wicket in his over to make them 4/67, which was an easily defendable total. After the drinks break Edward Einfeld, took off his wicket keeping gloves, and Jack bowled against a strengthening batting order. Edward took two quick wickets in the last over of his spell but Jack was hit around the park and his figures ended up 4 overs for 29. After this the expected victory started to slip away. Bo and Clem came back to the bowling crease but they were both hit around without getting a wicket. The fielding also started to slip away with two catches and one runout missed.

Front Row: K.Sivanesan, A.Saxena, F.Ly (Captain), E.Einfeld (Vice Captain), D.Qian.

Edward was then brought on with Wei who was able to get one wicket before the total was reached. They were 7/136.

vs Shore

Fewer details remain of this match, which began with us facing a terrible bowling attack from a slow medium pair. Aman and Edward opened the batting and scored well before Edward was caught near the boundary for 68. David came in and scored well, but was soon out, as were Bo, Clem, and Fergus. After twenty overs we were dismissed for 192, Aman carrying his bat for an undefeated 51 runs. When Shore went in to bat they proved fragile, and we were able to bowl them out for 87 in twenty-three overs. The best bowling was from Bo (3/12), David (2/18), and Clem (2/23).

The team consisted of Edward Einfeld, Aman Saxena, Bo Xu, David Zhao, Clement Sheil, Fergus Ly, Jack Shen, Wei Qian, Allen Chen, Mathew Dwyer, Sayuru Kulupana, Adam McKenzieRajib Banerjee and Krishna Sivanesan.

We would like to thank the Cricket coaching staff, parents and old boys, and our regular spectators, for their support throughout the season.

Edward Einfeld.

The Thirteen A's this year had an up and down season. The team tried hard all term but unfortunately we didn't come away with a win.

However we still showed potential, Shaheen Kumar made a great 62 and our bowling was also very consistent. Our major problem was our fielding, dropped catches and missed run-outs proved costly. We also had two or three players who were unable to play due to club priorities.

With a bit more organization and effort I think our team will prove to be very strong in the near

13B Eleven

The 13Bs have played well this season despite facing straight losses throughout the season. The players in the team have made a great effort to perform under pressure conditions. The season started out well with the team getting used to the matches being played. Inevitably the team will improve throughout the years.

Thanks to the team members and parents for making it to the matches and helping throughout the season. The batting and bowling was excellent even though at times we were frustrated. With the likes of Gordon Ngan, Nathan Fraazi, Dorninic Grimm and all the others helping, we managed to boost our confidence in the batting. Atif Syeed, Alan Dam, Nathan Praazi, Paul Watzlaff, Dominic Gnmm (many to name!) gave our bowling some respect.

Hope the team will be ready for the next season.

J. Phung

13C Eleven

The 13Cs had a rather good season considering that only a few players had ever played before. We had a disappointing loss against Newington, where we lost by six runs. We had some great bowlers in our team, who helped us greatly throughout the season. Star batsman Anik scored a massive 59 runs in our first game, despite our loss.

Our fielding needs a lot of work and really let us down in our last game, where we bowled the opposition out for 198. Unfortunately batting was also poor on that day as we were all out for 17.

Overall the season has been a success because we were all able to make new friendships based on playing the game.

First Four

The 2000 season got off to a good start with the crew being selected in the first week of training in term four. In bow seat Sam Bush provided the crew with strength. In two seat was Vaughan Ramsey, with determination and endurance. Three seat Alex Forsyth gave the crew experience. Setting the rhythm was Tim Glass in stroke seat. Coxswain Neal Downward gave us encouragement and demonstrated good humour all season.

After being selected we began training hard as a crew for the first race, the Head of the Parramatta River Regatta, under the lead of our two dedicated coaches Richard Mitchell and Adrian Webster, who were out at the rowing sheds several times a week, passing on their experience to us. With a huge effort we finished ahead of two crews in our race, giving us confidence for the season ahead.

Following this we had the pleasure of rowing in the newly christened boat, the Neville Morgan.

January camp was interrupted by sickness, affecting our preparation for the approaching racing season.

The racing season was an enjoyable one, with determination being shown by the whole crew during the weekly regattas. The highlight of the season was the CHS Regatta, where we finished first in the championship men's four race. This win raised spirits for the GPS regatta the following week.

At the GPS regatta a hard battle was fought out between us and The Scots College in the lane next to us, with Scots just getting in front in the last 500 metres. We finished 8th in a very close race.

We would like to thank our coaches, Richard Mitchell and Adrian Webster, whose commitment to improving our rowing style and fitness made the season an enjoyable and memorable experience.

Tim Glass, Stroke.

Second Four

Positions in the Second Four for 2000 were contested fiercely between the initially selected members of the Second and Third Fours. The crew changed a number of times, but eventually the optimal combination was selected. These crew members were:

Second Four

Cox: D.Kaldor, Bow: A.Davidson, 2: R.Blennerhassett, 3: D.Farrington, Stroke: C.Varady.

Bow: Alex Davidson

2: Richard Blennerhassett

3: David Farrington

Stroke: Corrin Varady

After clocking respectable times in the races leading up to the Head of the River, coach Reece Hamer worked us hard so we would be fit and strong enough to be competitive when the big race came around. Often a training session included rowing to Silverwater Bridge and return, followed by a five kilometre erg.

Despite rowing well, under Reece's capable guidance, we placed a close 8th in the last and greatest race of our season. The season was the first competitive GPS season for most of us and the atmosphere and momentous nature of the Head of the River was not lost on us.

Reece Hamer, previously cox of the First VIII, was able to expand his knowledge in the process of making us better rowers individually, and a better crew collectively. We all developed as athletes and rowers, standing us in good stead for the up-coming season.

David Farrington, Three seat.

Third Four

About three months of preparation and training finally saw High's third four come together after thorough selection procedures. Both veterans of the fourth four of 99, after a long stint with the second four both Peter Fagan and myself were acquitted to undertake third four duties. Joined by Joseph McIvor, David Gregory, and experienced fours coxswain Barney Desmond, we formed a formidable sight on the water. Three rather large front rowers and a scrawny breakaway at 57 kilograms gave an average weight of about eighty-five kilograms... you can work out the rest. The crew ultimately comprised of Pete in the bow seat, Dave in two seat, Joey in three seat, myself as stroke, and Barney as a very able cox.

Taken under the tutelage of former First VIII cox Peter Nicholas we had some pretty ordinary early season regattas. Undoubtedly we were the biggest GPS four on the water but unfortunately this hindered the send and run in the boat. However, the coach's experience shone through, and we steadily improved our technique with the aid of some pretty interesting exercises. We weren't particularly fond of them but they did the trick – we were achieving greater efficiency during the stroke, and greater economy on the recovery. Albeit, we were not recording any improved placings – the other schools were improving at a rapid rate as well. Most regattas we came in last but the frustration derived from this only served to make us train harder.

The CHS championships held in Penrith gave us a much deserved break from our GPS counter-parts. We rowed in the champion men's quad scull event to beat one other crew from a field of five before returning to Sydney for the Gold Cup regatta on the Lane Cove river. We were hungry to beat Grammar all week but nothing came of it. Returning to our sheds, our disheartened spirits were lifted by an inspirational chat with Pete Nicholas's father and we were quietly confident of beating at the very least, Scots College the next week at the Head of the River.

The Head of the River saw us in sixth place at the 500m mark, but we could not sustain it and fell back to seventh place. We were reasonably happy with the result and not disappointed with our efforts. Many thanks must go to our coach Pete for putting up with our idiosyncrasies and sparing his time.

Ultimately we had an enjoyable season; outside of rowing we were all good mates, and on the water we rowed with a fierce determination that only High can imbue.

Oliver Lau, Stroke.

Fourth Four

Two thousand was the season that saw yet another Sydney High crew fail to live up to the potential that was promised so early on in the season. The season began late in October with the traditional holiday camp at the Outterside rowing shed and brought together the cream of what made up the First and Second Quads of the previous year plus a few recruits with obvious potential. Acknowledgement of this potential was seen in the allocation of two of the best Sydney High's coaches, Guy Morgan and Neville Morgan, with two very different styles but both very effective.

The season began well with everybody adapting to the new idea of rowing sweep oar and despite the occasional throwing of oars at the rowers by Guy, he was even heard to say that we were shaping up very well. While the training was arduous it held us in good stead for what was to be our first senior race, the Head of the Parramatta, a 4.5km time trial in which we were to compete as an eight. The race was held in windy and rainy conditions but we battled hard and we finished in a well respected fourth place, competing against and beating many that we would line up against when we eventually faced the daunting challenge of the Head of the River. Unfortunately this was to be what could be regarded as the pinnacle of the season. Over the course of the ensuing holidays the commitment felt by the rowers was seen as disappointing with three of the members of the original eight which was to make up two fours in the Head of the River quitting the rowing program for various reasons.

This hurdle was to be overcome as the Fourth IV was created. The crew still comprised some unique rowing talent coupled with a determination that had been found lacking in the original eight. The Fourth IV came together at the beginning of January camp and was seen as one of the strongest fours in the shed as we often beat the First IV in training.

The racing season commenced on 12 February with the St Joseph's College regatta held at Hen and Chicken Bay. We experienced immediate success eliminating Scots and Riverview in the heats and finishing fifth in the final. While this was a promising start to the season we failed to capitalise on it and once again the commitment of the crew could be seen to be dropping as the pressure and strain of a long season challenged the rowers. However the crew battled on and continued to make finals being one of the most competitive crews in the shed throughout the rowing season. About two weeks out from the Head of the River the crew experienced a return of enthusiasm as the build up to the big day drew nearer. This led to some very promising hard sessions put in on and off the water and confidence was brought back within the crew.

The big day finally drew near and on 25 March we travelled out to the Penrith International Regatta Centre to take on the seven other GPS crews – the culmination of a journey that had begun six months earlier. As we lined up on the start line we felt focused and put much of the disappointment of the past season behind us. As the gun went we flew out of the blocks and immediately established ourselves amongst the leaders. However as the race wore on the size of the other crews and the extended distance of the course began to take its toll on the race. The powerful Kings crew with an average weight of 95kg began to grow in strength as our brilliant start faded and we began to slip through the field. Our eventual place was seen as a disappointment to the potential and talent that our crew had, however we finished very much in touch with the leaders.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the crew who showed determination to stick out the long and difficult season. They stared adversity in the face and in Steve's case laughed at it. The future of Sydney High rowing lies in the continued commitment of the rowers; depth is our problem and through the active participation of the wider student body in the sport the performances will improve. It is a self-fulfilling prophecy and results will come if the numbers and commitment of the rowers increase.

I would also like to thank our two coaches Neville Morgan and Guy Morgan who dedicated so much of their time ensuring that we had a most enjoyable season. Without the generosity of people like them the Sydney High rowing shed would cease to function as the cohesive unit that it is.

The Fourth IV for 2000 is:

Coxswain: Haim Ayalon – Haim was the smallest member of the crew (good thing too) but made his presence felt throughout, especially in races.

Bow: Toby Fanning (Roids) – Toby was the man child of the crew who possessed unique strength

2 Seat: Steve Barbouttis (Stuti) – Steve showed undying commitment throughout the season and was rewarded with a deserved place in the crew.

3 Seat: Ben Lonsdale (Big Ben) – Ben was the biggest and most powerful member of the crew. He developed well throughout the year and will be a force in Sydney High Rowing in the years to come

Stroke: Jonathon Laurie – Jonathon was the most stylish rower of the crew this coupled with his determination to succeed saw him become one of the most respected members of the rowing shed. (Ben Lonsdale)

Year 9 Fourth Quad

The Year 9 Fourth Quad for 2000 consisted of Andrew Hay at bow, Tim Suttie at 2, Patrick Bazin at 3, and myself as stroke.

Our year as a quad was especially interesting as Andrew was the only experienced member of our crew. Luckily he pointed the rest of us in the right direction throughout the season.

As for results, we had a mixed season. As I had dreaded, our first regatta was a disaster, thanks to crew members having asthma attacks, oars refusing to stay in their gates and the slight difficulty we had of staying in our designated lane. However, these six or seven minutes of embarrassment meant our season could only get better, and that it did.

During the season, we got better and better each week, peaking at the last regatta, the Gold Cup. We led for over half of the race, but eventually succumbed to more fit competitors. But finishing in a respectable place.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who helped us throughout the season, in particular Mr Gainford, Mr Hespe and Mr Coan. We all enjoyed the season immensely and learnt a lot about teamwork, with everyone trying one hundred percent to get the boat over that line.

Seventh Year 9 Quad

The Seventh Year 9 Quad for 2000 consisted of Tom Sitek, Tom Keller, Axel Levitan, Anthony Wallace, and Josh Henry as coxswain. The sport of rowing requires persistence and substantial training, so that without the help and guidance of our coaches, Mr Hespe and Mr Coan, we would not have been as competitive as we were.

My crew always remained focussed on winning, while enjoying ourselves on the river.

One race my crew will always remember is the Gold Cup of 2000. We were determined to finish the season on a high, as we lined up in a comparatively large field of seven boats. We managed to keep a steady pace in the first half, but remained in the back two. The longer than usual distance of the Lane Cove course proved to be an advantage as we passed two crews in the second half of the course. At the line we snatched third place from Cranbrook, and celebrated a great end to the season.

Anthony Wallace, Stroke.

Second Year 8 Quad

Oliver Taaffe (Coxswain), Eric Hanzmann-Johnson (Stroke), William Song (Number 3), KaeYen Wong (Number 2), Peter Godfrey (Bow).

Our first rowing season was a great experience, and a lot of fun for all of us. We all worked hard with the help of our coach, Mr McIvor, whom we would all like to thank, for giving up his valued time for us.

The highlight of the season for us was definitely the Gold Cup Regatta (or maybe our capsizе just outside of Iron Cove), when Peter's oar came loose, half way into the race. Our only competition, Scots, over took us. Peter managed to get his oar back into place, and we were on our way to snatch the 'lead' back off Scots. We eventually beat them by half a boat length.

Eric Hanzmann-Johnson, Stroke.

Third & Fourth Year Eight Quads

We began the year never having stepped into a rowing boat, but after a very tough pre-season we went into our races feeling confident. The two crews for the racing season were:

Third Quad – Stroke: Drew Hoare, 3: Eric Ren, 2: Ben Mitchell, Bow: Troy Polis.

Fourth Quad – Stroke: Tom Hoare, 3: Robbie Girdler, 2: Fu Shen Xin, Bow: Ben Shores.

Both crews had extremely strong racing seasons, though without all of the injuries that were sustained the results could have been better.

The season began with both crews placing third. Third Quad were missing Drew due to injury. It continued with much the same form with many thirds and a couple of seconds. We ended with Fourth Quad making the A Final at the Gold Cup and placing fourth, and Third Quad making the B Final and placing third.

Both crews would like to thank the coaches Mr Hespe, Mr Coan and especially Mr Ross Bowey, who was our main coach throughout the year. We would also like to thank Mr Gainford, the Junior Rowing Master, for organising training and assisting us during the season.

Tom Hoare.

Second Grade Basketball

The 1999/2000 GPS Basketball season for High Second Grade will be remembered as a case of the agony and the ecstasy, a case of a premature climax, of dying of thirst so close to the well. Having dominated our first two games, we were set to contest the title, however it was not to be. In the end, we finished the season equal fourth. Led by the father of a 1999 Second Grade member, the vivacious Mr Arie "Lion" Ilisar, the results are as follows:

Match Reports

vs St Josephs (away)

High 38 St Josephs 37 (half-time 16-23)

Despite a holiday training programme, we knew that wimung this season opener would be an arduous task. St Josephs had crushed us in the pre-season, and due to some members of the team going abroad, the team was playing together for the first time in weeks. Trailing by 7 points at half-time, we faced a daunting second-half, with 50 odd Joey's supporters chanting zealously for their home team. Indeed, the atmosphere was passionate. Showing tough defence and never-say-die attitudes, High closed the gap to just three points with less than a minute remaining. Another turnover and basket, and the scores were 36:37. With the gym packed, Joey's shot the ball. Miss! Rebounded by High. With barely seconds remaining, John, with eyes of an eagle, spotted Adrian on the other side of the court. An impeccable pass saw the ball land in Adrian's hands, with 3 seconds to go. Faced with a oneon one situation, Adrian decided that it was time to let destiny take its path. He took a jump shot, instead of driving. As the buzzer sounded, the ball found the basket, and the score promulgated our finest hour – 38-37. The emotional victory meant High Second Grade had beaten St Josephs Second Grade for the first time since 1983, and after 17 years of defeat, revenge was sweeter than ever. An utterly unforgettable encounter.

vs Kings (home)

High 53 Kings 41 (half-time 29-15)

Rejuvenated from the nail-biter against St Josephs, Second Grade was fired up and feeling confident going up against a team that defeated us in the pre-season (for only 5 players had made the trip to North Parramatta). In a dominating display from start to finish, the team gave Kings no chance, frustrating the opponents with skillful teamwork and individuality. This included an extraordinary performance by our newest sensation Saul, who mesmerised Kings and finished the game with 28 points. The season had begun with the perfect start.

vs Newington (home)

High 34 Newington 46 (half-time 21:23)

After two wins, Newington looked like easy-beats, for they had a feeble reputation in GPS basketball. After a tight first half, the entire team was frustrated and disorientated by some referee decisions which went against them, and entered the second period irate. The final score does not accurately depict the true nature of the contest. Saul, solidly marked, was again the star, scoring 22 points. If not for some unfortunate referee decisions, this match could have been ours.

vs Grammar (away)

High 21 Grammar 38 (half-time 10:20)

The local derby promised to be a thrilling encounter, with Grammar pumping out motivational music during warm-up. Still sore from the surprise home defeat by Newington, our players lacked the urgency of the first few games, scoring a mere ten points in the first half. This too was a game we expected to win, having conquered Grammar by a 10-point margin in the pre-season A disappointing result.

vs Riverview (away)

High 42 Riverview 43 (half-time 22:23)

We had narrowly beaten this team in the pre-season by 4 points (including a three-quarter court length buzzerbeater at half-time by Michael), and knew that they would come out seeking revenge. Desperate to get our season back on track, the team clawed back to a one point deficit at half-time, after being down by 10 points in the earlier part of the match. In an unfortunate incident that will be remembered by all involved, Adrian's 3point shot was ruled 2, and Riverview's gym scoreboard went off with 36 seconds to go, with the ball in Saul's hands as he took a free throw. When the scoreboard was turned back on, the referee ruled Saul's successful free-throw as obsolete, and the bench failed to re-initiate the 30-second clock, thus ensuring our defeat. An unfortunate defeat.

vs Scots (home)

High 41 Scots 86 (half-time 21:37)

Heading into the game, we knew what to expect from the Scots boys – not only were they leading, the competition, but also they had hitherto beaten every opponent by rugby score margins. Having not played them in the pre-season, we were detennined to give it all, for it was the last home game. A tense and competitive first half saw the margin at 16 points, but as the game wore on, our players began to tire rapidly. The word had gone out that No.18 was a danger man, and despite heavy marking, Saul finished the game with an amazing 21 points. Scots went on to become unbeaten premiers.

vs Shore (away)

High 39 Shore 54 (half-time 20:21)

With the premiership out of reach, it was time to enjoy our final game of the season, however it ended on a rather bitter note. As in the match against Riverview, we managed to stage a comeback in the latter part of the first half, going into the locker rooms with a one point deficit. As the game progressed, the margin grew larger, but we were far from concerned. A late scuffle involving several Shore players, and Michael and Saul, saw technical fouls given to each side, and the ejection of the High captain in the closing minutes. Saul and John both had mentorious games, with 19 and 12 points respectively. An unforgettable game in more ways than one.

Player Profiles

Regular Starting Five

No.33 Michael Kim - Point Guard

The voice of the team, as the captain and defence specialist. For six years, few men in the GPS have matched Michael's gargantuan number of technical fouls, ejections and sports judiciaries, nor the number of complaints from visiting schools for his ignominious on-court behaviour. Michael finished the season with 14 points, along with a notorious reputation throughout GPS for his Kamikaze style of play and never-say-die attitude.

No.39 John Hsu - Shooting Guard

A veteran of the campaign, John is the sole surviving member of last year's Second Grade team. His shooting ability (especially on the 3-point line), driving and passing proficiency and dribbling dexterity is indeed a marvel, and as the unofficial vice-captain, he led the team with his effervescent defence and lethal offence. Scored 31 points in the season (11% of the team total), averaging 4.4 points a game. It will be difficult to fill the void left by John's absence next year.

No.18 Saul Wodak - Small Forward

As he had been a rather shy and reserved junior in Year 10, few people knew of Saul, or his skills, at the beginning of the pre-season. Nevertheless, within weeks he became the most talked-about and highly-rated player in High Basketball. Regularly making First Grade appearances, Saul became the new prodigy of Sydney High. With a GPS season scoring total of 133 points, or 49% of the team total, he was the unequivocal MVP of Second Grade, averaging 19 points a game. Look out for this explosive rising star, for as he gets older and more experienced, he can only get better.

No.4 Dustin Bookatz - Power Forward

Few have matched Dustin's dedication and fervent enthusiasm throughout the season, both in training and in games. Renowned for his picture-perfect jump-shot, he showed a remarkable capacity to out-jump competitors twice his size in rebounding. As the second highest scorer in the team with 40 points (average 5.7 points, 15% of the team total), Dustin frequently became our scoring machine in set plays, frustrating opponents by regularly drawing fouls. With several appearances in First Grade under his belt, Dustin should play an integral role in High's First Grade campaign next season.

No.5 Sam Casimir - Centre

As the backbone of Second Grade, Sam was the unfailing man in the middle throughout the season, with customary blocks and rebounds. Indeed, he made it all look so simple; the seemingly effortless swats, and perpetually rising above all to pluck those crucial rebounds over 6 foot 10 opponents. As a fierce competitor, he gave no quarter. Sam scored 26 points in the season, making several First Grade appearances along with Saul and Dustin. His lanky yet athletic frame will, no doubt, be sorely missed next season.

Bench

No.15 Andrew Laurie - Small Forward/Shooting Guard

Andrew, the High Athletics Captain for 2000, is indeed the maestro when it comes to stamina and endurance. The never-tiring man was an indispensable member of the team, especially in the second half when all around him were crumbling. The speed maniac also led the fast breaks, and with his ability to shoot from mid-range, he could transform himself into a shooting guard at request. With a defensive capability second to none, Andrew always gave his all, and finished the season with 12 points. A talented and intelligent player.

No.7 Adrian Kuti - Point Guard

Adrian will be forever remembered as 'the guy who shot the winning basket against St Josephs' – such was the dramatic nature of the season opener. He is however much more than a one-shot wonder; with a picturesque three point shot and resplendent dribble, he proved to be a praiseworthy basketballer, bagging 12 points in all. Another player to look out for next season.

No.16 Tom Rueger - Power Forward/Centre

After making periodical appearances in Second Grade in the pre-season, Tom cemented his place in the team by the start of the GPS season, and never looked back. As the trustworthy man in the middle, Tom showed exceptional defensive skills, and hidden behind his seemingly bashful facade was an aggressive will to win. Finishing the season with a total of 6 points, Tom is another player who should flourish next year.

Like any other First and Second Grade team, there were various unheralded people who worked as hard as the players themselves to make this season a success. Firstly, the parents of both teams must be applauded for their unconditional support both on and off the court. Their motivating words were a sine qua non for the boys, and the scrumptious afternoon teas were second to none. The sports-master and First Grade coach, Mr Ross Farrington, must be thanked also for being the mentor for both First and Second Grade. His encouragement from beginning to end played a substantial role in a memorable season. Finally, there is Arie. From the first Wednesday sports session in Term 4 1999, to the holiday training and afternoon trainings, to Saturday matches, Arie (as we fondly call him) has been the most dedicated member of High basketball. He spent hours on end to create tactical set-play sheets for us to learn, and voluntarily printed match updates every week to post on the notice board. His zestful style of coaching made him a favourite amongst the players and parents alike. On behalf of the team, I thank Arie sincerely for everything he has sacrificed for High basketball, for he is indeed an extraordinary person. Without his fierce devotion and unfailing commitment, we would not have had such an enjoyable season.

‘You don’t know what you’ve got till it’s gone’, so they say. Looking back, GPS competition is truly unique, and one would be foolish not to take it up, whatever the sport. Not only does one get fit, one develops as a sportsman and as a person, and the memories will stay with you indefinitely. If there are any juniors reading this report who do not participate in GPS, I urge you to take this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, for you will not regret it. I know I certainly don’t.

playing with real team spirit. Although we had no coach, the team organized themselves without fuss.

We had players who could have been almost certainties playing in higher grades but choosing not to strive for higher selection. Players like Insoo Cho and Steven Chang were assets to the team and without them we would have struggled.

The season started off with a loss to St Josephs but for the rest of the competition we had no problem in winning, but some matches were close. There was a 20 - 19 win over Newington and a 59 - 51 overtime win against Shore after the scores were tied 41 all at the end of regulation time.

I would like to thank everybody who took part. Without you, this would not have happened.

16C Basketball

The 1999/2000 Basketball season for the mighty and all conquering 16Cs aimed to be the greatest yet and with a pumped up team on various sorts of “natural drugs” were looking to have a good time. With a team consisting of people from both years 10 and 11 we were possibly a 16Cs which could only be rivalled to the 16Bs.

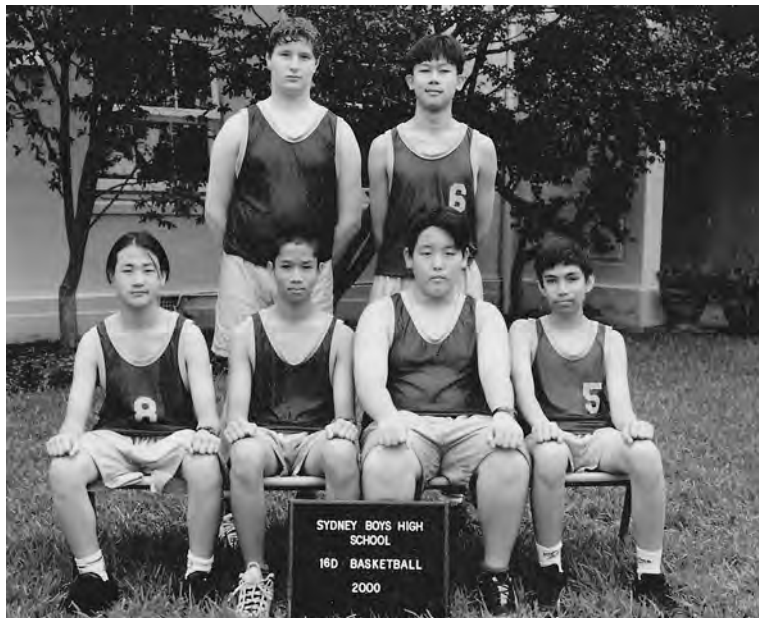

Our army was spearheaded by Ben Mostafa, a graceful and talented young player with skills and talent which were only surpassed by his ego. Mihai Sora somehow managed to turn up to each game with Phil Clemens nipping at his heels. Cheng Fu was our man with the ball and could be relied on to get it up the court (and often into the hands of the opposition). Thomas Lai would have been a good member of the team if he had managed to look up when running down the court at about 60 km/h, on multiple occasion slamming into brick walls. When Marc Yong had the ball you did not want to be on the receiving end of any of his passes, unless of course, you wanted to spend the next week with your finger strapped. Ari Shapievsky was our centre, who just managed to make it up the end in time to see the opposition scoring. Dominic Tabeta was one hunk of man mountain and on multiple occasions made profound statements such as “ahh guys we really gotta score some points” and “which way are we going now?”. Tom Beamish was from Year 11 (sorry Beamish).

Our season was pretty rocky to start with, and was basically a win/loss situation except for the two games we lost to Joeys, and then being “chewed up and spat out” by Scots. Our pre-season was respectable and we ended up finishing about fifth overall. The beginning of our “competition” season was a chance for us to get out there and show the teams what had become of us over the holidays. Well, sad to say what had become of us over the holidays was a combination of too much food and too much food, at least for me anyway. Getting trounced every single game was not the plan, except for our Kings game where we managed to sneak home by one point thirty seconds from the end of the game.

We looked at the season as a time to prepare ourselves for grade and what would become of us in the future but only time will tell. With myself as point-guard and referee’s friend (with the help of Ben), that was our season.

15A Basketball

It was a new season, and the 15As were ready to get back into the swing of things. After losing only the one game to Scots last season, High's 15As were hungry for triumph and an undefeated record.

It all began in 1997-1998 as High produced a high powered and skilled team. During the 1998-1999 season, star forwards, Sam Gray and Saul Wodak would leave the team. Sam left the school and moved to America, while Saul would find himself representing the school in opens basketball, playing second grade. With a diminished team, High was looking towards new leaders and players to step up. The tarnished team would find its armour polished once again, as the first five was once again intact. As every player filled his role, our confidence grew. We would find ourselves blowing the competition away, defeating Grammar, Kings, Newington and Riverview with a constant thirty point blow out. It was unusual for our scores to drop below sixty. Scots and Shore would present the biggest challenges, as High struggled in the first halves to overcome our opponents.

The second halves proved to be a different story, as we ran away with the games, winning both games by comfortable ten point leads.

15As basketball proved our hard work and determination with our results. Finally achieving our goal and representing High was a great thrill. The season taught the team to persist and overcome our barriers.

15C Basketball

With the introduction of new players and completely different team structure to the previous season, the 15Cs basketball team had a very successful preseason and season, losing only one game throughout this period, to Newington, which was during the preseason. We were undefeated during the actual season. Some season highlights included beating the Kings School during the preseason by over 60 points with the score 50-0 at half time and beating Newington by one point, the score being 26-25, during the season in which David Li and William Leung scored 12 points each and Sean Soerjanto scored 2. This was a very memorable game as we had lost to this brilliant Newington team during the preseason.

There were also many outstanding individual statistics with William having an average of 15 points per game; David Li averaging 12 points per game; James Ye, who played a magnificent role as point guard; and Allan Chau who capped off a season with a terrific display of first class stealing.

15D Basketball

With a team of over twelve players, quite a few of whom being first timers to the game and a few coming half way through the season, court time was always a problem for the 15Ds. On top of that some inter-team rivalry saw a switch of captains which did nothing good for the moral of some, unnamed players.

Nothing short of absolute commitment (and some 'aid' from superior forces) gave us a reasonable win ration of 3:7 in the season, a very good basketball debut for some new High talent. Good coaching from Mr Forde gave birth to the David Quach/Eugene Mok combination, which was undefeated and envied by all opposition teams. With some time and confidence, there is no doubt that these boys will go far in their basketball careers. Enjoyment was always essential and a few wins just made that an extra bonus.

14A Basketball

This High team proved to be quite a competitive side, giving every team a close fight. The side was constantly beaten in close encounters.

The season consisted of a six week winning drought – but the 14As won their final game by one point against The Shore School. High was very unlucky to lose to Kings as we dominated possession but were unable to score due to poor choices from players, and unlucky decisions by the referee. We also lost in a close game to Scots College, where foul trouble forced us to play a less aggressive style.

This year saw Paul Bui and Matt Lam start to communicate better whilst Leonard “Captain” Hong kept up his vocal presence. With some hard training, this team may become a bigger threat in the years to come.

Special mention is due to Gareth Lee, Raymond Chan and Benian Goh who turned up to every game and helped with the score boards after their own games.

13C Basketball

For their first season of GPS basketball, the 13Cs played hard, but unfortunately failed to take a win. Being their first year in the elite competition, the team was very inexperienced and it showed in several games.

At the start of the season, the team did not communicate well and nor did they have the skills to match the taller better drilled teams, but as the season went on, the team got better, and the better we felt for ourselves. We would like to thank our tireless coach, Mr T.Ryan, for his efforts throughout the season.

First Grade Tennis

After an extensive pre-season involving long hours of coaching, match play and fitness, the summer holidays proved to be a rewarding break for all members. However, six weeks of relaxation took its toll on the team. Without the training camps of St. Josephs College or Riverview, the summer holidays proved to be the biggest obstacle of the tennis season. With a lack of form going into the first match the odds of a successful season diminished very quickly. An under-strength team faced the hard opponents of Joey's. With Michael Hayes and Jarrod Cohen both out due to injury team members were forced to play two positions above their usual. A disappointing start to the season lead to an under-par performance throughout the term.

A strong reliance was placed on the doubles, to set up a winning lead. This, unfortunately, placed extreme pressure on the choice of combinations and strategy. Nevertheless, through hard work and patience during the Wednesday practice sessions, the right combinations were found and the pressure was reduced. It was, however, too late in the season to finish in a placing. The emphasis was changed to preserving the self-respect of the team. With this Chris Tungall returned to his hard-hitting best, scoring wins over tough opponents at Shore and Newington. Both Max and Dushan, the hardest working members of the team, were able to come through adversity and score strong wins.

Max was unlucky to miss out on making a GPS representative team – the starting struggle of the season was evident here. Jarrod and Michael, on the other hand, were able to place in first and second grade respectively, with Michael being one of the youngest members to be selected for GPS tennis in history.

The season may not have been an entire success, in terms of placing, yet it managed to bridge the gap between senior tennis and junior tennis, providing a base for possible future premierships.

15 Years Tennis

The 15 Years team had a good overall season, winning most of their encounters. With almost no changes in the line-up, the team was filled with experience in the high ranks, all of whom were good friends. The As and Bs, with great depth, blew most of their competitors away, the only exceptions being St Ignatius and Kings, with many close matches in the ties, but very few wins. The Cs and Ds, though not as experienced, had a spirit to match. With a "never say die" attitude against tough opponents, they managed to scrape away with some unexpected wins.

The overall team has been weakened by the departure of players throughout the once near-invincible ranks to other sports such as basketball and rowing. Players who were once Ds were elevated to Cs, and reserves with little match-experience making an entry into the ranks. With players entering into the senior grade teams next season, the would-be 16s will be sorely tested once more to rise to the challenge of filling the ranks. However, their current performances show their capability of playing at a high level. Full credit to all the players.

Thanks to Mr Parker once again for his hard work – without him, the team would not be where it is.

Swimming

The six week long GPS swimming season runs, in addition to the other summer sports, on Friday nights during first term, allowing boys to compete on Saturdays in their other chosen sport (Waterpolo, Rowing, etc). The intensive nature of the carnivals makes them very demanding for the swimmers, parents and coaches, who have to travel to various venues all over Sydney. Competition began on the second Friday night of term with the Grammar Carnival at the Boy Charlton pool. Fortunately the School Carnival had been held the previous week, which allowed for the final selection of the swimming team to be made. Sydney High competed very successfully at the Zone Carnival, and to a lesser degree at the Regional. So in addition to the six GPS Carnivals, most of the swimming team also had to compete in the CHS competition.

In the GPS competition our swimmers gained many places and constantly achieved personal bests,. Of special note were our three swimmers who achieved GPS selection. Daniel Fagg came sixth in the 50m Freestyle, Jakheb Matthews came fifth in the 50m Backstroke, and Tom Miller came sixth in the 200m, 100m, and 50, Freestyle, and the 50m Backstroke.

The season was concluded with the annual swimming dinner held at the Outterside Centre at Abbotsford, on 29th March. Mr Day, Swimming Master, deserves special gratitude for his organisation and dedication to the team over the past years. His relentless enthusiasm is very much appreciated by the Sydney High Swimming Team.

Rhys Hart, Captain.

Athletics

The year 2000 – athletes had waited so long for this year to arrive. The prospect of the world's best Track and Field stars in our city, training on our tracks and inspiring us all to achieve our best, meant that the 2000 athletics season was more than usually anticipated by the happy band of runners, jumpers and throwers at High. Our dream of holding the G.P.S. Championships at Stadium Australia, the Olympic Arena, came true, mainly due to the efforts of the G.P.S. Athletics Convenor, Mr Tony Morris (St Ignatius). What an unforgettable year it was, played out against the backdrop of the Olympic Games. The presence of ancient and modern Olympians could be felt at all carnivals and the atmosphere surrounding competition in both the G.P.S. and C.H.S. competitions was enlivened by that mysterious (but very real) shared experience known as the 'Olympic Spirit'. The High team had a moderately successful year in terms of results but a great year in terms of memories, experiences and general 'esprit de corps'. The experience of stepping onto the brand new Mondo track at Stadium Australia on Championship day will be a cherished memory for all those boys lucky enough to be there.

Captains

The team was fortunate, once again, in having talented, responsible and enthusiastic athletes to step forward to take a leadership role.

Senior Captain : Andrew Laurie

Senior Vice Captain : Daniel Boorman

Junior Captain : George Barris

Junior Vice Captain : Richard Blennerhassett

Andrew Laurie led from the front all season in all aspects of the sport – training, competition, organisation and motivation. Andrew's performances and 'focus' at the GPS Championships were truly inspirational to younger athletes.

Former Captain, Joshua Lodge (G.P.S. and C.H.S. High Jump Champion in '99) was also a team member in 2000, but regrettably had injured his back late in 1999 and was unable to take part in competition. Josh became the team mentor and an occasional High Jump official.

Scott Morrow in the open 1500 metre pack.

The School Carnival

Our school Athletics Carnival went very well this year, with participation rates up on previous years. No records were set, but by school tradition our records include all performances by boys representing the school in either G.P.S. or C.H.S. competitions. Full results and Age Champions are published herein. McKay was the winning House from Eedy.

The G.P.S. Season

All but one of our Invitational Carnivals was held at Sydney Athletic Field (E.S. Marks) – our home track! We co-hosted the first of the G.P.S. Carnivals with Sydney Grammar and had to draw upon all our available parent/staff support to do so. On average about 70 boys turned up each Saturday to compete with competition strongest in the 15 years and Open age categories.

The Championships were held over two days this year, due to the ‘banning’ of Shot Put from the grassed area at Stadium Australia. Shot Put and some 400m elimination trials were held at St Ignatius College on the Friday afternoon prior to Championships. The Shot competition at least occupied centre stage for a change with a large group of interested spectators. Andrew Walters showed great form to finish 3rd in the very competitive 15 Years Championship event.

Team captain Andrew Laurie giving his all.

Championship Day at Stadium Australia on 20th May was the experience of a lifetime. A beautiful day, the Olympic arena, great team spirit and a very professional looking team changeroom – it was all ours! The day began with massage, drinks and the pre-competition ‘psych-up’ while Event No. 1 the 13 yrs High Jump got under way. Jacob Stretton, got the team off to a great start by recording a personal best (very close to the school record) to also gain a 3rd place.

Scott Morrow was our other placegetter on the day with a gallant 3rd in the Open 1500m in a time of 4m. 14.3s. Scott also ran a superb 800m in 1m. 59.8s. to place 5th – an indication of the exceptionally high standard in G.P.S. mid-distance. Many athletes recorded personal best times at the Championships to narrowly miss ‘podium’ places. Young Paul Watzlaff showed great courage and ‘High’ spirit to finish both his 800m and 1500m races in the 13 Years Championship after being ‘spiked’ in one race and ‘trampled’ in the other. Paul certainly got a good look at the Olympic surface. Peter Godfrey (sprints & hurdles) and Nadeeka Jayarathna (1500m) gave a very good account of themselves in the 14 Years group. Andrew Light led the 17 Years Hurdles for 5 flights, only just pushed out of the places on the line. Team Captain Andrew Laurie gave his absolute all, all day, over 4 events. His 51.9s 400m (a p.b.) late in the day was heroic stuff. Rhys Hart's 6th place in 9m 24s for the Open 3000m was another noteworthy performance. Rhys had brought his time for this event down by over a minute during the season, running personal bests at every Carnival! As a coach, you can't ask for more than that.

We placed 8th in both the Junior Team pointscore (won by St Ignatius) and the Senior Team pointscore (won by Kings). Not too far behind Scots in the Juniors and Newington in the Seniors.

The C.H.S. Season

The Olympic Games divided the C.H.S. season into two halves. School and Zone Carnivals were all held early, while Area and State Carnivals were held after the Olympics in Term 4. The season stretched from April to December. Of course, many senior athletes sitting for the H.S.C. were unable to perform at their best this late in the year. After qualifying performances at the Eastern Suburbs Zone and Sydney East Area Carnivals the following boys qualified for the State Championships:

Paul Watzlaff (12 yrs 800m), Peter Godfrey (13yrs 100m, 90m Hurdles), Nadeeka Jayarathna (14yrs 1500m), Kyle Solomon (14yrs 800m), Saul Wodak (15yrs 400m, Open 4x400m relay), Andrew Walters (15yrs Shot), David Harris (16yrs High Jump), Scott Morrow (Open 800m, 1500m).

In addition, three 4x100m Relay teams qualified:
12 yrs: Patrick Tung, Rakshinder Sangha, Paul Watzlaff, William Xu
15 yrs: Lachlan Mitchell, Toby Fanning, Mark Nam, Peter Kailis
16 yrs: Sam Bush, George Barris, Kieran Lewis, Sam Bradley

Despite some good performances here, we were unable to claim a State Title.

The Year 2000 was a very enjoyable year in Athletics, made all the more so by the generous support and help by parents and supporters of Sydney High. Special thanks to Mrs Laurie and Mr and Mrs Barris for their work in organising the very successful Athletics Dinner at the culmination of the G.P.S. season.

First Fifteen

Coach's Report

The Young Ones, the First Fifteen for Y2K, had to hit the ground running this year, as our opponents seemed to be bursting with talent. There is no such thing as a rebuilding year in a coach's vocabulary. There is just, "The Season". But, there is no doubt the majority of those who were blooded this season will return next year with experience and growing strength. This year's team was a lot of fun to work with, characterised by the captain, Steve Irwin, a bubbly mixture of fast quips and very serious commitment to the game. The team won only a single game, but it had many closely fought battles which turned on a whisker.

The Preseason

Waverley tore into the game with a talented side this year. Hard forwards and speed out wide, especially at fullback, gave them the initiative. Our new combinations in the backline learned much about defence. We spent most of the game chasing and tackling – exhausting work, but very useful.

Just how useful the Waverley game was to teach the side about defence and pace became obvious when we played Hurlestone Agricultural High. Playing on their home field they scored a blazingly swift try in the first minute of the game. It looked as if we would be done by fifty points. Somehow, against a big, hard side, the Sydney High team dug in. Andrew Light's sixty metre try, set up by Steve Irwin's half-break and pass, was a highlight. We stumbled out of that game 12-10 winners. We had won our game for the season. Just as well nobody in the team is any good at prescience.

The games against our GPS brothers from Armidale are always great fun. TAS is a small school and we often win, but it is usually a grand tussle. This year TAS came to us to play at McKay, and they came to us in defence. Their astute coach, Allan Jones (no, not that one), whom I taught at Sydney High in his HSC year in 1974, had done his homework. His defence, a mad dog defence, was set right on the offside line and blasted our attack all afternoon. We did not adjust and TAS won a famous victory.

Cranbrook could not play us on a Saturday and could not get early release for a full length game midweek. The game was called off. Our next game was against St Stanislaus, a seriously-rugby school from across the Great Dividing Range. At McKay, on our side of their Great Dividing Range, Stannies played an enjoyable brand of hard, running, rugby which our First XV matched all day. In the end the visitors took away the spoils with a 6-13 victory against a tenacious High side.

There was just one more trial game. We greeted visitors from the United Kingdom. The school was Uppingham, a private boarding school from the Rutland County in the heart of England. The two coaches were old friends who were originally from other schools in the UK which had billeted Sydney High more than once. The Uppingham visitors were treated generously by the Sydney High families and, although I had trouble filling up the list of volunteers who were needed in the first week of the July vacation, I want to thank all those who took billets despite the difficulties. The Uppingham visitors had a grand time both on the field and off it. Both sides played well in an open game full of interest. Uppingham won the game but High was now well prepared for the GPS season.

The GPS Season

St Ignatius at Riverview is always tough. We matched Iggies everywhere in the first half, clinging desperately close to them, positioning ourselves to take charge in the second half. Unfortunately nobody had mentioned this to the Iggies players who ghosted through to the tryline in the second half to score a lot of points.

We went to Bellvue Hill to play Scots. This was a tough game in which the Scots team was forced to defend close to their line for long periods. In the end their defence prevailed despite our good straight running and excellent ball retention. An early Scots try was the only score of the game – our loss by 0-5.

At Hunters Hill the team played their heart out, but the Joeys machine was presenting a punishing game of keep the ball and razzle-dazzle. Their tries showed flair and precision. Yet, our defence was so punishing that Joeys had to kick goals when presented with penalties. It was an excellent afternoon despite the 0-45 loss.

Then, at last, we came home for the next game, the much anticipated match against Grammar. For Grammar to post a successful season, it's a case of, "As long as we beat Sydney High". Both sides played this one with desperate passion. The lead changed many times and defence was king. But a couple of sudden, exciting, length of the field tries by Grammar steered them into the lead, late in the game and they were able to repel our desperate, plunging, guttering, attacks just long enough to hold on to their 19-24 lead. Grammar's riotous euphoria on the final whistle was a bitter pill to swallow but perfectly understandable.

Our next game was also at home, against the GPS heavyweight division, Kings School They blasted us with a withering fire from giant earth shaking forwards and bullet swift backs. They had most of the ball. We did most of the tackling. In the end there was no strength in the legs and arms of the High side who were blasted aside for a 3-67 loss. Kings were the complete side, in personnel, and in training.

We were lucky to be treated to yet another game on the High killing field when we hosted Shore for the second last game of the season. Shore teams always produce quality forwards. In this match they used their forwards intelligently. We, again, found ourselves chasing the ball. However, this time there was a lot of tackling to do close to the ruck, but their backs were able to finish the job once our defence was compressed. This was actually a very tough game for both sides. High, in the last quarter, finished strongly in attack, and forced Shore to defend their line most of that time. It was an impressive effort from a High side that did not have real speed in many positions.

We played our last game in the warm sunshine which had been a feature of this season. We were at Stanmore to play Newington. This was a game of excruciating closeness. In the end Newington did win 19-23 but it was an open game, full of tries and smashing defence. This was the way to finish the season, because a majority of the team will be back in 2001, the first team of the real next century, and they will know that what they have learned this year will remain with them to start next season on a High.

Thanks go to Steve Irwin, a courageous and gifted captain. His leadership was strong, not only in the games, but at training where his commitment was catching. Our centres are back next year and I have rarely seen a pair of tacklers like these two, George Barris and Andrew Light. They will be stout in attack and defence next year. Reece Hamer is a relentless half-back with vision and flair. He is strong, decisive, and accurate with his pass. Next season should be a highlight for him. Our openside flanker, Lenny Pereira, is a revelation. He is totally committed to learning the trade. He is never switched off, either at training, or during a game, and he is back next season as well. In total, there should be eleven players back next year which will give us an edge, if we can find some speedsters amongst the four new bodies, assuming the surviving eleven don't turn to soccer next year.

Second Fifteen

At the beginning of the season we were a fairly young and inexperienced team, with most players coming from Years 10 and 11. The team included players from teams ranging all the way from the 1st XV to the 15As.

The season got off to a flying start and exceeded our early modest expectations with wins in two out of our three trials.

At the beginning of the GPS season we felt that we showed promise, and looked forward to great success. However we fell short of these expectations and were unable to register a win. But our young and enthusiastic team came close on a few occasions, especially against Scots, where we went down 14-24 after leading 14-3. We also produced a good performance against Newington and TAS, but failed to keep it up for the whole game.

Unfortunately this was the story for most of the season as inconsistency proved to be a major factor. Nevertheless we had some very stout performers throughout the season, including two of our most experienced players, Mark Prater and Peter Trewin, who stood tall and played consistently throughout the season.

All players learnt a great deal about football over the season, thanks to the tireless efforts of our coach, Mr Lindwall, and with the majority of the side returning next season, we look forward to moving on to bigger and better things.

Dean Comino, Captain.

16A Fifteen

Under the guidance of Mr Eggleton and forwards coach Van Gencur, the 16A Rugby team developed into a strong and enthusiastic band. The group was a blend of Year 11 and Year 10 who functioned well as a team because of our respect for each other as players.

After an interesting trial season we had lost to Waverley College, St Pius, and Hurlestone Agricultural – all by close margins.

The GPS season began with a loss to St Ignatius, despite valiant efforts from the forwards, who were tight in the rucks and mauls and coherent as a unit. It was not until the match against Sydney Grammar that we pulled off a win 12-10. The last game of the season, against Newington College, was closely fought, but we managed to hold out for a win.

The season of 2000 provided most players with a chance to expand their skill base and knowledge of the game, as well as being enjoyable. Many players will go on to represent the School in the first and second grade teams in 2001.

13A Rugby

We started with only seven players who had ever played rugby before, but after the trials, the team turned out to be a fairly strong and committed side. The 2000 13As had a very enjoyable pre-season with two wins and three very close losses in our first five trial matches.

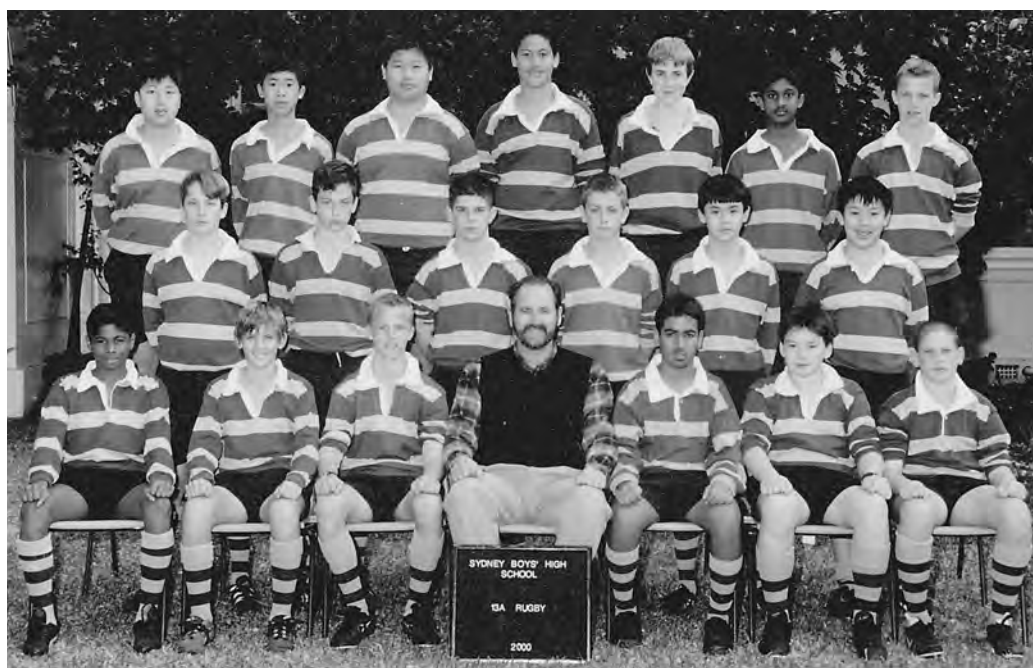

By the time the GPS season had come around, the inexperienced players realised they had to pick up their game. The first match was a very tough encounter against a finely drilled Riverview side. They scored a few times early in the game, but we held them out for most of the second half. Our defence fell and as we became tired, and they started to run around us towards end of the game. This match proved to be a good starting point as we found that our lineout was our main strength with the trio of Fergus Ly and Nigel Panagopka lifting and Tom Hoare jumping winning a few of the opposition's line-outs and nearly all of our own.

Our next game was against Scots. We really thought that we had a chance this match, but numerous unforced errors and a few yellow cards let us down.

Next year we will hope to turn the tables and beat them, as we probably should have this year.

After the close match against Scots, we were expecting to go a little better than we did against a superb Joey's outfit at Hunters Hill. They scored eight tries in the first half with some speedy back line movements, but in the second half it was a different story. We held them out consistently and we eventually scored our first try of the GPS season with an unstoppable rolling maul. Everyone played well, especially the forwards. Our team also was at a disadvantage as Tom was out with a broken thumb, and the bad form of this game continued for the next three matches.

We came into the Grammar match thinking we had a good chance but, much like in the Scots game, we came unstuck in the backs. Again we had to put in a spirited effort in the second half but it was to no avail. Robbie Girdler, Daniel Thomas and Alan Dam made many a try saving tackle, and the score would have been a lot worse without those three. The Kings match was a horrible encounter, which I think most of the team would like to forget. The backs played well and were finally making tackles but Kings just had too much speed out wide and ran around us.

We approached the Shore match with a new hunger to win. This was mainly due to the fact that Tom had returned from his thumb injury. This match was by far the best match of rugby I have ever played in, whilst I have attended High. Every single player played exceptionally well. We came out hard against a shell-shocked Shore side with an early try by me (Drew Hoare) off a great Mitchell Bowey blind side movement. Our next try came through the forwards with Fergus eventually getting over. We finished the half 12-5 up and after an exuberant half-time speech from Mr Codey, we ran on knowing we couldn't lose. We put in another strong effort in the second half with a lucky try from another short-side run, to record our first GPS victory against a very unhappy Shore Team. I have been told this is the first time a High 13As has beaten Shore in twenty years. The whole team played superbly.

Newington was our last game and we wanted to impress but with a few players out we were never in it and it was a disappointing end to a fine season. The stand out for this game and the whole of the season were undoubtedly the back row of Tom, Daniel and Robbie Girdler and in the backs, Alan Dam.

The 13Bs also had a good season with some wins over the other bigger GPS schools. They all played very well and I wouldn't be surprised to see some of them in the 14As next year because without them backing up occasionally, we wouldn't have been able to field a side.

The team has improved dramatically from the start of the season and we will be looking for bigger and better things in 2001. I would like to give a special thanks to Mr Codey, Mr Bigelow and Kerry Barrie. Thank you also to all the parents of the players for letting them play, and for supporting them vigorously all season. I hope to see you all back next year.

Second Grade Soccer

Following a period of title-winning drought in the GPS Second Grade Soccer Premiership, Mr. Watson ambitiously stepped forward into the role of coach for this year, with the hope of bringing the coveted trophy back to High. As the squad of players assembled under his management, we also shared the same ambition, believing that we possessed the necessary skill, grit, determination and team spirit to do so.

The signs from the pre-season matches were all very positive, with wins against Scots and Cranbrook, and a hard fought draw against the old foe Waverley. As a result, the team entered the season with a great deal of confidence. But we had not yet met St. Ignatius....

Round 1: St Ignatius 6 def High 0

The score line says it all. We were beaten to a pulp and then left lying in the gutter by Ignatius, a team with a higher level of fitness and a stronger desire to win. This was a game of few highlights in which the sound of the ball hitting the back of the net featured prominently and the final whistle was gratefully received. A stalwart effort from the goalkeeper, Chris Tunggal, was all that prevented the score from becoming any more embarrassing than it could have been (if that is possible).

Round 2: High 1 def Scots 0

After Ignatius gave us such a rude awakening, we entered this match determined to win. And this we did, though not in any extraordinary style. As a team we were still not hungry enough for the ball, and it was clear that we still had a lot of work to do. Anyway, concerning the brighter points of the match: after a magnificent fall in the box by one of our Year 10 imports, Jonathan Laurie (just kidding Laurie – it was legitimate), our courageous captain, Maciek Kusnierz, stepped up to take the penalty. And, well...let's just say that this did not become our winning goal. In the words of John (Fats) Kim: "It was going in all the way until it hit the post".

The eventual winning goal came with Alex Gibbeson's great run through the middle of the Scots' defence, resulting in the ball being slotted in the top right corner. With a win on the board, the team was able to relax a little before concentrating on the next fixture: St. Joseph's College.

Round 3: High 2 def St Josephs 0

While some of the team spent the week doubting the coaching techniques of Mr. Watson, something obviously went right as we emerged the victors in this match. The team registered its best game of the season in this match, dominating from start to finish, controlling the match from the midfield. The first goal was the result of a wonderful run down the left wing by Rhys Hardwick-Jones, whose cross was neatly netted by our striker, Edwin Fernandez. We went to the break one goal up, and started the second half not prepared to give Joeys any quarter. Jared Cohen scored our second goal with a magnificent drive from twenty yards out, after he had spent the entire game running riot on the left wing. Our defence held firm for the remainder of the match, and we notched up our second victory of the season.

Round 4: Grammar 1 def High 0

This match was shaping up to be one of the most crucial of the season, with Grammar having won three from three and sitting on top of the table. We knew we would have to take the maximum three points from the fixture if we were to give any shape to our title hopes. As the score line shows only too well, we were not.

While our defence held strong for the majority of the game, our undoing was our own inability to create and finish clear-cut chances on goal. In the second half, with the game heading for a 0-0 result, Grammar took advantage of a defensive lapse and managed to score. We rallied and applied pressure, but were unable to score the equaliser, going down to a bitter defeat.

Round 5: Kings 1 def High 0

Our woes continued the following week against Kings, where a depleted squad took the field in our second home game of the season. While we were already missing players from the squad through injury, problems were compounded by the promotions of some players to fill injury-related holes in the Firsts line-up. Consequently the team put in a poor performance against a side whom we should have beaten easily. Once again, the problem was not so much in defence, but in our inability to get the ball forward and create chances on goal.

Round 6: High 1 def Shore 0

A rejuvenated side entered the match against Shore, looking for blood after two consecutive losses, and hoping to provide the Year 12 members of the side with a memorable last match on the hallowed McKay 5 turf. Ironically, it was the famous McKay 'boggle' which effected the winning goal, after the shot from Alex Gibbeson hit a deviation and bamboozled the opposing keeper. Although our title hopes were dashed, the squad could always look back to a final home win.

Round 7: Newington 3 def High 0

The final round brought the team up against arch nemesis Newington. By now it was impossible for us to win the trophy, and as a result the intensity with which previous games had been played was lacking. However, with less pressure the team was able to play in a much more uninhibited manner, despite the fact that we went down to a more skilful team. Such circumstances provided a fitting note on which to end the season.

Player Profiles:

Chris Tunggal: A great season as Goalkeeper, especially considering it was his first in such a position. Chris always put his body on the line, either in the match or in training, and his acrobatic methods were an inspiration to all.

William Loc: Started the season well in his position as Sweeper, but unfortunately missed several games of the season through injury. His return to the starting lineup was greatly appreciated.

John 'Fats' Kim: The lynchpin of the defence throughout the season, always beating his man in the air and proving a significant opponent on the ground. His mere presence in the defence was enough to discourage all opponents.

Aaron Piercy: Although he started the season in the backline, Piercy proved his versatility by playing in both the midfield and up front on occasions.

Alex Gibbeson: One of the most skilful players in the side, and also the leading goal scorer, Gibbo was instrumental both in attack and defence. Unlucky not to have made more appearances in First Grade.

Maciek Kusnierz (Captain): Maciek's ball distribution was quite often the key to a successful attack, but his runs through the centre of the field were equally challenging to the opposition's defence.

Jared Cohen: Playing on the left wing, Jared consistently confused his man and supplied our forwards with enticing crosses. Always put in a one hundred percent effort, and refused to give up.

Andrew Laurie: Coming off a season as Athletics Captain, Laurie slotted in at right wing, using his pace to beat his man. Another man in the team with a never-say-die attitude.

Leo Lam: The quiet man of the team, but quick off the blocks and good at creating runs from his position as striker.

Edwin Fernandes: The second striker in the team, skilful, with good ball control and strength in the air. Edwin was rewarded with several call-ups to First Grade in the season.

With myself at right back, this was (more or less) the starting line-up of Second Grade Soccer 2000. However, there are several others who deserve mention, and I would like to thank the following people who played in the side at some time during the season: Jonathan Laurie and Tom Cusbert, two substitutes from Year Ten; Chris Rutherford, Rhys Hardwick-Jones and Hunter Millar. My apologies to anyone I may not have mentioned.

Finally, sincere thanks to the Coach of the team, Mr. Watson, for all his hard work throughout an enjoyable, though at times frustrating, season.

16A Soccer

Dedication and determination were the keys to the 16As successful season, only conceding two annoying goals in the process. The team worked tirelessly to achieve this accomplishment guided by the watchful eye of experienced coach, Daniel Wong. The trial season commenced with a match against the poorly organized team of SJC, in which SHS were victorious 5-0. The second match was a hard fought game against Waverley College; the match was left undecided at 0-0. In Match 3, the end score sat at 1-0 in High's favour against TSC. The final match of the trial season was against Cranbrook. We dominated the entire match the final score 1-0 producing a deserved victory for High.

Weeks of more hard training with our coach Daniel Wong had prepared us for the long awaited GPS season. The first game finished was a disappointment for the team, ending as a 0-0 draw against SIC, but from game two onwards it was all Sydney High brilliance.

High easily arrived at victory against Scots College, a 3-0 wash over! The mid-field distributed the forwards with precision and grace adding to the final result. Goalscorers: T.Cusbert, N.Kelly and Z.Gamiel dien.

Game three was pitted against the vigorous St Josephs College. Despite a conclusive victory of score line 3-1 High displayed a low level game and unfortunately was drawn into the opposition's style of game. Many mid-air challenges displayed this fact. Goalscorers: J.Laurie, Z.Gamiel dien (2) side, High winning 2-0 with two "fan dangling" goals. Grammar did not reach the Sydney High halfway mark during the whole period of the match.

Game four was played against a lacklustre Grammar

Goalscorers: A.Zafirakos

Game five was won against The Kings School 3-0 – another hard fought match, which produced the goods despite the technical referee.

Goalscorers: Z.Gamiel dien (2), S.Weerasinghe.

Game six was perhaps the Sydney High 16As classiest performance of the 2000 winter. Commencing the game with champagne style football the game was sealed with a world-class strike and the game was won, 1-0. Although the score line was singular, the team football that was played, showed the true meaning of soccer at Sydney High and the spirit that emanated from its participants.

Goalscorers: D. Kaldor.

The final match was against our arch rivals Newington College. This match was easily won 3-1 with a hat trick from our striker. Despite our two-goal victory we were unable to take out the prestigious "Dolan Cup", missing out narrowly by one point to 4th Grade. Goalscorers: Z.Gamiel dien (3) (+ missed penalty)

The mighty 16As completed an extremely successful season, not losing a match and conceding a mere 2 goals. The team consisted of: Matthew Mulroney, Saul Wodak, Tom Cusbert, Justin Garber (vc), Robbie Dooley, Dave Kaldor, Mathew Wong (c), Jonathon Laurie, Haim Ayalon, Phil Clemens, Tony Zafirakos, Zahid Gamiel dien and Sidath Weerasinghe. Finally, thanks to our coach Daniel Wong for his astute arrival to all 16A events. Congratulations 16As on a marvellous and fruitful season.

Mathew Wong, Captain.

15A Soccer

Soccer made an interesting start to the season this year. Our coaches and teachers all made huge contributions to the early part of the season.

Our coaches are Nick Apoifis who takes the 15As, James Yow who coaches the 15Bs and Mr Morris the tactical genius import from England. Our supervisor and mentor Ms May makes sure everything goes to plan.

Our season started five weeks into last term, against St Josephs. Last year Joeys were a pushover, and this year after they spent large amounts of money on coaches they were much the same. The 15As won easily 5-0 with more than a few missed chances. The 15Bs took the lead early but could not sustain it, and ended up in a draw.

The A team next faced Cranbrook who were bound to be tough. Unfortunately due to a controversial penalty in the dying seconds we lost 1-2. In classic High spirit we left the field with heads high and not a backward glance.

Next we came up against Waverley. After conceding two goals early in the game the 15As fought back to steal a draw. The 15Bs unfortunately went down 0-1 but not without a fight. Next opponents were the Scots boys, who were known for their ability to deceptively score goals. The 15As took an early lead and fought off their comeback to win 2-1. The 15Bs annihilated Scots with a 5-0 whitewash. The mighty 15Cs did well to hold a draw.

After the holiday break we came back unfitter and more tired than ever, but extremely keen.

Our first real game was against St Ignatius. We went down two goals in the first half, but with classic High spirit we fought back to hold a lead 3-2 close to the end. But Iggies' counter-attack caught us unawares, and the final score was a 3-3 draw. Kyle Solomon deserves special congratulations for his goal-saving head clash which resulted in a fractured skull. He seemed cheerfully unaffected. The 15Bs fought a match of great rivalry, but Ignatius managed to come out on top 0-1. The 15Cs put in a big effort but unfortunately lost 0-2.

The next big match was against the Scots lads, with the 15As putting in a huge effort to score two fantastic goals, and holding Scots out to finish on top. The 15Bs bounced back to score four goals to nil, demonstrating the proficiency of their attack, and the 15Cs got up 3-1 to prove they really do have the ability to win big games.

Even with Rugby luring away our players with promises of the chance to win games, Under 15 Soccer is stronger than ever with one new face, Dany Shalak, who is proving to be a scoring machine. Also this year the 15A team has been competing in the Turner Plate competition. We lost unfortunately in the first round, which turned out to be a blessing. We have made it through to our area final, with wins against Grammar, St Spyridon and Kogarah. In the next game, the area final against Penshurst Marist, we faced an away game on a dusty pitch that was later to play an important role in deciding the result of the game. The match began with several solid runs by both sides, and at half-time the score was 0-0. Into the second half the ball was played to our keeper Hamish, who gathered the ball. The referee deemed him to be outside the box, and sent him off. The problem that there was no visible line to judge his position from, due to the state of the field. Marist took advantage of this and scored a quick goal. We fought back hard, and a rattling shot by Hugh James beat the keeper, but not the crossbar. Final score 0-1.

We faced Grammar next, and away at Weigall on Grammar's miniature field we seemed comfortable, and placed four goals into the net. The B and C teams completed the annihilation of Grammar with 2-0 wins by both teams.

The next three weeks saw Shore, Joeys, and Kings all defeated, the latest victims of our now efficient play. We played well, and new boy Dany was able to slot several goals.

The last match of the season was against Newington, our old nemesis from the 13s and 14s. After falling behind to an early goal, we awoke in the second half. After several near misses we claimed a beautiful goal, completing several fine passes, to achieve the final score of 1-1.

Thanks go to our coach Nick Apoifis, whose contribution was intense and endlessly patient.

It was a very well played season, and to those not involved in GPS sport, get involved!

Tim Edmeades, Captain.

Even before the first game of the season, we knew our problem was going to be scoring. We had an excellent back line but no one was willing to stand up and take the responsibility upon themselves up front. However combined team efforts secured us comfortable victories of 4-0 over Scots and 30-0 over Joeys.

The season started just as it finished with 1-0 losses to Iggies and Newington. This was due to many of us being unavailable for these matches. We were quite unlucky in the game against Kings. Although we were clear winners, we didn't have enough time to make an impact on the scoresheet, as the game was shortened quite considerably. It ended in a nil all draw. Our only worry in the game came when Shalen misjudged a pass back to the keeper and almost scored an own goal, something that he attempted on more than one occasion throughout the season.

Early goals secured us victories against Grammar and Shore, both ending 1-0. However the scores didn't reflect our dominance of possession and the amount of shots which just went wide.

In the end the key to the 15Bs proved to be our defence, only conceding two goals in seven games. The offside trap worked on many an occasion and the great organisation proved to be very helpful. The top scorer of the season was Milton with 3 of the 9 goals.

Many thanks must go to our coach James Yau, who dedicated a lot of his time to our team, and made the season a lot of fun.

My first year as coach in the GPS couldn't have been more eventful. A slow start as we struggled to find the net in the early friendly matches. Tight results were achieved but a lack of goal scoring cost us dearly except for the game against Scots when David McMahon found a lethal finishing streak. He was to finish the season with five goals to his name against Scots alone. A tactical change in the second half of the season saw the production of a lethal striking partnership. Brendan Giam dropped to playing just behind the front two of David McMahon and Alex Voyevoda. Suppoted by TomPetty and Mark Bradley supporting from the wings. Goals started to flow and except for a slip up against St.Pats the season was a pretty successful one. The last game against Newington was to prove the best of the season with everything clicking into place. A four all draw saw a penalty given away, a penalty not given, a crashing 20 yard freekick scored by Edwin Tan and a late equaliser against the run of play. A fine way to conclude an interesting season with everyone playing their part.

Nic Morris, Coach.

14A Soccer

The 14As' season was a roller coaster in 2000. We started with a great record in the warm up games, scoring fourteen goals in four matches.

During the season, however, the team morale deteriorated and we lost our first match 0-4 to Riverview. That was followed by a weak win over Scots (2-0) and an unimaginable loss to St Josephs (0-1). We were again very unlucky to go down 0-1 to Grammar the next week and then we just managed to beat Kings by a goal to nil. We then beat Shore 2-1 with a convincing performance. In the last game of the season, we met a Newington side to whom we had very narrowly lost last season. It was a hard-fought match which unfortunately ended in another defeat.

This last day defeat was very disappointing, and our season ended with a record of 3 wins, 0 draws, and 4 losses. Our top goal scorers for the season were William Kwok, Ali Alsamail and Thomas Lung.

In defence, commendation is also due to Michael Hayes, Tyson Ginn and Kim Dickson for their great work throughout the whole season.

We would also like to thank Mr Anderson for his management, Demi and Dean for their tireless coaching and all the parents and siblings who turned up to cheer us on – thank you.

Ali Alsamail

14B Soccer

The year 2000 brought mixed results for the 14Bs but it was an eventful season none the less. With quite a few new faces in the line-up this year, we were very keen to improve on our less than impressive performance the previous year.

We began in the best possible fashion, beating both the previously invincible Waverley side and a competitive St Joseph's side 2-0 in friendlies. However, forced changes due to injury saw us slump to three matches without a win. These included a 2-1 friendly loss to Scots after leading early in the second half, a 4-1 loss to Riverview also after taking the lead, and a disappointing goalless draw against a less than impressive Scots outfit.

After these performances, the team was very low on confidence and needed a real lift. But no one expected the amazing turn-around that would come that week. In undoubtedly the match of the season, a revitalised team annihilated a bewildered St. Joseph's side 8-0.

Once again we were back in form and eager to carry it on. We put up a brave display against a talented Grammar side but once again our run had ended as quickly as it had begun. This time though the 1-0 score-line meant some confidence remained, and we turned it around again to beat Kings and Shore in successive weeks.

Now we had reached the end of the season, with only the game against Newington remaining. We knew it would be a tough match and somewhat fittingly, our form deserted us again, and we crashed 3-1 at home.

For the most part, the season was very successful and I am sure everyone enjoyed it. The most pleasing aspect of the year was how we played each match as a whole unit. This teamwork really helped towards the development of the team.

On behalf of the team I wish to thank all those who assisted in the running of the team, especially Mr. Anderson, without whom we couldn't have possibly have done so well.

Our team consisted of a few very talented players, some enthusiastic newcomers to the sport, and some very experienced club players. Our results were mixed as we struggled to find the right combinations and game plans. Many of the opposing teams had played together before – giving them some advantage.

However, we had some good wins and enjoyed playing together as a team representing High for our first season. We easily defeated Joey's and Scots but found the going tough against Shore and Newington. We lost close games to Grammar, St Ignatius and Kings.

Mr Richard Clemens was our coach for the start of the season, but unfortunately had to return home to the U.K. Mr Steve Tiedgen took over the coaching duties at short notice. The team would also like to thank Mr Steen and Mr Mitsuji for assistance with training and officiating.

It would be difficult to single out any one player as the best for the season. Mischa Steen and Sen Mitsuji certainly had the ball at their feet most often. Simon Craddock, Tom Kaldor and Mischa Steen scored most of our goals. Mitchell Seow and Josh Scharfegger worked very hard in defence. Paul Watzlaff (playing up from the B's – often straight after a game) made some valuable contributions when we were short of players.

Manager's Report

Australian shooters have always been at the forefront of international competition. It may surprise some readers to find that the first Australian sporting team to tour internationally was a shooting team, to Creedmore USA in June 1876 – twenty years before the first modern Olympics.

Ever since the NRA's move from Wimbledon Common to Bisley Ranges, Australian full bore target shooters have been drawn to England to contest the Sovereign's Prize.

The establishment of the Australian Schools Combined Rifle Team was a challenging task from the outset. To organise the Team, a new association was formed – Junior Shooting Australia – which hopes to promote future tours and reciprocal visits in years to come. Despite the obvious logistical problems associated with exporting thirty-odd target rifles and related equipment, on 1 July 2000, as retailers struggled with the first day of the new GST, twenty-two students departed. The team members were aged between thirteen and nineteen, and came from as far away as Brisbane and Bourke, including teams from three schools. Additionally, three NSW school students were selected into the Australian Under 25 Rifle Team, taking to twenty-five the total number of Australian Under 19 shooters at the Millennium Meeting.

Bisley, for those of you who don't know of it at least by reputation, is the UK's National Shooting Centre. Bisley Camp is more like a shooting village, with rows of luxurious club-houses, gun shops, and accommodation areas.

One striking thing about Bisley, and about British shooting in general, is the high participation rate of school and cadet shooters. The first week of competition was taken up with the Cadet Shooting Championships, with cadets attending from across the UK and abroad. The Australian Schools Team performed exceptionally well, with eight students (about one third of the Team) finishing in the top six per cent of entries to gain a prize in the Schools' Hundred. When not engaged in serious competition with other schools and cadet units, the students were able to entertain themselves trying out some other shooting disciplines, including air gun shooting, trap and skeet, and even the opportunity to fire a few shots on a UK service rifle.

As the schools competition drew to a close, and the majority of cadets headed home to commence their summer holidays, competition for the Australian Schools Team was only beginning. Competitors from around the world arrived at Bisley to contest the “Millennium Meeting” conducted over a ten day period. Shooting “Bisley-style” (three competitors on each target firing shot for shot), the Team began contesting the various matches, including several matches at 1,000 yards. The opportunity to contest the First Stage of HM the Queen’s Prize was a real honour for the students involved, despite the gruelling elimination that followed – only three hundred competitors go on to Stage II, with only one hundred firing in the Queen’s Final. Two Australian junior shooters (David Jacques and Alex Murray) performed extremely well to qualify for Stage II.

But Bisley is far more than just the shooting matches. Whether it was the Overseas Teams Reception, the Beating of the Retreat featuring an Army marching band, or the Millennium Concert and Fireworks Spectacular held on Stickledown Range, there was plenty to keep the team members entertained.

As the individual matches drew to a close, Bisley moved on to the Teams Events. The Australian Schools Team contested a number of teams events, the most prestigious of which was the Millennium Under 21 Match. For some, this was an opportunity to represent their country, with a team selected at Bisley from amongst all under 21 Australian shooters in attendance. Donning the green and gold was quite an honour. The remainder of the Team formed into an Australian Schools Team to shoot against their fellow team members in the match. The Australian Team was defeated by the United States Under 21 Team, despite some fine individual scores being posted.

From the time the proposed tour was announced, the support from shooting organisations, sponsors and individual shooters was excellent. Beginning with the “Bisley Barbecue” held at the ANZAC Rifle Range during the 1999 Queen’s, and culminating in this publication, support from all quarters has been terrific.

So what was the upshot of the 2000 Tour? For the students involved, the opportunity to contest a major international sporting event, and to interact competitively and socially with some of the world's best shooters was a rewarding experience. Additionally, the structure for future schools team tours has been left in place.

The tour represents more than two years of hard work for a dedicated group of individuals led by Mr Douglas Fergusson, the Team Manager.

The 2000 Australian Schools Combined Rifle Team has, like generations before them, visited and experienced Bisley at its finest hour and through their involvement demonstrated, at a time when shooters from around the world gathered to celebrate the end of the millennium, that Australian shooting is set to prosper and continue well into the new century.

Nathan Scudder (Logistics Manager).

First Grade Rifle Shooting

With five of the original eight First Grade members on tour to England, the Sydney High team for the GPS shoot 2000 was never expected to match the results of recent years. Things were made particularly difficult by the fact that not only the rifles, but the equipment and even ammunition were largely carried off to Bisley and we were left with the meager remainder.

Nonetheless, with the help of the newly installed MIC, Mr J.Fittler, Mr M.Mason, and the other senior members of the team, training got underway during the Easter break and continued on through second term and into the July Holidays. After Mr Fittler's departure for England in early July, Mr Mason and I organised the holiday training 'camp', and it was at this point that we realised that High could exceed all expectations this year.

Even with limited ammunition, it was plainly obvious that we had a few new shooters with plentiful talent. Young Quan Choi in particular, began to show his class with a few 'possibles' (maximum scores), and both Robin Alexander and Ricky Fong were promising. Things were aided by the experience of wind-coach Simon Burnett, who dropped out of the Bisley tour for the salvation of our team. Kevin Chan deserves a special mention as we would have given up early had his car not always been there to aid tired legs and broken bodies.

The GPS shoot loomed closer, and it became clear that the snap shooting, traditionally the toughest even for the most experienced shooters, was going to be a major obstacle for a youthful team. We practiced and practiced until there was no more ammunition, and then hoped for the best.

On the first official morning of the GPS shoot, Sydney High were seen as out of the competition, other schools and their spies not even bothering to sneak a glance at our scoreboard; but how surprised they were, when this young and inexperienced team rallied and put in excellent scores at both 500m and 600m for the Rawson Cup. Young Quan Choi (68/70), Robin Alexander (67/70) and myself (67/70) steered the team to a respectable fourth on the rankings list, only several shots from the winners (Kings) and unlucky to miss out on third place when we were beaten by TAS on centres.

The NRA Shield in the afternoon had been in recent years a Sydney High favourite, since our difficult training at Malabar created a race of expert wind-coaches, Simon Burnett being perhaps the best on the range. His possible (50-3) as the last shooter in his last year at Sydney High reconfirmed his status as the best at 600m out of all the shooters from all the schools. Again Young Quan Choi (49-2) and Robin Alexander (47-3) were joined by a rejuvenated Tim Brown (48-0) to push us way ahead of the other schools.

However, being the cruel sport that shooting is, our most inexperienced shooters could not cope with the difficult conditions, and although trying their best, put in two scores from which we could not recover. It became clear to us later that day, Sydney High had lost the NRA Shield to the Kings School. It did not matter that we were never expected to retain it, our pride was still hurt.

It was a momentous occasion from which we failed to recover, when on the final day we put in only competent scores at close range, a range which traditionally the other schools have excelled in. Our Snap scores were disappointing to say the least, and with lowered heads and much humility, we returned to Moore Park. Simon Burnett, Young Quan Choi and myself missed out on selection to the GPS combined team due to our disastrous performances at the Snap shooting. At the end of the day, we simply did not have the glare protection equipment we most needed when shooting into the sun.

However, upon some thought on the way back, we realised that the team as a whole had grown on each other over the months and we really had enjoyed ourselves immensely. We were never expected to win, and I think we exceeded all expectations when a team missing most of its star shooters still managed to conquer many of these well-equipped, full strength teams. An effort to be commended.

Hilbert Chiu, Captain.

Millenium Tour

Captain's Report by: Greg Shar, SHS

NRA Silver Spoon: Iveagh, Wellington. Schools Hundred Badge.

The 2000 Australian Combined Schools Rifle Team tour to Bisley was a unique experience in that it was the first of its kind conducted by three separate schools from Australia – Sydney High School, The Armidale School and New England Girls School. The schools individually have had shooting success with Sydney High winning the Great Public Schools Shooting Competition for the first time ever in 1998, TAS winning in 1999 and NEGS participating in the all-boys competition, albeit by invitation, for the first time in 1999. This impressive depth of experience and competitive success forged a team of talented young shooters ready to compete with the world's best shooters at Bisley.

During 1999 and the early months of 2000 the Team was finalised and members further acquainted with one another. For High and TAS this was a strange concept as the two schools had long been fierce competitors in all GPS sports. By the final training camp, the three schools were starting to resemble a comfortable and formidable team.

Unfortunately, due to the timing of the Queen's competition at Bisley, the three schools were unable to offer their best for the Annual GPS shoot. This was especially disappointing for reigning champions, TAS, and for SHS, who had only narrowly lost to TAS in 1999.

On 1 July the Team assembled at Sydney airport. We were all well prepared and eager to embark on a month of touring a foreign country. Several members of the Team had never left Australia before and for some it was also their first trip on a plane.

Once settled in Bisley, we had an extensive schedule of both individual and teams matches. Amongst the first competitions was a cadet match, including individual and team competitions. The match attracted teams from throughout England and boasted a field of more than six hundred cadets. The Team also competed against the attending national teams, of both Under 25 and senior teams, in a general match. We finished in a commendable position, beating countries both obscure and renowned. The Team achieved success in the Under 19 International Match, beating the Canadians to finish second, behind an elite British squad, hand picked from more than six hundred shooters. Several members of the Team were also selected in an Australian Under 21 Team to compete against South Africa, America and Great Britain.

The individual shooting was even more demanding than the teams matches with students required to follow a comprehensive individual shooting schedule each day of competition, generally involving three matches.

While a large portion of time was devoted to shooting, the tour provided much more. The Team gained an insight into the history of a country at the heart of an Empire that has shaped Australia and the modern world. We experienced, first hand, the different cultures of the world, not only England's but also of many of the nations that attended the Championships. The Team integrated well into the Bisley community, socialising and forging lasting friendships.

Sightseeing took place as much as possible within the restrictions placed on us by our shooting schedules. Most of all, the students benefited from the responsibility bestowed upon them during the tour relating to such matters as being prepared for individual matches and general conduct as representatives of their schools and their country.

In any mention of the tour and its success the people who enabled this success must receive recognition and the thanks that they deserve on behalf of the Team. Foremost was Sydney High Old Boy, Nathan Scudder who made nearly all the arrangements that allowed such a tour to take place, as well as providing the vision for this three-school tour. The supervision and organisation of Team Manager, Mr Douglas Fergusson, SHS Shooting Master Mr John Fittler, and TAS and NEGS Shooting Master Mr David Rose was instrumental in the running of the Team. We also benefited from the assistance of Mr Bondfield, Mrs Stening, Mrs Larsson, Mr Govendir and Mr Nelson, all of whom accompanied the Team to Bisley and provided for the welfare of the students. Finally the parents and friends of the respective rifle clubs must be thanked for their tireless efforts in raising funds to help defray the cost of the tour.

Volleyball

After 1999, volleyball has had a big turn over, and many young players have had to step up to fill the shoes of their predecessors. Although not achieving the high standards reached by last year's first grade team, High still showed their courage and spirit by carrying on with High volleyball. High fulfilled many expectations and also accomplished achievements thought improbable and more than difficult for the team.

After a disappointing start to the season, High brought up the junior team through the assistance of Mark Retter, as the new coach. He brought with him new drills, new spirit, and an altogether new attitude to the game, and to team mates. With hard work, High's junior team placed 1st and 2nd in the two tournaments, qualifying them for the Honours Division in the national tournament at the end of the year. This was a huge achievement, as this competition consists of fourteen of the top teams in Australian schools.

Due to a clash in commitments, many of the starters of the team could not participate in the national tournament. Thus, High had to play in a higher age group due to an over age participant. Against the odds, High placed seventh out of fifteen teams – a very unexpected and enormous result.

Although High volleyball has been under pressure and at times seemed to be falling apart at the seams, the High boys pulled together and strengthened their bond and determination. A very young team produced a remarkable result. A mature and talented team will take the court next year. High has laid the foundation for a strong team next year.

[1] From 1884-1919 the dux was known as captain of the school.

[2] The prefect system was introduced in 1910.

From 1910 to 1919, the equivalent of the present School Captain was called the Senior Prefect.

[3] The title of Senior Prefect was changed to Captain in 1920.
